The 17th October 1881.—The following River Rules for the Chittagong Hill Tracts, framed under Section 41 of Act VII of 1878, the Indian Forest Act, having been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information :—

I. Interpretation clause.—All words used in these rules, and defined in Act VII of 1878, (the Indian Forest Act, 1878.) shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by the said Act.

II. Stoppage of produce for examination and for the payment of dues at revenue stations.—All timber or forest produce which is brought down by the rivers passing out of the Chittagong Hill Tracts shall be liable to stoppage for examination and for the payment of the amounts if any due to Government thereon at the revenue stations established on the following rivers, viz. :—

Fenny, Droong, Haldah, Kalapancea, Surtah, Ishamati, Karnafuli, Sylock, Sungoo, Dolu, Hangar, Tankawati, Matamori, Fadgong, Bagkhali, Rezu, or at such other places as the Lieutenant-Governor shall from time to time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, prescribe.

III. Removal and passing of produce taken from the reserved forests.—Passes for the removal of timber or forest produce from the reserved forests in the Chittagong Hill Tracts may be obtained from—

(a) the officer in local charge of the forest, or

(b) the officer in charge of the Chittagong Forest Division, on payment of such royalty or on such other payment on account of the price of the materials as is prescribed by competent authority.

The holder of any such pass shall be entitled, on production thereof, to take his timber or forest produce free of further payment, and without stopping, past any revenue station specified in Rule II,

Provided that the officer in charge of any such revenue station may stop any such timber or forest produce, and subject the same to examination.

Any timber or forest produce found in excess of or of a different kind to that specified in the pass may be detained by the said officer until any sums that may be due in respect thereof be paid.

If it shall appear that such excess or different kind of timber or forest produce has been obtained fraudulently, the officer in charge shall seize the same and report the matter for the orders of the officer in charge of the Chittagong Forest Division.

IV. Procedure required from holders of waste land lots in fee simple, or of leases which give the right of removal of forest produce from the land leased.—Holders of waste land lots in fee simple within the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and persons whose leases give them the right of removing timber or forest produce without further charge from such lots or lands as are covered by their leases, shall, if they desire to transport such timber or forest produce by river in the manner described in Rule II, apply to the Deputy Commissioner for passes to cover the maximum amount of each kind of timber or forest produce which they expect to export during the year ending on the 31st March next following the date of their application. The amount of each despatch of timber or forest produce shall be entered on the back of such pass, and shall be checked by the officers in charge of the revenue stations at which such timber or forest produce may be stopped under Rule II, after which the same may be removed free of charge.

V. Stoppage of produce from forest tracts not being reserved forests.—All timber or forest produce exported from forest tracts not being reserved forests shall be stopped for examination at one of the revenue stations specified in Rule II, and for the levy thereon of the royalty or price fixed by competent authority.

VI. Obstruction of rivers prohibited, such obstructions to be removed by, or at the cost of, the parties in fault.—The closing up or obstructing of any river used for the transit of timber or forest produce, or the stoppage of navigation on the same, is prohibited. The Deputy Commissioner may order any person who, by his act or negligence, has caused such closure, obstruction, or stoppage to remove the same within a time specified, or may cause such obstruction to be cleared, and recover the cost of such clearance from the person by whose act or negligence it was caused.

VII. PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 309.

The 17th October 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Chittagong, Noakholly, Tipperah, and Chittagong Hill Tracts, of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Chittagong, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE cess collections exceeded the demand for the year, owing to the realization of a large portion of the heavy outstanding arrears.

Six meetings were held by the District Committee. There is no Branch Committee in the district; but one is much needed at the Cox's Bazar sub-division.

The small expenditure on original works is attributed to the estimates for bridging the Ranghur and Hill Tracts roads, and for earthwork on the 3rd section of the Ranghur road not having been sanctioned during the year. Thorough surface repairs and repairs to bridges have been done to all the district roads, and they are now reported to be in fair order compared with their usual condition. The Cox's Bazar sub-division is reported to be almost destitute of any means of communication.

Rupees 5,450 were expended on village communications out of an allotment of Rs. 6,450, and the greater portion of it was spent in thana Patya. Numerous applications are made for money, but it is difficult to get the villagers to undertake the works. Tea-planters looked after the roads near their own estates, and supplemented the grants from their private funds. Contributions, aggregating Rs. 107, were also received from the villagers of Joara and others. Rs. 500 were given to the sub-divisional officer of Cox's Bazar for improving the village communications in his sub-division; but as no money was sanctioned for any road, nothing could be done. It is proposed in future to devote the grant for village communications first to those parts of the district which have benefitted the least hitherto. Nothing was done in regard to arboriculture, as no money was sanctioned for this purpose. The whole district, however, is well wooded. During the current year trees have been planted as an experiment on two miles of a road; but it is reported that most of the roads are not wide enough to admit of any extensive planting.

The different establishments under the Committee did their work well.

A. MANSON,

Chairman, District Road Committee, Chittagong.Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Noakhally, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE realization of arrears of road cess by attachment of estates has proved a failure, and measures are being taken by the Chairman to ensure the arrears being paid up in future.

With the exception of the Vice-Chairman, who was of great assistance to the Chairman, the members of the District Committee are reported to have been perfectly useless. The Fenny Branch Committee is also unfavourably spoken of.

The proposed Dhoom Chur bridge was not undertaken, as the Chairman was diffident to entrust such an important work in the hands of the present executive staff. Khals are being attended to, roads are made wherein practicable, and the people appreciate them. The bridges and kutchra roads are not in as good a condition as they ought to be.

Arboriculture received but little attention. In regard to village roads, the Chairman is of opinion that no expenditure should be incurred on them unless they are made practicable for carts.

The principal fault of the works establishment under the Committee was extravagance, and the process-serving establishment is reported to have worked very badly.

EXPLANATION.

RECEIPTS.—(a) "Fees, Fines, and Forfeitures."—There will appear a difference of Rs. 162-9-8 when compared with the monthly return. This is owing to the sum of Rs. 85-9 on account of the salary of tehsildars not having been shown under the head according to previous practice, but in accordance with the instructions conveyed in Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal's No. 196D, dated 13th March 1880. These amounts have been shown under this head as receipts, and also in the debit side under the head of Provincial rates, establishment and contingencies of collection; and the balance, Rs. 77-0-8, has been transferred from the head of Miscellaneous to this head, as it falls apparently more under this head than others.

(b) "Miscellaneous."—The amount of Rs. 77-0-8 having been transferred from this head to that of Fees, fines, and forfeitures, there will appear a difference of the amount when compared with the monthly return, but the total receipts under these two heads will tally, plus the amount of Rs. 85-9 now added.

This will affect the total receipt of the year by Rs. 85-9.

EXPENDITURE.—(c) "Refund of other receipts."—There is a difference of Rs. 4 with the monthly accounts. This is owing to the amount having been shown in the monthly return for April 1880 under the head of Refund of other receipts. The amount being the wages of tehsildars appointed to realise arrear cesses and now shown under the head of "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," hence the difference.

(d) The total expenditure under the following heads as per monthly return will tally with those of the annual returns as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
As per monthly return, Provincial rates.
Establishment and contingencies of office of collection ...	5 992	8	6
Administration.
Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office ...	1,844	0	10
Stationery.
Stationery and printing	293	5	0
Total ...	8,129	14	4
Add to this the amount of tehsildars' pay not shown in the monthly account	96	0	9
Add to this the amount transferred from head Refunds to the head Establishment and contingencies of office of collection	4	0	0
Total ...	8,229	15	1
As per Annual Accounts, Provincial rates.
Establishment and contingencies of office of collection ...	6,008	4	4
Administration.
Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office ...	1,852	7	10
Stationery.
Stationery and printing	369	2	11
Total ...	8,229	15	1

The difference in each item of expenditure under the heads is owing to the transfer from one head to another, such as amount paid for cart hire, to bringing in the stationery boxes, and price of vinegar, &c., were charged as contingencies in the monthly accounts, whereas in the annual accounts they have been shown under the head of Stationery, and so on.

The total expenditure of the year as per monthly accounts will differ by Rs. 96-0-9 when compared with the annual return, as the amount has now been shown under the head of Establishment and contingencies of office of collection, whereas the amount was treated in the account as refund.

E. F. SANDYS,

Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Tipperah, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

The discontent at the introduction of the road cess has died away, and its objects are now thoroughly understood.

The attendance of members at the meetings of the District Committee, and of the Branch Committees at Chandpur, Muradnagore, and Choudogram was fair. The Branch Committee of Brahmanbariah held only two meetings, and the average attendance was 6 out of 18 members.

The estimate for bridging the Noyanpore-Arybary road was received too late to do much work in brick making; and the height of the floods prevented more turfing and dressing being done on the Kusba-Agurtollah road. One hundred and seventy-eight miles of the district roads were kept in repair.

Rupees 12,412 have been spent on village roads and khals from the road cess, and a further sum of Rs. 1,136 was expended from the local contributions made by the villagers. Numerous applications were made for this class of works, and the Committee intend to allot more money for them as soon as the larger projects are completed. A nursery garden was established at Comillah; trees were planted on two roads, and the young trees which had been previously planted on the other roads in the district were attended to.

Favourable mention has been made of all the establishments employed under the Committee.

H. M. WEATHRELL,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee.

Abstract of a Report by the Deputy Commissioner of the Chittagong Hill Tracts, on the operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE CESS Act is not in operation in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The works are executed by the Deputy Commissioner and his assistants under the general control of the Commissioner, and the opinion of the Executive Engineer of Chittagong is asked on all important and special cases.

The roads were in a bad condition, as the necessary repairs had not been executed for want of funds; but they have since been attended to, and it is asserted that they will be put into thorough good order within three months. The people of this district are nomadic in their habits, and they do not therefore care for village roads. Only a few village roads which pass through the principal villages are generally used by the hill men. Fruit-trees, mangoes and jack, have been planted on both sides of the Rangamuttce-Rowjaun road.

J. H. RENNY, Offg. Deputy Commissioner.

No. 78GM, dated Chittagong, the 21st February 1881.

From—E. E. Lewis, Esq., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department.

UNDER section 179 of Act IX of 1880 (B.C.), I have the honour to submit the following annual report on the administration of the District Road Fund in the districts of the Chittagong Division for the cess year ending with 30th September 1880, and to enclose herein the district reports and accounts, together with a general abstract of the latter for the whole division.

2. The reports and accounts from the Hill Tracts of Chittagong were received in this office on the 18th November 1880, from the district of Noakholly on the 23rd December, from Tipperah on the 21st January 1881, and from the district of Chittagong on the 2nd instant.

3. An abstract of particulars regarding the meetings of the District Road and Branch Committees in the regulation districts of the Chittagong Division during the year under report also accompanies.

4. The provisions of the Road Cess Act have not been in force in the Hill Tracts of Chittagong. There is no Committee for the management of its Road Fund, the administration of which solely rests with the Deputy Commissioner.

5. The Committee in Chittagong consisted of 5 official and 12 non-official members, and the average attendance was 9.33. There is no Sub-committee in any part of the district. The supervision of the road work in the Cox's Bazar sub-division is carried out by the District Road Committee. In fact, till very lately, there has been but little work in that part of the district to supervise. Now, however, that money is to be expended in that direction, it would be well to form a Sub-committee. The attention of the Magistrate has been drawn to this.

6. The Committee in Noakholly consisted of 5 official and 11 non-official members, and the average attendance was 7 against 6 of the preceding year.

7. The Committee in Tipperah consisted of 7 official and 14 non-official members, and the average attendance was 9.

8. There is no Branch Committee in Chittagong; but the Chairman has proposed to submit proposals for forming Branch Committees after his present cold-weather tour.

9. There is only one Branch Committee in Noakholly, but in the district of Tipperah there are four Branch Committees, viz. Brahmanbariah, Chandpur, Moradnagar, and Chowdogram. The district and Branch Committees are said to have taken interest in their work, and their attendance on the whole was fair, with the exception of the Committee of Brahmanbariah.

10. The receipts of the division during the year under report on account of the District Road Fund amounted to Rs. 3,21,845-15-5. This, together with the unexpended balance (Rs. 1,45,462-4) of the preceding year, including the entries under the heads advances and deposits, gave an income of Rs. 4,83,729-3-1 available for expenditure during the year under report.

11. Out of the above income, only Rs. 2,28,663-3-5½ were actually spent, and the unexpended balance remaining at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,51,093-13-5½.

12. It will be seen from a reference to the enclosed statement that a comparatively larger amount was spent in Tipperah under the head "Original works" than in the other districts of the division; for instance, more than double the amount incurred under the same head in Chittagong. The reason for this may be that the old roads in Tipperah have been kept all along in good order, and the Committee can now expend money on new lines, whereas in Chittagong the old lines of communication had, from want of funds, in many places been allowed to fall into a state of utter disrepair, and these must be put in thorough repair before new works can be undertaken. The amount expended in Chittagong on account of repairs was heavy, for, as I have pointed out, the District Road Committee have had to confine their attention to the task of bringing the existing district and village roads into good order.

13. A sum of Rs. 5,450-1-6 have been spent on village roads in Chittagong. No mention has been made as regards village roads in any other districts of the division. But I know that money has been expended, for I made enquiries on this point during my late tour. I have advocated grants for village roads being made over to the villagers themselves for expenditure. It is to their interest to see that the money is well expended, and they can make it go further than if the execution of the work is entrusted to the subordinate cess establishment. The Magistrates should make a point during their cold-weather tours of seeing how the previous season's grants have been expended by the villagers.

14. Some experimental measures have been taken in Chittagong for planting trees on road sides, and Rs. 814 have been sanctioned by the Committee on that account. As regards Tipperah, considerable progress has been made, and 500 fruit trees have been planted on the Companygunge and Arybary roads. The money has not, however, been always wisely expended, for in some places the trees have been planted on the edge instead of away from a rather narrow road, which must eventually be widened if it is to be fit for much cart traffic. When these trees grow up a little, the road will be almost blocked. I believe Mr. Anley's attention was drawn to this, and some order passed on the subject. In Noakholly no progress seems to have been made, though the Chairman does not appear to have forgotten the importance of the matter. In the Hill Tracts of Chittagong some fruit trees are said to have been planted on both sides of the road from Rangamati to Ranzan.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under Section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman, or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

Simla, the 11th October 1881.

No. 55.—The following addition to Rule VI of the Rules for the examination of Junior Civil Servants in Oriental languages, published with the Notification of the Home Department, No. 1, dated the 2nd January 1880, has received the sanction of the Governor-General in Council:—

“Civil Servants may be permitted to attend the examinations after the expiration of the periods specified in this Rule, but no reward will be granted to them if they pass; and their leave must be limited to such time as may be necessary to enable them to attend the examination, and no extra expense must, under any circumstances, be caused to the State. In such cases it will be within the competence of local Governments to refuse applications for permission to attend any particular examination when compliance with such applications would involve inconvenience to the public service.”

The following orders, issued by the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, are republished for general information:—

RESOLUTION.—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

Financial Resolution No. 3571, dated 3rd November 1880.

Letter from the Government of the Punjab, No. 3018, dated 21st September 1881, forwarding an indent upon the Secretary of State for clothing materials required for the Punjab Police force.

RESOLUTION.—In his despatch No. 418, dated 13th December 1877, the Secretary of State directed that materials for the clothing of the police should be procured locally. Subsequently, in April 1879, the Government of the Punjab represented that suitable materials for police clothing could not be so procured, and therefore requested permission to continue the practice of sending home indents for them. This was sanctioned in May 1879. The rules then in force regarding the supply of stores allowed the purchase of European articles either in the local market or direct from the manufacturers in England. Those rules have since been modified, and by Resolution No. 953, dated 10th June 1881, the Government of India declared its policy that, wherever practicable, articles of Indian manufacture shall be substituted for imported goods, and that in cases in which this is impracticable, European stores shall be obtained only through the Secretary of State, and through no other agency.

2. The Government of the Punjab has now submitted for transmission to England an indent for clothing materials required for the Provincial Police force. The Government of India has reason to believe, from the information now before it, that the Indian woollen mills will be able to supply all but the finest cloths demanded in the indent.

3. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requests that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab will cause careful enquiries to be instituted as to how far it may be possible to procure articles of Indian origin for the clothing of the Punjab Police. In this view the indents are returned for revision.

4. The Government of India expects the heads of departments to take special pains to carry out the policy declared in the Resolutions cited above, and hopes that the local Governments will insist that they shall do so. The local Government should pass no indent for stores upon the Secretary of State without satisfying themselves in each case that the articles entered in the indent cannot be procured of Indian manufacture at a price not higher than that of imported goods of the same class.

ORDERED that a copy of the foregoing Resolution, together with the original indent, be forwarded to the Government of the Punjab.

Ordered also that the Resolution be communicated to the Public Works and Military Departments, and to the other local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 329.

Dated the 25th October 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, Manbhoom, and Singhbhoom districts of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Hazaribagh, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE road cess demand was Rs. 32,622, inclusive of the previous year's arrears amounting to Rs. 663, and the collections amounted to Rs. 32,064, the balance outstanding at close of the year being Rs. 543 only. The attendance at the meetings of the District Committee was satisfactory, and the non-official members took a fair interest in their work. A Branch Committee has now been established at Pachumba, but they did not transact any business, as the appointment of members was sanctioned late in the year.

Rupees 5,745 were spent on village roads from the allotment of Rs. 9,000. Tree-planting received due attention; 4,350 trees have been planted out from the nurseries on seven roads, and 7,700 trees, which had been planted on the roadsides in previous years have been maintained. The roads have been much improved, and the Committee have endeavoured to open out as much of the country as is practicable for wheeled traffic.

The large unexpended balance at close of the year is attributed to the failure of the contractors to complete the works, and the Chairman is inclined to think that the contractors were given more work than they could properly manage. Two of the proposed original works were not taken in hand, as the estimates for them were not ready.

The District Engineer and his establishment are favourably reported on.

DINONATH MUKHERJI,
Vice-Chairman.

Explanatory Memorandum attached to the District Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

In preparing the annual accounts the new classification of headings prescribed by Government (vide Proceedings No. 201, dated 26th February 1880) has been adopted; hence the figures entered in the column "Amount as per budget estimate" in Part II of the accounts differ in certain items from those in the budget for the year, and in the Government Resolution thereon, though the total estimated receipts in the two returns tally.

The charges against the heads "Stationery" and "Percentage cost of establishment for offices of account and control" were met from the allotment sanctioned for contingencies under the different heads of establishment. There being no column provided in the old forms of accounts no amounts were separately sanctioned for these charges; hence the column "Budget estimate" against the two heads are blank.

DINONATH MUKHERJI,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Lohardugga, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

The road cess is not by any means unpopular, as the people now understand that it is levied for the benefit of the district.

The attendance at the meetings of the District Committee was more satisfactory than in previous years, and nearly all the members who attended took great interest in the Committee's proceedings. Four meetings were held by the Palamow Branch Committee, and the average attendance was 6.25.

The progress of original works was retarded, owing to all earthwork being stopped by a mistake until the commencement of the rains. The operations in the Palamow subdivision were almost entirely confined to survey work, and to the preparation of estimates and projects for the principal roads. The work done on village roads consisted chiefly in embanking valleys and constructing temporary bridges, as well as realigning and demarcating the tracks. There are six important lines, however, connecting groups of villages with trade routes, which are gradually being put in order, and which will soon come under the head of district roads. Drainage is being specially looked after, and about 60 trees were planted on three roads aggregating 16½ miles in length. Generally speaking, more attention has been paid this year to securing substantial work rather than quantity, and care is taken that the bad portions of roads are attended to first. All the roads in the district are only in fair-weather condition, and none of them have been bridged throughout.

The several establishments under the committee have done their work satisfactorily.

Explanation of Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

ORIGINAL WORKS.—Rupees 10,387-14-0 was first provided for in the revised budget for 1879-80, but the committee, at a meeting on the 8th June 1880, finding it impossible to undertake the work during the year, owing to the estimates not being passed up to June, transferred the sum of Rs. 4,318-15-9 from original works to repairs, leaving a balance, Rs. 6,068-14-3, for collecting materials and planting trees, &c. Add to this a sum of Rs. 4,407-13-6, unexpended budget balance of 1878-79, paid during the year gives a total of Rs. 10,476-11-9 out of which Rs. 7,522-14-1 has been paid during the year 1879-80, the balance, Rs. 2,953-13-8, will be paid during 1880-81 in addition to the sum provided in the budget estimate of the year.

REPAIRS.—Rs. 20,350-9-2 was first provided in the revised budget for 1879-80, but a sum of Rs. 4,318-15-9 was transferred on the 5th June 1880 from original works to this as stated above. Add thereto a sum of Rs. 2,867-2-9, unexpended budget balance of 1878-79, paid during 1879-80, gives a total of Rs. 27,536-11-8, out of which Rs. 23,488-11-7 has been paid during the year 1879-80 the balance, Rs. 4,048, will be paid during 1880-81 in addition to the sum provided in the budget estimate of the year.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Manbhoom, on the Committee's operation for the Cess Year 1879-80.

THE working of the Cess Act was satisfactory, but the cesses were not paid in punctually. The total cess demand was Rs. 64,565, inclusive of the sums due from estates situated in other districts, but borne on the revenue-roll of this district, and Rs. 50,772 were realized, leaving a balance of Rs. 13,793 outstanding at the close of the year; but this arrear was entirely for the last instalment of the year which fell due on the 28th September 1879, being only two days before the close of the year under review.

The District Committee held a meeting regularly in each month, and only on one occasion a quorum was not present: the average attendance at each meeting was eight. There are no branch committees in this district.

There was only one original work undertaken during the year—viz. the completion of the Purulia and Chaibassa-road. This road has been put in good order throughout its entire length in this district; all the other district roads were repaired and maintained in proper order. Repairs and improvements were effected on about 60 miles of village roads, including repairs to famine tanks in the south of the district. Trees to the number of 1,040 were planted along the station roads, and the Commissioners intend to plant trees in the Chaibassa and Bankoora roads during the current cess year. The Rajah of Jherya contributed half the cost of four masonry culverts and the mile-stones on the Jherya road.

The different establishments under the Committee are said to have given satisfaction.

THE Burrakur Road, the Baudgaon Road, the Gurjan Road, the Midnapore Road, the Juggernathpore-Jamda Road, and the Sraikela-Chukurdharpur Road, have been much improved; and 720 fruit trees have been planted on three roads. Eighteen roads were not repaired during the year for want of funds; but provision has been made for their repair during the current cess year.

J. M. E. GOULDSBURY,

Vice-Chairman.

No. 441DR, dated Chota Nagpore, the 7th March 1881.

From—J. F. K. HAWITT, Esq., Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith district reports on works of local improvement with the accounts received from the several district Road Committees of this division, for the year ending 30th September 1880, with the following remarks:—

2. The dates on which the several district reports and accounts were received are given below:—

Hazaribagh	2nd January 1881.
Lohardugga	4th January 1881.
Manbhoom	10th February 1881.
Singbhoom	22nd January 1881.

3. With the exception of the district of Singbhoom the Road Cess Act was in full force in all the districts of the division, during the year under review. In Singbhoom alone a sum of Rs. 10,000 was assigned by Government under orders conveyed in letter No. 1372 of the 16th May 1879.

4. The cess was realized at maximum rates in Hazaribagh and Manbhoom, and only at $\frac{2}{3}$ rates in Lohardugga.

5. The abstract below shows in a tabular form the extent to which the meetings of the Road Committees were attended in each district :—

DISTRICT.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS FORMING COMMITTEE.		Number required to form a quorum.	Number of meetings held.	Meetings at which there was no quorum.	Average attendance at meetings.	Number of members who did not attend any meeting.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS WHO ATTENDED—
	Official.	Non-official.						One Meeting.		Two Meetings.		Three Meetings.
								Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.
Hazaribagh ...	7	16	8	5	..	10	1	4	1	6	3	3	2	43'10
Lohardugga ...	8	11	6	8	..	7	4	3	6	4	3	3	2	38'84
Palamow Branch ...	4	7	..	4	..	0'25	...	2	2	1	...	58'80
Manbhoom ...	6	13	5	12	1	2	...	1	2	1	1	42'1
Singbhoom ...	3	13	5	7	1	2	...	1	2	...	1	1 or 50

6. In Hazaribagh the attendance of members was satisfactory, a full quorum having been obtained at every meeting. The non-official members are reported to have taken a fairly satisfactory interest in its proceedings. A branch committee was for the first time established within the Panchumba sub-division of this district during the year under review; but as the appointment of its members was made at a very late period of the year, it did not transact any business.

7. In Lohardugga the attendance of members was more satisfactory than that of the preceding year, all the numbers who attended the meetings having taken very great interest in its proceedings. The Palamow branch committee consisted of 11 members; it held only four meetings in the year. The business transacted by it and the District Committee was of the usual character.

8. In Manbhoom a meeting was convened almost every month, and business appears to have been transacted on every occasion, except on one, when there was no quorum: the members are reported on the whole to have done very good work during the year.

9. In Singbhoom the number of meetings held shew a decided improvement over last year, and the non-official members of the Committee appear to have taken greater interest in its proceedings.

10. The percentages of collections on current and arrear demands of the three Road Cess districts in the division are given below :—

DISTRICT.	DEMAND.		COLLECTION.		Total demand.	Total collection.	Percentage.
	Arrear.	Current.	Arrear.	Current.
Hazaribagh ...	663	31,958	663	31,465	32,621	32,068	98'29
Lohardugga ...	2,038	34,144	2,038	33,740	36,482	35,787	98'00
Manbhoom ...	7,803	25,060	7,803	20,679	32,863	28,182	86'06
Total ...	10,504	91,162	10,504	85,884	1,01,966	96,335	94'47

The percentages of collections in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga are highly satisfactory; that of Manbhoom is far below the mark. The total divisional collection is nearly up to the mark. The Deputy Commissioner of Manbhoom has not explained the cause of the short collections of his district, but has been called on to do so. The percentage of collections made in Manbhoom would be still less were the sums due to and collected for other districts taken into consideration.

11. The following table shows the percentage of total cost of all sorts of establishment including contingencies on the actual demands of the three Road Cess districts, during the year under report :—

DISTRICT.	ACTUAL DEMAND OF THE YEAR.			Total demand for the year.	Total cost of establishment including contingencies.	Percentage of cost of establishment or demand.
	Cess on land.	Cess on mines.	Miscellaneous.
Hazaribagh ...	29,711	2,247	1,008	33,866	10,615	31'34
Lohardugga ...	34,470	9	2,118	36,597	8,275	22'68
Manbhoom ...	25,012	48	1,608	26,758	7,927	29'68

In Hazaribagh and Maubhoom the cost of establishment, has, it appears from the above, exceeded 25 per cent. of the actual demand of the year, these two districts should reduce their establishments unless their income is sufficiently increased under the re-valuations in progress in them, so as to bring down their cost of establishment within 25 per cent. of their actual income, or they must obtain special sanction of Government for the retention of their present establishments.

12. The following table gives the funds at the disposal of each Committee, including balance of previous years and suspense accounts and the percentage of costs of different establishment:—

DISTRICT.	Total income including balance.	Total cost of establishment.	Percentage.	Total revenue under Act X of 1871.	Cost of establishment and contingencies of office of collection.	Percentage.	Expenditure on works.	Cost of establishment on works.	Percentage.
	Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh	71,037	10,615	14.94	32,090	1,622	5.05	33,928	8,282	24.32
Lohardugga	58,189	8,295	14.26	35,787	2,100	5.86	31,218	6,045	19.34
Maubhoom	35,834	7,927	22.12	38,927	1,396	3.58	18,423	5,000	27.02
Singbhoom	19,778	15,551	78.45	7,054	1,359	19.12
Total	1,84,848	28,388	15.36	96,804	5,118	5.28	91,533	20,737	22.65

In Maubhoom alone the cost of establishment on work exceeds 25 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works.

13. In Hazaribagh out of the sum of Rs. 17,122 provided for in the budget, only Rs. 7,015 was spent in original works, viz. 5,517 on earthworks in 23 out of 27 miles of Road No. 7, (Giridih to Kharakdiha road) and the residue on four new village roads. Provision was made in the budget to the extent of Rs. 4,000 for roads Nos. 6 and 22, viz. Paharpur to Bagadur and Raugur to Jainuggar roads, but the amount was not spent for non-preparation of estimates in time.

In Lohardugga the total expenditure on original works during the year was Rs. 7,523; of this sum Rs. 4,408 was paid for works done in the preceding year, so that Rs. 3,115 was the sum actually spent on works done during the year out of a budget allotment of Rs. 10,387. But as the Committee transferred Rs. 4,319 to repairs from this amount, it appears that they have exceeded in their outlay under the head of original works, the amount available to them in their budget. The Committee appears to have done this under Government orders conveyed in No. 783A of the 11th August 1880. The works done under the head of original works during the year consisted only of planting of trees, collection of materials, the construction of seven masonry culverts, the construction of village roads on an outlay of Rs. 467, and the erection of a godown for stores in the Palamow sub-division at a cost of Rs. 68. Provision for the latter appears to have been wrongly made in the revised budget, under the head of repairs instead of under original works.

14. It appears that both in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga the Committees failed to lay out any larger sums in original works, owing to estimates not having been prepared sufficiently before hand. The Committees should always have estimates prepared of roads selected according to their importance, or sections of the same, and then provide for the works to be done in them in their budgets after getting the sanction of the professional authorities where necessary, and when the works in these are completed they should proceed to take up other roads, estimates for which have been previously made and approved of by the professional authorities. New works should always, when taken in hand, be prosecuted continuously, instead of by patches with large gaps intervening.

15. In Maubhoom the Committee appears to have spent a fair proportion of the amount (Rs. 8,515) provided for by them in their budget for the year (of this sum Rs. 8,015 were provided for culverts and other works on the Purulia to Chaibassa Road, and Rs. 500 for minor works. But the actual amount spent by the Committee on the Purulia to Chaibassa Road appears to be Rs. 4,940. The Maubhoom Committee appear to have diverted a sum of Rs. 2,281 for construction of culverts in the Purulia to Maubazar Road. The total estimated cost of this road, as sanctioned in Government letter No. 676C of the 2nd November 1877, was only Rs. 14,776. The actual expenditure on this road out of the sanctioned amount, up to the end of the previous year, was Rs. 14,607, so that the Committee had only Rs. 159 in hand, which they could spend on this road. But they appear to have spent Rs. 2,440 on this road during the year under report, without making any provision for the same in their budget estimate for the year, and moreover exceeded the amount sanctioned by Government by Rs. 2,281. They have been called on to explain how this occurred.

16. In Singbhoom the expenditure in this head is Rs. 3,481 out of an estimated amount of Rs. 3,692 provided in the budget, a result which is by no means unsatisfactory.

17. Repairs.—In Hazaribagh a sum of Rs. 26,824 was expended out of the estimated amount of Rs. 36,754 in repairing 17 district and 19 village roads, including station roads. The remainder was unexpended owing to the fact of too much work having been given to each contractor. I have frequently pointed out the impossibility of getting repairs properly done in this division, or anywhere else, if any petty repair is given over to contractors at head-quarters. Petty repairs should be entrusted to the inhabitants of the villages through which the road passes. The Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh seems to have acted to some extent on this suggestion; but much more should be done in this direction.

18. In Lohardugga the Committee provided Rs. 20,350 for outlay under this head of expenditure. But subsequently finding their inability to spend the amount provided for Original Works, they transferred Rs. 4,319 from that head to repairs. The Committee succeeded in spending only, Rs. 23,489, and their failure to spend the remainder is attributed to the fact that the transfer from the head of original works was made late in the year.

19. In Manbhoom the Committee appear to have devoted themselves principally to the maintenance of roads and repairing of bridges, culverts and inspection bungalows the expenditure under this head amounting to Rs. 10,951 against Rs. 13,300 allotted in the budget. From the Appendix B submitted by the Committee with their final report, it appears that in some of the roads more work was actually done than what was actually paid for within the year. The work of this district under the head of Repairs appears to be very satisfactory.

20. In Singbhoom the expenditure under this head is 4,473 out of an allotment of Rs. 5,407. The work consisted chiefly of thoroughly and substantially repairing five roads extending over a length of 26 miles and surface repairs in these and one other road, extending over 174 miles. The above expenditure include the cost of metalling 2 miles of road No. 3 (Barakur to Chaibassa road), and the cost of replacing 9 wooden platform bridges by substantial masonry bridges, though this last item ought to have been shown under the head of Original Works.

Village Roads.

21. The expenditure on villages roads is shown below:—

DISTRICT.	Estimated amount for expenditure on village roads.	Actual expenditure on village roads.	Total amount spent on all sorts of works.	Percentage of actual expenditure on village roads on estimates.	Percentage of total amount spent in village roads on total expenditure on all sorts of works.
Hazaribagh	9,000	5,754	33,929	63.03	16.07
Lohardugga	5,000	5,602	31,248	109.86	17.92
Manbhoom	4,000	3,037	18,112	95.42	21.37

22. In Singbhoom the Committee have in their memorandum No. 1327, dated 7th November 1879, stated that the assignment to their district is too small to allow them to make any provision for village roads, after making provisions for the important district roads.

23. The Lohardugga Committee appear to have spent 9.86 per cent. over the estimated amount by diverting a portion of the unexpended amount in hand under the head of original works.

24. In Manbhoom nearly the whole amount budgeted for was expended. In Hazaribagh the expenditure has nearly come up to 61 per cent. of the estimated amount.

25. As compared with previous years, the Committees of the last three districts appear to have paid greater attention to the village roads.

26. In Hazaribagh 4,350 new trees are reported to have been planted during the year under review. In Lohardugga the Deputy Commissioner reports that trees have been planted on the both sides of 16½ miles of three roads. In Manbhoom 1,040 trees were planted along the station roads, most of them being shade giving—such as Bur, Peepul, and the like. In Singbhoom 718 fruit trees were planted on three lines of district roads. On the whole it appears that greater attention was paid to the planting of trees than was done in last year. But the Committee do not appear to have paid as much attention as would be desirable.

Planting trees.

The different establishments are on the whole reported to have done their work well during the year under report.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

RESOLUTION.—It is reported that no stores were obtained from England for the public service in Assam during the last two years. A statement is, however, submitted, showing the European articles purchased in the local market by certain officers; but it is not clear whether some of the articles (e. g. khaki cloth) mentioned in the return are not of Indian origin. From this return a list has been prepared, and is appended to this Resolution, showing the articles which the Governor-General in Council considers should be procured of Indian manufacture, if they can be obtained at a price not higher than that of imported goods.

2. His Excellency in Council accordingly requests that the Chief Commissioner of Assam will be good enough to cause enquiries to be made as to the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining future regular supplies of such goods of Indian manufacture; as also of any other goods which in the course of the enquiry it may be found possible to substitute for imported articles. In order to ensure the existence of a large and constant demand for goods which the manufacturers would not otherwise undertake to make, the Government of India will be prepared to approve of contracts with Indian manufacturers for a term of, say, five years if necessary.

3. In the series of Resolutions on the subject of stores, recently published in the Gazette of India, the existing sources of supply of Indian-made goods have been indicated so as far as they are as yet known to the Government of India.

4. Lanterns and swords should be procured of Indian manufacture. Lanterns are made in Calcutta by such firms as Jessop & Co. and also by native workers, and they can perhaps be locally made by natives. Swords of better quality than the swords ordinarily made for trade purposes in England are manufactured by native armourers in the Punjab and the North-Western Provinces, and the local authorities of those provinces will be able to indicate to the Chief Commissioner whence he can obtain to the best advantage the supplies he wants.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Chief Commissioner, Assam, and to the other local Governments and administrations, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

ATTACK MADE ON THE TEMPLE OF JAGGANNATH IN POOREE BY A PARTY OF FANATICS CALLED "ALEKHS" OR "KUMBHUPATIAS," AND THE TENETS AND CUSTOMS OF THE SECT.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st October 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ the undermentioned papers regarding an attack made on the Temple of Jaggannath in Pooree by a party of fanatics called "Alekhhs" or "Kumbhupatias," and regarding the tenets and customs of the sect:—

Letter from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, No. H-1, dated the 16th March 1881, and enclosures.

Letter from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, No. 96, dated the 19th March 1881, and enclosures.

Letter from the Assistant Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, No. 1862-96, dated the 23rd May 1881, and enclosures.

Letter from the Assistant Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, No. 3069-161, dated the 17th August 1881, and enclosure.

Intimation was received by the Commissioner of Orissa, on the 9th March last, that a party of fanatics, consisting of twelve men and three women, had entered the Temple of Jaggannath in Pooree on the 1st idem, with the object of burning the idol of Jaggannath, and that a disturbance had taken place, in which one of the fanatics had lost his life. The party in question were residents of Sambulpore in the Central Provinces, and they stated that they were induced to come to Pooree in consequence of one of their co-religionists

(the deceased) having been commanded by their "guru," an invisible being without shape or form, to bring the images of Jaggannath, Balaram, and Subhadra out of the temple and to burn them on the road. For the purpose of carrying this order into effect, a large body of men and women left their homes in Sambulpore, taking their children with them, but when within a few miles of Pooree, twelve men and three women separated themselves from the main body and preceded them to the temple.

2. The disturbance formed the subject of an immediate investigation by the local authorities, from the reports submitted by them the following facts have been collated :—

One of the door-keepers of the temple, who was on duty at the Lion Gate when the disturbance occurred, in describing the scene, stated that about twenty men and women, who were almost in a state of nudity, came up to the temple shouting "alekh," "alekh." They had with them an earthen pot containing cooked rice, of which, judging from the state of their hands, they had evidently only recently partaken. The door-keeper tried to prevent them from entering the temple by closing the gate, but they succeeded in pushing it open and forcing their way into the building accompanied by some 200 pilgrims. One of the fanatics still hold in his hand the pot of rice, but on being remonstrated with by the door-keeper, he consented to leave it outside, and was then permitted to enter. The party next proceeded to break down the door of the Rhogmanadab, the apartment in which the offerings of the worshippers of the idols are usually displayed, but which was at the time empty. They then made their way into the great hall of the temple in front of the shrine, the crowd of spectators having by this time doubled. Finding the door called Jaibijai shut, the fanatics went out into the enclosure and rushed about like mad men and women, endeavouring to find an entrance in some other direction. The crowd of pilgrims at this time was estimated to number upwards of a thousand, and a great deal of pushing and struggling took place, in the midst of which one of the fanatics fell or was pushed on to the stone pavement. He was lifted up by some of his companions and was assisted out of the temple, and shortly after he expired.

3. The rioters were arrested by the police and were placed on their trial on charges framed under sections 147 and 297 of the Indian Penal Code before the Deputy Magistrate of Pooree, and on conviction were each sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment.

4. Shortly after the arrest of the party of fanatics above referred to, the Assistant Superintendent of Police learnt that a second party were on their road to Pooree with a similar object in view, and he accordingly sent out a patrol and caused them to be arrested before they could enter the town and do any mischief. This second party consisted of six men, eleven women, and eleven small children. The adults were placed on their trial as persons having no ostensible means of subsistence, but they were acquitted by the Deputy Magistrate on the grounds that they were in the same position as hundreds of other beggars, and that there was nothing in their case to raise a suspicion that they earned their livelihood by improper means.

5. The rioters being inhabitants of Sambulpore, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces was asked to favour the Lieutenant-Governor with information regarding the tenets of the sect to which they belong, and with particulars regarding their place of residence, habits, and pursuits. In compliance with this request, the Chief Commissioner furnished this Government with the following particulars on the subject :—

6. There is a peculiar sect of Hindu dissenters in the Sambulpore district, known as Kumbhupatias. The word Kumbhupatia is derived from "kumbhu," the name of a kind of tree, and "pat," the bark of a tree, and the sect is so called because its followers make ropes from the bark of the tree and wear them round their waists. The religion is also known as that of Alekh, and its followers claim revelation as its foundation. Alekhschwamy, the god incarnate, used, it is said, to reside in the Himalayas, but about the year 1864 he came to Malabarpare in Banki, zillah Cuttack, and revealed the religion professed by the Kumbhupatias to 64 persons, the principal of whom was Govind Dass; and it is chiefly owing to the exertions of these disciples that the religion was propagated. Alekhschwamy (which signifies "the lord whose attributes cannot be described in writing") removed to Dhenkadal, a feudatory State in Cuttack, where, for three years immediately preceding his death, he led the life of a mendicant and wanderer. Although the religion originated in Cuttack, it spread more rapidly in the district of Sambulpore, and men of all classes and castes, except the Uriya Brahmins, are freely embracing it. It is not so much the peculiarity of the rules of any particular caste or sect that tends to increase the number of converts to it as the position in life of the converts themselves: thus in Khinda the people of a whole village embraced the Kumbhupatia religion because the Gaontia had done so. The names of some thirty villages are given as those in which the Kumbhupatias chiefly reside.

7. There are three sects of Kumbhupatias—(1) the Kumbhupatias proper, who wear ropes made of the bark of trees; (2) the Kanapatias, who wear rags; and (3) the Ashritas or Grosthes, who lead a family life. The first two sects renounce the world and make no distinction of caste. They eat food given by people of any caste, except by a Raja, who is supposed to accumulate his wealth by oppressing and torturing his subjects; by a Brahmin or bhandari, because he accepts gifts made in shraddh ceremonies; by a washerman, because he washes the clothes of all classes of people; and by a hadi, because his occupation is filthy. The third sect do not renounce the world nor deem celibacy essential, nor are they turned out of caste. They look up to the other two sects as their "gurus" or spiritual guides, and follow their religion. They bathe in the early morning.

8. Each sect has a separate temple or place of prayer. They believe in one Supreme Being, who is called Alekh; truthfulness, obedience to spiritual guidance, and faith are the principal tenets of their religion. They believe in the existence of the thirty-three crores of Hindu gods and goddesses, but they do not respect their images, as they argue that it is impossible to represent the form of the Supreme Being whom no one has ever seen, nor do they worship the Hindu gods and goddesses; there is indeed reason to think that, unlike the followers of Ramanand, Kabir, and Chaitanya, they have an antipathy to them, as they dislike to touch the tulsi plant, because it is held sacred by the Hindus, and will not eat the flesh of a goat, because it is offered in sacrifice to the Hindu goddess Kali. They eat and drink only in the day-time; if they feel hungry or thirsty at night they can drink water only. They pray in the open air every day (morning and evening) with their faces turned towards the sun, and with their hands folded and held at the nose. If four or more persons join in the prayer, one of them recites, in humble words and suppliant voice, the praises of the Almighty, the others repeating the words after him. They bow down, prostrating themselves to the ground, 64 times, corresponding to the number of disciples of their god. Their habits are very filthy. They take no medicine, but rely on the help of their god alone for recovery: in case of severe illness, they take a little earth from the prayer-ground, mix it with rice-water, and drink the mixture. During the past two years the Kumbhupatias have divided into two sections. Formerly Bhima Kondh of Sonapore was the leader of the sect. Bhima was born blind, but he appears to have been endowed with natural talents of a superior order. Though unable to read and write, he had some Uriya religious books, such as the Mahabharat and Srimat Bhagbat, read to him; and the education he thus received enabled him to compose two or three volumes of verses in praise of the Almighty, which, it is asserted, would do credit to any Uriya scholar of the present day. He exercised great influence over his followers. The relations existing between him and a female companion, however, excited suspicion among his adherents, who, however, did not venture to question the purity of his conduct until the woman became pregnant. Bhima endeavoured to deceive his followers by telling them that the woman would give birth to Arjun, who would root out all unbelievers. They believed this story, and waited until the child was born, when, to their great surprise, they found that the woman gave birth to a girl. Bhima accounted for this by saying that it had recently been revealed to him that the woman would give birth to a female, who would destroy all the unbelievers by means of her charms. The child, however, died a few days later, and Bhima then tried to mislead his followers still further by saying that the fairy had quitted this world because she had found it filled with the vices of mankind. He was now deserted by most of his followers, who formed a separate faction, but he is still highly adored and honoured by the remainder. He has erected an altar, over which he and his wife sit in the morning. His followers worship them and move round the altar until the time for their morning meal arrives, when their feet are washed with milk, which is afterwards drunk by their adherents. Another cause of dissension was because Bhima pretended that he himself was their god.

9. The Kumbhupatias who made a crusade against Jaggannath were residents of Chunderpore. Dasa Ram, the leader of the party which proceeded to Pooree, and who was killed in the scuffle at the temple, thought that, if Jaggannath were burnt, it would convince the Hindus of the futility of their religion, and that the whole world would thereby embrace the true religion. This account is given by some of the Kumbhupatias who reside in Sambulpore; and it is not improbable that the man was actuated by dreams, in which the Kumbhupatias firmly believe. If any member of the fraternity breaks any of the rules, speaks an untruth, or commits a crime, he is excommunicated. A man undergoes an examination before he is admitted into the sect. It is stated that the tehsildar of Ungul in Cuttack has been successful in reducing crime within his jurisdiction by encouraging a criminal class called "Pans" to embrace the Kumbhupatia religion.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it be communicated to the Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 28th October 1881.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1880-81.

THE report has been compiled by Mr. Maclean who, except for an interval of three months, during which, Mr. Armstrong the Deputy Collector officiated for him, was Collector of Customs throughout the year. During Mr. Maclean's absence Mr. Blyth acted for Mr. Armstrong. The report which, as usual, is full and interesting, has been exhaustively reviewed by the Board of Revenue; and the Lieutenant-Governor proposes in this Resolution to touch only on the principal points of interest which it contains.

2. The following table shows the gross and net Customs duties, inclusive of the duty on imported salt for each of the last five years:—

	1876-77.	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.

There has thus been a decrease in the net revenue of over 4½ lakhs of rupees, a result which is chiefly due to the diminished income from the duty on salt and on grey piece-goods: under these two heads there has been a falling off in duty of nearly 15 lakhs of rupees. Had, therefore, the abundant crops and consequent general prosperity of the year, not led to a great increase in imports of all kinds, in consequence of which the falling off under salt and piece-goods was to a large extent neutralized, the net revenue results of the year would show much more unfavorably than they now do. The charges of the department rose from Rs. 10,38,067 in 1879-80 to Rs. 11,61,637 in the year under review, and the total net revenue after deduction of all expenditure was Rs. 3,09,41,086 against Rs. 3,13,68,069 in the previous year. The falling off was heaviest in Calcutta, amounting to Rs. 2,50,384, but the percentage of decrease was 8 only. In Chittagong there was a falling off of Rs. 1,24,216 or 14½ per cent. of the previous year's revenue owing principally to decreased clearances of salt for home consumption.

3. The total values of the imports and exports from Bengal in each of the past five years are compared below :—

Trade, though still behind the point, reached in the exceptional year 1877-78 was more active during the period under review than in any other previous year, and exceeded the results of the year 1878-79 by over $10\frac{1}{2}$ crores of rupees. The direction in which this improvement was most manifest will be noticed further on in connection with the detailed statistics of the year.

4. The year was remarkable for a large increase in the importations of Government stores, the figures being for 1876-77, Rs. 64,20,772; 1877-78, Rs. 40,70,790; 1878-79, Rs. 24,17,960; 1879-80, Rs. 9,93,904; 1880-81, Rs. 88,42,803. The importations of railway material consigned to Government were higher by 40 lakhs of rupees than last year; but of this amount a considerable portion is nominal being due to the transfer of the East Indian Railway from the Company to Government, and the consequent consignment to Government of the materials sent out to that line. All real increase in the import of railway material and machinery is satisfactory as an indication of the growth of the manufacturing industry and productive powers of the country. The remaining articles which showed an increase were woollen goods ($8\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs), leather manufactures ($4\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs), arms ($3\frac{3}{4}$ lakhs), paper (2 lakhs), hardware (2 lakhs), books ($1\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs), apparel (1 lakh), drugs (1 lakh), and instruments ($\frac{1}{2}$ a lakh).

5. The improvement observed last year in the importations of merchandise

to Calcutta was still more marked in the period under review. In 1879-80 imports of merchandise had advanced in value by upwards of 2 crores, but there was a further advance of about $3\frac{1}{2}$ crores in 1880-81. Free imports have increased to the extent of nearly 3 crores and 60 lakhs of rupees, and of this increase over three crores and 40 lakhs were on account of cotton piece-goods alone. The extent, therefore, to which the revenue has suffered from the orders exempting from duty all grey cotton piece-goods containing no yarn above 30s may be estimated from the fact that dutiable imports of cotton piece-goods fell off by one crore and 69 lakhs of rupees. The increased importation of woollen goods, silk piece-goods, paper, apparel, machinery and umbrellas indicates an improvement in the general standard of living and the more general possession of a surplus beyond the bare means of subsistence; while the falling off apparent against certain heads of imports is either nominal or due to transient causes, when it is not to be accounted for by the substitution of local for foreign manufacture. Importations of silver declined by nearly $1\frac{1}{2}$ crores of rupees, but an advance of Rs. 22½ lakhs took place in the importations of gold, representing an increase of 34 per cent. The decline in the importation of silver was no doubt due as stated by the Board to the increased importation of merchandise not having been balanced by a proportionate increase in exportation. Gold, however, is imported mainly for useful and ornamental, not for monetary purposes, and therefore the fact that more gold has come into the country is a testimony to its increased prosperity. Over one lakh in gold was re-exported from Calcutta to Burmah.

6. The rise in the exports of merchandise though proportionately less marked than that in the imports was still very satisfactory, amounting to over three crores of rupees. Larger shipments of indigo, and the general prevalence of abundant crops, are correctly assigned as the cause of the increase. Exports of treasure show a falling off from Rs. 32,76,911 to Rs. 22,01,018.

7. The distribution of the foreign trade among the different countries was as follows:—United Kingdom, 63·79 per cent.; Hong-Kong; 13·07 per cent.; Chinese Treaty ports 1·74 per cent.; United States 4·48 per cent.; France 3·53 per cent.; Straits Settlements 3·76 per cent.; Italy 1·98 per cent.; Ceylon 1·59 per cent.; Australia 1·15 per cent.; Austria 1·12 per cent.; and other countries 3·79 per cent. Thus the United Kingdom has absorbed nearly two-thirds of the entire trade; while the trade with China is about one-seventh of the whole. In the preceding year the corresponding figures were, China one-sixth, and United Kingdom three-fifths. The trade with the United Kingdom has advanced by about 5½ crores of rupees, the chief increase in imports as usual being in cotton goods, jewellery, woollen goods, umbrellas, machinery and apparel. The increase in umbrellas is specially noticeable, the numbers imported having risen from 868,735 in 1876-77 to 2,062,870 in the year under report. The more general use of umbrellas of European make even by daily labourers in Bengal is a mark of advancing prosperity among that class which has been frequently noticed by district officers. Among exports, linseed, indigo and wheat showed great improvement. The most noticeable facts in the China trade were the advance in the quantity of opium exported to Hong-Kong, the falling off in the quantity consigned to the Treaty ports, and an increase of 6½ lakhs of rupees in the value of shipments of raw cotton the consumption of which in China seems to be steadily increasing. Imports from the United States declined by about eight lakhs of rupees, and exports to the extent of sixty lakhs; but the decline in the value of imports is largely due to the manufacture of ice in this country; and to a fall in the value of kerosine oil. The American demand for manufactured jute-bags seems to be superseding that for raw jute, the cause assigned by the Collector of Customs being the larger area now under wheat in America. The grain trade with Mauritius again shows a falling off which is attributed to increased shipments from Bombay which is nearer to the chief grain-producing districts than Calcutta. The advance in imports of silk from France and in exports of tea to Australia are noticeable points regarding the trade of Calcutta with other countries. From 13½ lakhs in 1879-80 imports from France increased to 28½ lakhs of rupees in 1880-81. The advance was chiefly in silk, an article of pure luxury. The principal increase in the trade with Australia consisted of 4½ lakhs in the export of tea, and is due to the measures taken by the Calcutta Syndicates to promote the use of Indian tea in Australia. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that further efforts will secure a still wider market for this important product of Indian industry; and he agrees with the Board in thinking that this wider market is more likely to be secured by improved quality of the tea exported rather than by increased quantity. This fact seems already to have been fully recognized by those interested in the tea trade and production. The proportion of foreign trade conveyed via the Suez Canal has advanced from 46 per cent. in 1878-79 to 57 per cent. in the year under review. The total value of the merchandise and treasure carried to and from India by this route during the year amounted to Rs. 32,61,64,163.

8. The imports of cotton twist and yarn have increased by nearly 42 per cent. on the imports of last year and have been in excess of the demand. The quantity imported during the year amounted to 16,572,240 lb valued at Rs. 1,39,20,593. About 10 per cent. of the quantity imported remained in stock at the close of the year; but even so, sales were far greater than in the preceding year.

9. The enormous rise in the importation of piece-goods has already been noticed incidentally, but the following table given by the Board of Revenue states the fact in full detail:—

10. The consumption of piece-goods has more than kept pace with the importation: for, the Collector reports, that not only have the imports been absorbed, but stocks have also been largely reduced. This expansion of the Calcutta trade has taken place simultaneously with a relatively greater expansion in the piece-goods trade of Bombay: but the Board are yet unable to say whether the Calcutta trade has absolutely suffered from this competition. Freight and insurance to Bombay are less than to Calcutta: and this fact would naturally tend to favour the former at the expense of the latter port. But it has also been alleged that the trade has been injured by the excessive charges of the Eastern Indian Railway as compared with those of the railways of Western and Northern India. There is, however, a large and increasing market in Bengal alone which should maintain the trade of the port of Calcutta, and the policy of the Port Commissioners in reducing port and jetty charges will, if persevered in, doubtless, help to secure that hold which Calcutta has held so long on this import trade.

11. The effect of the abolition of duties on grey piece-goods containing no yarn finer than 30s was considered at length by the Lieutenant-Governor last year. The figures of the year confirm the view expressed by the Lieutenant-Governor on that occasion. They again show that local manufactures have not been driven from the market; that Lancashire has been compelled to manufacture a class of non dutiable goods in substitution for a class of goods that fell under the dutiable standard; that consumers get a coarser, and doubtless a cheaper article for their money, but not the article they would prefer; and finally that the loss to the Indian revenues has proportionately increased. The following extract from the Board's Report places this matter in a clear light, and has the Lieutenant-Governor's concurrence.

In his report for last year the Collector noticed at some length the effect of the remission of duty on grey piece-goods containing no yarn finer than 30s on the trade generally, as well as on the Imperial revenue. It was shown that the imports of duty-free goods had increased from 10 millions of yards in 1878-79 to 227 millions of yards in 1879-80, while there had been a falling off in dutiable goods from 513 millions of yards to 381 millions, accompanied by a loss to the revenue of 13½ lakhs in Bengal alone. These effects have been still more marked during the past year. The imports of non dutiable grey piece-goods have increased from 227 millions of yards to 520 millions, while dutiable grey piece-goods have fallen from 381 millions of yards to 229 millions, and the Collector estimates the loss to the revenue at about 31 lakhs of rupees in Calcutta alone. It is observed that while the value of the importations of grey piece-goods has risen from 684 lakhs of rupees to 859 lakhs or by 25½ per cent., the value of the imports of cotton manufactures of other descriptions has advanced from 350 lakhs to 467 lakhs,—an increase of 33 per cent. It is true that there are indications of the market for coloured, printed, and dyed piece-goods having been overstocked; but making due allowance for this, it may safely be said that the imports of grey piece-goods have not been greater than the general results in respect of other cotton manufactures would have led us to expect, had there been no remission of duty, and the increase in the value of the imports is to be attributed, chiefly if not entirely, to the continued prosperity of the people and the improved means of communication in the interior of the country. As regards Lancashire, finer makes to the value of 169 lakhs.

have been ousted, and coarser cloths worth 345 lakhs have been imported. Bombay goods continue to have as firm a hold as ever on the market, and the Board are informed that the mill trade there is flourishing as it never did before.

12. The Board recapitulate the action which has been taken by the Customs Authorities under the orders of the 9th November last as to the amount of yarn finer than 30s which should be held to disentitle the consignee of grey piece-goods to exemption from duty. The question whether it is possible to devise any method of testing importations of piece-goods which shall be less irksome to consignees than that of opening one bale in each consignment is again under consideration. Doubtless considerable inconvenience is caused to consignees by the necessity which the present state of affairs imposes on the Custom House Authorities of safe guarding, with more formalities than formerly, the public interests. No one regrets this state of affairs more than the Customs Authorities themselves, but the Lieutenant-Governor fears that the true remedy is one which it does not lie in his power to afford, though any practicable suggestion which may be made on the subject will receive his careful attention. In the present state of the trade in other goods, there are only two possible remedies—a low and equal duty on all grey-goods—or, if this is now impossible, the remission of duty on all grey-goods alike. Nothing could be more unsatisfactory, and more anomalous than the state of things which has been produced by the partial changes of late years. The imports of cotton goods from Indian ports show a considerable increase in quantity, but the quality is said to have fallen off.

13. The most noticeable and at the same time the most satisfactory feature in the import of drugs is the decline of 44 per cent. in the amount of quinine landed. This is entirely due to the extended use of the cinchona febrifuge, prepared at the Government plantation, of which no less than 5,500lb were disposed of to the medical depôts at Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, and 3,150lb to the general public.

14. The imports of malt liquor show a very slight improvement over the last year's statistics: there has been an increased importation of spirits amounting to 32,181 gallons, while wines and liquors show a falling off, champagne, however, excepted. The most noticeable increase has been in regard to whisky which, from an average of 23,000 gallons in the three years from 1876 to 1879, advanced to 68,710 gallons in 1880-81. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that the higher rate of duty imposed upon foreign liquor in 1875, and the cheapness of country liquors have had no effect on the consumption of the former.

15. The importations of tea have declined greatly as shown in the marginal statement. The Collector believes that this is not due to increased consumption of Indian tea in India, but to the large shipments of 1879-80. No doubt the latter have influenced the imports of the year under review, but it seems impossible to resist the conclusion (which is rendered probable also by the fall in price of Indian tea) that the latter has to some extent replaced

Year.	Quantity.	Value.

1877-78	380,656	2,42,414
1878-79	437,588	2,29,374

China tea. A growing preference for Indian cigars over those of foreign manufacture is noticed by the Board. The increase in the importations of unmanufactured tobacco is attributed to a glut in the home market consequent on a full crop in America, and to the large stocks laid in anticipation of the continuance of the Afghan war. There has been a large falling off in the import of copper. Mineral oils show an increase of half a million of gallons. The imports of mineral oil have increased from 1,98,334 gallons in 1867-68 to 42,17,382 gallons in 1880-81. The use of this oil is becoming very general throughout the country. The importation of woollen goods especially shirts has also very largely developed.

16. Turning now to exports, it is very satisfactory to observe that the large expansion in the exports of cotton noticed last year has been sustained, the United Kingdom, China, Austria, France, and Italy having all taken increased quantities. This, as observed by the Board, is the more gratifying inasmuch as the American crop was an unusually large one. The expansion of the Indian trade when taken with the increase in average values, may, therefore, be fairly considered as a proof of the estimation in which Bengal cotton is now held in the European and China markets.

17. The full indigo crop of 1880 led to a large increase in the quantity exported. The increased supply necessarily had the effect of lowering prices which fell from an average of Rs. 288 per maund in 1879 to Rs. 241 per maund in 1880. The fall in price was more marked in the sales of the finer qualities than in those of "middling" and "ordinary" owing to the larger proportion borne by the former to the whole outturn.

18. The exports of rice, which declined largely in 1879-80 revived to some extent in the following year mainly, no doubt, owing to the very high yield and consequent reduction in price. The increased exports of rice from Calcutta to the Mauritius, Ceylon and Arabia are counterbalanced to some extent by decreased shipments from Chittagong and the Orissa ports. Exports of wheat to the United Kingdom, France, Holland and Malta show a great advance owing to the low prices and the cheap rates of freight which obtained, the former throughout the whole and the latter throughout the greater part of the year. But as the returns of the Board of Trade for the first half of 1881, show that large purchases for the European market still continue to be made, it seems probable that Indian wheat is now holding its own, even against the formidable rivalry of the United States.

19. There has been a decrease of $2\frac{1}{2}$ millions in the number of ox hides and skins exported. This marked decrease is attributed to reduced demands in the United Kingdom and America. As usual the United Kingdom took the greater portion of those exported, but it is stated that the American demand suffered from the unsatisfactory outturn of previous shipments from Calcutta. In 1879, however, there was exceptional mortality among cattle and consequently a large supply of hides in portions of the country, and this fact doubtless had a good deal to do with the unusually large exportation. The trade last year did not materially differ from the trade in 1878.

20. The export of jute shows a falling off as compared with each of the two preceding years, owing to a lessened demand in the London and Dundee markets. The Italian demand was stronger, and that of Spain recommenced. A considerable decline is apparent also in the shipments of gunny-bags especially to Australia and the Straits Settlements, while, as already noticed, the American demand was larger than that of the previous year. The abundant grain crops in Bengal created a large local demand, and no decline in this important industry has taken place. The high prices of the raw material prevailing at the close of the year 1879-80 to some extent checked manufacture, but a revival took place subsequently and the mills are now in full work.

21. The increased use of mineral oils for illuminating purposes has lessened the demand for castor oil with the result of lowering its price. The quantity exported, however, was higher than in the previous year. The improvement in the quantity of the linseed, rapeseed and tilseed exported, and still more in the prices realized, was noticeable. A falling off in the American demand for linseed was counterbalanced by an increased demand from the United Kingdom. The saltpetre trade, which owing to the reduced supplies of nitrate of soda from South America caused by the political disturbances there, had largely increased in 1879, fell off a good deal during the year under review. This falling off was no doubt largely due to supplies from South America being again available, but it was also due, as the Board remark, to the partial extinction of the manufacture in Behar and the North-Western Provinces owing to the operations of the Inland Customs Department. Measures have now been adopted from which a revival of the industry in Behar may be expected.

22. Notwithstanding a decline of 15 per cent. in the local price, silk, the exports of which were less in quantity than in the previous year, showed an increase of nearly three lakhs of rupees, or almost 6 per cent. in value. The steady demand which this fact indicates is attributed to the suitability of Bengal silk for the manufacture of satins and mixed fabrics.

23. The exports of sugar which in 1876-77 amounted to 637,000 cwt. have since shown a steady decline and fell to 9,460 cwt. in the year under review—the value of the exports having during the same period fallen from 68½ lakhs of rupees to 1½ lakhs. This, taken with the fact that over 42,904 cwt. of sugar were imported, shows that sugar has almost lost its place as an article of export in consequence, not of a diminished foreign demand, but of increased home consumption. At the same time the production of sugar in India has made rapid strides.

24. The average price per pound of the tea exported was only 10½ annas during the year under review against 12¾ annas in the previous year, but the quantity shipped rose by 21 per cent. This increase was due in part to the enormous expansion of the demand from Australia in consequence of the Melbourne Exhibition—but a great increase is also observable in the exports of Indian tea to London, where the greater demand has been accompanied by a decline in the importation of China tea. As pointed out, however, by the Board it is in the higher classes of tea that the greatest improvement has taken place, and as has already been observed, it is to the production of a better growth rather than to the mere extension of outturn that planters should look.

Coasting trade.

25. The value of the coasting trade of Calcutta in the last two years is compared in the following table:—

IMPORTS INTO AND EXPORTS FROM CALCUTTA.		1879-80.			1880-81.
		From or to British Indian ports.	From or to other Indian ports.	Total.	From or to British Indian ports.	From or to other Indian ports.	Total.

	{ Foreign merchandise ...	1,39,66,277	10,535	1,39,66,812	1,39,94,043	34,519	1,40,19,562
	Total exports	4,14,23,349	2,58,422	4,16,91,771	4,41,54,297	4,60,623	4,46,15,260

26. These figures show a satisfactory increase in the amount of trade with both classes of ports. The increase of nearly 11 per cent. in the imports from Bombay was chiefly in country cotton twist. In the import trade with Madras the most noticeable facts are the advance in the shipments of castor oil, much of which is supposed to have been reshipped to England and Australia—and the sudden fall in the value of imports of ghee from 16 lakhs to 6 lakhs of rupees. The Board's explanation of this fluctuation is probably correct—that the demand for ghee during the Afghan campaign obliged the North-Western Provinces to import. The cheapness of American mineral oil has lessened the demand for that from Burma. Imports of cotton twist and yarn which fell greatly in 1879-80 revived again in the period under review. This is explained by the Collector as due to the low price of Bombay cotton which is better adapted for spinning yarns above 16s than Bengal cotton, and has led to its importation for the higher counts, while Bengal yarn has been reserved for the coarser kinds. The imports of cotton twist and yarn of Indian manufacture have risen from 3,528,396lb in 1876-77 to 5,441,387lb in 1880-81, and during the same period the import of Indian manufactured piece-goods has risen from 3,358,542 yards to 11,171,226 yards, which shows, as the Collector of Customs points out, that notwithstanding the remission of duty in respect of the foreign product, Bombay cloths continue to find a large and extending market in the Bengal Presidency.

27. With the exception again of the Bengal outports, exports to Indian ports also show an increase. The cheapness of rice led to larger exports to Bombay and Madras, and the increased exportation of grain from the former port caused a greater demand for gunny-bags. The Burmese demand for Madras silk goods caused a corresponding demand from Madras for Bengal cocoons. The Calcutta trade with British Burma was affected by the improved communications between that province and Europe. Exports of Indian goods increased, and those of foreign merchandise declined. An improvement is apparent in the exports of both Indian and foreign cotton-twist yarn and piece-goods.

28. The foreign trade of Chittagong showed a decline as compared with 1879-80, but was still higher than in any previous year. The decline which was confined almost entirely to the export of rice, was not altogether counterbalanced by a very considerable increase in the direct export of jute to Dundee. The coasting trade on the other hand has been steadily advancing for the last five years. Of this traffic a great portion was with Naraingunge, from which the increase in the imports of Chittagong amounted to nine lakhs of rupees. There was an increase in the amount of tea exported to Calcutta but a decline in the value. The Customs revenue fell off to the extent of nearly one and a quarter lakhs of rupees—the decrease in duty on imports being almost exclusively in that on salt owing to the increased supplies obtained from Calcutta by rice boats returning to Noakholly, Tipperah and Dacca, and the consequently diminished amount entered for local consumption. In exports the falling off was in the duty on rice and paddy.

29. The foreign import trade of these ports is nominal, being confined to the articles imported at Cuttack for the use of the European residents of the district. The main article of foreign export is rice, and the decreased shipments to Ceylon, the Maldivé Inlands and the Mauritius, owing to the greater cheapness of the grain in Calcutta, reduced the foreign export trade of all three ports. In the coasting trade the cheapness of rice in Calcutta led to a falling off in exports, while the abundance of the local crops increased the means available for the purchase of luxuries. Consequently, importations of cotton piece-goods, cotton-twist, and wearing apparel show a general improvement. The aggregate trade of the three ports amounted to Rs. 1,10,84,039 against Rs. 1,24,00,387 in the previous year.

30. The trade of this port which amounted to over 40 lakhs of rupees showed a satisfactory improvement as compared with the previous year. A great increase is apparent in exports of Indian produce, but shipments of paddy and salt—the principal articles of import—have declined. It is to be hoped, however, that the arrangements which the Lieutenant-Governor has proposed to the Government of India, with the view of facilitating the import of salt from bond at Chittagong, will supply an impetus to the trade of Naraingunge in respect to that article.

31. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are again due to the Board, to Mr. Maclean, and to the other officers who are favourably mentioned in paragraphs 145-8 of Mr. Forbes' letter, a copy of which will be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this Office.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

N. ST. L. CARTER, Traffic Manager.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of September 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE total weight of traffic carried during the month was 3,66,022 against 2,92,995 maunds for the same period last year, being a net increase of 73,027 maunds, or 19.95 per cent. The increases are principally made up under the heads Jute, Salt, Gunny-bags, and "all other goods;" while the decreases have been caused by a falling off in Piece-goods, Railway material, and Tobacco. On the whole, however, the month's working speaks well for the steady growth of the traffic.

INCREASES.

Alc ... Mds. 544
The bulk of this traffic is made up of Commissariat despatches for winter consumption.
Gunny-bags ... Mds. 4,874
There is a marked increase under this head compared with previous year's despatches, and if the present demand continues at Calcutta a much larger traffic may be expected.
Jute ... Mds. 64,353
From 1st September the two-fifth pie reduced rate was withdrawn, and the old half pie rate reverted to. This enhancement, however, does not appear to have affected despatches as much as was expected, owing probably to the fact that merchants were bound to fulfil the contracts they had made while the reduced rate was in force, and to the unusual lowness of the rivers this season.
Salt ... Mds. 15,835
During the same month last year only 20,174 maunds were carried against 36,009 maunds this year, thus clearly indicating that the Railway is gradually being preferred to any other means of transit.
Sugar ... Mds. 784
The above is entirely composed of upwards despatches for local consumption.
Tea ... Mds. 1,290
The total weight carried this month is 19,982 maunds, and this increase over last September's despatches may be put down to a favourable season.
All other goods ... Mds. 9,061
It is satisfactory to note the steady increase under this head.

DECREASES.

Food-grain ... Mds. 452
This is not worth noticing.
Ginger ... Mds. 732
There is at present no demand for this article in the Calcutta market.
Piece-goods ... Mds. 3,044
A reference to last month's report will show the heavy traffic that was done to meet Poojah requirements, and the falling off this month is no doubt due to local markets being overstocked.
Tobacco ... Mds. 10,440
There has been a steady decrease this year in this traffic owing to the early crop having been almost destroyed in March last and the bad prices ruling in the Rangoon market.

TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, Saidpur, the 21st October 1881.

G. S. LEONARD, Offg. Traffic Superintendent.

Report of Fluctuation of the Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of September 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of September 1881 aggregated maunds 2,12,312 maunds as compared with 1,36,083 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 2,03,123 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 76,229 maunds in one case, and 9,199 maunds in the other. This includes 19,064 maunds of Railway materials carried during the month for the Eastern and Western Extensions of Tirhoot State Railway.

Of the several increases and decreases the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanation:—

INCREASES.

Lime and Kunkur.—There is a very little increase under this head, but it would have been greater only that the river Gunduck, from which the kunkur is collected, has risen very high ... Mds. 10,041
Railway Materials.—Previous month's remarks are applicable to this ... 19,064
Saltpetre.—This traffic is gradually recovering from the check it received from the introduction of the late stringent rules of Government ... 5,036
Seeds, oil.—This increase is due to the arrangements made between the Traffic Searcher and several merchants at Bhuddessur and other places. There would have been a further increase had this Department been created a little earlier ... 48,503
Seeds other than food-grains.—This is composed of miscellaneous seeds, and hence it cannot be so closely explained ... 1,715
Sundries.—The increase is steady and satisfactory ... 3,233
Timber.— } Previous month's remarks are applicable to these also ... { 1,915
Tobacco.— } ... { 1,408

BOARD OF REVENUE, L.P., FORT WILLIAM, the 25th October 1881.

NOTICE.

SHIPPING OFFICE.

IN view of diminishing the number of desertions in the Port of Calcutta, the Masters and Agents of vessels are requested to observe the following procedure in cases in which they apply for a warrant, and the deserter avoids arrest before the date of the vessel's sailing. Application should be made to the Magistrate to record the depositions of the witnesses under section 327 of the Criminal Code of Procedure in the absence of the accused. It often happens that, as soon as his vessel has left the port, the deserter appears at the Shipping Office for relief as a distressed seaman or in search of employment, but escapes arrest, as there is no one to proceed with the prosecution. By observing the procedure above described, the Ship's Agent can prosecute, and the depositions recorded by the Magistrate in the absence of the accused can, under the section of the Criminal Code of Procedure above cited, be used as evidence on the trial of the accused, where it is not practicable to procure the attendance of the witnesses.

RESOLUTION.—From the returns received from the Chief Commissioner a list has been prepared, and is appended to this Resolution, showing the articles which, on the information now before the Government of India, it is possible to procure of Indian manufacture. The Governor-General in Council accordingly requests that the Chief Commissioner will be good enough to institute enquiries as to the cheapest and most convenient way of obtaining future regular supplies of such goods of Indian manufacture, as well as of any other goods which in the course of enquiry it may be found feasible to substitute for imported articles.

2. In the series of Resolutions on the subject of the supply of stores published in the Gazette of India since the 23rd July last, instructions have already been given as to the different sources of supply, so far as they are as yet known, of the articles mentioned in the list, and they need not be repeated here. The Governor-General in Council directs that wherever possible, with due regard to economy, such articles of Indian manufacture shall in future be substituted for European articles in the Province of Coorg, as everywhere else in India.

ORDERED that the foregoing Resolution be communicated to the Chief Commissioner of Coorg and to the other local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 352.

The 8th November 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the Dacca, Furrcehpore, Backergunge, and Mymensingh districts, of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, are published for general information.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Dacca, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Cess Act has been worked without difficulty.

The District and Branch Committees took an interest in their work, and worked well.

The roads appear to be in fair order. Expenditure was incurred on a number of village roads in the Moonsheegunge and Manickgunge sub-divisions, but very few works of this class were carried out in the sudder sub-division. Various fruit-bearing plants, to the number of 2,086, were planted out on three roads, and steps were taken for the protection and maintenance of the trees on another road.

The working of the different establishments under the Committee is said to have been satisfactory.

K. C. RAI,

Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE objects of the road cess are said to be appreciated by the people.

The attendance of the members of the District Committee was very unsatisfactory ; those members who did attend, however, took an interest in their work.

On the whole there has been an improvement in the roads, which are in good order. The greater portion of the grant for village roads was expended in the Goalundo and Madaripore sub-divisions, and only a small part was spent in the sudder sub-division ; the existing village roads are reported to be in good condition. Trees were planted on some of the roads, but the matter did not receive sufficient attention, and the Committee have promised to give it increased attention in future. There is a demand for tanks, and steam communication between Backergunge and Goalundo ; and another great want of the district is a main road to Madaripore.

The Chairman remarks that delay has occurred " from estimates being returned as not up to the Department, Public Works, standard," and his view of the matter is expressed in paragraph 10 of the Commissioner's remarks.

The different establishments under the Committee discharged their duties efficiently.

Explanatory Memorandum.

(A) The difference between this and the figures shown in the progressive column of the monthly account for September last is owing to Rs. 72-14-0, incurred on account of purchase of forms and country stationery, shown under the head "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," being shown in the proper head "Stationery and Printing" in the annual account.

(B) The expenditure of Rs. 72-14-0, price of forms and country stationery, shown in the monthly accounts under head "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection," has been shown under this head, and Rs. 110-5-6 incurred on account of price of English stationery of the Committee's and the District Engineer's offices, shown in the monthly accounts under head "Public Works establishment." This explains the difference between this and the total of the progressive column under this head in the monthly account for September 1880.

(C) Rs. 190 actually spent on repairs were erroneously shown by the Branch Committee of Madaripore in the monthly accounts under head "Original work," and Rs. 36 actually spent on original works were erroneously shown by the Goalundo Branch Committee under head "Repairs" in the monthly accounts. This accounts for the difference of Rs. 154 between this and the figures shown in the progressive column of the monthly account for September.

(D) See above.

(E) The sum of Rs. 110-5-6 incurred on account of purchase of English stationery was shown under this head, but it has been shown in the annual account under the proper head "Stationery and Printing."

Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Backergunge, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

ALTHOUGH the progress of works generally was much interfered with by the early setting in of the rains, the outturn is reported to be fairly satisfactory, and on the whole the works were fairly well done.

The grant for village roads in the sudder sub-division was Rs. 15,000, for Patuakhali Rs. 5,000, for Bhola Rs. 5,500, and for Perozepore Rs. 6,000; and the total expenditure was Rs. 20,101. In Bhola and Perozepore nearly the whole of the allotments were expended to very good advantage, and with the exception of one road all the works in Perozepore were done by the villagers themselves. Only Rs. 2,642 were spent in Patuakhali, and the expenditure in the sudder sub-division was also small, although the work done is of a substantial character. The sub-divisional officer of Patuakhali explains that the people were unwilling either to apply for money, or to supervise the works. Various reasons are assigned for the small expenditure in the Sudder sub-division, such as the applicants being required to give up land free of cost, coupled with the necessity of filling in details of the work applied for, and advances were not made, payments being made for works actually done.

Nothing was done in regard to tree-planting as the birms were not in a fit state for planting.

The subordinate works establishment under the Committee, it is stated, were not as careful and as strict in their supervision as they might have been.

Explanatory Memorandum to accompany the Annual Accounts for 1879-80.

(a.) Rs. 208-15, being a refund of cess, was treated as less receipts, until the receipt of Government Resolution No. 201A, dated 26th February 1880, according to which the refund is now shown both in the credit and debit sides. Hence the increase over the figures shown in the monthly returns.

(b.) There is an increase of Rs. 779-15-1 over the figures shown in the monthly returns. Rs. 510-8-1, on account of road cess process fees, was shown in the monthly returns under the head "miscellaneous" instead of (as from January 1880 such receipts began to be shown) under that of "fees, fines, and forfeitures," Rs. 222-7 and Rs. 47 on account of refunds of copying fees and fines respectively, which were, until the receipt of the Government resolution cited above shown as less receipts, have now been shown in both sides of the annual accounts.

(c.) For the decrease of Rs. 510-8-1, see first part of explanation (b).

(d.) See explanation (a).

(e.) For the increase of Rs. 269-7, see latter part of explanation (b).

(f.) There is an increase of annas nine pie six over the figure shown in the monthly returns. This amount was erroneously shown under heading "stationery," but is now correctly shown under "contingencies of office of collection."

The expenditure Rs. 9,178-8-2 under heading "provincial rates" has apparently exceeded the budget allotment Rs. 8,440. A sum of Rs. 1,500 originally budgeted for was intended to cover the contingency as well as the stationery charges of the office of collection, but the whole amount was in Government resolution No. 401A, dated 6th May 1880, transferred to the heading "stationery," so that in reality the saving under the latter head represents the increased provision intended in the budget to meet the expenditure under provincial rates. From this point of view the expenditure is very much within the estimates.

(g.) Provision was made in the budget for payment on account of the ten annas per cent. rate. This was, however, excluded in Government resolution No. 401A, dated 6th May 1880, and for it was substituted the heading "contribution to provincial Government," for which Rs. 1,474 was estimated.

(h.) There is an increase of Rs. 247-13 over the figure shown in the monthly returns. Rs. 248-6-6, on account of stationery and printing charges of the Engineering Department, which is now shown under heading "stationery," was in the monthly returns shown under heading "Establishment for Public Works," and a sum of annas nine pies six has been transferred from heading "stationery," as explained in explanation (f).

(i.) For the decrease of Rs. 248-6-6, see first part of explanation (h).

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Mymensing, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

The road cess system is decidedly popular with the people generally. Including arrears of the previous year, the collections amounted to Rs. 1,55,436 against an estimated demand of Rs. 1,45,815 for 1879-80; and the balance out-standing at close of the year was Rs. 21,453, of which Rs. 3,850 have been collected during the current cess year.

With the exception of those members who live at a distance from head-quarters, the majority of the members of the District and Branch Committees attended almost all the meetings.

The reason assigned for not incurring more expenditure is that estimates were either not sanctioned, or that they were sanctioned after the close of the working season. The expenditure which was incurred is reported to have proved sufficient to keep all the main roads of the district in good repair and available for traffic. In the Kishoregung, Jamal-pore, and Sudder Sub-Division several local zemindars and talookdars offered to supplement grants for village roads out of their own pockets.

The several establishments of the Committee did their work efficiently.

(Sd) E. B. HARRIS,

Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

N. S. ALEXANDER,

Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

No. 338R, dated Dacca, the 1st February 1881.

From—F. H. PELLEW, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the annual accounts and reports of the several District Road Cess Funds of this division for the cess year 1879-80, received from the Chairmen of the Road Cess Committees.

2. The reports of the Chairmen contain all the required particulars which it would be needless for me to recapitulate here. I wish therefore to make only the following remarks :—

3. I have not the materials in my office to check the correctness of the accounts submitted by the Chairmen; but I observe that in the accounts of every district there are several mistakes in the classification of the disbursements under their proper headings. I have pointed them out to the Chairmen concerned, and requested them in future to show the items under their proper heads.

4. There has been during the year a general improvement in the working of the Act in this division, especially in the districts of Backergunge and Mymensingh where satisfactory progress seems to have been made in the execution of works.

5. Attendance of members.—The attendance of members of both the District and Branch Committees in the division is generally irregular. But the members who attended appear to have taken much interest in their work.

6. Village works.—It is a matter of gratification that a sufficiently large amount has been spent in all the districts towards the construction and maintenance of village works, except in the sudder sub-divisions of Dacca and Furreedpore, where comparatively small sums have been expended on that account. I have drawn the attention of the Chairmen of the Road Cess Committees of those districts to the Government orders on the subject, and requested them to pay more attention to this matter in future.

7. Planting of trees.—In Dacca and Mymensingh a certain amount has been expended on planting trees on the sides of the roads. In Furreedpore, the amount expended under this head is reported to have been included with the amounts expended in repairing the roads. I have directed the Chairman's attention to the impropriety of his procedure, and requested him to show the amount in future separately under head "Original works." In Backergunge, nothing appears to have been as yet done in this matter. The reason for this has been explained in the Committee's report hereto annexed.

8. Work on the Jessore road and the new Talma road in Furreedpore and the road from Jamalpore to Subarnakhally in Mymensingh was commenced in anticipation of sanction. The practice has been repeatedly forbidden by Government, and I have called the serious attention of the Chairmen to the subject, and directed them to stop the work at once.

9. The Chairman of the Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, suggests the construction of main roads connecting thana Palong with its out-posts which, when executed, will afford the villagers the opportunity of joining them afterwards with their respective villages. I have approved of this suggestion, and am of opinion that some principle of this nature might be adopted in other districts also.

10. As regards the opinion expressed in the Furreedpore report, that "the strict Department Public Works precision is not required for district works," it is sufficient to say that correct alignment, proper waterway, and good workmanship are as important in district as in other works.

11. Steam communication.—As regards the steam communication referred to in the report of the Chairman, Road Cess Committee of Furreedpore, I beg to state that proposals have been made to me and are now going on between the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, and the Chairmen, Road Cess Committees of Furreedpore and Backergunge, for opening steam communication between those districts, and I hope they will see their way to chartering the Douglas from the company which can, Mr. Prestage informs me, be done at an expenditure of about Rs. 300 per mensem for regular communication between Burrisal and Furreedpore and thence by the Dacca main line to Goalundo.

12. It is certainly very desirable to have a road from Madaripore to Furreedpore as remarked by the Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Furreedpore, if it can be done from the funds at disposal of the Road Cess Committee.

13. In Backergunge, considerable attention has been paid to the excavation and repairs of village khalls—natural and artificial. The keeping in good order of all that will repay attention is highly desirable, but these are not very numerous. The subject is a difficult one and demands not only technical knowledge but considerable local study and experience, or money will inevitably be wasted. What has been done is, I believe, on a sound basis and likely to be lasting. I could wish to see a larger expenditure in the maintenance of tow-paths, not necessarily raised and bridged but cleared of jungle and encumbrance.

14. I regret the reports of the District Committees have not been prepared in accordance with the orders of Government, contained in its circular No. 973A, dated 14th September last. In some cases, unnecessary information has been furnished, while in others subjects required by the above circular have been omitted. I have drawn the attention of the Chairmen to the subject, and requested them to see that the reports are prepared in future strictly in accordance with the injunctions laid down in the circulars referred to above.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—STAMPS.

Calcutta, the 5th October 1881.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1880-81.

Read again—

The Report for the year 1879-80, and the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor recorded thereon.

The stamp revenue of the year was, as in the previous year, realized under the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879, and the Court Fees Act VII of 1870. The most important change of system in connection with the stamp revenue of the past year was the extension throughout the province of a scheme previously tried with success in the district of the 24-Pergunnahs, under which fees for the preparation of copies of judicial documents are realized by means of impressed stamps. As a temporary measure the surplus stock of impressed sheets of the value of two annas has been utilized in working the scheme, but orders have been issued for the preparation of a special impressed stamp to be used exclusively on copies of judicial documents. A revised set of rules under sections 9, 15, 17, 32, 51, and 56 of the Indian Stamp Act was published by the Government of India on the 26th February last.

2. The budget estimate of the stamp revenue of the year was Rs. 1,11,00,000, the estimated receipts from sales of stamps being Rs. 1,09,13,714, of which Rs. 31,29,616 was on account of non-judicial stamps, and Rs. 77,84,098 on account of judicial stamps. The actual results of the year are given in the following statement, which shows the gross collections from sales of the several denominations of stamps during each of the last five years:—

Year.	SALES OF STAMPS UNDER THE INDIAN STAMP ACT.									SALES UNDER THE COURT FEES ACT.		Total sales of stamps under the Stamp Act and the Court Fees Act.
	Impressed stamps including certificate stamps, customs and salt-board forms, and Public Works Department contract and tender forms.	Special adhesive stamps or stamped labels.	Hoondi or bill of exchange stamps.	One-anna revenue stamps used for receipts, cheques, &c.	Share transfer stamps.	Foreign bill stamps.	Notarial stamps.	Advocate, vakeel, and attorney stamps.	Total of non-judicial stamps.	Stamps for copies.	Sales of adhesive court fee labels, High Court service, and Small Cause Court stamps.

1878-79 ...	16,89,374	5,47,114	1,03,375	1,76,006	6,460	26,408	28,47,797	77,52,775	1,06,00,572

As noticed by the Board, the most marked feature in the statement is the decline in the receipts from sales of non-judicial stamps. "In the year 1879-80, when the new Stamp Act I of 1879 came into force, there was a general increase under all of the sub-heads but that of 'Share transfer stamps,' and the revenue derived from non-judicial stamps received an addition of Rs. 4,66,469 or 16·3 per cent. In the year under report, although increases are noticeable under the heads 'Stamped labels,' 'One anna revenue stamps,' 'Foreign bill stamps,' 'Notarial stamps,' and 'Advocate, vakeel, and attorney stamps,' there has been a decrease amounting to Rs. 1,12,729 or 3·4 per cent. in the total sales of non-judicial stamps owing chiefly to the reduced sales of impressed sheets and bills of exchange stamps." Notwithstanding the falling off as compared with 1879-80, the total receipts from non-judicial stamps were far in excess of the receipts in any year previous to the introduction of the new Act. The decrease in column 12, under the head of adhesive court fee labels, &c., is only nominal, as the new stamps prescribed for copies have replaced the court fee stamps formerly used for the purpose.

3. There were twelve districts, as compared with thirteen last year, in each of which the stamp revenue exceeded three lakhs of rupees. The districts are shown below:—

DISTRICTS.				Non-judicial stamps.	Judicial stamps.	Total.
				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	9,40,376	9,26,685	18,67,061
Dacca	1,49,602	3,97,188	5,46,790
Mymensingh	1,56,433	3,74,625	5,31,058
24-Pergunnahs	1,03,307	4,07,487	5,10,794
Jessore	87,172	4,12,983	5,00,155
Backergungo	89,119	3,45,590	4,34,709
Midnapore	74,925	2,87,395	3,62,320
Tipperah	82,527	2,75,198	3,57,725
Chittagong	88,752	2,47,503	3,36,255
Mozufferpore	75,445	2,59,870	3,35,315
Patna	95,858	2,20,353	3,16,211
Nuddoa	65,841	2,48,947	3,14,788

Of the districts not included in the above statement, twelve yielded each less than a lakh of rupees in stamp revenue, the revenue being least in Singbhoom, where the total sales amounted to Rs. 5,689. The greatest increase during the year was in the Dacca district, where the receipts were Rs. 61,564 more than in 1879-80; the greatest decrease was in the Burdwan district, where they were Rs. 49,798 less than in the previous year. The general incidence of the stamp revenue on the population of Bengal, as ascertained by the recent census, was two annas six pies per head; in Calcutta, where the rate was highest, it was Rs. 4-5-6, while in the interior it ranged from a minimum of two pies in Singbhoom to a maximum of four annas six pies in Noakholly.

4. The receipts under the head of 'impressed stamps' amounted to Rs. 22,75,082 against Rs. 23,88,414 in 1879-80, Rs. 19,89,374 in 1878-79, and Rs. 18,43,199 in 1877-78. The increase, as compared with the years previous to 1879-80, is due to the operation of the new Stamp Act I of 1879. As compared with the year 1879-80, the falling off in the past year is in part ascribed to the abnormal increase in the stamp revenue of 1879-80 owing to the new law of limitation, but the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the Board and the local officers are right in attributing it mainly to the abundant harvest of the past year, which caused a general improvement in the circumstances of the agricultural classes, and thus reduced the number of loan transactions throughout the country. A corresponding decrease took place during the year in the operations of the Registration Department. In thirteen districts there was an increase in the receipts under impressed stamps owing to special causes detailed in the report, which counterbalanced the general tendency to a decrease. The only districts, however, in which the increase exceeded 15 per cent., were Calcutta, Pubna, and Chumparun.

5. As regards the other classes of stamps under Act I of 1879, there was a decrease of Rs. 21,718 under stamps on hundis and bills of exchange, an increase of Rs. 3,634 on the sales of one-anna stamps for receipts and cheques, an increase of Rs. 7,871 on Foreign bill stamps, and a new receipt of Rs. 7,800 for advocate, vakeel and attorney stamps. The fluctuations in the sales of other classes of stamps are too small to require notice. Of the falling off under hundi stamps, Rs. 10,035 is due to the district of Moorshedabad, where there is reported to have been a total stoppage of the local banking business owing to the failure of the Marwari bankers of Azimgunge and Baluchur. The other districts that mainly contributed to the decrease are the 24-Pergunnahs, Rungpore, Purneah, Pubna, and Bhagulpore, while Calcutta was the only place in which there was any material increase in the sales of hundi stamps. The increased facilities for making remittances now afforded by the postal department have no doubt contributed to the general decline in the sale of this class of stamp, but the Board consider the main cause to be the financial embarrassments of some of the principal native bankers in the province. The only districts in which the sales of one-anna revenue stamps differed very much from those of the previous year, both in amount and in proportion to the total sales, were Calcutta and Hooghly. In the former there was an increase of Rs. 20,365 due to the more general observance of the requirements of the stamp law in consequence of several successful prosecutions, to the equalization of the rates of discount allowed at Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Pergunnahs, Burdwan, and Calcutta, and to the order issued during the year that a licensed vendor must obtain all the supplies of stamps which he is authorized to sell from the treasury of the district in which his license was granted, and that he must sell the stamps only at the place mentioned in his license. The two causes last mentioned account for the falling off of Rs. 19,864 in the sales of one-anna revenue stamps in the Hooghly district. The increase in the sales of adhesive stamps for foreign bills is attributed to an increase in the aggregate value of foreign bills, cheques, and promissory notes negotiated in Calcutta during the year under review. The new adhesive stamps used for the entry of advocates, vakeels, and attorneys on the roll of the High Court were introduced on the 1st June 1880, so that there were no receipts under this head in the previous year.

6. The receipts from court fee labels including stamps for copies were, as shown in the statement in paragraph 2 of this Resolution, Rs. 79,98,854 as compared with Rs. 79,97,276 in the previous year. Although the net increase of Rs. 1,578 or .01 per cent. is too small to call for remark, there were very considerable fluctuations in several districts as compared with 1879-80. In 22 districts there were increased sales, the increase exceeding Rs. 20,000 in each of the districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, Hooghly, Furreedpore, Sarun, and Bankoora. In the remaining 22 districts there was a decrease in the sales, the falling off exceeding Rs. 20,000 in each of the districts of Burdwan, Mozufferpore and Nuddea, and reaching the sum of Rs. 93,412 in Calcutta. The causes that affected the sales of court fee stamps in the different districts are given in detail in the Board's report, and it is unnecessary for the Lieutenant-Governor to repeat them here. One or two suits of high value in a district during the year are quite sufficient to account for any of the fluctuations that occurred, and even the large decrease of Rs. 93,412 in Calcutta is fully explained by the decrease in probate duty as compared with 1879-80. In that year Rs. 75,000 was paid on the letters of administration of the two estates of Mr. Wise of Dacca and Rajah Digamber Mitter. There were no such heavy items in the year under review.

7. The following statement shows the total receipts, charges, and net revenue of the Stamp Department during the past five years:—

YEAR.	STAMPS UNDER ACT I OF 1879.			COURT FEES UNDER ACT VII OF 1870.			TOTAL.

8. The following statement shows the number of cases in which deficient stamp duty and penalty were levied by Civil Courts and Collectors under sections 34 and 37 of the Indian Stamp Act during the past two years:—

YEAR.	NUMBER OF CASES IN WHICH DUTY AND PENALTY WERE LEVIED BY			AMOUNT OF DUTY AND PENALTY REALIZED BY
	Civil Courts.	Collectors.	Total.	Civil Courts.	Collectors.	Total.
				Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
1879-80 ...	910	1,268	2,178	7,782	15	0	12,268	12	6
1880-81 ...	1,062	1,598	2,660	10,941	13	0	19,840	12	0

As remarked by the Board, this table shows that much increased attention has been paid generally both by Judicial and Revenue officers to the duty of enforcing the observance of the law. With the exception of the Patna Division, all the divisional figures show an increase in the number of cases in which penalties were levied by Revenue officers, the increase being most marked in the districts of Jessore, Chittagong, Dacca, the Santhal Pargunnahs, Rungpore, Mymensingh and Sarun. On the other hand there are several cases in which the striking differences in the figures of neighbouring districts can only be explained by an entire want of attention on the part of the District Officer and the Deputy Collector in charge of the Stamp Department to the orders of the Board and Government regarding the enforcement of the law; but, as the Board are about to call the special attention of the local officers to the subject in the districts where a marked falling off is apparent, the Lieutenant-Governor will not here notice the matter further. As regards the detection by civil courts of cases of evasion of the stamp law, there was an improvement in every division except Patna and Chota Nagpore.

Reviewing the districts separately, those in which the civil courts appear to have been particularly unsuccessful in detecting under-payments of stamp duty are Nuddea, Rajshahye, Pubna, Darjeeling, Hazaribagh and Lohardugga, where in only 10, 11, 1, 5, 9, and 2 cases respectively were deficient duty and penalties realized by the civil courts. The attention of the Judges of these districts will be called to the figures in the statement on pages 18 and 19 of the Report, and to the Board's remarks in paragraph 86. The Board have rightly decided to address the Inspector-General of Registration direct regarding the neglect of some of the officers of the Registration Department to enforce the provisions of the law in the case of unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents. The orders passed last year by the Board, directing that as a general rule prosecutions under section 61 of the Act should be instituted against persons who attempt to evade payment of the additional duty and penalties imposed by Collectors by abandoning their impounded documents will no doubt have the effect contemplated by the Board of securing a much more general observance of the requirements of the law. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find from the present report that there has been a great improvement in the manner in which the penal provisions of the law are enforced. In 1879-80, 299 cases in which 427 persons were concerned were instituted, but in the past year the number of cases instituted and persons prosecuted rose to 556 and 674 respectively. Out of the 632 defendants actually tried during the year, 558 were convicted and 74 acquitted. The fines imposed amounted to Rs. 7,021 as compared with Rs. 3,193 in the preceding year. Although the fines were on the average higher than in the year 1879-80, they were still in many cases inadequate. On this subject the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs in the remarks of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division that even with the best endeavours of Revenue officers many cases must remain undetected, that the time for leniency has passed, and that the only way in which the comparatively small number of cases that are detected can be compensated for is by the infliction of exemplary fines in the cases of evasion of the law which are brought to light. As the Board observe, "the imposition by Magistrates of nominal fines in cases of prosecution under section 61 is a direct encouragement to the public to evade the payment of the penalty imposed by the Collectors under section 37 by not appearing to claim their documents." The Lieutenant-Governor desires to know the name of the officer in the Burdwan Division referred to by the Board who inflicted a fine of Rs. 3-8 on certain defendants who were prosecuted for failure to pay a penalty of Rs. 5 imposed by the Collector.

9. The inspection of record-rooms by the special Deputy Collectors appointed in August 1879 to examine the stamps affixed to records with a view to detect any cases of forgery was continued during the year, and inspections have been made of the stamps in the record-rooms of all the districts of the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahye and Cooch Behar, Dacca, Chittagong, Bhagulpore and Orissa Divisions. No cases of forged stamps have been discovered, but several cases of fraudulent abstraction and re-use of court fee stamps have been brought to light, besides numerous cases of negligence and irregularities. All these cases have formed the subject of a separate correspondence with the Board and need not here be further noticed. Baboo Jadub Chander Gossami, the Deputy Collector who has done the greater portion of the work of inspection of record-rooms, deserves much credit for the intelligence and care shown in the performance of the special duty entrusted to him.

10. The names of the officers favourably mentioned by the Board for their attention to the working of the Stamp Department within their jurisdiction will be noted in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. M. KISCH,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Market of food-grains however, has remained unaffected by the apprehended loss. Sowings for cold-weather crops in progress. A peculiar type of fever, supposed to be similar to that which has been raging in parts of Bengal with such disastrous results since so many years, is reported to have broken out in the parts to the north of the Subarnakha. The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2.5° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

EDUCATIONAL NOTICE.

Examinations in India by the London University for Degrees.

THE subjoined correspondence is published for general information.

A. CROFT,

The 15th November 1881.

Director of Public Instruction.

No. 7 of 1881.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME, REVENUE, AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

To—The Right Hon'ble the Marquis of Hartington, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Simla, the 11th June 1881.

MY LORD MARQUIS,

By a Resolution of the Gilchrist Trustees, communicated to us under cover of the letter from the Secretary in the Educational Department, India Office, dated 20th August 1880, the examination for the Gilchrist Scholarships allotted to India was made identical with the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and it was further decided that any candidate who passed the examination for the scholarship became by that very fact a matriculated member of that University.

2. The object of the Trustees in making the Gilchrist Scholarship Examination identical with the Matriculation Examination was apparently to prevent candidates from competing for the scholarship year after year; but from a letter* received from the Government of Bengal, and its enclosures, which we have now the honour to forward, it appears that the Resolution of the Trustees will have a much wider effect than that contemplated.

* No. 295, dated 3rd May 1881.

† Act II of 1857.

Section 12 of the Act† of Incorporation of the Calcutta University requires that every candidate for a degree shall have completed a full course of instruction in an institution affiliated to that University, while the London University makes no such requirement. The probable result of this difference in the requirements of the two Universities will be that increasing numbers of students will elect the London University, and, under cover of competing for the Gilchrist Scholarship, will pass the Matriculation Examination of that University, and read for its degrees independently of college instruction.

3. Under these circumstances, we concur with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the view that it is essential, in order to prevent a practice of desultory study from growing up, that only such persons should be admitted to be candidates for the degrees of the London University as have gone through a regular course of study in some college affiliated to the Calcutta University, or as are teachers who would be allowed to appear at the examinations of the latter University. We accordingly request that the attention of the authorities of the London University may be specially drawn to this preliminary condition of candidature, and that they may be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta.

No. 101 (Public Educational), dated India Office, London, the 25th August 1881.

From—LORD HARTINGTON, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

With reference to your despatch dated the 11th of June last, No. 7, I forward, for the information of your Excellency in Council, copy of a letter* from the Senate of the University of London, relating to the establishment in India of examinations of that University.

* Dated 29th July 1881.

2. I also enclose copy of a communication† from the Registrar of the University, regarding the misapprehension in India of the information furnished to persons enquiring whether they can be examined in India for the degrees conferred by the University.

† Dated 16th July 1881, and printed enclosure.

3. With reference to the request contained in the last paragraph of your despatch, that the London University should be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta, you will perceive, from the correspondence now forwarded, that the Senate of the London University would be unwilling to make special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre.

4. I incline to the opinion that the London University should not be asked to hold any examinations in India, save those for matriculation.

Dated London, the 16th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,

To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's letter of the 12th July, enclosing copy of a despatch, with enclosures, from the Government of India, and will take care that they are submitted to the Senate in due course.

In the meantime, however, as there would seem to be a considerable misapprehension in regard to the information which has been furnished from this office to persons enquiring whether they can be examined for the degrees of this University in India, I think it may be convenient that I should at once state, for the information of the Government of India, that no proposal for holding examinations (other than the Matriculation Examination) for the degrees of this University has been made to the Senate, and that Mr. Douse's letter of the 17th of August last, and the letter of the Assistant Registrar, Mr. Moseley, of the 20th September, merely explained, in reply to enquiries which had been made, the formal mode of bringing an application for the appointment of an examination elsewhere than in the United Kingdom before the Senate. Mr. Douse's letter was, in fact, addressed to a gentleman who, having matriculated and passed the First B.A. Examination in England, was going out as a Missionary to India, and was anxious to ascertain if there was any possibility of his completing his course and obtaining the degree in India.

I neither agreed, as stated in Mr. Bolton's letter No. 569 of correspondence forwarded, nor have power to agree, to the holding of an examination in India. Persons enquiring whether they can take any one or more of the examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom are invariably informed that applications for examinations in India or the colonies are received by the Senate only when made by the Government of the place which it is desired to make a centre of examination; and when such applications are forwarded and endorsed by the India or the Colonial Office at Home (see the printed memorandum enclosed herewith). Each application so made is considered by the Senate on its merits, and though no doubt in disposing of separate applications, the Senate is guided by previous usage, there is no general rule or custom of the University on the subject.

I think, under the circumstances, it is important that this should be clearly stated, as it shows that no application for the establishment of an examination in India would be entertained unless it came from the Government of India, and was forwarded through the Secretary of State, and that it rests entirely with the Government of India to make or decline to make such application, according as it may think fit.

The appointment of centres for the Matriculation Examination in India on the application of the Gilchrist Trustees, was, I may remind your Lordship, made by the Senate expressly upon the condition that the Secretary of State for India should prove willing to undertake the transmission of the examination papers and the conduct of the examination.

Examinations in the Colonies for Matriculation and for the Degrees of B.A. and LL.B.

These examinations are appointed by the Senate, from time to time, upon the application of the Governor of any colony desiring that one or more places in the colony may be named as a colonial centre for one or more examinations. Every such application must be forwarded to the Senate through the Colonial Office at Home.

The examinations are conducted in every respect in the same way as the examinations carried on at the University; and the following conditions and regulations must be strictly observed:—

- (1) The examinations shall be conducted under the superintendence of a responsible Sub-Examiner, who shall be nominated by the Governor of the colony, and who shall be altogether independent of the authorities of any college or institution at which the examination may be held.
- (2) The examination papers for each examination shall be sent out through the Colonial Office, addressed to the Governor of the colony, and shall be delivered unopened to the Sub-Examiner.
- (3) The examination shall be held simultaneously with the corresponding examination in London, or, in the event of accident or delay, as soon as possible after the arrival of the mail by which the papers are transmitted; and immediately on its conclusion the Sub-Examiner shall place the answers of the candidates in the custody of the Governor of the colony, to be by him transmitted under seal by the next mail through the Colonial Office to the Registrar of the University.
- (4) The Registrar, on receiving the answers, shall distribute them to the Examiners who shall make a supplemental report thereon, classing the candidates according to the Regulations, in a list by themselves, but indicating, as nearly as may be, the positions which those who may be entitled to places in the Honours Division, at Matriculation would have held in the Home Honours Division if they had been examined in this country.
- (5) The Honours Examinations in Arts and Laws cannot be held out of England; nor are candidates who may be examined for Matriculation in the colonies admissible to competition for the exhibitions and prizes offered by the University to candidates examined in the United Kingdom; but scholarships depending upon the results of the Matriculation Examination are offered for competition in some colonies by the Trustees of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund." The University has no control over these scholarships; and information concerning them can only be obtained from the Secretary of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund," 4, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, London, S. W.
- (6) Under existing arrangements examinations will, until further notice, be held at various colonial centres as follows:—

JANUARY MATRICULATION.

East Indies.—(Calcutta, Bombay, Madras.)

West Indies.—(Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad, Demerara.)

JUNE MATRICULATION.

Canada.—(Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Ottawa, Halifax, Fredericton.)

Newfoundland.—(St. John's.)

New Zealand.—Bi-ennially.

Tasmania.—Bi-ennially, in alternation with New Zealand.

Applications for the institution of other colonial examinations should be forwarded through the Colonial Office as early as possible in each academical year.

[NOTE.—Applications for the institution of these examinations are not received from individual candidates. Any person desiring to be examined at a colonial centre should not apply to the University of London, but to the Government of the colony wherein he resides, to ascertain (a) whether any arrangement has been already made for holding an examination in the Colony, or, if not, (b) whether the Government will make the necessary application to the Senate in order that such arrangement may be made.]

Dated London, the 29th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,
To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to refer to your Lordship's letter of the 12th instant, and to inform you that the despatch, with its enclosures, from the Government of India therewith forwarded, were considered at a meeting of the Senate held on Wednesday last.

I am directed to state, for the information of the Government of India, the rule which has been laid down by the Senate in regard to the establishment of Examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, namely, that no application for the appointment of an examination in a British Colony or Dependency will be entertained unless made by the Government of the place where it is desired that the examination should be held, and unless such application be forwarded, as the case may be, through the Colonial or India Office at Home. This rule was established by the Senate in order to obtain a sufficient guarantee for the due conduct of the Examinations, if held, and as a security against the use of Examinations of the University for purposes inconsistent with the duly considered interests of any colonies or places where they might be introduced. So long as this rule prevails, no Examinations other than the Matriculation Examination, as already established, could be held in India, except upon the application of the Government of India; and as the Senate would decline to entertain applications made by persons desiring to become candidates (invariably referring such applicants to the Government of the place where they are residing), it rests with the Government of India to decide whether it would or would not be desirable to make further use of the Examinations of the University. As the Senate does not take the initiative with regard to the appointment of any of the examinations held elsewhere than the University itself, the Senate does not think it advisable or necessary to state the terms on which they would arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta until the question is brought before them by a formal application for the appointment of such examination.

I am to add, however, that wherever the Examinations of the University are held, they have always been held subject to uniform conditions with regard to the right of entry and otherwise, and that it is extremely doubtful whether the Senate would feel authorized or justified in making special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre, whether in India or elsewhere.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—INLAND EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 14th November 1881.

READ—

The Annual Report on Inland Emigration for the year 1880-81.

The report which is submitted by Dr. Grant who was Superintendent of Emigration throughout the year has again not reached Government till considerably after the due date. The report gives a full and interesting account of Inland emigration throughout the year. The first portion of it deals as usual with the administrative changes effected or discussed during the period under review, while the remainder consists of an analysis of the work done by the department. The object of all the changes which have, for some time past, been made has been to facilitate, as far as possible, emigration to the tea districts by reducing the difficulties and consequent expense of conveying labourers from their homes. This it has been sought to effect by shortening the journey to Assam, and by freeing both parties to the contract from all restrictions not absolutely needed in the interest of the labourer himself or of the general public. In order to lessen the cost of the labourer to the planter, the rule regarding the space to be allotted on board inland steamers to each emigrant was modified during the year in consideration of a reduction in the fares charged by the Steamer Companies and of a promise by the India General Steam Navigation Company to perform the journey from Dhubri to Tezapore and Dibrugurh in the quickest time possible under the circumstances. A further concession was at the same time made to the Steamer Companies whereby steamers are now enabled to carry the full legal complement of 200 emigrants without providing a medical officer. These changes, which were introduced with the concurrence of the Chief Commissioner of Assam, have worked very satisfactorily as have also the new rules, permitting on the one hand lads of 16 years of age to enter into contracts, and on the other hand restricting the powers of agents to transfer labourers from one garden to another. Shortly before the close of the year certain alterations were also made in the rules regarding the fittings and licensing of emigrant vessels and the supply of medical comforts and attendance—the working of which will be more fully noticed next year. Finally, in order to render the journey shorter, further improvements have been made in the route between Kaunia and Dhubri; while the route via Rajmahal which had ceased to be used by labourers was finally closed and the sheds were dismantled.

2. The principal matter affecting emigration during the year has, however, been the proposed amendment of the Labour Transport Act of 1873. The insufficient encouragement given by that Act to free emigration, the restrictions which it imposes upon recruiting by sirdars or headmen, the absence from it of provision for the enforcement of contracts with labourers other than those entered into under its terms, and the inadequate protection afforded by it to the planter against misconduct on the part of his labourers, have for some time been urged upon Government as matters in respect of which a change in the law was required. A Committee was accordingly appointed to “examine into the working of the Act and to suggest any relaxations and amendments of the law which it might seem safe and advisable to adopt.” Most of the essential recommendations of that Committee have been embodied by the Government of India in the Bill which has recently been published in the Gazette and is now before the Legislative Council. Except on one or two points, the Bill has the entire approval of the Government of Bengal; and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the few suggestions which he has made to the Government of India in favour of a somewhat closer adherence to the proposals of the Committee on those points may yet be accepted. Whatever may be the decision arrived at by the Supreme Government on this subject, Sir Ashley Eden has no doubt that the Bill when passed will effect a vast and much needed improvement in the present law, and that under its provisions immigration into the tea districts will be conducted with less friction, difficulty, expense and delay than has hitherto been possible.

3. The Superintendent reported last year that the number of contractors holding licenses at the close of that year was ten. This does not tally exactly with the present report, which shows eleven contractors throughout the year—a discrepancy which is probably due to a contractor having resumed an agency which he was supposed to have permanently resigned. No fresh licenses were granted during the year. More than half the existing contractors are still general contractors who supply any garden which may require labour; but a large decrease in the number of these agents has taken place in recent years owing, the Superintendent believes, partly to the reduced demand for their services and partly to his having discouraged applications for general licenses. It is, as Dr. Grant states, obviously desirable that contractors should be few, and should be responsible agents.

4. The number of licenses issued to recruiters fell from 618 in 1879-80 to 506 in the year under review, owing no doubt to the diminished demand for labour. It is gratifying to observe that ten licenses only were cancelled for misconduct.

5. An increase from 2,207 to 2,635 is apparent in the number of certificates granted by employers to garden sirdars. Of these, 214 against 1,897 in the previous year were authorized to collect C class labourers only, i.e., their operations were restricted to the recruitment of batches not exceeding 20 in number. Four certificates granted to sirdars of this class were cancelled. No case of misconduct among sirdars collecting larger numbers came to notice.

6. The following statement shows the extent of the falling off which has taken place in the number of emigrants recruited during the last three years exclusive of coolies registered for Dhubri only :—

	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Class A (Contractors' recruits)	13,795	7,601	5,168
„ B (recruited by sirdars, and passed through depôt)	11,917	4,625	1,543
„ C (recruited by sirdars in batches of under twenty)	2,439	1,324	923
Total	28,151	13,550	7,634

Of the total number despatched during the year under review 5,939 went through Calcutta depôts, 772 through Goalundo depôts, and the remainder were embarked at Kooshtea or Goalundo without passing through depôts. The causes assigned for the diminution last year have been at work throughout the period under review. The fall in the price of tea in 1879-80 led no doubt to reductions in garden establishments; but the main reason for the falling off has been the prevalence of good harvests for the last three years and the consequent unwillingness to emigrate among the inhabitants of the districts in which recruitment was formerly most successful.

7. The change which has taken place within the last four years in the proportion of the total labour supply drawn from different localities is very remarkable. The following table illustrates this change :—

	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Chota Nagpore	48.58	65.35	44.47	29.62
Bonthal Pergunnahs	3.87	3.18	2.94	1.78
Bengal Proper	23.08	14.66	19.75	43.81
Behar	24.86	15.56	14.41	22.98
Oriassa	0.15	0.02	0.08	1.78
North-Western Provinces	0.86	0.39	0.06

The results for the present year fully bear out the conclusions expressed last year that Chota Nagpore is almost exhausted as a recruiting ground; and that managers of gardens must for the future look to up-country labour to supply their requirements. In respect, however, to the proportion of labour recruited in Bengal and Behar respectively the above statement is somewhat misleading. The whole of the emigrants recruited in Bengal were enlisted in the districts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions and nearly half of them in the Burdwan district alone. The remainder were engaged chiefly in Calcutta and its neighbourhood. It is known that there is scarcely any emigration among the inhabitants of these divisions, and that nearly the whole of the emigrants registered in them are men who have come down from Behar and the North-Western Provinces in search of employment. If these emigrants were shown according to their place of residence, and not according to that of recruitment, there is reason to believe that the respective results now shown for Bengal and Behar would be reversed. Dr. Grant submits a table and map illustrative of the extent to which in his opinion the chief recruiting grounds supply emigrant labour to the colonies and to the tea districts respectively. But as neither the map nor table shows any emigration to the tea districts from the North-Western Provinces or Oudh, it is manifest that the same error vitiates the figures that has been noticed in regard to the percentage against Bengal Proper in the table reproduced above.

8. Regarding the route followed by emigrants to the tea districts the most remarkable points are the abandonment of the old Rajmahal route, and the increasing popularity of the journey by Dhubri as compared with that by Goalundo and Khooshtea. The number of labourers for Assam embarking at Goalundo was 3,294 or about half of that for the previous year; while it was exceeded by the embarkations at Dhubri, which numbered 7,366. Altogether 5,939 labourers were registered for transmission through Calcutta depôts, of whom 5,693 arrived in Calcutta, the reduction having been effected by 134 detentions and 122 casualties. The apparently large number of detentions is explained by the fact that one batch of 79 emigrants under class B who were registered just at the close of the year were not despatched until the commencement of the present year and have therefore been shown as detained. The casualties before arrival in depôt amounted to 2·02 per cent. on the whole number of labourers registered and consisted of ten discharges and 51 desertions from mofussil depôts and of 48 desertions and one death on the way to Calcutta. Nineteen labourers also are stated to have been left behind. The absence of mortality is gratifying and the small percentage of desertions may reasonably be regarded as an indication of good treatment of the labourers by recruiters and sirdars.

9. From a table given by the Superintendent it appears that of the 6,001 persons accommodated in the Calcutta depôts during the year, including a balance of 308 remaining undisposed of from the previous year, 360 persons were rejected (of whom 325 were emigrants and 35 dependants), 196 were discharged, 225 deserted, 8 died, and 215 remained in depôt at the close of the year. The manner in which the remainder were forwarded to their destinations has already been shown. The percentage of persons rejected to those brought to depôt was 6·30 among recruiter's and 4·61 among B class labourers. As is generally the case, least care would seem to be exercised by the servants of those contractors whose business is most extensive and the percentage of rejections was largest in the largest agencies. Discharges from depôt amounted to 3·38 per cent. on the A class to 2·71 on the B class. Desertions were confined to recruiter's men among whom they amounted to 4·59 per cent. Of the deaths 7 took place among A class labourers but in no depôt did the mortality rise above 0·24 per cent. This most satisfactory result is due to the complete absence of cholera from the depôts throughout the year. The year as pointed out by Dr. Grant was a favourable one throughout Bengal in respect of this disease; at the same time the absolute immunity of the depôts from it, when considered in connection with the trifling mortality from other causes, indicates the greater care bestowed upon the sanitary condition of the depôts by the Medical Inspector and the greater attention given to the subject by the contractors themselves. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, now that so favourable a result has been attained, every effort will be made to maintain the improvement which has been effected. The percentage of rejections is, except in the case of B class emigrants, somewhat lower than has been the case in previous years owing, it is believed, to the greater strictness now observed in mofussil inspections. It is gratifying that no further complaints have reached the Lieutenant-Governor as to the superficial character of the examination at the depôt which formed the subject of correspondence last year. Finally, the results of the year's work in the Goalundo depôts are very satisfactory, the percentage of deaths being only ·12; while out of 5,674 emigrants passing through these depôts the total casualties—from deaths, desertions, releases and rejections—were only 45[·] or ·80 per cent. There were no casualties among the 55 emigrants shipped to Chittagong.

10. The almost entire absence of cholera, and the entire absence of mortality from this cause, are the most gratifying features in connection with the conveyance of labourers to Assam on board the river steamers. A slight outbreak occurred in April 1880 among a batch of emigrants shipped on board the Rajmahal from Dhubri, but no case was fatal. Throughout the year three deaths only occurred on board steamers, the average mortality being 0·09 per cent. on the whole number embarked against 1·05 per cent. in 1879-80 and 2·78 in the previous year. In all 66 trips were made by 15 steamers—the average duration of each trip from Goalundo to Dibrugarh (15 days and 9 hours) showing a slight improvement as compared with previous years. In this respect the timing of the steamers of the River Steam Navigation Company is somewhat better than that of the India General Steam Navigation Company. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that the question of a light line of despatch steamers on the Brahmaputra is again under consideration, and he trusts that it may before long be found possible to supply that greatest want of the Assam tea districts—a quick and certain steamer service.

11. Emigration to the tea districts of the Surma valley from Goalundo was confined to A and B class. The total number of emigrants embarked for Cachar by this route was 1,257 and of dependents 577—and shows a falling off of 1,165 persons as compared with the previous year. The casualties during the journey amounted to 14 desertions and 51 deaths, of which no less than 34 were from cholera. Embarkations to Sylhet were 432 only, of whom about one-fourth were dependents. Four desertions and three deaths occurred. There was no case of cholera on board the Sylhet country boats. The only possible system of transport to these districts at present is by country boat; and with such a system complete prevention of cholera is not always practicable. In the interests of tea in the Surma valley and of the emigrants themselves it is earnestly to be hoped that the connection of Sylhet with the railway system of Bengal may not be far distant. The results of the conveyance of C class labourers to these districts would seem from the returns given by the Superintendent to be favourable.

12. The following summary of the transport arrangements for the whole year is reproduced from the report:—

13. The thanks of Government are again due to Dr. Grant for the care and energy which he has shown in the administration of the Department. The Medical Inspectors, Drs. Chandra, Richards, and Prockter, by whom his efforts for the improvements of emigration have been well seconded, are also entitled to the acknowledgments of Government.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. P. MacDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE PROTECTOR OF EMIGRANTS UPON COLONIAL EMIGRATION FOR THE YEAR 1880.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT--COLONIAL EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, 15th the November 1881.

READ—

The Report of the Protector of Emigrants upon Colonial Emigration for the year 1880.

The report is submitted by Dr. Grant, who was Protector of Emigrants throughout the year.

2. The most important administrative measure of the year was the restoration of the original rule which provided that the proportion of females to males shipped on board each vessel should not be less than 40 to 100. In the year 1877 an attempt was made to reduce the mortality among infants and children during the passage down the Bay of Bengal in the face of the monsoon, by substituting for this rule certain provisions under which the proportion of women carried should increase as the season advanced. Great inconvenience resulted from the change, and a reversion to the former rule was ordered by the Government of India with effect from the 1st August 1880. Afterwards, some difficulty having been experienced in complying exactly with the restored rule, it was relaxed in a few cases, and in one case the relaxation took the form of allowing the requisite proportion of the sexes to be made up in the following year's shipments. The Government of India, however, have now ordered that the terms of the rule shall only be relaxed under very special circumstances, and that in no case whatever shall an excess of women in one season be allowed to compensate for a deficiency in another. When the prescribed proportion for the season cannot be made up before its close, it must be adjusted by a reduction in the number of male emigrants. The attention of the Colonies receiving Indian immigrants has been called to the necessity for making provision for disabled pauper coolies returning to India who are unable to earn a livelihood for themselves, and it is understood that all the Governments concerned are anxious to treat such cases liberally. Similar representations have been made to the French and Dutch Governments with respect to their colonies.

3. The St. Vincent Emigration Agency, which was re-opened in the previous year, was again closed during that under review. Emigration for Fiji was suspended, but the Natal Agency was re-opened at the end of April. Agencies were at work throughout the year for the British Colonies of Mauritius, Demerara, Trinidad, Jamaica, St. Lucia and Natal, and for the French and Dutch Colonies of Guadeloupe and Surinam. The Protector acknowledges the assistance which he has received from all Emigration Agents.

4. With the exception of Mauritius and Guadeloupe, all Colonies received nearly the whole number of emigrants which they required. The numbers asked for and despatched in the year under review and the previous year respectively are compared in the following table:—

COLONIES.	1879-80.			1880-81.
	Number of statute adults required by the Colonies.	Number despatched re- presented as—		Number of statute adults required by the Colonies.	Number despatched re- presented as—

Total	9,836	10,293	11,230	13,025	11,392	12,195†

The terms offered for immigrants remained unchanged in all Colonies except Natal, where higher wages are given for railway work and skilled labour than for field work.

* These numbers include the females also. Requisitions from Mauritius specify the number of men only, and leave the number of women to be regulated by the rule regulating their proportion.

† This number includes 50 passengers related to the emigrants.

5. The difficulty experienced in providing the number of labourers required by the colonies has led to an extension of operations in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and the number of recruiters licensed has in consequence risen from 443 in 1879-80 to 559 in 1880-81. It is gratifying to observe that the number of licenses cancelled for misconduct was only 4, or under two per cent. of the whole—a result which speaks well for the care shown by the Agents in the selection of their subordinates.

6. The following table given by the Protector shows the local extension of recruiting operations which has taken place within the past five years. Bengal has almost ceased to be a field for the supply of Colonial Emigrants, while the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab are contributing in increasing proportions.

The apparently remarkable coincidence between the numbers of emigrants recruited for the Colonies in the North-Western Provinces, Oudh and Behar, and those for the tea districts in Chota Nagpore, Bengal, and Behar has, together with the reasons which render the comparison deceptive, already been noticed the Lieutenant-Governor's Resolution on the Inland Emigration Report.

7. The information placed at his disposal by the Emigration Agents has again enabled the Protector to show the ultimate disposal of all emigrants recruited during the year, the results of which are now susceptible of comparison with those of the preceding year—

1879-80.

As noticed by Dr. Grant, both Demerara and Jamaica show more satisfactory results in respect of casualties than last year, the respective percentages being 1·79 and 6·31, against 5·07 and 7·58. In the latter Agency, however, the proportion of rejections (one-third of the total number of casualties) is still larger than it should be, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the attention of the Agents for this colony as well as for Trinidad (where the number of desertions was also large) has been called to the necessity for removing those defects in the system of recruitment and medical examination which these figures seem to indicate. There is no doubt that it is best, in the interests alike of agents and emigrants, that medical examination, should, where practicable, precede registration. Complaints are said to have been made regarding the laxity with which medical examinations are conducted in the recruiting depôts, and it is possible that these are in some instances well founded. As the Protector, however, observes, where laxity exists it is probably due, in part at all events, to the anxiety on the recruiters' part that their emigrants should if possible be passed; many doubtful cases thus escape notice until examined by the Medical Inspector, and the object of holding the examinations is to some extent defeated.

8. The total number of emigrants accommodated in Calcutta depôts was 14,885, against 12,737 in the previous year. Of these, 12,155 or 81·65 per cent. were embarked, and 340 were in depôt at the close of the year. Of the remainder, 1,034 were rejected, 717 deserted, 344 were released on transfer to other agencies, or remained in depôt at their own request under engagement for Natal; 87 died and 22 deserted from the Natal Agency during its transfer. The percentages of rejections, desertions, and deaths were 5·91, 4·81, and 0·58 respectively, as against 4·56, 2·59 and 0·29 in the previous year. The increase in rejections has been noticed above. Desertions were, Dr. Grant considers, abnormally high, and are ascribed by him mainly to the influence of mischievously disposed returned labourers, who, to serve their own ends, endeavour to induce emigrants to desert from the depôts. It is, however, difficult to see what object these men can have had in view, and the explanation on the subject given by the Protector does not seem satisfactory. It seems probable that the absence of those causes—such as dearth of food, scantiness of harvest, and the like—which impel labourers to emigrate, and the high wages to be obtained near Calcutta, are the main causes which induce them to change their minds while in depôt. The absence of cholera from the depôts is gratifying, but in other respects the year was not very favourable, the mortality from bowel-complaints and chest affections being high. The Protector has not explained why those diseases should be so prevalent in depôts for colonial emigrants, while the depôts for inland emigrants were almost free from them. This is a matter which calls for further enquiry and report.

9. The prescribed proportion of female to male emigrants was satisfied, taking the average shipments of the season, in the case of all Colonies except Natal and Surinam. The deficiency in regard to the former colony was made up during the season, though not till after the close of the official year. In the case of Surinam there still remained a small deficit of 48 to be covered by the first shipment of the present season.

10. Twenty-five sailing vessels left Calcutta for the Colonies, conveying an average number of 487 emigrants as against 23 vessels with 419 emigrants in the previous year. In regard to the 19 vessels for which reports have been received the bills of mortality are satisfactory, with three exceptions, in which the death-rate reached 4·58, 5·42 and 6·32 per cent. Last year the highest percentage of mortality was 2·61. The general results, however, were the best for the last 5 years, the total mortality being only 2·2 per cent. The lowest figure previously reached was 3·9 per cent. in 1876.

11. The total number of emigrants who returned from the Colonies during the year (4,137) was less by 261 than in 1879-80. Their average savings were Rs. 180-10-5, and amounted in the aggregate to nearly 7½ lakhs of rupees. Three hundred and twenty coolies, with an average amount of Rs. 56-4-2 as savings, returned from Réunion in French steamers.

12. The thanks of Government are due to Dr. Grant for his efficient management of the department during the year.

A. P. MacDONNELL,

Offy. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMISSION TO ENQUIRE INTO THE CAUSES OF THE EPIDEMIC FEVER IN NUDDEA AND BEERBHOOM.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENTS—SANITATION.

Calcutta, the 10th November 1881.

READ—

- Circular No. 28, dated 7th August 1877, to all Commissioners, regarding the removal of obstructions to drainage.
- A letter dated 9th April 1878 from Rajah Digumber Mitter, c.s.i., regarding the cause of epidemic fever in Bengal.
- Resolution dated 29th April 1878, regarding the improvement of drainage and water-supply.
- Circular No. 15, to all Commissioners except of Presidency Division, and letter No. 1585 to Commissioner of Presidency Division, dated 29th April 1878, calling for reports on the steps taken to carry out the instructions contained in the circular of 7th August 1877.
- Letter No. 7268, dated 23rd September 1879, from Sanitary Commissioner, letter dated 11th October 1879 from the Secretary to the British Indian Association, and reports from Commissioners with reference to the Resolution of 29th April 1878.
- Resolution dated 12th June 1880, reviewing these letters and reports.
- Letter No. 5—7, dated 18th January 1881, to Commissioners of Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahiye and Cooch Behar, enquiring what special measures had been taken in those Divisions upon the orders contained in paragraph 4 of that Resolution.
- Resolution dated 17th May, reviewing their replies.
- Papers regarding the outbreak of malarious fever in the Nuddea district, beginning with Government letter No. 1198, dated 17th November 1880, and ending with Sanitary Commissioner's endorsement No. 1782F, dated 3rd instant.

The Lieutenant-Governor has watched the progress of the outbreak of malarious fever in the Nuddea district with grave anxiety and regret. Medical aid has been freely supplied, and a large staff of Hospital Assistants and Assistant Surgeons, under the special direction of the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, have been for some months engaged in moving about among the most unhealthy villages and treating the sick. There are at present 30 medical subordinates thus employed under Dr. Gupta. Nevertheless the reports which have been submitted, and the enquiries which the Lieutenant-Governor has personally made in the district, leave no doubt that the suffering and mortality are still very great; while there is reason to fear that, as the cold season advances, the number of victims among those already debilitated by disease will still further increase.

2. The recurrence of this fever in a severe epidemic form two seasons in succession seems to point to some local cause distinct from climatic influence. The Lieutenant-Governor finds that there is a very general impression that the unhealthiness of the district is due to obstructions to its natural drainage. That this cause is operating generally to produce fever throughout the country the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt whatever, and he has never lost an opportunity of impressing upon District Officers and Municipal and Road Committees the great importance of doing or causing to be done whatever may be possible to remove this fruitful source of disease. He has promised that such assistance as Government can afford shall always readily be given to supplement local efforts; and several special grants have been made. He has recently made a special grant of Rs. 50,000 in aid of the Nuddea District Road Fund, on the understanding that a substantial proportion is to be spent on supplying bridges and culverts where the drainage is now obstructed by embanked roads. An Engineer has already been deputed to survey and take levels for a scheme to improve the Unjonah river, and thus provide for the efficient draining of the town of Kishnaghur; and the Lieutenant-Governor has promised, if efforts are made to raise local subscriptions, to make a grant for the completion of such project as may be adopted.

Meanwhile, however, he is satisfied that the question of the cause of this virulent outbreak should be thoroughly examined by a Commission armed with power to apply such remedy as they may consider urgently called for. The Commission will consist of—

Dr. R. G. Liddordale, Sanitary Commissioner	... President.
Mr. A. W. Paul, Joint-Magistrate	... }
Mr. T. Haines Wickes, C.E., Superintending Engineer	... } Members.

They will spend the cold season in visiting the worst villages, and examining carefully their sanitary condition and the cause of their unhealthiness. They should, as far as possible, inspect all the roads constructed during the past 15 years, and ascertain whether there is any truth in the statement so often made of the inadequacy of the waterway provided in such roads. They should carefully enquire into obstruction of drainage by the silting up of old channels and creeks; they should give special attention to the supply of drinking water, and should endeavour to induce the people, where the water-supply is now deficient, to clean old tanks and re-excavate new tanks, and place them under the charge of the village punchayat, in order that they may be kept clear for water-supply. They should impress upon the more intelligent villagers the necessity of purifying water, and show how simply and cheaply an efficient filter can be constructed. The zemindars should be called upon to assist in opening and draining channels and excavating tanks. The precaution of sleeping on raised platforms or machans should be impressed upon the people. The Magistrate and Collector will give to the Commission every assistance in his power, and he or one of his subordinates, and if possible the Road Cess Engineer, should accompany the Commission, where this can be done without detriment to other more important work. If the Commission can finish the work in Nuddea before the end of the cold season, they should visit Beerbhoom and endeavour in the same way to trace the cause of the fever outbreak in that district. They will be at liberty to make any improvements that they may consider urgently necessary up to a present limit of Rs. 50,000. A report of the result of their enquiries should be submitted after the close of the camping season.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Circular No. 28, dated Calcutta, the 7th August 1877.

From—A. MACKENZIE, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Dept.,
To—All Commissioners.

I AM directed to request that you will call the special attention of the District Officers and Municipal Commissioners of your Division to the provisions of Act VI (B.C.) of 1873, so far as these furnish a means of improving the drainage of town and village sites.

2. It is a recognized fact that much unhealthiness is caused by obstructed drainage and consequent dampness of the subsoil; and although the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to undertake the impossible task of draining at the expense of the State all the unhealthy districts of Bengal, he believes that very much may be done in the way of improvement by well-directed local effort, and without any very great expense.

3. Within the limits of regularly constituted municipalities, it is in the power of the Commissioners to effect improvements and remove obstructions, so far as their funds will allow and the provisions of the Municipal Act permit, and they have also very extensive power of coercing private owners. They should be stirred up wherever necessary, and called upon to devote special attention to this branch of their town conservancy.

4. But there may be cases even in towns to which the Municipal Act will not apply, and in which it is not proper that the cost of improvements should fall upon the rate-payers. There are also numerous villages outside municipal limits possibly suffering from the effects of obstructed drainage, and the health of a municipality may be affected by evils lying beyond its own jurisdiction. In such cases the provisions of the Embankment Act furnish a ready remedy.

5. By that Act a water-course is defined to include a line of drainage, weir, culvert, pipe, or other channel for the passage of water, whether natural or artificial. Under section 4 the Collector has power to cause to be removed or altered "any obstruction of any kind which interferes with the general drainage of any tract of land." He may construct any water-course, or effect any alteration in any public water-course, when this is required for the improvement of the health of any village. He may call upon the person in charge of any road which interferes with the drainage of any tract of land to alter such road, or to construct any water-course under or through such road; and if the person so called upon fails to obey the order, the Collector may carry out the work at his expense, so far at least as it was necessitated on account of insufficient provision having been made at the time of constructing the road for the natural drainage then existing.

6. The Act gives the Collector ample powers for carrying out any works of the above description, and for assessing the cost, where individuals are not liable, upon the estates and tenures benefitted thereby.

7. There is nothing to prevent a municipality, or any other public body or individual, from moving the Collector to take action under the Act; and the Collector has always at his disposal the professional services and advice of the officers of the Public Works Department.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor, as he has already said, believes that it is by judicious local action that the evils referred to in paragraph 2 of this letter will most effectually be met; and he desires to call the special attention of all Commissioners, District Officers, and Municipalities to the remedies that already lie open to their hand.

9. At the same time, it must always be remembered that much harm may be done to individual interests, and much waste of public money may be caused, by hasty and ill-considered action. In every case there must be careful and intelligent enquiry as a preliminary to remedial measures, and there should be a reasonable certainty of positive good as their result. The provisions of the Board's circular order No. 3 of May 1875 will also have to be borne in mind by Collectors.

Dated Calcutta, the 9th April 1878.

From—RAJAH DIGUMBER MITTER,

To—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

As I feel convinced, after careful inquiry and observation extending over the last fourteen years, that the cause of the disease, commonly called the epidemic fever, which rages endemically every year in this country after the close of the rains, and which has reduced some of the fairest portions of Bengal into a chronic state of unhealthiness, and rendered them unfit for human habitation, is an easily preventible one, I venture to approach Your Honor with the following remarks and suggestions on the subject.

The sole cause to which I attribute the outbreak of the fever, which, as I have observed above, rages endemically every year in this country after the close of the rains with epidemic intensity, was thus described by me in a pamphlet on the subject (page 16) which I issued some time ago:—"The type of fever met with in the epidemic districts is solely due to something in the soil, and the condition most favourable to the development of that something is excessive or abnormal humidity of the subsoil; secondly, that when such a state of the subsoil is not the normal condition (in some places excessive humidity is natural, owing to the extreme porousness or some other peculiarity of the soil, as in the case of almost the whole district of Rungpore, where consequently this type of fever rages endemically), the cause which operates most powerfully to produce that condition is impeded drainage; and thirdly, that it is the inordinate humidity of the subsoil of towns and villages, and not of the paddy-fields and jullas, which contributes to the outbreak of the fever with epidemic intensity. Strange as it may appear, it is none the less true that the fact that the natural drainage of a Bengal town cannot with impunity be interfered with, which of all others should have forced itself generally into notice, is yet just the one least generally known or recognized; and it is to this ignorance or indifference that is to be attributed the ruin of many flourishing cities and towns, both in earlier and later times."

As a most significant fact, expressive of the normal sanitary condition of the country, consequent upon the periodical rains, and one calculated to throw considerable light on the subject-matters of enquiry, I quote the following from page 37 of the same pamphlet:—"It should not be forgotten also that every village in Lower Bengal is more or less humid after the cessation of the rains—from the beginning of October to the middle of December—more so than during the continuance of the rains, and fever, precisely of the epidemic type, though not in an aggravated form, is more or less rife throughout Bengal during those months than at any other time of the year. Hence the period is characteristically described in our country by the term of Jamastaka, meaning that during that period all the eight portals of the mansion of Pluto are open to receive the dead. The same cause, therefore, viz. the humidity of the subsoil and evolution of that something in consequence thereof which under its normal condition favours the advent of the intermittent type of every year in a mitigated form when intensified, as would necessarily be the case when the humidity of the soil is aggravated by obstructions offered to the surface drainage of a village during the rains, and thereby allowing it to be wholly absorbed in the subsoil, would usher in the fever in an epidemic form. We would entreat those who are engaged in enquiry into the cause of this epidemic to bear this significant fact in mind, inasmuch as all their investigations are sure to prove disappointing, if they start with an idea that the fever met with in the epidemic villages is a stranger to the land."

I would draw Your Honor's particular attention to the fact I have specially noticed in stating my opinion as to the causation of the epidemic fever of the malarious type, as shown in the first quotation, viz. "that it is the inordinate humidity of the subsoil of towns and villages, and not of the paddy-fields and jullas, which contributes to the outbreak of the fever with epidemic intensity." If it were otherwise, the task of removing the cause of the fever would be quite a hopeless one, nor would I have ventured to address Your Honor on the subject. The following is what I have said on this point on page 42 of the pamphlet in reply to those who hold that subsoil drainage and the drainage of bheels and paddy-fields are the only means by which the outbreak of the epidemic fever in this country can be prevented:—“To account for the epidemic you are not therefore to look to the soil of the rice-fields or of the bheels, but to that of the villages themselves; and if it is water-logged, the true remedy, as in the other case, is to be found in the removal of the obstructions which have been offered to the drainage course of a village, and not in subsoil drainage. For, however humid or water-logged the soil of a village may be, it will, under the scorching sun, but without the aid of any subsoil drainage, be perfectly dry by April, when also the epidemic fever, however virulently it may have been raging, will of itself begin to abate. To prevent a recurrence, we have only to restore the natural drainage of the villages, and they will without any other treatment return to their normal condition. In fact, the application of subsoil drainage to Bengal with its periodical rainfall of 80 inches, the rivers full to overflowing during the monsoon, and three-fourths of its arable lands under water at least during four months of the year, and relying upon it as a sovereign remedy for the eradication of the disease, appears to us as reasonable as the conduct of the man who waited in expectation of fording the river when it would become dry during ebb-tide. The undertaking recalls to our mind the feat of our ancient sage Agastya, who is said to have brought the sea into the hollow of his palm and then drunk it off.”

The above is subscribed to by no less an authority than Dr. M. Von Pettenkoffer of Munich, as the following extract from his letter to Dr. L. Sulzar, of this city, and published as Appendix No. 3 to the pamphlet, will show:—“To me, as to the author (meaning myself) it always appeared that the dwelling-ground of the people has much more to do with the origin of the disease than has the surrounding districts or land, as rice-field, marshes, &c.” Sir George Campbell, during the latter part of his administration, was, upon close enquiry instituted upon this subject through Colonel Haig and others, so strongly impressed with this fact that he went even to the length of asserting that “in these reeking swamps (meaning the bheels, jullas, and paddy-fields) the human race seems to have multiplied to a greater extent than anywhere in India, perhaps in the world.”

Dr. French thus remarks in his pamphlet on the “Burdwan Fever” (page 55):—“I generally remarked that the villages in the vicinity of a large jheel (small lake) suffered very little, if at all, from the fever. This is owing to the fact that from the jheel the level of the land rises to the village site, and in consequence there is free drainage from the village into the jheel and thence into the khāl and river.” Thus Your Honor will observe that the opinions at one time entertained both by medical men and engineers as to the bheels, jullas, and paddy-fields of the country, being the generating cause of the fever in its epidemic form, has been proved to be totally unfounded.

I beg to be permitted to state here the process of enquiry which led me to the conclusion “that it was the abnormal humidity of the subsoil of villages and not of paddy-fields, consequent upon obstruction offered to the drainage which they normally enjoyed, which caused the endemic fever of the country to break out in those villages with epidemic intensity.”

In the year 1864 a Commission was appointed to enquire and report upon the causes of the fever, which since some years was raging epidemically in some of the villages in the districts of Hooghly and 24-Pergunnahs. As a member of that Commission, I visited a large number of the fever-stricken villages with a view to elicit such information from the villagers as might throw light on the subject-matter of our enquiry. Amongst other questions, I asked the villagers whether they observed anything unusual in the physical peculiarities of their respective villages, and the answer I invariably received was that their houses had become unusually damp since the outbreak of the fever in an epidemic form, and related many significant facts corroborative of the same. This peculiar feature of the fever-stricken villages corresponded exactly with what I observed in Cossimbazar, which was almost depopulated (vide appendix of the pamphlet) by the outbreak of this type of fever in an epidemic form some 90 years ago, and which was still in a chronic state of unhealthiness. The exact similitude of this feature of the fever-stricken villages with that of Cossimbazar struck me at once, and led me to conclude that this unusual dampness must be intimately connected with the cause of the fever.

My next inquiry was devoted towards the drainage condition of the fever-stricken villages, as this abnormal dampness must, I concluded, be owing to excessive or unusual absorption of the periodical rainfall in the subsoil of those villages. As nature has blessed or cursed this land with a periodical rainfall of 60 to 70 inches within three or four months, she has also provided it with a beautiful and simple drainage system whereby to get rid of this large quantity of water from the village site. The natural drainage system of the country, as I have stated on page 5 of the pamphlet, is as follows:—

“The drainage of all the villages in the epidemic districts, as elsewhere in Lower Bengal, is effected by the water first running into the nearest paddy-fields lying in the direction of their slope; thence it collects in the bheels, from which it rushes through khāls into larger streams, which again communicate with navigable rivers. An obstruction occurring in any one of these conduits must interfere with the drainage, and its effects are felt more or less according to the proximity or remoteness of the obstruction from the scene of its influence. Accordingly, it has been found, as will be noticed more particularly hereafter, that the stoppage of the mouths of the different streams has not been productive of such serious consequences to the villages lying within their influence as when the same occurred more in the vicinity of those villages."

There is scarcely a single village in Lower Bengal which has not a paddy-field or bheel adjoining, or in close proximity to it, indicating at once which way the slope of the village runs. We also know as an undeniable physical fact that the river-bank being high, the slope of the villages lying on it is necessarily inland. Bearing these physical peculiarities of the country in mind, one can easily trace, without taken levels or calling in the aid of a professional engineer, whether any obstruction has been offered to the drainage of a particular village in its flow to its natural outfall.

In prosecuting my inquiry into the drainage condition of some of the fever-stricken villages according to the laws stated above, I found in every instance, not only that obstruction had been offered to the flow of the monsoon water from the village to its natural outlet, but that the virulence, of the fever and the interval which preceded its outbreak were regulated according to the proximity or remoteness of the obstruction from the scene of its influence.

That the conclusions I have been led to from close observation and analysis of facts are quite in accordance with scientific opinion on the subject, will appear from the following extract from the "Retrospect of Medicine," edited by Dr. W. Braithwaite:—"It is an established fact that the presence of vegetable matter is by no means necessary for the production of malarious disease. Ample proof of this is cited by Dr. Watson in his "Lectures" and by Mr. Martine in his work on "Tropical Climates." The former adopts the plain conclusion that "for producing malaria it appears to be requisite that there should be a surface capable of absorbing moisture, and that this surface should be flooded and soaked with water and then dried; and the higher the temperature and the quicker the drying process, the more plentiful and the more virulent (more virulent flooding because more plentiful) is the poison that is evolved." Again, "there is reason to believe that the flooding of a porous earthy surface with water, and the subsequent drying of that surface under a certain degree of heat, constitute the sole or main conditions of the generation of the poison." I need not say that the conditions requisite, according to the above opinion, for the production of malaria are to be met with in this country in a superabundant degree. We have the periodical rains flooding the surface of the country with water, the soil porous enough to absorb that moisture and a powerful sun to dry the surface. Such being the scientific opinion as to the generating cause of malaria, and its correctness being so conclusively testified to by the prevalence, as observed elsewhere, of that type of fever every year in this country after the close of the rains (Jamastaka), it cannot be unreasonable to suppose, aye the inference is irresistible, that the same cause which contributes to the propagation of the fever in this country in an endemic form must, when intensified, cause it to break out with epidemic virulence. What, it may be well asked, can more contribute to the aggravation of the humidity of the subsoil, the generating cause of the fever, than obstructions offered to the drainage of a village? If with all the facilities offered by the natural drainage system of this country, supplemented by artificial improvements, every town and village more or less suffer from fever of the malarious type every year after the rains, because with a rainfall of 60 or 70 inches within three or four months, a portion of it cannot but be absorbed in the subsoil, will not the generating cause of the fever be considerably aggravated, if, by obstructions offered to drainage, almost the whole, at least the bulk, of the rainfall, not finding its way into its natural outfall, is necessarily absorbed in the subsoil of a village? And this has precisely been the case, as shown by many striking instances I have mentioned in my pamphlet, wherever the fever has broken out in this country with epidemic virulence. So far as Lower Bengal is concerned, I would supplement the above theory as to the generating cause of malaria by adding that as malaria is produced by the drying up of the earth saturated with water, so it is almost entirely eliminated by the complete drying of the subsoil, which is effected by the middle of April, when even the paddy-fields begin to crack and when patients heretofore suffering from fever begin to recover without the help of medicine, except in cases complicated with the enlargement of the spleen and liver.

I would not trespass on Your Honor's valuable time by reproducing any of the many striking instances I have mentioned in the pamphlet showing how obstructions offered in various ways to the drainage of particular villages had been invariably followed by the outbreak therein of fever of the malarious type with epidemic virulence. I should only mention that notwithstanding inquiries of the most scrutinizing character from time to time instituted by the local authorities, evidently under the instructions of the Bengal Government, to test the correctness of the facts mentioned by me, as would appear from a report of such inquiries published in the Calcutta Gazette of 16th February 1873, not a single fact has yet been successfully controverted.

The only instance in which attempt was made to test the correctness of my theory by actual experiment was in the case of Dwarbashiui, stated at length on pages 24 and 25 of the pamphlet. The obstruction offered to the drainage of that very large and important village, in the manner mentioned by me, and which, as an inevitable consequence, was followed by the outbreak of the fever with epidemic virulence, was removed under the orders of Mr. Montessor, the then Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, at an expense of only Rs. 300, and it resulted in complete success (vide Calcutta Gazette of the 20th December 1865), proving at the same time with what comparatively small expenditure the cause of the epidemic fever could be removed and the fever-stricken villages restored to their pristine healthiness.

Although, as observed above, it was only in the case of Dwarbhashini that my theory was practically tested, still ample testimony to its soundness is borne in other ways by medical men and others who have devoted attention to the subject. I beg, with Your Honor's permission, to mention two instances. In tracing the cause which, according to the laws enunciated by me, must, I thought, have contributed to the depopulation and ruin of many cities and towns, Gour for instance in olden times, by the outbreak therein of this type of fever in a virulent form, I stated as follows in pages 19, 20, and 21 of the pamphlet to account for the cause which had reduced the once healthy town of Berhampore, &c. (Berhampore would not have been selected for a military cantonment unless it was healthy), to a chronic state of unhealthiness ever since some 60 years. "As regards the Dutch and the French settlements of Kalkapore and Furrasdanga, those places are also situated on the same side of the river with Cossimbazar and in a continuous line with it. The presence of a bheel, called Bistopore or Kalkapore bheel, to their south-east plainly attests that the drainage of those places must at one time have passed into it, while that of a pucca road between the bheel and the towns, and of another between the bheel and its natural outfall, the Gobra Nullah, likewise attest how completely the drainage of those places had been, and still is, intercepted by those roads. All these places are still in existence, with the same type of fever prevailing in them, though the disease is not so fatal to the residents as to new-comers. Adjoining Furrasdanga, to the south, are situated, in a continuous line, the famous town of Syedabad, the old settlement of the Armenians, Khagra, the native town of Berhampore, famous for its brass cups and plates, and the cantonment of Berhampore itself. All these places drained themselves into the abovenamed bheel Bistopore; the last through a series of tanks. In all these places fevers of the malarious and intermittent type have prevailed endemically since the last 50 or 60 years, though never in that virulent form which caused the utter depopulation of Cossimbazar, Kalkapore, Furrasdanga, Choonakhally, and Bhatpara. The cause of this chronic unhealthiness is not far to seek. Bheel Bistopore, which is the drainage receptacle of all these places, like bheels Chaltia, Chandor, and Bhoola, lying to the south and south-east of it, emptied itself through Gobra Nulla into the Jellinghee, until an embanked pucca road from the city of Moorshedabad to the cantonment of Berhampore, constructed some 50 or 60 years ago, completely cut off its communication with this nullah or channel, and converted it into a lake without communication with any outfall. As is naturally to be expected from such a state of things, the bheel becomes quite full after a few heavy showers of rain at the commencement of the monsoons, when, having no outlet for its overflow, it refuses to receive the surface drainage from the abovenamed places, and the monsoon water consequently is absorbed in their subsoil. Hence it is that the unhealthiness of those places every year, after the close of the rains, bears a direct ratio to the rainfall for the year. It is true enough that there are two sluices constructed in the embankment which protect Berhampore from the inundations of the Bhagiruthee, and are evidently designed to carry off the overflow of the bheel into that river, but it so happens that during the monsoons the water-level of the Bhagiruthee is higher than that of the bheel, consequently the sluices do not answer the object for which they were designed. It is to us unaccountable that these simple facts have never been noticed, and the drainage of the places have not been restored. This restoration can be accomplished easily and at no great expense, simply by restoring communication of the bheel with the Gobra Nullah by means of a sufficiently wide and deep drain. Though belonging neither to the profession of medicine nor of engineering, yet we can safely guarantee the recovery, by the places named, of their original healthiness if our simple suggestion be adopted. The improvement, we warrant, will follow within two years of the completion of the proposed drain." It so happens that a drain similar to the one recommended by me in the above extract has been cut, and with what success will appear from the following quotation from page 103 of the report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal for 1872, published at the latter end of 1874:—

"In Berhampore, a notoriously moist and unhealthy station, situated four feet below the high flood-level of the Bhagiruthee, and protected from inundation by a bund, a drainage scheme, devised by Mr. Wicke, the Executive Engineer, and involving no great amount of outlay, received the sanction of Government in August, and has since been partially completed

"The plan, which will easily be understood from the accompanying map, consists in cutting a drain of adequate depth from the barrack square, one of the lowest levels in the station, to the river Gobra, about six miles distant to the eastward. In its course, which is that of the natural dip of the land, this drain taps and carries off the surplus water from two enormous bheels—the Chandor and Bhoola Bheels—east of, and contiguous to, the seep lines.

"The original scheme contemplated the construction of a branch channel to drain the jail site, but the jail having been removed, this was no longer so necessary, and has been given up.

"The result of the work appears to have been most satisfactory, and not only has the station been rapidly and effectually drained, but the water has been made use of during the past year of scanty rainfall to irrigate 1,700 beeghas of land which would otherwise have been comparatively unproductive.

"In 1871, for want of such a drain as this, the whole of the sepoy lines, the race-course, and parade ground, were under water for a month or six weeks, and a great deal of malarious fever prevailed in and around the station.

"There was a similar, but less extensive, inundation in 1856.

"It is believed that this work, which cost only Rs. 15,000, will have the effect of entirely preventing such collections of surface water in the station and its vicinity in future.

"It is very desirable that the unhealthy condition of Cossimbazar, a perfectly pestilential locality, about three miles north-east of Berhampore, should be remedied: it is purely a question of drainage and conservancy. If the proprietors will do nothing, it would be well to include the place within the municipality and tax them sufficiently to enable the observance of conservancy rules to be enforced. The people live in a state of chronic fever; all the children have spleen, and though one at least of the landed proprietors (the Rane Shurnomoyi) is very charitable, and gives freely both medicine and food, this can only be considered as palliatives. The place should be drained, the tanks cleansed, and the excessive filthy habits of the people put an end to."

It does not appear from the quotation whether the drain in question is connected with bheel Kalkapore. For reasons stated by me, the success of the experiment, although, so far as it goes, flattering to me, will not be complete unless the connection is made, and the bheel Kalkapore thereby relieved of its surplus water by its flow into the Gobra Nullah, and the bheel in question thus enabled to receive the drainage of Berhampore, Khagra, and Syedabad, of which it is the natural drainage channel, in years of heavy rainfall. The following was written by me in regard to the outbreak of the epidemic fever in Jessore:—

"We will conclude these remarks for the present by giving an instance of how an important town has partially recovered its healthiness by the partial restoration of its natural drainage. On the south and west of the river Bhoirub is situated the town of Jessore with its drainage receptacle, the bheel Harina, lying to the south-west of it. A road, called the Dacca road, constructed, it is said, about 60 years ago, runs along its south and western boundaries, intercepting the drainage of the town in its way to the bheel. How unhealthy Jessore has been for a long course of years is well known. Although we cannot ascertain the exact year in which the above road was constructed, yet we make ourselves bold enough to say that the unhealthiness in question dates within a year or two of the construction of the road. The correct information on the subject cannot, however, be unavailable to the Public Works Department, and we shall be glad to stand corrected in the matter. Cholera is said to have been first introduced into this country from Jessore, and its handmaid, the malarious epidemic fever, after committing a frightful havoc about fifty years ago, settled down in Jessore endemically, as in Cossimbazar and its neighbourhood. Not a soul could be met with there who had not a sickly tumid belly and lanky extremities to present. All the laws of sanitation known to the authorities, from the filling up of holes and dirty tanks to the cutting up of jungle, had been experimented upon and exhausted. So much so, that with the exception of a few cocoanut trees not a single old tree of any kind could be met with in the place within a few years of the breaking out of the disease. The natural drainage course of the place when intercepted by the intervention of the road in question, had been attempted to be diverted towards the river on which the town is situated, but ineffectually, as the river was not tidal there, and was so constantly full to overflowing during the rains that, instead of receiving the drainage, it would very often inundate a portion of the town itself. Thus a new evil was brought on, and the authorities, leaving aside the question of sanitation, had to direct their attention as to how to protect the town from inundation. Towards the latter end two drains were caused to be excavated, running parallel to and at some distance from each other, and connecting the river Bhoirub with bheel Harina, thereby affording a vent to the overflow of the river into the bheel. But the drains, in their course to the bheel, passed through the town, and thus the natural drainage of the place, which had been obstructed by the Dacca road, was accidentally, though only partially, restored. The immediate consequence was a considerable improvement in the sanitary condition of the town, which has lasted ever since. No one that we are aware of has noticed this; and there may be persons disposed to attribute the improvement to tank-filling, jungle-cutting, and other forms of folly and extravagance which have acquired such unenviable notoriety of late. The improvement, however, will be only complete when the drainage channels of the place, which are yet directed towards the river, are diverted to the two drains."

The following quotation from Dr. Unnodapersad Kastogiri's prize essay on the "Epidemic Fever of Bengal" will show how thoroughly correct I was in my supposition that the construction of the Dacca road was the cause of the outbreak of the fever in Jessore, inasmuch as its presence, I found, intercepted the flow of the drainage of Jessore to its natural outfall, the bheel Harina.

"In 1834-35," says Dr. Kastogiri, "the Government commenced the construction of a road from Furreedpore to Jessore by convict labour. In 1836 the road progressed as far as Mahmoodpore, between it and its drainage outfall into the Keshwar Bheel, as far as Harekistopore, a mile to the south-east of Mahmoodpore. Fever of a virulent type broke out after the ensuing rains, both in Mahmoodpore and among the 700 convicts working on the road; of the latter, 200 are said to have died in a short time, on account of which the work was abandoned. Mahmoodpore was entirely deserted. It is now an insignificant village still containing many remnants of its old magnificent buildings.

"On the Nudda side, the road mentioned before had progressed as far as the sudder station of Jessore, its south cutting off on its drainage outlet into the Harina Bheel, when fever of a destructive character broke out there. In short, the road, popularly called the Dacca road, brought disease and death along its progress into the villages, the drainage of which is obstructed—a positive fact in support of the obstruction of drainage and of outbreak of severe fever following each other as cause and effect."

It is evident from the above that it was not in Jessore alone that the fever broke out in a virulent form, but also in other places, the drainage channel of which had been likewise intercepted by the road in question. The following extract from Mr. Westland's report on Jessore, given in the report of the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal for 1874, fully confirms the statement of Baboo Unnodapersad about the year the road was constructed. Mr. Westland says:—"Great sickness broke out here in the year 1836, when the Jessore and Furreedpore road was being constructed by means of convict labour. It was a fever begun with a headache, causing internal heat and carrying off the victims in about ten days. It continued here seven years and desolated the place" (Westland's Report, page 273). This concurrence of testimony is worthy of note.

In conclusion, I beg to quote the following from paragraph 6 of the pamphlet to show why is it that the endemic fever of the country has been raging with epidemic intensity much more extensively of late years, especially in the districts of Burdwan, Hooghly, and 24-Pergunnahs. "I have not a large number of roads, as railway feeders, or as ordinary highways, been constructed in both the affected districts during the last fifteen years,—not to mention the railway,—most of them crossing the drainage channels of villages? Further, have not many important khals, the drainage channels of villages, been closed by those roads, unprovided, as a rule, with culverts at the site of those khals; and have not many of them been likewise dammed up for the purpose of retaining water on their rice-fields by the zemindars, ignorant of the mischief they were thereby doing?" The above view is fully supported, as regards his own district, by the Civil Surgeon of Hooghly, as the following quotation from page 90 of the report of the Sanitary Commissioner for 1873 will show:—"The main cause to which attention has of late been mostly directed is the subsoil drainage, and there can be no doubt to any one who has studied the subject that the natural drainage of the country has been interfered with in many ways of late years; amongst those may be mentioned the many embanked roads that have been thrown up during the past 16 years. These roads must materially interfere with the drainage of a country whose inland communication was principally by water; these roads must also very materially influence the drainage of the villages near which they pass." To convey to Your Honor a proper idea of the present condition of most of the villages in the districts of Hooghly, Burdwan, and 24-Pergunnahs, I beg to quote the following from the letter of a correspondent of the Indian Mirror of 15th January last, under the signature of "A Homeless Man":—

"Within a few miles of the seat of Government, that is, on either side of the Hooghly, north of Calcutta, may be seen one continued scene of human suffering, caused by a fell epidemic, whose ravages every year during this time are most fearful. So great, indeed, is the calamity felt that those who have the means to remove have removed to Calcutta and elsewhere for the safety of their lives, while others have taken refuge under the roof of relatives and friends. Helpless men and women and children are left in the midst of the epidemic, and who can save them? Pale, emaciated, skeleton-like sufferers as they are, they one and all are under the baneful influence of spleen and fever, which at times attack them and contribute to the acceleration of their death. The houses are the habitation of owls and pigeons and wild beasts for want of human dwellers. I may, with propriety, call these "the deserted villages," concerning which a Goldsmith might find ample materials for thought and writing. What population there is, is made up of persons whose means do not allow of their removal from the place, and these form chiefly the rural population. Such is the state of things observable within a few miles of the metropolis of British India; and who really ought to enquire and try and remove, if possible, the sufferings indicated above? Most assuredly the paternal Government under which we have the good fortune to live. It may be that epidemics and such like calamities are providential visitations, still it is the duty and business, if human effort could do it, to try to relieve suffering humanity: and this relief is, as matters at present stand, loudly called for. Will the Government of the Hon'ble Sir Ashley Eden, than whom no Lieutenant-Governor ever was more conversant with the requirements of our province, give a cordial response to our appeal? I hope and trust it will." From my own personal knowledge of many of these fever-stricken villages, I fully subscribe to the above.

As already observed, the cause of this most deplorable state of things is, in my opinion, easily preventible. In 99 cases out of 100 the cause is traceable to obstructed drainage; and as the drainage of this country is not subsoil, but is effected by the monsoon water running over its surface, such obstructions as may have been offered in its flow to its natural outfall can be removed at a comparatively small cost, as has been already seen in the case of Dwarbashingi. I would therefore, by way of experiment, humbly propose that the line of villages from Bon-Hooghly to Barrackpore, situated between the river Hooghly and the Barrackpore road, should at once be taken in hand, and the cause of obstruction to their natural drainage be removed before the rains set in, so that the result of the experiment might be known after the close of the ensuing rains. All these villages, like Calcutta, are situated on the eastern bank of the river, consequently their drainage level must be towards the east, and this fact is likewise attested by the presence of paddy-fields in that direction, viz. on the east side of the Barrackpore road. The drainage of all these places used to pass into those paddy-fields through a number of culverts in the Barrackpore road, and thence to its outfall, the river Hooghly, by means of two khals, viz. Datear Khal and Khurda Khal. Since some years the construction of municipal roads in some of these villages, crossing their drainage channel, the silting up of the drains on either side of the Barrackpore road in consequence of their not being periodically cleaned out, and finally the different culverts in the road having been choked up, the rainfall over those villages cannot find its way into its natural channels of outlet, and is almost wholly absorbed in the subsoil of those villages. As a necessary consequence, all those places are suffering from fever of the malarious type. Any engineer of ordinary intelligence and knowledge of his profession could easily trace the obstructions, and the same, I dare say, may be removed at a small cost. I beg to submit herewith a rough sketch indicating the drainage level of the villages in question.

It is already too late in the season, or I would have also proposed as a trial ground the whole group of villages from Ichapore to Chagda, numbering some 20 or 25, where the fever broke out with the greatest virulence in the years 1860, 1861, and 1862, that is immediately after the construction of the Eastern Bengal Railway embankment; and the different places were affected in the order of time. The embankment in question passed along them in course of its construction, intercepting the drainage of those places in its flow to its natural channels, the bheel Borpotee and the bheel Mothoora.

I take this opportunity to bring to your Honor's notice that, at my recommendation, the Hon'ble Mr. Cockerell issued instructions to the Joint-Magistrate of Serampore some time last year to clear out the drainage of my native village Connoghur, situated within that sub-division, and suffering since some years from this type of fever. The work was taken in hand, but very little progress was made in it, as it was commenced upon rather late in the year. The work, however, has not been since resumed. Dr. Green, the Civil Surgeon of the sub-division, has very attentively studied the drainage condition of the place. I would therefore respectfully beg that your Honor will be pleased to issue necessary orders for the removal, under the supervision of Dr. Green, of the obstructions offered to its drainage.

Resolution by the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

READ—

A letter, dated 9th April 1878, from Rajah Degumber Mitter, C.S.I., explaining his views as to the causes of the epidemic fever which from time to time appears in different parts of Bengal, and containing his suggestions for its prevention.

Read again—

Government Circular No. 28, dated 7th August 1877, regarding the improvement of the drainage of towns and villages in Bengal, with a view to preventing the unhealthiness caused by obstructed drainage, and consequent dampness of the subsoil.

The improvement of the drainage of towns and of village sites is a subject to which the Lieutenant-Governor attaches the greatest importance, and in his opinion there is no room for doubt that one, at least, of the chief causes of unhealthiness in Bengal, and of the fevers which in late years have done so much injury and have caused so much misery, suffering, and mortality among the people of large tracts of country, is the excessive humidity of the soil caused by obstruction to drainage.

2. The obstruction is no doubt in some cases caused by roads, railroads, or embankments, and it is the duty of the Magistrates, as well as of all other officers possessing local influence or authority, to see that such obstructions are remedied by the provision of a sufficient amount of waterway by means of culverts and bridges. The value of these culverts and bridges is much enhanced when they are accompanied by drains leading into them constructed along the sides of the obstructing embankment, and when care is taken to secure sufficient drainage on the lower side of the embankment to carry off the water to the nearest bheel or river.

3. But the obstruction to drainage caused by artificial means is of trifling importance in comparison with the natural obstruction caused by the silting up, or destruction in other ways, of old water-courses through which the surplus drainage from the villages flowed to the neighbouring low lands, and the surplus water of these low lands was carried into rivers or other natural outlets.

4. Experience in a number of large stations has lately shown that fever has been not unfrequently brought into such places by an entire indifference on the part of the local authorities and of municipal bodies to the important question of obstructed drainage, and that thereby excessive suffering and mortality have been caused. There is no doubt very great truth in the theory, which has so often and so strongly been insisted upon by Rajah Degumber Mitter, that the natural course of the drainage of Bengal villages is too often overlooked in investigating the causes of outbreaks of fever. The natural condition of that drainage is very correctly described in the following paragraphs of the Rajah's letter of 9th instant:—

"My next enquiry was devoted towards the drainage condition of the fever-stricken villages, as this abnormal dampness must, I concluded, be owing to excessive or unusual absorption of the periodical rainfall in the subsoil of those villages. As nature has blessed or cursed this land with a periodical rainfall of 60 to 70 inches within three or four months, she has also provided it with a beautiful and simple drainage system whereby to get rid of this large quantity of water from the village site. The natural drainage system of the country, as I have stated on page 5 of the pamphlet, is as follows :—

“The drainage of all the villages in the epidemic districts, as elsewhere in Lower Bengal, is effected by the water first running into the nearest paddy-fields lying in the direction of their slope; thence it collects in the bheels, from which it rushes through khals into larger streams, which again communicate with navigable rivers. An obstruction occurring in any one of these conduits must interfere with the drainage, and its effects are felt more or less according to the proximity or remoteness of the obstruction from the scene of its influence. Accordingly, it has been found, as will be noticed more particularly hereafter, that the stoppage of the mouths of the different streams has not been productive of such serious consequences to the villages lying within their influence as when the same occurred more in the vicinity of those villages.”

“There is scarcely a single village in Lower Bengal which has not a paddy-field or bheel adjoining, or in close proximity to it, indicating at once which way the slope of the village runs. We also know, as an undeniable physical fact, that the river-bank being high the slope of the villages lying on it is necessarily inland. Bearing these physical peculiarities of the country in mind, one can easily trace, without taking levels or calling in the aid of a professional engineer, whether any obstruction has been offered to the drainage of a particular village in its flow to its natural outfall.

“In prosecuting my enquiry into the drainage condition of some of the fever-stricken villages according to the laws stated above, I found in every instance, not only that obstruction had been offered to the flow of the monsoon water from the village to its natural outlet, but that the virulence of the fever and the interval which preceded its outbreak were regulated according to the proximity or remoteness of the obstruction from the scene of its influence.”

5. Under existing laws, Collectors, Magistrates, and municipal bodies have ample powers for dealing with the evil. In the great majority of cases expensive works are not required: very often indeed the expenditure of a few hundred rupees will give relief to thousands of suffering human beings. No doubt it may be urged that, as the money expenditure in most cases would be so small, the sufferers might reasonably be expected to help themselves; but the knowledge which all Magistrates must possess of the habits of the people will satisfy them that associated labour for the public good is not generally to be expected in the present day from native populations. What is required to be done must for the most part be done either wholly or in part by public officers or public bodies.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor relies upon all Commissioners and District Officers to take up this matter in an earnest spirit. It is a subject in which the District Road Committees ought to be able to give much real and useful assistance; and even if their funds cannot be employed on such works, there is no reason why their engineering staff should not render valuable assistance in laying out and devising village drains, since they must often, in the course of their ordinary duties, come upon villages in which a small and inexpensive drain would render a whole village healthy.

7. Another subject which deserves the careful and anxious attention of district officers is the supply of good drinking-water. Where public funds are not available, there will frequently be found men of public spirit ready and anxious to co-operate with the Magistrate in the excavation of tanks, a work which has always been looked upon in India as a work of merit. Large sums of money are expended in this way every year, but it is feared that much of it is wasted by the excavation of tanks in places where they are not wanted, while other places greatly in need of water are overlooked. In respect to the selection of sites for tanks, it is always in the power of the Magistrate to exercise a very useful and beneficial influence on those who are charitably disposed.

8. Whenever a really useful scheme is proposed to improve the drainage, or to provide pure drinking-water, Mr. Eden will always be willing to assist district officers and public bodies by grants-in-aid to enable them to improve the condition of the people, so far as the funds at his disposal will permit. Considerable grants have already been promised this year for this purpose, and no more proper or legitimate mode of expending any surplus which may accrue from the public works cess could be devised.

No. 1585.

CORP, with copy of Rajah Degumber Mitter's letter, and the enclosed map, forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division for information and guidance, with the request that the subject may receive his immediate attention, and that he will be good enough to report what steps have been taken to carry out the instructions contained in the circular of 7th August 1877, quoted at the head of this Resolution, regarding the improvement of the health of towns and villages by opening out obstructed drainage.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

RAJENDRA NATH MITRA,

Asst. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 29th April 1878.

No. 726S, dated Calcutta, the 23rd September 1879.

From—J. M. COATES, Esq, M.D., Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal,

To—The Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial (Sanitation) Dept.

WITH reference to your letter No. 1424, dated the 17th April 1878, I have the honour to state that, on receipt of it, Dr. Harvey issued a circular to all Magistrates, a copy of which is herewith submitted, forwarding a copy of the late Rajah Degumber Mitter's letter of the 9th April 1878, containing his views with regard to the causes of the epidemic fever which appears in Bengal, and his suggestions for its prevention, inviting their attention to the subject, and pointing out how, by opening out obstructed drainage at a small cost, the health of towns and villages could be improved.

2. I now beg to enclose abstracts of the replies to this circular that have been received from the district officers. These abstracts contain the practical portions of their reports, and I forward them, instead of the original reports (which can be submitted if required), because the latter are too lengthy.

3. The delay that has occurred in submitting this report is due, in the first instance, to no report having been called for from this department in the original orders on the subject quoted above, and to my having to wait for the replies of several officers, which could not be sent until the local officials and native gentlemen in their respective districts could be consulted on the subject. As it is, I am unable to submit the reports from Mymensingh, Bhagulpore, and Nuddea, as I have not yet received them.

4. Dr. Harvey is much in accord with the Rajah, and considers that "the water-logging of the soil is the chief factor at work in producing the fever" referred to by the Rajah, and that "the main cause of the aggravation of the fever at Dinagopore was the obstruction to the drainage caused by well-meant endeavours to improve it."

5. The Rajah's views in his own words are—"The epidemic is solely due to something in the soil, and the condition most favourable to the development of that something is excessive or abnormal humidity of the subsoil." This view he qualifies by saying that "it is the inordinate humidity of the subsoil of towns and villages, not of the paddy-fields and jullas, which contributes to the outbreak of the fever with epidemic intensity." This statement he also modifies when pointing out the remedy for this condition of things. We find him saying—"To account for the epidemic, you are not therefore to look to the soil of the rice-fields or of the phelts, but to that of the villages themselves; and if it is water-logged, the true remedy is to be found in the removal of the obstructions which have been offered to the drainage course of a village, and not in the subsoil drainage. For, however humid or water-logged the soil of a village may be, it will, under the scorching sun, but without the aid of any subsoil drainage, be perfectly dry by April, when also the epidemic fever, however virulently it may have been raging, will of itself begin to abate. To prevent a recurrence, we have only to restore the natural drainage of the villages, and they will, without any other treatment, return to their normal condition. In fact the application of subsoil drainage to Bengal with its rainfall of 80 inches, the river full to overflowing during the monsoon, and three-fourths of its arable lands under water, at least during four months of the year, and relying upon it as a sovereign remedy for the eradication of the disease," he scolds as foolish and unreasonable.

6. With regard to the above views, I would submit the following observations:—"That in April the villages are freer than at any other period of the year from obstructions to surface drainage, because in a few hours the rains at the vernal equinox sink into the subsoil or run off into the empty pools, tanks, and low grounds, without water-logging the soil. Yet these rains never come all over Bengal without bringing a direct and large accession of fever and ague.

7. By irrigation we absolutely lead water into, and spread it over, the fields within and around villages, yet neither in Shahabad nor in Orissa has an increase of disease resulted by the measure. The Deputy Superintendent of Canal Revenue in the latter place reports that "no actual cases of fever or sickness have come to his knowledge," although he believes that "the moisture is calculated to injure those villages towards which percolation should go from the canals and their distributaries." Again, the inspecting officers of the Education Department and the District Superintendent of Police, who see more of the same district than others, have noted "no outbreaks of sickness from impeded drainage," that is, impeded by canal banks or otherwise.

8. There are innumerable villages all through South and Eastern Bengal to which the remarks of the Joint-Magistrate of Cuttack with regard to Jajipore, viz that, "although it is a town thoroughly water-logged and without drainage, yet the inhabitants consider it one of the healthiest in Orissa, and malarial fever is extremely rare there," are equally applicable.

9. There are jullas which are not so harmless as the observations of the Rajah led him to believe. I refer to those which remain here and there in the course of old and dried-up river-beds. These "chains of pools," as they are termed, are specially fever-giving, although, as everywhere else, the Europeans who reside near them suffer less than the natives. The former, however, live usually in houses situated in open compounds free from accumulations of filth, use purer drinking-water, and observe healthy habits, although, in the matter of general drainage, they are subject to the same conditions as the natives. Mr. Whitfield had to give up important surveying work in the heels of the 24-Pergunnahs. He writes—"One assistant engineer died, and surveyors, both Europeans and natives, all suffered severely and were frequently ill with fever, and their men, brought from the surrounding villages, also became ill and refused to remain."

10. But a strong argument against a mere soil-and-moisture theory lies in the fact that, in places where the water is so excessive from inordinate rains or overflow of rivers as to flood and sweep the villages, the following drying season is unusually free from fevers.

This fact the Magistrate of Chumparun, in referring to his experience of the Burdwan fever in Hooghly, has well illustrated. He says—"There is a fall of 80 feet from the Damuda to the Hooghly, the Hooghly district lying between these two rivers, and that therefore the overflow from the Damuda used formerly to flood the whole of the district and actually reach the town of Hooghly, so that the people had to go about in boats. But the embanking of the Damuda and the diminished rainfall of 1874 caused the drying up of the country to begin as early as September and October, instead of late in the cold weather, or even in January and February." The effect was that in 1875 he "saw the whole country dry, and the people obtaining water out of holes in the Saraswati, until the Damuda water was led into that stream that summer to the great relief of the people." Dr. Roy, than whom no one among us had a more intimate and extensive knowledge of the fever which was so general and fatal in Burdwan during the late epidemic there, assures me that the higher villages suffered almost as badly as the low ones, and that the only ones that were so entirely free from the disease that the people of themselves sent their families to them as to a sanitarium were a few which were, during every rainy season, surrounded and flooded by the overflow of the Damuda. The same fact was recorded in the sanitary report of Maldah for the last year. Referring to the fever of the year, the Civil Surgeon writes—"This fever has assumed a new phase in becoming particularly fatal, inasmuch that a similitude between it and Burdwan fever has been drawn; and, to account for this change in character, the view has been propounded that, by the silting up of the river Kalindry, the influx of the Ganges water to that of the Mahanunda is so lessened that overflow of the latter river is so trivial as almost to be regarded as a circumstance of the past. This view claims for the inundated water a twofold benefit—first, replenishing the tanks; and secondly, washing away disintegrating organic matters. This view appears sound in theory and borne out by facts. Since last year the country was little if at all submerged, and fever, in consequence, of a most virulent type, pervaded the district, while during the present year the inundation was considerable, and fever, though nearly as prevalent as during the preceding year, was comparatively innoxious. I am inclined to believe that the washing of refuse matters from the vicinity of dwellings is the great preventive to fever of malignant type, and this I judge on the ground that, immediately below the conflux of the Kalindry and Mahanunda, in the town of old Maldah, and in the villages Nemaseri, Joie, Arrahapore, Kotwali, Dhantolla, respectively situated on the left and right banks of Mahanunda, all of which were uninundated this year, fever was particularly rife and fatal." The Magistrate adds—"In the tracts lying near or abutting on the Ganges, when those parts of the country that urgently require a good continuous flushing in the rainy season and up to its close were well flushed by the rising of the Ganges in 1878, health has been remarkably good, and there has been an absence of fever, while there has been an epidemic of fever in those parts where these conditions exist, and remained unsatisfied at the proper time."

I myself have found the above facts to be correct over and over again during the last 20 years in this and other districts of Bengal, and all who have witnessed the first overflow through a village and noted the black, brown, green, and yellow color of the water as it passes over drain and cesspit, byre and ditch, and has smelled its most offensive odour, one easily observable some miles below the village, will have seen and felt enough to satisfy them of its good effects.

11. The introduction of river or other fresh water of village tanks, which has been done in Nuddea, Shahabad, Durbhunga, Mozufferpore, and Serampore, has proved distinctly beneficial to the health of the people, although this ought rather to raise the water-level in the soil of these towns.

12. Taking chlorine as the test of water contaminated by excreta—and it is the fairest, because it is the most direct as to cause, and it is the least liable to chemical change—we find that, as recorded by Dr. Warden of Bhagulpore in the last Medical Gazette, the water of the Ganges contained 347 grains of chlorine per gallon, a well in Mr. Sandys' garden 994 grains, a well in Sujacunge Bazar 164 grains, another by the side of the road in Bengali Tolla 35.03 grains. This is an independent proof that faecal accumulations affect village wells, while the water in an English gentleman's compound is comparatively free from such impurities, though the places adjoin and the drainage is the same in both, that is, the natural outlets are kept open.

13. Again, the Sonthals and the Polis suffer little from fever, as compared with the Hindus residing in the villages in their neighbourhood, and the difference does not lie in the drainage nor in the dampness of the houses. Both the former live in straggling huts, never in densely-packed villages. They cultivate the soil up to their housesides, so that when the makai is ripe one can only see the roofs of their huts. There are no well-privies inside the houses, and no cesspits, foul drains, human or cattle excreta accumulations around them. All these are common in the Hindu villages, and contaminate air, soil, and water.

14. Take again the strong and vigorous people inhabiting the low lands of Chittagong, Noakholly, Barisal, and the islands of Sundeeep, Hattia, and Dukhin Shabazpore, through whose villages I travelled extensively after the cyclone of 1876. These people rarely have fever or spleen, yet the subsoil water is so close to the surface that they cannot dig tanks or wells because the water would be brackish. They generally obtain their drinking water from tanks whose walls are built up by outside cuttings and are made to receive rain water. When I asked them why they buried their dead on the banks of these tanks, they pointed to the rice-fields and said "if we dig down three feet, we would put our dead in water, and as we plant up to the edge of our bâris we have no other dry place." These people have no large villages, and their bâris are only four or five houses. Here again we have much moisture and no drainage, but we have small hamlets, extensive cultivation, and little contamination of soil or drinking-water. Our lascars are born and bred in these villages, and their physique proves their healthiness.

15. But of all the peculiarities I know of, the one which more directly applies to the subject we are considering, and is the most apt and pointedly important, is the occupation of new lands or churs, as they are termed, in these same districts. The khals, which extend in some instances 40 miles inland, as well as the rivers Megna, Padda, and others, bring down mud and organic debris from the hills and plains of the far interior. These are deposited in long shoals, grass grows, and layer after layer of this clay, sand, and humus are added till they are above rainy season water-level. I have over and over again asked the farmers why they do not build and inhabit these churs as soon as they begin to cultivate them, and the unvaried answer was that experience has taught them that, if they did so at first, they would die of fever, but that after they have cultivated the ground for three or five years, they can then build and live on it in health.

Here drainage is again unchanged and, indeed, is impossible, yet the soil is destructive to life until its organic impurities are taken out by a succession of growing plants.

16. The inference from these facts is surely irresistible, viz. that it is not more or less of moisture that is the cause of the evil, but the decomposable impurities of the soil, and that our attention should rather be directed to the latter than the former follows as a thing of course.

17. A word about the drainage of the ordinary Bengali village itself. It is dug out of the common rice-field level of the country. Holes are left owing to the mud of the floors and walls of the huts having been taken from them; tanks are dug also, and when the road has been worn below mean level, it is repaired with earth taken from excavations made alongside, which leave hollows and ditches of irregular width and depth rarely connected with each other so as to form one continuous drain. Now these tanks, cesspits, hollows, and ditches are the drainage reservoirs of the village, and as their deepest parts are below the level of the fields around, they cannot be thoroughly drained away. When the village has become older, and larger wells are dug, in order to save excavations, they are usually begun in one of these hollows or roadside ditches, and as there are well-privies inside the enclosure of the houses for the females, and as the cows are fed outside or in the angan, their droppings, the house-sweepings, the cooking fluid refuse, the excreta of children, &c., &c., are cast or flow outside, rise into middins, fill the cesspits, and overflow into the ditches and hollows fouling the wells and tanks, and raising portions of the village soil above field-level, but yet leaving the unfilled hollows still below the ordinary field-level, and in a great measure undrainable into the waterways in the neighbourhood.

18. The Rajah is right when he says we cannot apply subsoil drainage to Bengal, but he might have gone further and noticed that we cannot drain our village pits, hollows, and ditches which are below the level of the fields around. I find that the only removable obstructions to the natural surface drainage of our villages are the uncut portions which have been left between one ditch, hollow or excavation, and another, the growth of weeds in the ditches occasionally, the position of wells in roadside drains, the building of shop verandahs or steps over street drains in towns and the nets, bamboo-reeds and low ridges put up by men and boys for fishing purposes in the neighbouring waterways.

19. Here I cannot help alluding more prominently to the germ theory of disease, because, if true, it may be that very something in the soil which the able and astute Rajah has surmised to exist; and, if not true, the organic matters on which the germs feed may be the evil in question. At any rate the latter is the evil that I contend must be got rid of.

Mr. Lister prevents live germs getting at a wound, whether accidental or induced, by the interposition of an antiseptic, and he thus quite prevents putridity and septicæmia. But there are so many germs and such various forms of fever that we are yet unable to distinguish which germ is the special source of evil. However, even on this point we are breaking ground and attaining accuracy, for Mr. Lister has already discovered the germs which cause rancidity in milk, and if that one be excluded, though others be present, the milk will decay but not change into lactic acid. M. Pasteur, again, has done more. He has separately isolated the germs, be they microzoon or microphyte, which cause carbuncle, which cause putridity of blood (septicæmia, and which cause cholera among fowls. At a recent meeting at Paris he stated that "these maladies exist in the state of germs bottled in my laboratory. At will, during two years for the first two, and for several months for the third, these germs, always ready, can be poured out for new inoculation and new deaths." He adds that he has proved demonstratively that epidemic constitutions do not exist, and that what corresponds to this term is "a greater or less abundance of the germs of the disease."

When I was instructed by Government to set Dr. Wilkie to work on the Burdwan fever enquiry in 1874. I directed him to use the microscope in his investigations, and, doing so, he found the stagnant waters in and around the affected villages swarming with these organisms. The financial pressure that followed the famine of that time stopped the researches, and I can only regret that it has not again fallen to me to push on the enquiry further.

20. If we consider that tons of fecal and other decaying animal and vegetable matters are daily pumped through the sewers and carted and carried away by rail from Calcutta, and reflect that a like proportion of such matters remains in every village in Bengal, that they are continually accumulating and their decomposition is constantly going on, should we not expect that they or the germs, which feed, grow, and multiply upon them in incalculable numbers, would infect the air and the water, and enter the systems of the people? And may it not be that, when the water is in such excess as to flow through the villages, it carries with it all the soluble organic matters and much of them which are so light as to remain suspended, and that thus the water and the current really scavenge, scour out, and make these villages healthy, notwithstanding the excess of moisture and the fine deposits of organic matters which are left behind? I would just note that, in balancing the undecided question as to which is the more probable cause of these fever-germs or decomposing organic matters, the balance falls to the former. It accounts for a variety in the disease itself, also for the difference of prevalence in one season and year as compared with another, and for the subsidence of an epidemic for years, inasmuch as germs in their growth, development, and abundance vary very considerably, whereas organic matter remains accumulating, and is but little liable to change. Thus the Burdwan fever has gradually abated till it is now of the ordinary type, while drainage and sanitation are unchanged; and a like fever has occurred with Burdwan severity in several other districts, e.g., Maldah, Purneah, &c, which were previously little affected.

21. With regard to the other part of the subject, viz. the obstruction of drainage by roads, &c., causing disease, it cannot be accepted as a proof of this hypothesis that those who were employed in the construction of the Jessore and Furreedpore road died in considerable numbers. The food, the water, and the clothing used by them, and their exposure to sun, rain, and night-chills, to which they were subjected, may have had much to do with the result. At any rate the road is there still, and the villagers residing near it do not specially suffer from fever. The same theory is advanced to account for the mortality among the people who constructed the Grand Trunk Road in, if I remember aright, the Prison Committee's Report of 1839, written, I believe, by Lord Macaulay; but the same fact may be averred to rebut it, viz. that the villagers residing along this road, from Howrah to Lahore, do not since its construction specially die from fever.

I should observe here that agues were very common in England up to recent years, and it might be with truth asserted that this disease disappeared with the increase of roads and railway lines. It may, however, be said that more bridges are made there than in this country. This I cannot admit, for engineers, taught in the same school, have constructed both, and the companies who made the former are not the men to put in one culvert more than they could possibly avoid. But that which has increased, consequent on the construction of roads and railways, is cultivation. To such an extent has this increase been, as not only to take out of the fields the very organic matters I am now commenting upon, but to necessitate the employment in their place of manures and even guano from the antipodes. It is a fair inference, I submit, that the English agues have ceased with the using up by high cultivation of all past and present decaying organic matter or germ pollution. I should note also that these roadways were made and, before village sanitation, except this using up of organic matters for England. The same progress in roads and cultivation is bene for its agues, although general sanitation in towns is more backward. Our Indian stations and even the Terai itself have become healthier not from increased drainage, but from extended cultivation.

Returning to Indian roads, I should observe that made with deficient drainage, they would either, as in Cuttack, "complacently yield to the floods and disappear" remain stagnant, and lean on or lie against the upper the opposite or lower side of the obstruction logging. In my inspection tours I have been into the comparative health of the people residing in the natural fall of the country. I have found in hollows below the surface level of the fevers in no instance kept to one side on many independent observers that the high in all the districts that were affected by in any of the districts from Nuddea to Midnapore, and I have repeatedly found this to be the case elsewhere; moreover, fevers are often worst where there are no roads, as in the Terai.

22. Every officer in the Chota Nagpore Division reports that the natural drainage fall is so great that there is no obstruction, but that, on the contrary, the difficulty is to retain the water for agricultural purposes; and the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga says that in this district, fever is not attributed to obstructed drainage, but to the action of the sun's rays on the decaying vegetation of the vast forests in the district, and to extremes of temperature.

23. Considering all the above-mentioned circumstances, especially the facts that we have less fevers after such an excess of moisture as to flood the country; that we have agues where the drainage is excellent, although decaying organic matters are abundant; and that cultivation alone does away with such matters altogether, I confess I am unable to explain the causes of the Bengal fevers, except in the manner above pointed out. I would then advocate that, in addition to removing as far as possible the drainage obstructions already referred to, which may be found in villages, the means of traffic be increased, whether by canals, roads or railways, so that by an extended cultivation, not only for home consumption but for foreign export, all the village organic matters (collected by a proper conservancy from house and public latrines, from middens, drains, and cesspits) may be applied to fields, used up and rendered harmless in the growth of plants; that these hollows, cesspits, &c., be covered over with a layer of fresh earth taken from mounds or high places, if any, or evenly off a neighbouring field, and that the drinking-water be protected from night-soil, kitchen fluids, surface drainage, &c. Improved dwellings, better clothing and sleeping arrangements, and healthier habits of life generally will gradually ensue.

Circular No. 45, dated Calcutta, the 15th May 1878.

From—ROBERT HARVEY, Esq., M.B., Offg. Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal,
To—The Magistrates of 44 districts in Bengal.

I HAVE the honour to forward for your consideration copy of a memorandum by Rajah Degumber Mitter, C.S.I., on the subject of obstructed drainage as a cause of fever, and of a letter from the Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, directing me, if I agree with the views expressed in the pamphlet, to bring the subject to the notice of district officers, and point out to them how much can be done, at small cost, for the bettering of drainage. I have been too short a time in Bengal and have seen too little of the country to commit myself unreservedly to the Rajah's views; but there is sufficient prima facie probability about them to make it worth while to test them practically by removing obstructions to drainage wherever possible. Diminution of fever should, and in most instances would, follow to the clear gain of those living in the neighbourhood.

2. The relation of dampness to fever, and the possibility of eliminating the latter by getting rid of the former, are two of the best known facts in hygienic science, and the Rajah is no doubt quite right in assuming that increased dampness is capable of intensifying the ordinary endemic fever of the country into an epidemic. The great annual rainfall, the general flatness of the country, and the fact that rice, the staple food of the people, requires extensive natural or artificial irrigation, make any general drainage scheme practically impossible, and we can hardly hope to get rid of agues, as has been done in England; but local efforts can do much to improve local drainage and to reduce fever to a minimum. When the ordinary fever of a locality suddenly increases in severity, and it is observed that houses formerly dry have become damp, as seems to have been pretty generally the case where the epidemic fever has been met with, some obstruction to the drainage is certainly pointed to, and wherever that obstruction can be traced to new roads or dams or embankments, means should be taken to obviate the evil by providing sufficient waterway.

3. The Committee recently appointed to enquire into the great prevalence of fever at and ditches which are conclusive evidence that the main cause of a sudden aggravation of the removable obstructions to drainage caused by well-meant efforts to improve it. Other causes portions which have been unhealthiness, as they no doubt do everywhere, but the evidence was the growth of weeds in the logging of the soil was the chief factor. The Rajah's views as to the the building of shop veranda natural drainage of the country are, I believe, correct. The drainage and low ridges put up by means of the rivers, the beds of which by repeated deposits of silt are, for because, if true, it may be that to believe that small local obstructions are frequently caused by has surmised to exist; and, if not, the drainage of villages for agricultural reasons. It would be the evil in question. At any rate, instances these have been followed by increased fever, and

Mr. Lister prevents live germs getting obstruction is removed, and I shall be greatly obliged the interposition of an antiseptic, and he thence for or against the theory as may have come or there are so many germs and such various forms which germ is the special source of evil. From—BAROO KRISTODAS PAI, Secretary to the British Indian Association,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

With reference to the Resolution of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, on the subject of improvement of the drainage of towns and villages in Bengal, dated the 29th April 1878, published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for 8th May 1878, I have the honor, by direction of the Committee of the British Indian Association, to submit the following remarks for the consideration of His Honor.

2. Nothing could be more desirable than the instructions of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on the subject. His Honor remarks:—

“The improvement of the drainage of towns and of village sites is a subject to which the Lieutenant-Governor attaches the greatest importance, and in his opinion there is no room for doubt that one at least of the chief causes of unhealthiness in Bengal, and of the fevers which in late years have done so much injury and have caused so much misery, suffering, and mortality among the people of large tracts of country, is the excessive humidity of the soil caused by obstruction to drainage.”

“The obstruction is no doubt in some cases caused by roads, railroads, or embankments, and it is the duty of Magistrates, as well as of all other officers possessing local influence or authority, to see that such obstructions are remedied by the provision of a sufficient amount of waterway by means of culverts and bridges. The value of these culverts and bridges is much enhanced when they are accompanied by drains leading into them, constructed along the sides of the obstructing embankment, and when care is taken to secure sufficient drainage on the lower side of the embankment to carry off the water to the nearest beel or river.”

His Honor then went on—

“Under existing laws Collectors, Magistrates, and Municipal bodies have ample powers in dealing with the evil. In the great majority of cases expensive works are not required; very often indeed the expenditure of a few hundred rupees will give relief to thousands of suffering human beings. No doubt it may be urged that, as the money expenditure in most cases would be so small, the sufferers might reasonably be expected to help themselves; but the knowledge which all Magistrates must possess of the habits of the people will satisfy them that associated labour for the public good is not generally to be expected in the present day from native populations. What is required to be done must, for the most part, be done either wholly or in part by public officers or public bodies.”

3. It has, however, been brought to the notice of the Committee that the practical working of the Resolution has not been sufficiently prompt or decisive. The information the Committee have received on the subject is confirmed by the Resolution of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor on the administration report of the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 24th ultimo. The Committee transcribe the following remarks from the Resolution referred to:—

“In Hooghly, the epidemic was very severe between August and January. In connection with this serious prevalence of a virulent type of fever, the question of village drainage is of great importance. The attention of all district officers was specially drawn to this by Government Resolution of 29th April 1878, and it was pointed out how much might be done to improve the sanitary condition of the people if Government officers would only interest themselves personally in the matter, and assist the inhabitants in accomplishing the small and inexpensive work which in many cases would suffice to remove the cause of much suffering and death.”

The Committee are aware that the attention of district officers is occupied with multifarious matters which scarcely leave them time for attending to a matter of detail like the one under notice. At the same time the importance of this matter, affecting the health and lives of thousands and hundreds of thousands of people in the mofussil cannot be exaggerated.

4. His Honor had directed that the engineering staff of the Road Cess Committee should be employed in laying and devising village drains. The Committee of the British Indian Association are humbly of opinion that perhaps proper attention to village drainage might be best secured if the Road Cess Committees were made responsible for the work. They would have suggested the formation of a separate drainage committee, but, as the multiplication of local committees would not be practically convenient, they are of opinion that those local committees which are already in existence should be utilized.

5. The Road Cess Committee is an organization which, in their humble opinion, is best suited for the purpose under notice. In the first place, the Road Cess Committee has branches in the sub-divisions of the district to which it may belong; in the second place, it has at its disposal an establishment whose work is allied to the improvement of drainage, for the same persons who look at the roads can also look at the drains. If the officers under the employ of the Road Cess Committees be instructed to report upon the drainage of villages in which it may be their duty to construct and maintain roads, much useful information may be acquired, and the requisite improvement may be effected either through their agency or under their supervision.

6. It will not of course be in strict accordance with the provisions of the Road Cess Act to divert any portion of the Road Cess Fund to the improvement of drainage, but funds will be available from four sources, viz. (1) Ferry Fund, (2) the Embankment Fund, (3) the Canal Fund, and (4) the Municipal Fund. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has lately ruled that the surplus of the Ferry Fund ought to be applied, among other things, to the improvement of drains. The Embankment and Canal Acts impose upon the authorities concerned the obligation of maintaining the drainage channels intact, while the improvement of drainage is a legitimate charge upon the Municipal Fund.

7. With regard to the Embankment and Canal Funds, there are officers who may execute the necessary works, but the Committee believe they will better realize their sense of responsibility if they see an independent authority vested with the power of reporting upon their work. If the Road Cess Committee be instructed to stir up these officers on the report of their own engineering staff, wholesome activity will doubtless be exhibited. In the same way the Municipal Committee would feel a stimulus if they were made accountable to a District Committee like the Road Cess Committee for their exertions in this direction. It is observable that many municipal committees have no engineering staff of their own, and they will derive material assistance if the engineering establishment of the Road Cess Committee be made available to them.

8. In order to secure proper attention on the part of the Road Cess Committees to the performance of this work, the Committee of this Association would suggest that they should be required to make a quarterly report of progress to the Commissioner of the Division, who in his turn should be directed to make a report to Government. The Road Cess Committee, in order to make the necessary report, should instruct their engineer officers, who are travelling officers, to make a report in detail on the state of drainage in the tract of country through which they may pass, and suggest improvements which, as remarked by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in the Resolution under notice, will be generally simple and cheap; the Embankment Department, the Canal Department, or the Municipal Committee, as the case may be, may be called upon by the Committee to execute the necessary works, or deposit with the Committee the estimated cost for such works, who will in that case be able to execute them through their own agency.

9. It might stimulate the Road Cess Committees and other local authorities concerned, and satisfy the public if the Government should be pleased to publish in the official gazette a half-yearly report of progress of the different districts, with such remarks as His Honor may think fit to make thereon.

10. In conclusion, the Committee solicit that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be pleased to take the above remarks and suggestions into consideration, and to issue such orders in the matter as to His Honor may seem meet.

Dated Darjeeling, the 12th June 1880.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of Bengal, Medical and Municipal Dept.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest the full and able report submitted by Dr. Coates, and the analysis of the district reports submitted by him. Dr. Coates is not disposed to adopt the theory of fever-causation held by the late Rajah Degumber Mitter, and adduces reasons for doubting whether it holds good in Bengal, at any rate in the precise form in which the Rajah usually presented it. He denies that water-logging of the soil can by itself explain the phenomena of the endemic fevers of the country. He inclines to the belief that the true explanation is to be found in the germ-theory of the propagation of diseases of this class, their nidus being found in the focal and other impurities saturating village sites, and the sole remedy being, in Dr. Coates' opinion, the extension of cultivation and the application of this refuse matter to its proper uses in the manuring of the soil. The Lieutenant-Governor will not attempt to discuss the germ-theory of disease with Dr. Coates, or to estimate the precise value of his arguments. He must, however, observe that there are some facts in connection with the subject which the theory advanced by the Sanitary Commissioner does not seem to meet: thus, for instance, it does not explain the notorious fact that in damp and water-logged districts, like those of Eastern Bengal and Burmah, the people do not die of fever when they sleep on platforms well raised from the ground. Yet the village sites are there as fully charged with organic impurities as those of the most fever-stricken districts of Central Bengal. Then, again, the best cultivated districts of Bengal are those in which the fever has been worst. There is at the same time great force in Dr. Coates' remarks as to the good likely to result from a proper disposal of the refuse matter of towns and villages; but the people are unfortunately not yet alive to the advantages of this.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, glad to find from the reports received by Government that within the limits of municipalities and unions much has been done, since the issue of the Government orders of August 1877, to improve local drainage and to introduce that improved conservancy to which the Sanitary Commissioner very rightly attaches such great importance. Very much, however, still remains to be done, and the Sanitary Commissioner and local authorities must continue to devote unremitting attention to the provision of effective surface-drainage in towns and villages, to the introduction of a proper conservancy, and to the purification of the supplies of drinking-water. As already promised, if in any case municipal funds are inadequate for the carrying out of really useful schemes likely to do good on a large scale, the Lieutenant-Governor will be ready to consider reasonable applications for assistance. In Dinagepore and Rungpore schemes of drainage have already been started with the help of Government, which are expected very materially to benefit those stations. But, generally speaking, as far as municipalities are concerned, they must be content to advance steadily, though perhaps slowly, in the path of improvement, as their existing means may enable them.

3. In villages not under municipal regulations of any kind, it is impossible to expect much sanitary improvement until the people become more sensible of its advantages. Steps are now being taken to have the rudiments of sanitary knowledge taught in all the primary and other local schools of Bengal; and it may be hoped that, ere many years are past, a great change in feeling and opinion on this subject will come over the mass of the people. Meantime district officers should do what they can to encourage the making of tanks and wells for the supply of good drinking-water, while zemindars and other enlightened members of the native landholding class will often be able, at small cost to themselves, to effect improvements in drainage on their estates to the obvious benefit of their poorer neighbours.

4. In respect of the general improvement of district drainage, the weight of opinion among those consulted is adverse to the suggestion that the District Road Committee should be placed in charge of all such works within the district. Municipal works and works in charge of canal or embankment engineers of the Public Works Department could not certainly be placed under District Road Committees. In the Cess Bill, however, which has recently passed the Bengal Council, power has been given to these committees to spend part of their funds upon "the construction and maintenance of any means and appliances for improving the supply of drinking-water or for providing or improving drainage." This will enable them to initiate and carry out many useful works; and it should be a standing instruction to the district engineer and his staff to lose no opportunity of bringing before the Committee and the Magistrate of the district any obvious obstructions to drainage that may be discovered by them in the course of their ordinary duties. The existing law gives, as has been already pointed out, large powers to the district officer of remedying such evils. There is no reason also why the district engineering staff should not be utilized at times in superintending their removal, so long as this does not interfere with their proper work.

5. For carrying out more extensive schemes of drainage, which involve questions of reclamation, the amended Drainage Act, which has just received the assent of the Governor-General, will provide increased facilities. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes to see large advantage taken of the provisions of that Act, and will, as far as possible, be ready to lend the services of Government engineers for the purpose of examining and developing any likely projects of that class. Meantime the very interesting and suggestive report by Mr. Whitfield on the drainage of the 24-Pergunnahs will be referred to the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department of this Government for early consideration. The Government will be ready to give every encouragement to render possible the carrying out of the schemes suggested by Mr. Whitfield, or any part of them declared to be sound. Something has already been done in the way of providing drainage-sluiques in the 24-Pergunnahs, partly from Provincial funds, and partly by contributions as for tucavee works. But the whole subject will now receive careful reconsideration from the Chief Engineer in the Irrigation Department.

6. The reclamation of the Salt Water Lake, to which Mr. Whitfield refers, is a project which the growing prevalence of fever in Calcutta makes it very desirable to see again brought forward. The Lieutenant-Governor would be prepared to support the grant of any reasonable concessions to any substantial Company undertaking this work. Mr. Whitfield is of opinion that all these reclamation projects would amply repay those who carry them out.

7. A comprehensive and costly scheme for improving the water-supply and drainage of the Hooghly district, which has so long suffered from a fatal fever attributable to bad water and the evil effects of blocked drainage and stagnant watercourses, is now being carried out from Provincial Funds; the people of the district having shown themselves unwilling to provide funds for works which are admittedly essential to the preservation of public health in that district. As funds are available, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes gradually to carry out similar schemes elsewhere. The Public Works Department will be requested to examine the reports now submitted from other districts, and to make further enquiries with reference to any projects which appear prima facie to be promising. But generally speaking, it must, as the Lieutenant-Governor observed in the circular of August 1877, rest with local officers and public bodies, or with those directly interested, to bring forward schemes for improvement and reclamation, availing themselves of the powers which have been, or are about to be, given them under the law, and of the aid which the Government is always anxious to afford them.

Nos. 5-7, dated Calcutta, the 18th January 1881.

From—COLMAN MACAULAY, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,

To—The Commissioners of the Burdwan, Presidency, and Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divisions.

I AM directed to request that you will be good enough to submit an early report, showing what measures have been taken in each district of your Division upon the orders contained in paragraph 4 of Government Resolution of 12th June last, a copy of which was forwarded to you with circular No. 8T of the same date. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches very great importance to the steady prosecution of measures to remove obstructions to drainage, and he desires to know if any special provision has been made for such works by any District Cess Committee, how far the district engineering staff have assisted in bringing obstructions to notice, and generally what action has been taken by the different district officers in the matter.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of Bengal, Medical and Municipal Dept.

Government Resolution, dated the 12th June 1880, on the subject of improving the drainage of towns and villages in Bengal.

- (1) Letters to the Commissioners of the Burdwan, Presidency, and Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divisions, Nos. 5-7, dated the 18th January 1881, requesting them to report what measures had been taken in each district of their respective Divisions upon the orders contained in paragraph 4 of the Government Resolution above quoted; whether any special provision had been made for the removal of obstructions to drainage by any District Road Cess Committee; how far the District Engineering Staff had assisted in bringing obstructions to notice; and generally what action had been taken by the different district officers in the matter.
- (2) Replies from the Commissioners named.

In the Government Resolution of the 12th June last, quoted in the preamble, the attention of district officers was drawn to the necessity of providing for the general improvement of district drainage, and it was observed that the District Engineer and his staff should be instructed to lose no opportunity of bringing before the District Road Cess Committee and the District Magistrate any obvious obstructions to drainage which they might discover in the course of their ordinary duties. It was pointed out that the existing law gives the district officer large powers of remedying such evils, while District Committees are empowered by the new Cess Act to spend part of their funds upon "the construction and maintenance of any means and appliances for improving the supply of drinking-water or for providing or improving drainage." As regards the more extensive schemes of drainage, involving questions of reclamation, the attention of district officers was drawn to the amended Drainage Act, and it was said that the services of Government Engineers would be lent for the purpose of examining and developing projects of that class. It was added that it would rest with the local officers and public bodies, or with those directly interested, to bring forward schemes for improvement and reclamation, availing themselves of the powers which were given them under the law, and of the aid which Government was always anxious to afford them.

2. Very little appears to have been done in the district of Hooghly, and nothing in Burdwan, to give effect to the orders of Government. The Commissioner states that he proposes to visit these districts shortly, and in consultation with the Collectors, to elaborate a scheme for a systematic inspection of the drainage. His view is that a definite tract of land should be taken in hand each year and thoroughly cleared of all obstructions. The District Engineer should examine the selected tract and submit a scheme to the District Road Cess Committee, which should endeavour to provide funds and carry out the work, aided by subscriptions from wealthy landowners. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Commissioner will submit a further report on the 1st January next of the steps taken to improve the drainage.

3. In most of the districts of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division no improvements in the direction indicated have been undertaken for want of funds. But improvements may frequently be made without any large expenditure of money, if the District Engineering staff give advice, and the District Officer endeavours to induce the zemindars and the villagers to take up the work themselves, with or without small contributions from Road Cess Funds. Much good may also be done by the timely removal of fishing dams and other obstructions. Large works can only be carried out gradually; and, as proposed by the Commissioner of Burdwan, selected tracts should be taken up and endeavours made to improve the drainage systematically, the cost being met partly from Road Cess Funds, so far as these can be made available, and partly from public subscriptions.

4. The Rampore Beaulah Municipality have taken steps for the preparation of a drainage scheme for that town. Some obstructions in the Burrall river have been brought to notice, and the District Engineer has been called upon to report on the matter. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the condition of the Burrall requires real and serious attention, and he hopes that no time will be lost in devising measures to remove the obstructions in that river.

5. The remarks in paragraph 3 apply to the districts of Nuddea and Moorshedabad, in the Presidency Division. The matter is one to which the Lieutenant-Governor attaches great importance, and he hopes to see more attention paid to it in future. Government will always be prepared to give grants-in-aid of good and well-considered schemes for improving the drainage of populous tracts.

RESOLUTION ON THE EXCISE ADMINISTRATION OF THE YEAR 1880-81.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Calcutta, the 15th November 1881.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Excise Report for 1880-81.

The only changes in administration made during the year were an increase in the price of excise opium in all districts outside the Patna Division, and the adoption of rules for the importation of charas with a duty of Rs. 8 a seer. The year also saw the outstill system further developed and extended.

2. The financial results were very satisfactory. There was an increase of Rs. 13,45,528 in the revenue with an increase of Rs. 997 only in the charges. The following statement shows the progress made by this branch of the revenue of late years:—

PERIOD.	Revenue.	Charges.	Net revenue.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Average of five years from 1874 to 1879	63,73,043	2,93,390	60,79,653
1879-80	72,09,817	2,65,245	69,44,572
1880-81	85,55,345	2,66,242	82,89,103

Compared with the first period the past year thus shows an increase of nearly 22 lakhs in the revenue with a decrease of over $\frac{1}{4}$ lakh in the charges. Only four districts, Moorshedabad (Rs. 12,179), Darjeeling (Rs. 2,700), Pubna (Rs. 2,232) and Julpigoree (Rs. 786) show a decrease of revenue in 1880-81 as compared with 1879-80. The largest increase is shown in Gya (Rs. 1,63,654), Patna (Rs. 1,35,774), Bhagulpore (Rs. 1,06,460), Lohardugga (Rs. 91,835) and Calcutta, with Suburbs and Howrah (Rs. 86,305). The following statement shows the gross amount of excise revenue in each division with the incidence on the population. The figures of the recent census have been taken in calculating the percentage for 1880-81. The incidence of the revenue in 1879-80 was thus really less than the figures taken for that year would show.

DIVISION	Population.	Total revenue.	INCIDENCE PER 100 OF POPULATION —
			In 1879-80.	In 1880-81.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Burdwan	7,011,019	8,93,386	10	12
Calcutta, with Suburbs and Howrah	792,546	14,54,949	17.4	18.3

Chota Nagpore	3,146,715	4,81,117	10	11
Total	65,958,258	85,55,345	11	14

There was thus an increase of Rs. 3 per 100 of population throughout the province. In the Presidency, Rajshahye, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions the incidence was stationary. There were increases of Rs. 9 in Calcutta and its environs, Rs. 2 in the Burdwan, Patna and Bhagulpore Divisions, and Re. 1 in Chota Nagpore, while there was a decrease of Re. 1 in Orissa. The districts in which the incidence was highest were Patna (Rs. 36), Darjeeling (Rs. 29), Gya (Rs. 23), Lohardugga (Rs. 22), Hooghly (Rs. 20), 24-Pergunnahs and Bhagulpore (Rs. 18) and Maldah and Burdwan (Rs. 17). It was lowest in Durbhunga, Nuddea and Rajshahye (Rs. 5), Jessore, Pubna, Backergunge and Tipperah (Rs. 4), Furreedpore and Singbhoom (Rs. 3) and Noakholly (Re. 1). It is to be observed, however, that both Patna and Gya show a much larger revenue from wine and fermented liquors, including tari and pachwai, than any other district in the province. The revenue under this head was Rs. 90,519 in Patna and Rs. 80,163 in Gya. In only three other districts—Beerbhoom, Mozufferpore, and Durbhunga—did it exceed Rs. 50,000. The incidence of the revenue from spirits in these districts was only Rs. 26 and Rs. 17 respectively for every hundred of the population.

3. The following table shows the share of each division and of Calcutta in the gross increase in the revenue :—

	Rs.
Burdwan	1,32,502
Calcutta with Suburbs and Howrah	86,305
Rest of Presidency	69,612

Patna	5,07,291
Bhagulpore	2,32,635
Orissa	12,329
Chota Nagpore	1,60,874
Total	13,45,528

The average revenue for every hundred population was Rs. 2 on spirits manufactured after the European method, Rs. 6 from country spirits, Re. 1 from wine and fermented liquors, Rs. 2 from opium and preparations of opium and Rs. 2 from ganja and the like. The different divisions contribute in the following order to the revenue under the three heads of country spirits, fermented liquors and drugs :—

The past year thus shows a decrease under the single head of Rum only, compared with its predecessor. This decrease corresponds with an increase in the competition of Shahjehanpore rum which pays duty to the Excise Department of the North-Western Provinces. Arrangements have now been made to secure a share in this duty for the Bengal revenues. On the expiry of the current five years' financial settlement, all the duty will be credited to this Government. Under all other heads, especially under Country Spirits, Ganja, Opium, Imported wines, Pachwai and Tari, there is an increase. This general increase in the consumption of all exciseable articles was the natural result of the splendid harvests of the two years, and the growing prosperity of all classes of the population.

5. The following statement shows the progress of the extension of the outstill system and the financial results that attended it during the year:—

YEAR.	SHOPS.			REVENUE FROM FEES AND LICENCES.
	Sudder distillery.	Outstill.	Total.	Sudder distillery.	Outstill.	Total.
				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1879-80	902	4,981	5,883	13,75,092	18,13,759	31,88,851
1880-81	627	5,057	5,684	11,81,717	30,39,592	42,21,200

The sudder distillery system was entirely withdrawn during the year from the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar, Dacca, Chittagong and Patna Divisions and from Purneah, Manbhoon and Singbhoon. The general results are satisfactory, and as a rule the outstill system was introduced with discretion and good judgment. But an examination of the returns leaves no doubt that in some instances the District Officers took an erroneous view at once of the interests of the revenue and of the interests of the people. The outstill system has been shown by experience to be the only system that can be worked with success in the present condition of Bengal. But to ensure what is more important than mere financial success, and to prevent a recurrence to a state of things almost as unsatisfactory as the sale of illicit liquor at nominal rates under the sudder distillery system, it is essential that the points referred to by the Lieutenant-Governor in his Resolution on the last report should be constantly kept in view. Sir Ashley Eden there said:—"It is very necessary that District Officers should be on their guard against allowing an undue multiplication of shops at unduly low rates, and thus both reducing the price of the article and giving unnecessary facilities for obtaining it. If, however, they exercise care in selecting the sites for shops, and stimulate a healthy competition among the bidders for licenses, there can be little doubt that, as has been the case under the fixed duty system, the revenue paid to Government and the price charged to the public will rise with the desire and power of the public to purchase." It is only by confining the number of shops and stills to the genuine wants of the district, fixing a substantial upset price and encouraging competition among candidates for licenses that the price of liquor can be kept at rates sufficiently high to act as a check on consumption. These considerations certainly received little weight from some District Officers in making the settlements for 1880-81; and the Lieutenant-Governor now learns with regret that they have in some districts been set aside with the sanction of the Board, even in making the settlements for 1881-82. In Bankoora the number of shops was increased from 190 in 1879-80 to 273 in 1880-81, or from 1 shop for every 5,097 inhabitants to 1 for every 3,824. In fact, with the exception of Darjeeling, where there was also some undue multiplication of outstills and where the circumstances are special, the number of shops is greater in Bankoora in proportion to the population than in any other district in the province. At the same time the maximum fee paid for a license was much smaller than in any other district outside Orissa, where the consumption of country spirits is insignificant. In Monghyr the number of shops was 478, or one for every 3,967 inhabitants, in 1879-80. This was increased to 493 in 1880-81, while the highest fee paid for a license fell from Rs. 5,472 to Rs. 3,324. In Gya the number of shops was increased from 482 to 493, and in Patna from 303 to 364. The Lieutenant-Governor is willing to allow that in districts containing sparsely inhabited tracts it is impossible to adhere to rules regarding the proportion of shops to population which may be appropriate elsewhere: but he can see no good ground for such a multiplication of shops as has been allowed in the districts abovenamed. In Darjeeling and Maldah, and apparently in Burdwan and Lohardugga, the number was also unduly large. It is reported that the orders given in the last Resolution have been generally attended to in fixing the settlements for the current year, and that a decrease of 683 has been made in the number of outstills in 12 districts, while in most cases this has been attended by a considerable increase of revenue. In Gya 205, in Patna 114, in Sarun 66, in Beerbhoom 58 and in Darjeeling 23 out of 45 have been closed, while the average monthly fee per outstill has risen in Patna from Rs. 101 to Rs. 158, in Gya from Rs. 56 to Rs. 154, in Sarun from Rs. 43 to Rs. 78 and in Darjeeling from Rs. 58 to Rs. 142. This is precisely the result which the Lieutenant-Governor foresaw in urging District Officers to guard against an undue multiplication of shops. In the settlements of some districts, however, the clear injunctions of Government appear to have been altogether disregarded. In Monghyr the number has only been reduced from 487 to 434, in Bhagulpore from 290 to 256, and in Maldah from 155 to 126, while in Bankoora no reduction has been made. It is stated that it was only on the strong remonstrance of the Collector of Bankoora that the Board allowed their original orders for a reduction of shops to remain in abeyance, and that in sanctioning the reduction in the other districts named they similarly acted on the representations of the local officers. The Board, as now constituted, express regret that larger reductions were not insisted upon. The Lieutenant-Governor shares the regret of the Board, and he desires that the grounds on which the Collectors of Bankoora, Monghyr, Bhagulpore, and Maldah obtained permission to contravene the orders of Government may be fully reported. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, in making the settlements for 1882-83, the principles laid down in the Government orders last year will be carefully observed. The Board should specially report to Government the settlements sanctioned for these four districts.

6. On the other hand it is quite clear that in the Rajshahy and Cooch Behar, Dacca, Chittagong and Orissa Divisions, and also in the Jessore and Nuddea districts of the Presidency Division, there is room for an increase in the number of outstills. The average population to each outstill is 44,164 in Chittagong, 30,878 in Dacca, 25,935 in Rajshahye and Cooch Behar and 32,998 in Jessore. The continuance of illicit distillation in some of these districts plainly shows that there is a want which may be legitimately supplied by a judicious increase in the number of shops. The Board specially refer to the case of Dinagepore, where the police in the course of an ordinary investigation found illicitly distilled spirits in 18 houses in one village. Dinagepore now contains 76 outstills, with an average area of between 30 and 40 square miles each. Under the old system there were only 49 shops, supplying an average area of between 50 and 60 square miles each, and the Board justly observe that "it can easily be imagined to what extent illicit distillation must have formerly flourished, when, with a diminished area to be supplied by each shop, and with a distributing agency directly interested in the suppression of illicit dealings, it is still carried on to the serious extent indicated by the instance mentioned by the Commissioner."

7. It should be recognized as one of the first duties of a Collector to be thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of his district in regard to excise. The Lieutenant-Governor presumes that each Collector has a special map on which the position of each outstill is marked. A copy of such a map should be submitted to the Board with the proposals for the year's settlements. The map should be marked off into squares of ten miles, and this will at once show whether there is a tendency to allow too many shops to be established in the same part of a district. Where a recommendation is made for the establishment of outstills in the neighbourhood of one another, the circumstances of the case should be fully explained. It is the establishment of these clusters of outstills that is most likely to reduce the price of liquor by causing the distillers to compete with one another for the custom of the consumers. The object of District Officers should be to encourage competition, not among those who have obtained, but among those who are seeking to obtain, licenses; not among those who actually sell the spirit, but among those who are desirous of acquiring the right to sell spirit in a certain locality.

8. The question of the effect of the outstill system in encouraging the consumption of liquor has been very fully discussed by the local officers. The Lieutenant-Governor finds that in a few districts, such as Bankoora, Gya and Patna, where the system has been mismanaged in the face of the orders of Government, some increase in drunkenness among the labouring classes is reported. This is the result that must ensue where shops are multiplied and let for small fees. The dealers compete among themselves for the custom of consumers instead of being compelled to compete for the original right to sell, and they are enabled to sell spirits at low rates because they have low rates of fees to pay to the State. Precisely the same result would ensue under the sudder distillery system if shops were scattered in clusters over the country while the rate of duty was reduced to a minimum. It is a result which is independent of the system under which it is allowed to occur. In those districts, however, —and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to say that they form the large majority —where the outstill system has been managed with discretion, and where the orders of Government have been strictly obeyed, the results have been very different. Illicit distillation has been suppressed and the interests of the State are protected, while the people are supplied with a wholesome weak spirit at reasonable rates. That a larger actual quantity of this weak liquor is consumed there can be no doubt, but there is nothing whatever to show that the consumption of alcohol has increased, beyond the normal increase which always takes place when the people have money to spend on luxuries, or that drunkenness has been in any way promoted by the outstill system. The Collector of Hooghly says: "As we must provide some form of intoxicating liquor, I prefer the cheap outstill brew to the concentrated spirit that leaves only sudder distilleries, and from a moral point of view, I no more regret the result than I would the consumption of a hogshead of cyder in place of a gallon of whisky." No comparison can be made between the quantity of spirits actually consumed under the two systems. The accounts kept by the distillers cannot be taken as accurate, and the strength of the two classes of liquor is different. Nevertheless the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the people have actually spent more money on drinking during the past two years than they did before. This again, however, is a result which would have occurred altogether apart from any change in system. Evidence of the increased expenditure on exciseable articles presents itself on all sides, and the increased spending power of the people is shown equally in larger sales of the ordinary articles of commerce. Notwithstanding the competition of outstill liquor, the quantity passing into consumption from such sudder distilleries as remain has shown a steady increase. In Calcutta and the Suburbs with a decrease of seven shops it rose from 161,465 gallons in 1879-80 to 173,342 gallons in 1880-81. In Hazaribagh, while the number of shops was constant, it rose from 34,871 to 43,750, and in Lohardugga, with a decrease of one shop, from 17,619 to 20,149. Here is unmistakeable proof that people who are not supplied from outstills have more money to spend on spirits and that they will thus spend it. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no ground for supposing that the people of the rest of the country have different tastes. That this is not the case is shown by the increase in the consumption of other articles of excise. The people have spent more money on ganja, on opium, on imported wines, on pachwai, on tari, on madut, on siddhi, on charas, and on majum. The case of rum, as has already been explained, is special. Under every other class of excised articles more money has been spent than was spent in 1879-80, and the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason why country spirit should be an exception.

9. There remains the question of the quality of the spirit offered for sale at outstills. It is admitted that the illicitly distilled liquor which was largely consumed under the sudder distillery system was generally adulterated. Some persons, however, have asserted that the outstill liquor is of even a worse character, and the Lieutenant-Governor has desired the Board to obtain samples from several districts through reliable agency and to have them analysed. Meanwhile, one gentleman has recently been good enough to supply Government with two samples of what he believed to be a "wretched concoction which is drugged and corrupted with all manner of cheap and nasty narcotics." A bottle of this spirit was said to be capable of making two men drunk, and it was added that it not only produced intoxication, but brought on excessive thirst, "a feeling of languor," and "a severe headache." In consequence, apparently, of the symptoms it produced, it was declared to contain nux vomica and dhatura. The Lieutenant-Governor has had these samples tested by the Chemical Examiner, and the following is an extract from the report received from Dr. Warden:—

"The bottles contained 112 c. c. each of slightly turbid fluid, acid in re-action, and which had the characteristic odour of mahwa spirits. The contents of No. 1 bottle yielded on distillation 10.96 and No. 2 bottle 13.43 per cent. of London proof spirit by volume. Copper and the active principle of dhatura, nux vomica and aconite were especially sought for, but with negative results. The solid residuo after removal of alcohol from 200 c. c. of the mixed liquors was injected into a cat's stomach without causing any symptoms. * * *

"Regarding the question of adulteration of country liquor, poisonous drugs, e.g. nux vomica, dhatura, &c., are sometimes used in the manufacture, but as far as I have been able to ascertain, the admixture is made either during the fermentation of the mahwa or during the distillation of the liquor. With some exceptions the active principles of poisonous vegetable drugs are non-volatile at the temperature of boiling water, and the active principles of nux vomica, dhatura, aconite, &c., belong to this class, the result being that, although these drugs may be added to the contents of a still during distillation, yet the distilled liquor will be found harmless. Obviously the addition of dhatura, &c., to liquor after it has been distilled would render its poisonous.

"I believe the only adulterant purposely added to country liquor is water."

This analysis entirely bears out the opinion already expressed by this Government after careful enquiry in various parts of the country. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to disbelieve the general report that outstill liquor is more wholesome than the concentrated spirit manufactured at sudder distilleries, and that it is only adulterated by the addition of water.

10. The revenue from country-made Rum, as has already been observed, showed a decrease of Rs. 29,993. The number of wholesale and retail licenses issued was only 154, against 161 in the previous year; but the amount realized from fees was Rs. 38,334, against Rs. 35,397, the collections for the year including fees which would have been paid in 1879-80 had not the settlements been delayed by a combination among the vendors. The collections on account of duty amounted to Rs. 78,462 only, against Rs. 1,11,392 in 1879-80 and Rs. 2,00,546 the average of the years 1875-80. This is chiefly the result of the competition of Shahjehanpore rum. The quantity of this spirit imported has been 20,476 gallons in 1878-79, 22,798 gallons in 1879-80, and 25,338 gallons in 1880-81. After the close of the current year all the duty will be credited to the Bengal Government.

11. The total number of licenses, wholesale and retail, for the sale of Imported liquors was 931, against 834 in 1879-80. The increase in the revenue from fees was still larger,—from Rs. 1,29,501 to Rs. 1,67,634. This points to increased competition under the auction system resulting from brisker trade. The duty on these liquors is credited to the Imperial Treasury as Customs revenue. The amount realized in each year on liquor actually passing into consumption was—

12. The revenue from Tari is entirely derived from license fees. The number of licenses issued was 25,562 against 21,578 in 1879-80, and the revenue realized amounted to Rs. 6,42,899 against Rs. 6,33,617. The increase was most marked in the Dacca Division, where the number of licenses for unfermented tari rose from 3,079 to 6,827. There was also a satisfactory increase from 334 to 748 in Tipperah. The Board properly give credit to the local officers for this result, and they are of opinion that when the tari-tappers are made acquainted with the law and the rate of fee, there will be no difficulty in obtaining a further increase.

13. The number of Pachwai licenses was 2,034 against 2,066 in 1879-80, but the revenue from fees increased from Rs. 1,38,812 to Rs. 1,53,996. In some districts competition produced a large increase in the revenue from fees with very little increase, and in some even with a decrease, in the number of licenses issued. Thus in the Sonthal Pergunnahs only three new licenses were issued, but the revenue from fees rose from Rs. 11,165 to Rs. 16,254. In Beerbhoom the number of shops was reduced from 475 to 450, but the revenue from license fees rose from Rs. 43,557 to Rs. 54,078. The Board observe that the increase in Beerbhoom was due to the transfer of shops from Moorsshedabad. This is not clear. A decrease in the number of shops and the revenue is shown in Moorsshedabad, but there has also been a reduction in the number of shops in Beerbhoom, as shown above.

14. The Ganja crop of the year was much more plentiful than in either of the two previous years, and the result was a considerable fall in prices. There was an increase in the number of shops, from 3,210 to 3,411; in the quantity consumed, from 5,137 maunds to 5,600 maunds; in the revenue from license fees, from Rs. 5,28,669 to Rs. 6,26,557; and in the revenue from duty, from Rs. 7,61,439 to Rs. 8,28,117. Altogether the increase in the revenue amounted to Rs. 1,81,416. The increase was very general throughout the province, but was most marked in the Patna, Bhagulpore, and Dacca Divisions, and there can be no doubt that this has been in great measure the result of the prosperity and increased spending power of the people. In the Bhagulpore Division, with an actual decrease in the consumption, the revenue shows an increase of Rs. 24,333, and this has entirely resulted from the enhanced sums offered at auction for licenses, which must have gone to increase the selling price of the drug.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor considered that the time had come for a general increase in the selling price of Excise Opium in all but the producing districts, and accordingly in October 1880 he sanctioned a scheme submitted by the Board to raise the rates by sums varying from Re. 1 a seer in Chota Nagpore to Rs. 3 a seer in Orissa. The result has been some decrease in the consumption and a large increase in the revenue. There has also been a considerable increase from license fees owing to enhanced competition among the vendors, and the general result has been a considerable increase in the selling price to consumers. Notwithstanding this, the Dacca division shows a small increase in consumption, from 98 maunds to 101. The quantity, however, is still considerably below the average of the previous five years; and, looking to the habits and condition of the population, the Lieutenant-Governor has little doubt that illicit dealings in opium are very common in this division. The decrease from 30 maunds to 25 maunds in the Patna division seems to indicate smuggling on a large scale, and the account given of the working of the farming system, particularly in Mozafferpore, where "opium-eaters, who abound, did not seem to feel any inconvenience" from the closure of the solitary opium-shop, shows a condition of things which the local officers, with the special establishment, must do something to correct. The Board have acted judiciously in sanctioning substantial rewards for the detection of the important cases of smuggling related in the report; and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that this policy may be steadily continued. He will also be prepared to entertain proposals for strengthening the special detective establishment.

16. The number of arrests for offences against the excise laws was 4,296, against 3,897 in 1879-80 and 2,442 in 1878-79. The number of persons convicted was 3,627, against 3,285 and 2,442 respectively.

17. The Board are of opinion that the police of Midnapore, Beerbhoom, Calcutta, Chumparan, and Monghyr, and the excise officers of Calcutta, Dacca, Sonthal Pergunnahs, Tipperah and Furreedpore, are most deserving of commendation; while the police of Manbhoom, Bhagulpore, Rungpore, Durbhunga and Burdwan, and the excise officers of Darjeeling, Julpigoree, Noakhally, Beerbhoom, and Balasore, were specially wanting in their duty. The police of 24-Pergunnahs, Gya, and Jessore appear to have devoted themselves too exclusively to the detection of petty irregularities by licensed vendors,—in fact to worrying those on whom they can readily lay their hands,—and too little to their legitimate preventive duties. They would do more good by detecting 5 "other persons" in smuggling than by bringing 100 licensed vendors to justice for petty irregularities. The Lieutenant-Governor fully endorses what the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and the Board say regarding the power of District Superintendents to cause their police to do good excise work if they will only themselves display an interest in it. In the last Resolution the Lieutenant-Governor requested that District Superintendents might be warned that the names of those shown to have neglected their duty in this respect would be specially noted in future. A note will now be taken in the Appointment Department of the names of the District Superintendents of Manbhoom, Bhagulpore, Rungpore, Durbhunga, Burdwan, Noakhally, Maldah, Dinagepore, Pubna, Jessore, Rajshahye, Mozafferpore, and Singhbhoom, who have been selected for unfavourable mention. The fines inflicted amounted to Rs. 53,233, against Rs. 44,915 in 1879-80. Altogether Rs. 39,038 was disbursed as rewards, against Rs. 25,636 in the previous year, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that, except in Midnapore, the rewards were promptly distributed. A reward in such cases loses a great part of its effect if it is long delayed.

18. The Board bring to notice the good service rendered by Excise Inspectors Jaga Mohan Bhattacharjee of the Dacca Division and Baboo Prokash Chunder Roy of the Patna Division, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that his acknowledgments may be conveyed to these officers. The second Inspector of the Patna Division, Moonshee Muejeebar Rahman, appears, as the Board observe, to have entirely mistaken the object of his appointment, and to have confined himself to such proceedings against vendors as have been condemned in the Police of 24-Pergunnahs, Gya and Jessore. It is not clear why the Commissioner did not give the Inspector some instructions at the outset of his career. The names of the officers mentioned by the Board as having devoted special attention to excise will be communicated to the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Board for the careful report in which the administration of the year has been reviewed.

Want of rain, from which late rice is likely to suffer to a great extent, is supposed to have begun to tell upon the market, the price having risen from Rs. 1 to Rs. 1.4 per maund. The sudden rise, however, is probably partially due to the influx of rice merchants, who annually export rice very largely from this district. Some of them have commenced purchasing the old stock. Rubbee sowings retarded by want of moisture. On the whole, apprehensions entertained of a bad season if no rain falls shortly. Fever continues in northern parts, and cattle-disease in head-quarters sub-division.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c. are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Calcutta, dated the 11th November 1881.

Report on Traffic of the East Indian Railway during the four weeks ending 24th September 1881.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow :—

Period.	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.	Materials carried on Revenue account, including maintenance.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.		Mds.	Rs.
1881	642,823	8,60,237	70,79,958	27,63,071	36,23,294	11,19,250	69,440
1880	605,861	8,13,318	49,75,453	17,11,149	25,24,466	17,83,628	57,153
Increase	36,962	46,909	21,04,505	10,51,923	10,98,828	11,287
Decrease	6,64,078	...

resulting in an increase of 43 per cent. on the whole traffic.

The most striking feature in the goods traffic is the very large increase in the weight of, and earnings derived from, the carriage of wheat.

The traffic was normal in other staples, the principal fluctuations being—

		INCREASES.
Coal, upwards.	Gunny.	Salt.
Ghee and oil.	Iron.	Seeds.
		DECREASES.
Coal, downwards.	Ordnance stores.	Rice and other grains.
Cotton.	Barley.	Piece-goods.
		INCREASES.

Coal, up Mds. 2,10,150 Rs. 1,11,330

The traffic in upwards coal in September last year had fallen off considerably owing to the completion of contracts by the several Coal Companies.

Ghee and oil Mds. 12,630 Rs. 12,710

A small portion of this increase is derived from kerosine oil despatched from Howrah to stations up-country. The largest portion, however, is in ghee from stations in the North-West to Calcutta, Bombay, and stations in Central India.

Gunny Mds. 8,800 Rs. 9,320

The demand for bags for transport of grain has led to this increase.

Iron Mds. 13,710 Rs. 15,620

Consisted chiefly of iron carried at second-class rate, i. e. machinery, girders, &c., from Howrah to Cawnpore for the Cotton Mills.

Salt Mds. 1,00,770 Rs. 30,720

There is a general increase apparent in salt at all points.

Seeds Mds. 99,920 Rs. 50,750

DECREASES.

Coal, downwards Mds. 56,080 Rs. 6,060

This is comparatively a nominal decrease, and may be attributed to the heavy and incessant rainfall, causing stoppage of work at some of the collieries.

Cotton Mds. 10,110 Rs. 14,270

The depression noticed in my several monthly reports of late continued during September.

Ordnance stores Mds. 2,370 Rs. 10,050

Limited despatches from Howrah to the several depôts in the North-West and Punjab.

Barley Mds. 34,550 Rs. 8,050

Rice " 85,010 " 9,040

Other grain " 2,700 " 10,710

Piece-goods " 3,980 " 14,260

Both the Bombay and Calcutta market reports teem with remarks on the continued dulness of the import trade.

The Train mileage for the period has been, excluding maintenance and locomotive coal—

EDUCATION.

To—The Right Hon'ble the Marquis of Hartington, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Simla, the 11th June 1881.

MY LORD MARQUIS,

By a Resolution of the Gilchrist Trustees, communicated to us under cover of the letter from the Secretary in the Educational Department, India Office, dated 20th August 1880, the examination for the Gilchrist Scholarships allotted to India was made identical with the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and it was further decided that any candidate who passed the examination for the scholarship became by that very fact a matriculated member of that University.

2. The object of the Trustees in making the Gilchrist Scholarship Examination identical with the Matriculation Examination was apparently to prevent candidates from enclosures, which we have now

competing for the scholarship year after year; but from a letter* received from the Government of Bengal, and its Trustees will have a much wider effect than that contemplated. Section 12 of the Act† of Incorporation of the Calcutta University requires that every candidate for a degree shall have completed a full course of instruction in an institution affiliated to that University, while the London University makes no such requirement. The probable result of this difference in the requirements of the two Universities will be that increasing numbers of students will elect the London University, and, under cover of competing for the Gilchrist Scholarship, will pass the Matriculation Examination of that University, and read for its degrees independently of college instruction.

3. Under these circumstances, we concur with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the view that it is essential, in order to prevent a practice of desultory study from growing up, that only such persons should be admitted to be candidates for the degrees of the London University as have gone through a regular course of study in some college affiliated to the Calcutta University, or as are teachers who would be allowed to appear at the examinations of the latter University. We accordingly request that the attention of the authorities of the London University may be specially drawn to this preliminary condition of candidature, and that they may be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta.

From—LORD HARTINGTON, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

With reference to your despatch dated the 11th of June last, No. 7, I forward, for the information of your Excellency in Council, copy of a letter* from the Senate of the University of London, relating to the establishment in India of examinations of that University.

2. I also enclose copy of a communication† from the Registrar of the University, regarding the misapprehension in India of the information furnished to persons enquiring whether they can be examined in India for the degrees conferred by the University.

† Dated 16th July 1881, and printed enclosure.

3. With reference to the request contained in the last paragraph of your despatch, that the London University should be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta, you will perceive, from the correspondence now forwarded, that the Senate of the London University would be unwilling to make special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre.

4. I incline to the opinion that the London University should not be asked to hold any examinations in India, save those for matriculation.

Dated London, the 16th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,

To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's letter of the 12th July, enclosing copy of a despatch, with enclosures, from the Government of India, and will take care that they are submitted to the Senate in due course.

In the meantime, however, as there would seem to be a considerable misapprehension in regard to the information which has been furnished from this office to persons enquiring whether they can be examined for the degrees of this University in India, I think it may be convenient that I should at once state, for the information of the Government of India, that no proposal for holding examinations (other than the Matriculation Examination) for the degrees of this University has been made to the Senate, and that Mr. Douse's letter of the 17th of August last, and the letter of the Assistant Registrar, Mr. Moseley, of the 20th September, merely explained, in reply to enquiries which had been made, the formal mode of bringing an application for the appointment of an examination elsewhere than in the United Kingdom before the Senate. Mr. Douse's letter was, in fact, addressed to a gentleman who, having matriculated and passed the First B.A. Examination in England, was going out as a Missionary to India, and was anxious to ascertain if there was any possibility of his completing his course and obtaining the degree in India.

I neither agreed, as stated in Mr. Bolton's letter No. 569 of correspondence forwarded, nor have power to agree, to the holding of an examination in India. Persons enquiring whether they can take any one or more of the examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom are invariably informed that applications for examinations in India or the colonies are received by the Senate only when made by the Government of the place which it is desired to make a centre of examination; and when such applications are forwarded and endorsed by the India or the Colonial Office at Home (see the printed memorandum enclosed herewith). Each application so made is considered by the Senate on its merits, and though no doubt in disposing of separate applications, the Senate is guided by previous usage, there is no general rule or custom of the University on the subject.

I think, under the circumstances, it is important that this should be clearly stated, as it shows that no application for the establishment of an examination in India would be entertained unless it came from the Government of India, and was forwarded through the Secretary of State, and that it rests entirely with the Government of India to make or decline to make such application, according as it may think fit.

The appointment of centres for the Matriculation Examination in India on the application of the Gilchrist Trustees, was, I may remind your Lordship, made by the Senate expressly upon the condition that the Secretary of State for India should prove willing to undertake the transmission of the examination papers and the conduct of the examination.

Examinations in the Colonies for Matriculation and for the Degrees of B.A. and LL.B.

These examinations are appointed by the Senate, from time to time, upon the application of the Governor of any colony desiring that one or more places in the colony may be named as a colonial centre for one or more examinations. Every such application must be forwarded to the Senate through the Colonial Office at Home.

The examinations are conducted in every respect in the same way as the examinations carried on at the University; and the following conditions and regulations must be strictly observed:—

- (1) The examinations shall be conducted under the superintendence of a responsible Sub-Examiner, who shall be nominated by the Governor of the colony, and who shall be altogether independent of the authorities of any college or institution at which the examination may be held.
- (2) The examination papers for each examination shall be sent out through the Colonial Office, addressed to the Governor of the colony, and shall be delivered unopened to the Sub-Examiner.
- (3) The examination shall be held simultaneously with the corresponding examination in London, or, in the event of accident or delay, as soon as possible after the arrival of the mail by which the papers are transmitted; and immediately on its conclusion the Sub-Examiner shall place the answers of the candidates in the custody of the Governor of the colony, to be by him transmitted under seal by the next mail through the Colonial Office to the Registrar of the University.
- (4) The Registrar, on receiving the answers, shall distribute them to the Examiners who shall make a supplemental report thereon, classing the candidates according to the Regulations, in a list by themselves, but indicating, as nearly as may be, the positions which those who may be entitled to places in the Honours Division at Matriculation would have held in the Home Honours Division if they had been examined in this country.
- (5) The Honours Examinations in Arts and Laws cannot be held out of England; nor are candidates who may be examined for Matriculation in the colonies admissible to competition for the exhibitions and prizes offered by the University to candidates examined in the United Kingdom; but scholarships depending upon the results of the Matriculation Examination are offered for competition in some colonies by the Trustees of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund." The University has no control over these scholarships; and information concerning them can only be obtained from the Secretary of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund," 4, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, London, S. W.
- (6) Under existing arrangements examinations will, until further notice, be held at various colonial centres as follows:—

East Indies.—(Calcutta, Bombay, Madras.)

West Indies.—(Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad, Demerara.)

JUNE MATRICULATION.

Canada — (Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Ottawa, Halifax, Fredericton.)

Newfoundland. — (St. John's.)

New Zealand — Biennially.

Tasmania. — Biennially, in alternation with New Zealand.

Applications for the institution of other colonial examinations should be forwarded through the Colonial Office as early as possible in each academical year.

[NOTE. Applications for the institution of these examinations are not received from individual candidates. Any person desiring to be examined at a colonial centre should not apply to the University of London, but to the Government of the colony wherein he resides, to ascertain (a) whether any arrangement has been already made for holding an examination in the Colony, or, if not, (b) whether the Government will make the necessary application to the Senate in order that such arrangement may be made.]

Dated London, the 29th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,
To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to refer to your Lordship's letter of the 12th instant, and to inform you that the despatch, with its enclosures, from the Government of India therewith forwarded, were considered at a meeting of the Senate held on Wednesday last.

I am directed to state, for the information of the Government of India, the rule which has been laid down by the Senate in regard to the establishment of Examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, namely, that no application for the appointment of an examination in a British Colony or Dependency will be entertained unless made by the Government of the place where it is desired that the examination should be held, and unless such application be forwarded, as the case may be, through the Colonial or India Office at Home. This rule was established by the Senate in order to obtain a sufficient guarantee for the due conduct of the Examinations, if held, and as a security against the use of Examinations of the University for purposes inconsistent with the duly considered interests of any colonies or places where they might be introduced. So long as this rule prevails, no Examinations other than the Matriculation Examination, as already established, could be held in India, except upon the application of the Government of India; and as the Senate would decline to entertain applications made by persons desiring to become candidates (invariably referring such applicants to the Government of the place where they are residing), it rests with the Government of India to decide whether it would or would not be desirable to make further use of the Examinations of the University. As the Senate does not take the initiative with regard to the appointment of any of the examinations held elsewhere than the University itself, the Senate does not think it advisable or necessary to state the terms on which they would arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta until the question is brought before them by a formal application for the appointment of such examination.

I am to add, however, that wherever the Examinations of the University are held, they have always been held subject to uniform conditions with regard to the right of entry and otherwise, and that it is extremely doubtful whether the Senate would feel authorized or justified in making special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre, whether in India or elsewhere.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than
Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300
per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400
per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale, under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee-pore factory for the year 1880-81, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee-pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished.

to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

19.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazepore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1882, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazepore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

“Article VI.—With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette.”

EXAMINATIONS.

The 11th November 1881.

No. 80.—The following Regulations respecting the examination of candidates for the Civil Service of India, to be held in June 1882, are published for general information :—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JUNE 1882.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On the 1st June 1882, and following days, an examination open to all qualified persons will be held in London (a). Not fewer than candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified; viz. for the Presidency of Bengal [for the Upper, for the Lower Provinces (including Assam), and for Burma], for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay (b).

2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners—

- (i) that he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty ;
- (ii) that his age will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years on the 1st June 1882 [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the candidate may have resided] ;
- (iii) that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India ;
- (iv) that he is of good moral character ;
- (v) that he has paid such fee as may be prescribed under the provisions of the order in Council of the 22nd March 1879 (c).

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the candidate will be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the certificate of qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further enquiries as they may deem necessary ; and if the result of such enquiries, in the case of any candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India ; and if already selected will be removed from the position of a probationer.

4. The examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge :—

	Marks.
English Composition	300
(d) History of England, including a period selected by the candidate	300
(d) English Literature, including books selected by the candidate	300
Greek	600
Latin	800
French	500
German	500
Italian	400
(c) Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,000
Natural Science, that is, the Elements of any two of the following Sciences, viz.— Chemistry, 500; Electricity and Magnetism, 300; Experimental Laws of Heat and Light, 300; Mechanical Philosophy, with outlines of Astronomy, 300.
Logic	300
Elements of Political Economy	300
(f) Sanskrit	500
(f) Arabic	500

Candidates are at liberty to name any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks ; and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (g) in order to secure that “ a candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer.”

7. The examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

(a) An order for admission to the examination will be sent to each candidate on the 18th of May.

(b) The numbers will be announced hereafter.

(c) The fee will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to candidates.

(d) A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work selected by the candidate (see notice on page 4). In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, but chiefly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

(e) The examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry, up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

(f) The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a native of good education.

(g) Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

8. The marks obtained by each candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the several candidates who shall have obtained after the deduction abovementioned a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such candidates shall be deemed to be selected candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate. A selected candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects :—(4)

	Marks.
1. Law	1,250
2. Classical languages of India—
Sanskrit	500
Arabic	400
Persian	400
3. Vernacular languages of India (each)	400
4. The History and Geography of India	350
5. Political Economy	350

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a selected candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India. At this examination candidates will be permitted to take up any one of the following branches of Natural Science, viz. Botany, Geology, or Zoology, for which 350 marks will be allowed.

10. Any candidate who, at any of the periodical examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who at the final examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as candidates must apply on forms, which may be obtained from "the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S.W.," at any time after the 1st December 1881. The forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before 1st April 1882. They should be accompanied by evidence on the first four of the points mentioned in Regulation 2, and by a list of the subjects in which the candidate desires to be examined (i).

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(1)—Selected candidates will be permitted to choose, according to the order in which they stand in the list resulting from the open competition, so long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed; but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State or the Government of India deem it necessary (k).

(2) The probationers, having passed the necessary examinations, will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their certificate of qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(3)—The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the final examination.

(4)—An allowance amounting to £300 will be given to all candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz. the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrew's, and Aberdeen, Trinity College, Dublin; University College, London; and King's College, London; provided such candidates shall have passed the required examinations to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected candidates.

(5)—All selected candidates will be required, after having passed the first periodical examination, and before receiving the first instalment of their allowance, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(h) Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

(i) Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than 1st March 1882. Applications for leave to alter or add to the list of subjects named will not be entertained unless received on or before the 5th of May.

(k) The choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the open competition is announced, on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

(6) - After passing the final examination, each candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to agree to such regulations for the provision of pensions for their families as may be approved by the Secretary of State for India in Council. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(7) - Candidates rejected at the final examination of 1881 will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I.—Every Candidate born in England or Wales should produce a certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial officers. This certificate may be obtained at Somerset House or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

II.—A Candidate who is a native of India must have his age certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

III.—Every other Candidate not producing the certificate mentioned in Clause 1, must prove his age by statutory declaration, and should also, if possible, produce a record of birth or baptism from some official register, under which term may be included the Parochial Registers of Baptisms, the non-Parochial Registers of Baptisms and Births deposited at Somerset House under Acts of Parliament, the Register kept at the India Office of persons born in India, &c., &c. This Regulation applies—

- (1) to all candidates not born in England or Wales;
- (2) to candidates who, though born in England or Wales, cannot produce the Registrar-General's certificate.

The Civil Service Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of deciding in each case upon the sufficiency of the evidence produced, but they subjoin the following general rules for the guidance of candidates:—

- (a) The declaration should specify precisely the date and place of birth, and should, if possible, be made by the father or mother of the candidate. If made by any other person, it should state the circumstances which enabled the declarant to speak to the fact. If an entry in a Bible or other family record be referred to, the Bible or other record must be produced at the time of making the declaration, and must be mentioned in the declaration as having been so produced.
- (b) If the candidate was born in England or Wales, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due enquiry, no entry has been found in the books of the Registrar-General; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.
- (c) If no extract from any register is produced, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due enquiry, no such record is believed to exist; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.
- (d) Statutory declarations must be exactly in the form prescribed by the Act of 5 and 6 William IV., c. 62. A printed form, if required, will be supplied on application to the Civil Service Commissioners.

N.B.—Clergymen, as such, are not qualified to take declarations.

The following orders, issued by the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, are republished for general information:—

Simla, the 11th November 1881.

No. 4161.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to authorize the establishment of Government Savings Banks at all Post Offices, being Money Order Offices, at which the Director-General of the Post Office shall permit deposits to be received, in the following Provinces and places, with effect from the first day of April 1882:—

The Lower Provinces of Bengal, with the exception of the Presidency town and of the town of Howrah.

* * * * *

2. The Governor-General in Council is further pleased to prescribe the following rules for the guidance of depositors in Post Office Saving Banks:—

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF DEPOSITORS IN POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS IN INDIA.

Definitions.

I.—For the purposes of these rules:—

Deposit means money paid into a Post Office Savings Bank by, or on behalf of, a depositor.

Depositor means the person by whom, or on whose behalf, money is deposited.

Account means the account of a depositor in a Post Office Savings Bank.

Balance means the balance at credit of an account.

Minor means a person who has not completed the age of 18 years.

Legal guardian means not only any guardian constituted by law for the time being, but also includes a father or, if the father be dead, a mother.

Postmaster-General means the Chief Postal Authority in any Province or place to which the system of Post Office Saving Banks is extended.

Object of Government in establishing Post Office Savings Banks.

II.—The object of Government in establishing Post Office Savings Banks is to provide a ready means for the deposit of savings, and so to encourage thrift. Savings banks are not to be used for the purpose of keeping a current account, and the Comptroller, Post Office, is empowered to close an account, should he have reason to believe that the depositor has used the Savings Bank for a purpose for which it was not intended.

Business Hours.

III.—Post Office Savings Banks will be open for the transaction of business between the hours of noon and 4 P.M. every day, with the exception of Sundays, Christmas Day,

New Year's Day, Good Friday, and the Queen's Birthday. These hours may, under the authority of the Postmaster-General, be altered to suit local circumstances.

Persons who may deposit money.

IV.—Any person may deposit money in a Post Office Savings Bank on his own behalf. The parents or other relatives of any minor may also deposit money in the name and on the behalf of such minor.

Explanation.—Minors are allowed to deposit money in their own names, and women, whether married or single, are allowed to deposit money in their own names, but subject, in the case of married women, to the limitation laid down in Rule V.

Limitations as to deposits.

V.—No person can open more than one account in his own name; but the fact that he has an account in his own name shall not prevent him from opening an account in the name of any relative who is a minor; nor shall the fact that an account has been opened on behalf of a minor prevent such minor from opening an account in his own name. The wife of a depositor who has an account in his own name, may also open an account in her own name, provided that the money to be deposited by her is her own property or earning.

Explanation.—No person who has an account in his own name at a District Savings Bank will be allowed to open an account with a Post Office Savings Bank.

VI.—Money held under a trust for another person cannot be deposited in a Post Office Savings Bank, and money cannot be deposited in the name of two or more persons jointly: provided that nothing in this rule shall prevent the deposit of money in the name of a known firm.

VII.—The smallest sum of money that can be deposited at any time is four annas; and no sum can be deposited that is not a multiple of four annas. A depositor cannot deposit a larger sum than five hundred rupees in all between the 31st March of any year and the 1st April of the following year.

Powers to withdraw Money, and Limitations as to withdrawal.

VIII.—A depositor can withdraw money from his account once a week.

IX.—A minor can withdraw money deposited by him in his own name, but money deposited on behalf of a minor can only be withdrawn during his minority by his legal guardian.

X.—Women, whether married or single, can withdraw money deposited by them in their own names; and married women can also withdraw money deposited by them as single women in their own names, their marriage notwithstanding. The fact that a female minor on whose behalf money has been deposited is married, or becomes married after the account has been opened on her behalf, shall not prevent her from withdrawing the money so deposited on attaining majority.

XI.—A depositor cannot withdraw a smaller sum than four annas, and he cannot withdraw any sum which is not a multiple of four annas, unless it be to close his account, in which case he can withdraw the balance at his credit.

How to open an account.

XII.—Any person wishing to open an account should apply to the nearest Post Office that is a Money Order Office. Application need not necessarily be made in person; but the applicant must state his name, his occupation or profession, and his place of residence. If he be a native, he must also state his father's name and caste.

XIII.—The intending depositor must sign a declaration in the following form that he has read and accepted the Post Office Savings Banks Rules. If he be unable to write, he must attend personally, and, in the presence of a witness, affix his mark or seal to the declaration to be attested by the signature of the witness. If he should apply in person, a copy of the Rules will be given to him to read, or they will be read and explained to him, should he be unable to read. If he should not apply in person, a copy of the Rules, with the form of declaration, will be sent to him, and he must present the declaration duly signed with the first deposit.

Form of Declaration to be signed by Depositor on making first deposit.

I hereby declare that the Post Office Savings Banks Rules have been read { by me } and that I accept them as binding upon me.

I further declare that I have no account in my own name at any Government Savings Bank.

Signed in the presence of

The _____ 188 . }

Depositor.

XIV.—Women, who, by the custom of the country, are not allowed to appear in public, may open accounts in their own names through their agents, or if they are married women, through their husbands or agents. The agent or husband will be required to sign the declaration that the depositor understands and accepts the rules.

XV.—When the declaration is presented duly signed with the amount of the first deposit, or when it has been signed by a depositor attending in person to make a deposit, the amount of the deposit will be entered in a pass-book, which will be supplied to the depositor, and the entry will be initialed by the Postmaster and stamped with the office stamp. The depositor will be required to sign a receipt for the pass-book.

XVI.—If the account be opened at a Sub-Post Office, the pass-book for the depositor will have to be obtained from the Head Office. A preliminary receipt for the amount of the first deposit will therefore be given to the depositor, who will be informed of the date on which he should call to receive the pass-book. When the pass-book is handed over to the depositor, he will be required to return this preliminary receipt, and to sign an acknowledgment for the pass-book. The amount of the original deposit will be entered in the pass-book at the Head Office, and the depositor will therefore have a guarantee that the sum has been received in that office. He should be careful to see that the entry in the pass-book corresponds with the amount entered in the preliminary receipt before giving up the latter.

Pass-book and its importance.

XVII.—The pass-book will show, in the vernacular of the district or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name, occupation or profession, and address. No deposit can be made and no money can be withdrawn from an account without its production, and the Post Office will not be responsible for any sum not acknowledged in the pass-book. Depositors should carefully examine their books before leaving the offices, and ascertain that the entries are correct. They should also be careful to keep their pass-books in their own possession, as the Post Office will not be responsible for any loss caused to a depositor if any person shall obtain possession of the book and fraudulently obtain the payment of any sum belonging to the depositor.

Loss of Pass-book.

XVIII.—No charge will be made for the book at first supplied to a depositor or for any books issued to him in continuation of the original book. But if a book be lost or spoiled, or if an account be reopened after it has been closed, the depositor will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

Mode of depositing money after an account has been opened.

XIX.—A depositor may deposit money at the Post Office at which his account stands as often as he wishes, so long as the prescribed yearly limit is not exceeded. All that he is required to do is to take or send the amount to be deposited with his pass-book to the Post Office. The amount of his deposit will be entered in the pass-book and the balance struck as shown below. The entry will then be initialed by the Postmaster and stamped with the dated stamp of the office, and the pass-book returned—

Date.	Dated stamp of the Post Office.	Amount of each deposit or withdrawal (to be entered in words).	Amount deposited.	Amount withdrawn.	Balance at credit of the depositor.	Initials of the Postmaster.
3rd April 1882...	...	Deposited ten rupees ...	Rs. A. P. 10 0 0	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P. 10 0 0	A. B. C.
15th " "	Deposited twenty-five rupees	25 0 0	35 0 0	A. B. C.
12th May "	Withdrawn three rupees	3 0 0	32 0 0	A. B. C.

XX.—If the amount be deposited at a Sub-Post Office, the depositor will receive, in addition to the receipt in his pass-book, an acknowledgment from the Head Office, which will generally be the office at the head-quarter station of the district. This acknowledgment will be delivered to him in ordinary course through the Post Office. If it should not reach the depositor in proper time, or if, when it reaches him, it should show any signs of erasure, or should not agree with the entry in the pass-book, the depositor should immediately apply to the Postmaster of the Head Office, the name of which is in the pass-book, and renew his application again and again until he receives a satisfactory reply.

Mode of withdrawing money.

XXI.—When a depositor wishes to withdraw money, he must present his pass book personally or by agent at the Post Office at which his account stands, with a printed form of application for withdrawal, which can be obtained at the Post Office, signed by himself and showing the balance at his credit and the amount which he wishes to withdraw. If he is unable to write, he must attend personally and affix his mark or seal to the application to be attested by the signature of a witness. Should he be absolutely unable to attend personally, he must have his mark or seal affixed to the application and attested by some respectable witness, and the Postmaster will make payment to the person presenting this application with the pass-book, after satisfying himself, by such enquiry as he may think proper, of the inability of the depositor to attend, and of the genuine character of the application.

XXII.—The amount to be withdrawn will be entered in the pass-book and a fresh balance struck, as in the case of a deposit, under the initials of the Postmaster and the dated stamp of the office. The amount will then be paid to the depositor or to the person presenting the pass-book and application, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, on the warrant of payment.

XXIII.—If the amount be withdrawn at a Sub-Post Office, payment cannot be made until a warrant of payment is received from the Head Office. The depositor therefore, or other person presenting the pass-book and application, will be informed of the date on which he should come to the Post Office to receive payment, and will have the pass-book returned to him. On presentation of the Pass-book on that date, or any subsequent date after the arrival of the warrant of payment, the amount will be paid to the depositor, or other person presenting the pass-book, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, upon the warrant. The necessary entries will then be made in the pass-book under the initials of the Sub-Postmaster and attested by the stamp of the office.

Interest.

XXIV.—Interest will be allowed at the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum until further orders on all deposits subject to the conditions of this rule. This interest will be allowed for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account during the period from the first day until the close of the twenty-fourth day of the month: provided that interest shall only be calculated at the rate of three pies a month on every complete sum of five rupees; provided also that no higher monthly interest than Rs. 9-6 shall be allowed on the balance of any account.

XXV.—The interest calculated as above for each month will be added to the balance of each account after the 31st of March of each year. Depositors should therefore present their pass-books as soon after that date as possible, in order that the necessary entries may be made in them. If the pass-book be not presented for this purpose, the entry will be made on the first occasion when a deposit is made, or when money is withdrawn, after the 31st March.

Transfer of account.

XXVI.—A depositor may have his account transferred free of charge to any Post Office that is a Money Order Office. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his pass-book at the Post Office personally, or send it with a written application for transfer. The pass-book will be retained by the Postmaster, and a certificate given to him showing the amount at his credit. On presenting this at the Post Office to which his account has been transferred, he will receive a new pass-book free of charge.

Closing an account.

XXVII.—When a depositor wishes to close his account, he must present his pass-book with a form of application for withdrawal of the net amount at his credit. The amount of interest due on his account up to the end of the calendar month preceding the date of presentation will be entered in the pass-book and a final balance struck. The amount will then be paid to the depositor and his receipt taken on the warrant of payment. The pass-book will be retained in the Post Office. If the application for closing an account be presented at a Sub-Office, the same procedure will be followed as in the case of an ordinary withdrawal, except that the pass-book will be retained.

XXVIII.—If an account be closed under the orders of the Comptroller, Post Office, notice in writing will be sent to the depositor requiring him to present his pass-book and receive payment of the balance at his credit as soon as convenient. After the date of such notice no deposit will be accepted on the account so closed, and no interest will be allowed upon the balance after the end of the calendar month preceding such date.

Reopening an account.

XXIX.—A depositor who has once closed an account cannot open another account until after the expiration of three months from the date of closure without the permission of the Comptroller, Post Office; and a depositor whose account has been closed by order cannot open a fresh account in any case without the permission of the Comptroller, Post Office.

Powers of Postmaster-General in certain special cases.

XXX.—If a depositor should die leaving in a Post Office Savings Bank a sum of money not exceeding one thousand rupees, and if probate of his will or letter of administration of his estate or a certificate granted under Act No. XXVII of 1860 be not produced to the Postmaster-General within three months of the death of the said depositor, the Postmaster-General may pay the said sum of money to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it, or to administer the estate of the deceased.

XXXI.—If any depositor become insane or otherwise incapable of managing his affairs, and if such insanity or incapacity be proved to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General, then the Postmaster-General may from time to time make payment out of the deposit to any proper person.

Secrecy.

XXXII.—The officers of the Postal Department engaged in the receipt or payment of deposits are not allowed to disclose the name of any depositor or the amount deposited or withdrawn by him except to the Postmaster-General or other officers of the Department engaged in carrying out the provisions of these rules.

Purchase of Government Securities on behalf of Depositors.

XXXIII.—If a depositor should wish that the balance at his credit or any part of it should be invested in the purchase of Government securities, he may present a written application to this effect with his pass-book at the Post Office. The application will then be forwarded to the Comptroller, Post Office, who will take the necessary steps for making the purchase through the Comptroller-General.

(a) The paper purchased will be of the 4 per cent. loans, unless $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. paper is specially applied for.

(b) The investor may also specially apply that the paper remain in the custody of the Comptroller-General, and that the interest be remitted as drawn to the local treasury for payment to him. In this case the Comptroller-General will, if necessary, transfer the paper to the 4 per cent. loan of 1865, and will remit the interest as applied for. The investor may at any time apply through the local Post Office for the delivery to him of paper thus held by the Comptroller-General. If application is not made under this clause, the paper purchased by the Comptroller-General will be encased for payment of interest at the local treasury and forwarded to the Post Office for delivery to the investor.

(c) An investor under these rules may at any time apply in the same way for the sale of paper purchased through the Post Office, whether held by himself or held for him by the Comptroller-General.

(d) These arrangements are intended only for persons of moderate income, who belong to a class who do not ordinarily have transactions with bankers, and the advantage of them must be refused, both by the Post Office, and, if necessary, by the Comptroller-General, if the applicant is not within this definition.

The following fees will be charged :—

On purchase : 4 annas per cent.

On realization and remittance of interest : 4 annas per cent.

On delivery out of custody : 4 annas per cent., unless the application for delivery is made within a year of the purchase.

On sales : 4 annas per cent., and any actual outlay upon brokerage.

The following are the principal rules of the Post Office Savings Banks in India which will be printed in each depositor's pass-book in English always and, at the option of the depositor, also in the vernacular language of the district :—

Where and when deposits may be made.

I.—Post Office Savings Banks are established at all Post Offices that are Money Order Offices, and are open to receive deposits daily, with the exception of Sundays and Post Office holidays, from noon till 4 p.m.

Who may deposit—What they may deposit—What Government promises to do with regard to deposits.

II.—At these banks any person, man, woman or child, may deposit money. No sum less than four annas, and no sum that is not a multiple of four annas, can be received, and no one is allowed to deposit more than Rs. 500 in all in the year. Government promises to repay the money, with interest, to the person depositing it in his or her own name, whether man, woman or child. Parents and other relatives can also deposit money on behalf of minors—that is, of persons who have not completed the age of 18 years—but Government will not pay this money, during the minority of the minors, to any one except their legal guardians.

Interest on deposits how calculated and paid.

III.—Interest is allowed until further orders at the rate of one pice, or three pies, a month on every complete sum of five rupees. It will be calculated on the lowest balance at the credit of an account on any date from the first to the close of the twenty-fourth day of a month. The amount of interest will be added to each account once a year after the 31st March.

How to make a first deposit.

IV.—On making a first deposit every person must give his name, occupation, and residence. A native must also give his father's name and caste. He must then sign the following declaration, or, should he be unable to write, affix his mark or seal to it at the Post Office in the presence of a witness, who will attest it with his signature.

Form of declaration.

I hereby declare that the Post Office Savings Banks Rules have been read $\left\{ \begin{smallmatrix} \text{by me} \\ \text{to me} \end{smallmatrix} \right\}$, and that I accept them as binding upon me. I further declare that I have no account in my own name at any Government Savings Banks.

Depositor.

Depositor's book—Its use and importance.

V.—A pass-book will be given to every depositor, free of charge, when he makes his first deposit. This will show, in the vernacular of the district or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name, occupation, and residence. Money cannot be paid in or taken out without the production of this book, and the Postmaster will enter in it every sum of money paid in or taken out, strike the balance on each occasion, and sign the entry and stamp it with the office stamp. The depositor must present the pass-book after the 31st March of each year in order that the interest due may be added to the principal in the book, and he must always carefully examine the entries made in his book before leaving the office. On no occasion should he allow the pass-book to remain at the Post Office, unless his account is finally closed. The pass-book is his private property, and must be kept carefully in his own hands. Should he lose the book or allow it to be spoiled, he will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

How to make a second or third deposit—Depositor at Sub-Post Office entitled to special receipt.

VI.—When a depositor wishes to deposit money after the first time, all that he has to do is to send or present the money with his pass-book at the Post Office. If this money be paid in at a Sub-Office, the depositor will receive, in addition to the receipt in the book, an acknowledgment by post from the Head Office. If this acknowledgment should not reach him, or if it should have any corrections in it, or should not tally with the entry in the book, he must write to the Postmaster at the Head Office, the name of which is in his book, and should renew his application again and again until he receives a satisfactory reply.

How to withdraw money.

VII.—A depositor may withdraw money once a week not less than four annas and no sum that is not a multiple of four annas. He must make an application on a printed form, which he can obtain at the Post Office. If he can write, he can sign the form and send it to the Post Office with his pass-book. If he cannot write, he must attend the Post Office and affix his mark or seal to the form, to be attested by the signature of a witness. Payment will then be made to the depositor or to the person presenting the signed application and pass-book, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, on the order for payment. At a Sub-Office payment cannot be made until an order of payment is received from the Head Office. The depositor will be told on what day to come for the money, and on that day payment will be made as above to the person presenting his pass-book. If a depositor wishes to withdraw the whole of his money, he must follow the same procedure.

How to transfer deposits.

VIII.—A depositor can transfer his deposit, without charge, to any other Post Office that is a Money Order Office. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his pass-book at the Post Office, or he can send a written application asking for the transfer with his pass-book. The pass-book will be retained by the Postmaster, and a receipt given to him showing the amount at his credit. On presenting this receipt at the Post Office to which his account is transferred, he will receive a new pass-book free of charge.

How depositor can obtain further information.

IX.—If any further information be required on any point connected with the Post Office Savings Banks, detailed rules will be found in the Postal Guide, or can be seen at any Post Office.

Post Office officials bound to secrecy.

X.—The officers of the Post Office are not allowed to disclose the name of any depositor or the amount deposited or withdrawn by him to any one not belonging to the Postal Department.

No. 4162.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to remit the stamp duty on receipts given by, or on behalf of, depositors in Post Office Savings Banks for sums of money withdrawn from such Banks in all cases in which, but for this exemption, such receipts would be liable to stamp duty.

EQUALIZING PRESSURE ON FOUNDATIONS.

Note by MR. J. H. ARJOHN, Executive Engineer, Circular and Eastern Canals Division, on the subject of equalizing pressure on foundations.

ALL locks hitherto built on the tidal rivers of Lower Bengal have cracked more or less, it is therefore proposed to examine in the following note the causes of these cracks and the possibility of building a lock in such a way as to prevent them from occurring.

2. The soil in every case on which they have been founded is the well-known bluish black slimy clay with trunks of trees distributed through it, and in some cases vegetable remains, bearing a strong resemblance to peat such as is found in an Irish bog. This soil, as far as the writer is aware, is found within tidal range throughout the Gangetic Delta, and beginning about 10 feet below the surface soil goes to an unknown depth; the only instance in which it seems to have been got through is at Dhappa, where at a depth of 29 feet below mean sea, and 39 feet from the natural surface of the ground, a stiffer stratum was reached by the foundation wells of the lock, which stratum was described as very stiff clay with nodular limestone scattered through it.

3. The black soil in question is of a very treacherous nature, hard and stiff when dry, and in that state cracking much through contraction, and on the other hand, slimy and subject to slips and upheavals when a pit is sunk in it in its natural moist state. All buildings founded on it without the precaution being taken to have equipressure all over the bearing surface of the foundations have cracked badly, evidently the result of unequal settlement.

4. In order to arrive at some definite knowledge as to the safe weight to allow on foundations in the alluvial soil of Bengal, a series of experiments on a large scale was carried out in 1873 at the Agra Government Brick-field, and a note on them was published by Mr. Leonard, Chief Engineer, on the 17th May 1873. An analysis of the records of these experiments now made by the writer has resulted in the detection of an apparent law of settlement, viz. that, as the pressure increases in an arithmetical series, the settlement increases in a geometrical.

5. The experiments were conducted by building brick-work piers founded at four different depths, viz. $2\frac{1}{2}$, 4, 8, and 11 feet from the surface. These piers were $3\frac{1}{2}\times 2\frac{1}{2}$ square, thus giving a bearing surface of 10.24 square feet. They were then loaded, so as to produce a pressure per square foot of bearing surface varying from 1.5 to 3.7 tons, the sinkage produced by the weights being accurately observed. Each pillar was loaded with three different weights, increasing by a ton per square foot, and they were left with the weight bearing on them in each case until no further sinkage could be observed.

6. In Mr. Leonard's note the results of the experiments are not given in a form that conveys much information at first inspection, so the writer has put them into table No. 1. In it the pressures are shown (in the first column) increasing by tenths from 0 to 4 tons per square foot, and the sinkages observed are shown in inches and decimals in columns 2, 5, 8, and 11. It is at once seen that the sinkage increases more rapidly than the pressure. To try if the sinkage complies with the conditions of a geometric series, take the sinkage observed at (for the foundation $2\frac{1}{2}$ feet deep) 1.2 tons per square foot pressure for the first term of a series of 21 terms and the sinkage observed at 3.2 tons for the last, the ratio will be found to be 1.17. With this ratio the whole series between 0 and 4 tons per square foot is calculated and it will be seen that the observed middle term agrees with the next term but one as calculated. In the same way if series be calculated for the sinkages observed at the depths 4, 8, and 11 feet, it will be found that the ratios are respectively 1.15, 1.12, and 1.10, and that in two of the series the calculated differs from the observed middle term by only one place and in the last by one and a half places. It may fairly be taken as proved that as above stated the sinkages increase geometrically as the pressure increases arithmetically.

7. It is not stated in Mr. Leonard's note what was the nature of the soil found at the various depths at which the pillars were built, so to determine this important point the writer has with the assistance of Mr. Nightingale, Executive Engineer, 1st Calcutta Division, searched for and found the experimental pillars at Agra and had a pit sunk in the midst of them with the result that all the pillars except that sunk to 11 feet, are discovered to be founded in light coloured loamy brick earth, but the latter pillar is built on the black soil, which is reached at a depth from the surface of a little under 11 feet.

8. From the table the curves shown in figure No. 1 have been plotted, showing the relation between the pressure and sinkage at the different depths; these curves are evidently hyperbolas. The middle sinkage as actually measured is plotted and referred to the corresponding place in the curve by reference letters. It will be seen that for the depths of 4 and 8 feet these points fall almost exactly on the curves, and that for $2\frac{1}{2}$ and 11 feet they are not so far but that an almost similar curve to that plotted from the calculated sinkages could be drawn through the three points actually determined.

9. It will be noticed that the deeper the foundations the smaller the ratio of the series by which the sinkage increases, and these ratios themselves apparently conform to a law, viz. that as the depth of the foundations from the surface increases in arithmetical progression, the ratios of the series expressing the rate of sinkage at each depth decreases according to a geometrical series, the ratio of which is less than unity. It will be found on trial that a series of 18 terms of which the first term is 1.17 and the last is 1.10 will have a ratio of 0.99665 and that its 4th and 12th terms will be 1.15 and 1.12 as actually determined for the depths 4 feet and 8 feet from the surface, which are the 4th and 12th terms in an arithmetical series increasing by a common difference of 0.5 from 2.5 to 11.0.

10. The conclusions that the writer would draw from the above analysis of Mr. Leonard's experiments are as follows:—

1st.—The initial sinkage for a pressure of say one ton to the square foot will depend on the nature of the soil, being greater for the black subsoil than for the surface loam.

2nd.—The ratio of the series by which the sinkage increases diminishes with the depth, the curve expressing it tends to become flatter indefinitely as the depth increases but being a hyperbola never becomes absolutely a right line. The ratio of the series by which the ratios of sinkage at the various depths diminish is probably a function of the thickness of the alluvial crust, but at present there is not sufficient experimental data to determine it.

3rd.—The practical conclusion is that in every structure equipressure must be secured as nearly as possible in order to prevent irregular settlement and consequent cracks.

11. To determine the nature of the settlements that have caused the cracks in existing locks, the plans of a number of them (the histories of which are known) have been examined and the forces at work calculated. The great difficulty with a lock is to determine the amount and the direction of the earth pressure against the walls, such pressure being most uncertain in its action, depending on the nature of the soil, the state of weather and the way in which the filling has been done. For purposes of calculation the elegant graphic method of Professor Reilly of Cooper's Hill College has been used (communicated by Mr. R. O. Clayton, Assistant Engineer,) the natural slope of the earth being taken at 2 to 1.

12. Of all those examined by the writer the lock that most clearly illustrates the cause of cracks is that at Gaowkhally on the Hidgellee Tidal Canal. This was the last lock built on that canal, and the other three having all cracked, extra precautions were adopted in its construction but without success. The plan and cross sections of the different parts of the lock are shown in figures 2, 3, 4, and 5, from which the method adopted in its construction is seen. All the other locks having apparently cracked from the walls falling back, the backing was done in a novel way calculated in the writer's opinion to directly defeat the object aimed at which was to secure a constant earth pressure against the walls. The earth backing was carried up in thin layers very carefully rammed and a wedge of sand inserted between it and the back of the wall. The lock was commenced in February and finished in the following June, before the rains set in, the foundations being the whole time perfectly free from water; nevertheless the cracks shown on the plan occurred early in June.

13. The figures and arrows on the cross sections show the calculated forces and their directions; in determining the centre of gravity of the walls the sand backing vertically above the footings is considered a part of the wall, the back of which is then assumed to be vertical and the following units of weight have been adopted, brick-work 112 lbs. per cubic foot, clay backing the same, and sand filling 90 lbs. It is seen that in every case, the centre of gravity falls behind the centre of figure of the bearing surface, viz. the point midway between the back of the footings and the centre of the lock and even the full earth pressure is not sufficient to throw the resultant of the two forces as far forward as this centre point, consequently the pressure on the subjacent earth is greater at the back of the wall than elsewhere. The pressures may be calculated as follows:—

P_x = pressure in tons per square foot at x .

P_y = ditto ditto at y .

V_o = distance between intersection of line of pressure with the plane of bearing surface and the centre point of same.

V = half width of bearing surface.

W = area of unit of length of bearing surface.

P = total weight of wall.

$$R^2 = \text{radius of gyration of bearing surface} = \frac{4 V^2}{12}$$

14. In table No. 2 are shown the earth pressures calculated as above, both when the weight only is considered to be acting and also when the pressure from backing is taken into account. Then from the pressures so determined, corresponding sinkages are obtained from the former table (the series for foundations 11 feet deep been used), and from these sinkages the widths of the cracks to be expected are calculated and tabulated along with the widths that were actually measured.

15. Examination of the last three columns of the table will show that for the upper sill and chamber the actual width of cracks falls between those calculated as due to weight only and those caused by both weight and pressure of backing. This apparently shows that the pressure actually exercised by the backing was considerably less than that calculated, and this is exactly what might be expected from the way that the filling was done. In the case of the lower sill, the crack observed was that due to weight and full earth pressure, but the writer ascribes this to the walls being prevented falling back as much as they otherwise would have done by the support afforded by the wing-walls, which must have given great support prior to the vertical cracks close to their junctions with the lock having occurred. Another explanation that might be given is that there being no invert in this portion of the lock, the flat-floor does not transmit the pressure as far as the centre and in consequence the centre of the bearing surface is thrown further back, and so more nearly coincides with the resultant of the weight and earth pressure.

16. The width between the walls at coping level has lately been measured by Mr. Norman, Assistant Engineer, at the writer's request, and found to be one inch greater than built between the upper gate counterforts and one and a half between the lower; these measurements are about quarter of an inch greater than those due to the widths of the cracks observed, but such a small dimension as quarter of an inch may easily be explained by error in measurement of the width of the cracks, as in the lower sill one quarter inch increase of width at coping level means only one-twentieth of an inch in the crack through sill.

17. All the other locks examined seem to have cracked for the same reason, viz. the settling back of the walls; it is evident therefore that when designing a lock an endeavour should be made to obtain equipressure, but it is not possible to do this with certainty, as the thrust due to the earth backing is subject to variation, and cannot be accurately determined. It would be less injurious to have the resultant fall inside the centre of bearing surface, as then the platform of the lock would be compressed instead of being torn asunder, and it would be capable of resisting to a great extent any tendency of the walls to incline inwards.

18. When the revised design was made for Chitpore lock after it was determined to discard wells, the investigations into the cause of cracks in locks above described had not been made and viewed by the light now thrown on the subject, the necessity of alteration is apparent. Figure 6 shows a cross section through inner bay sill and bridge abutment. The first difficulty that occurs in calculating the earth pressures in a wide lock is, to determine the true bearing surface, as the floor 8'-8" thick cannot act as footings so far as to the centre line of the lock a distance of 20 feet. Rankine says that footings transmit pressure to a distance from the toe of the wall equal to their depth, and this seems to be most likely; unless the footings are very weak it certainly is not less, and it cannot well be more, or the pressure would be transmitted through the tenacity of the mortar joints, which is not probable. In calculating the pressure for Chitpore the bearing surface is therefore taken to extend from y at the back of the wall to x , a distance from the face equal to the thickness of the floor.

19. The total weight bearing on the surface from x to y , (figure 6) with a width of one foot neglecting the pressure of the backing, is 5.5 tons and the centre of gravity falls 3.5 feet behind the centre of figure, this would give the pressure at x and y as follows:—

$$P_x = 0.6 \text{ tons per square foot.}$$

$$P_y = 1.8 \text{ „ „ „}$$

If the earth pressure be taken into account, the vertical resultant of the weight and pressure will be 6.4 tons and will fall 2.75 feet behind the centre of figure and will therefore give—which would have caused a falling back of the walls of probably one inch.

$$P_x = 0.9 \text{ tons per square foot.}$$

20. As it was not practically possible to alter the width of the base, the foundations up to sill level having been already laid, there remained no way of forcing the resultant of the weight of the wall, and the pressure of the earth backing to pass through the centre of the bearing surface except to carry up the wall vertically at the back, leaving arched voids in it for lightness. By this means as shown in figure 7, the resultant has been made to pass through the required point, and if the full pressure expected is given by the earth backing the pressure from x to y will be equal throughout, and at the rate of 1.2 tons to the square foot. If the full effect of the backing was not experienced and the resultant cut the base 2 feet behind the centre the pressures would be—

$$P_y = 1.5 \text{ „ „ „}$$

If the corresponding sinkages be taken from table No. 1 (last series) the subsidence at y would only be .4" in excess of that at x or only half as much as would occur under the most favourable circumstances as the lock was at first designed. It is very improbable that the earth pressure should fail to bring the resultant within two feet of the centre, especially as the earth will be tipped in behind the walls and let settle of its own accord while exposed to the weather, instead of being carefully rammed in layers which tends much to reduce the thrust. In consequence of the very wide base the settlement at y .4" in excess of that at x , would only produce a crack of one-eighth of an inch in width. However even if equipressure be obtained there will be a settlement of the lock walls according to the table of .73," and although the walls remain plumb, it is probable that there will still be a longitudinal crack through the floor as it only weighing .4 of a ton per square foot will sink .32," but being pulled down an extra .41" on either side, it will probably have its back broken, but it is quite possible that it might bend to such a very small degree without any visible crack. It is believed by the writer that a longitudinal crack not exceeding one-eighth of an inch in width is the worst that is to be feared.

21. On the above principles the whole of the lock has been so designed as to have equipressure throughout, when the backing is exerting its full thrust, and in the event of its failing to do so the evil effects will be reduced to a minimum.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

CALCUTTA.

The 12th November 1881.

Asst. Secy. to the Government of Bengal,

P. W. Dept.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of October 1881.

THE total quantity of goods lifted during the last month amounted to 1,31,638 maunds against 1,50,118 maunds in the corresponding period of the previous year, and 2,12,312 maunds carried during September 1881, showing a decrease of 18,480 maunds in the former, and of 80,674 maunds in the latter. And if the maundage of railway materials carried for construction purposes, amounting to 5,379 maunds, be excluded from the figures for the last month, the result will show a still more unfavourable aspect.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following appear to be most prominent, and are dealt with in the order in which they are entered in the statement :—

INCREASES.

		Mds.
Coal.	} Both these are due to construction, which is now being carried out in the Eastern and Western Extensions	14,658
Railway materials.		5,379
Lime and Kunkur.—The increase is due to the construction of new buildings in Raj Durbhunga, and to the requirements by the Road Cess		6,571
Salt.—The increase appears to be due to its being now sent by rail on account of the river Gunduck having become shallow and unnavigable		5,657
Sundries.—The excess is chiefly on account of wood-fuel carried for the Raj Durbhunga		15,463
Tobacco.—This is attributable to the old stock held by the merchants being now sent to markets		3,289

DECREASES.

Food-grains.	} The former appears to be due to there having been a sufficient crop all over the districts, and consequently no export, and the latter to the seed market in Calcutta being very dull ...	21,836
Oil-seeds.		24,690
Piece-goods, English.	} This decrease may be due to there having been no demand in the market ...	2,301

Saltpetre.—This forms one of the chief staples of traffic on this line, but owing to the enforcement of strict rules by the Customs Department, the traffic in this article is diminishing.		6,485

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Patna-Gya State Railway for the month of October 1881.

THE total quantity of goods carried during the month of October 1881 aggregated 1,04,937 maunds, as compared with 1,04,957 maunds carried during the corresponding period of 1880, and 64,983 maunds carried during the previous month, showing an increase of 30 maunds in one hand, and 40,004 maunds on the other.

Of the several increases and decreases, the following are the prominent ones and worthy of separate explanations:—

INCREASES.

	Mds.
Iron .—Due to the working season having set in and engineering works having been put in hand in the district	1,319
Jaggree .—There is a small increase, but now that the sugarcane crop is being harvested, this traffic will gradually improve to a considerable extent	4,527
Sundries .—The increase under this head is steady and satisfactory	14,095

DECREASES.

Coal .—The works requiring the use of coal have decreased	1,199
Food-grains .—Previous month's remarks are applicable to this	3,747
Piece-goods, English .—Owing to Doorga Pooja and other holidays during which Calcutta firm's closed business	1,136
Potatoes .—As other vegetables were available in the market, the demand for potatoes has accordingly decreased	2,806
Seeds, oil .—The abundant crop harvested everywhere has checked the export of this staple	5107
Stones and ballast, &c .—Not required by the Patna Municipality	1,125
Turmeric .—This depends upon local requirements	1,250

EDUCATION.

To—The Right Hon'ble the Marquis of Hartington, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Simla, the 11th June 1881.

MY LORD MARQUIS,

By a Resolution of the Gilchrist Trustees, communicated to us under cover of the letter from the Secretary in the Educational Department, India Office, dated 20th August 1880, the examination for the Gilchrist Scholarships allotted to India was made identical with the Matriculation Examination of the London University, and it was further decided that any candidate who passed the examination for the scholarship became by that very fact a matriculated member of that University.

2. The object of the Trustees in making the Gilchrist Scholarship Examination identical with the Matriculation Examination was apparently to prevent candidates from competing for the scholarship year after year; but from a letter* received from the Government of Bengal, and its enclosures, which we have now the honour to forward, it appears that the Resolution of the Trustees will have a much wider effect than that contemplated.

† Act II of 1857. Section 12 of the Act† of Incorporation of the Calcutta University requires that every candidate for a degree shall have completed a full course of instruction in an institution affiliated to that University, while the London University makes no such requirement. The probable result of this difference in the requirements of the two Universities will be that increasing numbers of students will elect the London University, and, under cover of competing for the Gilchrist Scholarship, will pass the Matriculation Examination of that University, and read for its degrees independently of college instruction.

3. Under these circumstances, we concur with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the view that it is essential, in order to prevent a practice of desultory study from growing up, that only such persons should be admitted to be candidates for the degrees of the London University as have gone through a regular course of study in some college affiliated to the Calcutta University, or as are teachers who would be allowed to appear at the examinations of the latter University. We accordingly request that the attention of the authorities of the London University may be specially drawn to this preliminary condition of candidature, and that they may be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta.

We have, &c.,

No. 101 (Public Educational), dated India Office, London, the 25th August 1881.

From—LORD HARTINGTON, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

WITH reference to your despatch dated the 11th of June last, No. 7, I forward, for the information of your Excellency in Council, copy of a letter* from the Senate of the University of London, relating to the establishment in India of examinations of that University.

2. I also enclose copy of a communication† from the Registrar of the University, regarding the misapprehension in India of the information furnished to persons enquiring whether they can be examined in India for the degrees conferred by the University.

3. With reference to the request contained in the last paragraph of your despatch, that the London University should be invited to state the terms on which they would be prepared to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta, you will perceive, from the correspondence now forwarded, that the Senate of the London University would be unwilling to make special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre.

4. I incline to the opinion that the London University should not be asked to hold any examinations in India, save those for matriculation.

* Dated 29th July 1881.

† Dated 16th July 1881, and printed enclosure.

Dated London, the 16th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,
To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your Lordship's letter of the 12th July, enclosing copy of a despatch, with enclosures, from the Government of India, and will take care that they are submitted to the Senate in due course.

In the meantime, however, as there would seem to be a considerable misapprehension in regard to the information which has been furnished from this office to persons enquiring whether they can be examined for the degrees of this University in India, I think it may be convenient that I should at once state, for the information of the Government of India, that no proposal for holding examinations (other than the Matriculation Examination) for the degrees of this University has been made to the Senate, and that Mr. Douse's letter of the 17th of August last, and the letter of the Assistant Registrar, Mr. Moseley, of the 20th September, merely explained, in reply to enquiries which had been made, the formal mode of bringing an application for the appointment of an examination elsewhere than in the United Kingdom before the Senate. Mr. Douse's letter was, in fact, addressed to a gentleman who, having matriculated and passed the First B.A. Examination in England, was going out as a Missionary to India, and was anxious to ascertain if there was any possibility of his completing his course and obtaining the degree in India.

I neither agreed, as stated in Mr. Bolton's letter No. 569 of correspondence forwarded, nor have power to agree, to the holding of an examination in India. Persons enquiring whether they can take any one or more of the examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom are invariably informed that applications for examinations in India or the colonies are received by the Senate only when made by the Government of the place which it is desired to make a centre of examination; and when such applications are forwarded and endorsed by the India or the Colonial Office at Home (see the printed memorandum enclosed herewith). Each application so made is considered by the Senate on its merits, and though no doubt in disposing of separate applications, the Senate is guided by previous usage, there is no general rule or custom of the University on the subject.

I think, under the circumstances, it is important that this should be clearly stated, as it shows that no application for the establishment of an examination in India would be entertained unless it came from the Government of India, and was forwarded through the Secretary of State, and that it rests entirely with the Government of India to make or decline to make such application, according as it may think fit.

The appointment of centres for the Matriculation Examination in India on the application of the Gilchrist Trustees, was, I may remind your Lordship, made by the Senate expressly upon the condition that the Secretary of State for India should prove willing to undertake the transmission of the examination papers and the conduct of the examination.

Examinations in the Colonies for Matriculation and for the Degrees of B.A. and LL.B.

These examinations are appointed by the Senate, from time to time, upon the application of the Governor of any colony desiring that one or more places in the colony may be named as a colonial centre for one or more examinations. Every such application must be forwarded to the Senate through the Colonial Office at Home.

The examinations are conducted in every respect in the same way as the examinations carried on at the University; and the following conditions and regulations must be strictly observed:—

- (1) The examinations shall be conducted under the superintendence of a responsible Sub-Examiner; who shall be nominated by the Governor of the colony, and who shall be altogether independent of the authorities of any college or institution at which the examination may be held.
- (2) The examination papers for each examination shall be sent out through the Colonial Office, addressed to the Governor of the colony, and shall be delivered unopened to the Sub-Examiner.
- (3) The examination shall be held simultaneously with the corresponding examination in London, or, in the event of accident or delay, as soon as possible after the arrival of the mail by which the papers are transmitted; and immediately on its conclusion the Sub-Examiner shall place the answers of the candidates in the custody of the Governor of the colony, to be by him transmitted under seal by the next mail through the Colonial Office to the Registrar of the University.
- (4) The Registrar, on receiving the answers, shall distribute them to the Examiners who shall make a supplemental report thereon, classing the candidates according to the Regulations, in a list by themselves, but indicating, as nearly as may be, the positions which those who may be entitled to places in the Honours Division at Matriculation would have held in the Home Honours Division if they had been examined in this country.

- (5) The Honours Examinations in Arts and Laws cannot be held out of England; nor are candidates who may be examined for Matriculation in the colonies admissible to competition for the exhibitions and prizes offered by the University to candidates examined in the United Kingdom; but scholarships depending upon the results of the Matriculation Examination are offered for competition in some colonies by the Trustees of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund." The University has no control over these scholarships; and information concerning them can only be obtained from the Secretary of the "Gilchrist Educational Fund," 4, Broad Sanctuary, Westminster, London, S. W.
- (6) Under existing arrangements examinations will, until further notice, be held at various colonial centres as follows:—

East Indies.—(Calcutta, Bombay, Madras.)West Indies.—(Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad, Demerara.)

JUNE MATRICULATION.

Canada.—(Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Ottawa, Halifax, Fredericton.)Newfoundland.—(St. John's.)New Zealand.—Biennially.Tasmania.—Biennially, in alternation with New Zealand.

Applications for the institution of other colonial examinations should be forwarded through the Colonial Office as early as possible in each academical year.

[NOTE.—Applications for the institution of these examinations are not received from individual candidates. Any person desiring to be examined at a colonial centre should not apply to the University of London, but to the Government of the colony wherein he resides, to ascertain (a) whether any arrangement has been already made for holding an examination in the Colony, or, if not, (b) whether the Government will make the necessary application to the Senate in order that such arrangement may be made.]

Dated London, the 29th July 1881.

From—ARTHUR MILMAN, Esq., Registrar of the University of London,
To—The Right Hon'ble Viscount Enfield.

I HAVE the honour to refer to your Lordship's letter of the 12th instant, and to inform you that the despatch, with its enclosures, from the Government of India therewith forwarded, were considered at a meeting of the Senate held on Wednesday last.

I am directed to state, for the information of the Government of India, the rule which has been laid down by the Senate in regard to the establishment of Examinations of the University elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, namely, that no application for the appointment of an examination in a British Colony or Dependency will be entertained unless made by the Government of the place where it is desired that the examination should be held, and unless such application be forwarded, as the case may be, through the Colonial or India Office at Home. This rule was established by the Senate in order to obtain a sufficient guarantee for the due conduct of the Examinations, if held, and as a security against the use of Examinations of the University for purposes inconsistent with the duly considered interests of any colonies or places where they might be introduced. So long as this rule prevails, no Examinations other than the Matriculation Examination, as already established, could be held in India, except upon the application of the Government of India; and as the Senate would decline to entertain applications made by persons desiring to become candidates (invariably referring such applicants to the Government of the place where they are residing), it rests with the Government of India to decide whether it would or would not be desirable to make further use of the Examinations of the University. As the Senate does not take the initiative with regard to the appointment of any of the examinations held elsewhere than the University itself, the Senate does not think it advisable or necessary to state the terms on which they would arrange to hold Degree Examinations in Calcutta until the question is brought before them by a formal application for the appointment of such examination.

I am to add, however, that wherever the Examinations of the University are held, they have always been held subject to uniform conditions with regard to the right of entry and otherwise, and that it is extremely doubtful whether the Senate would feel authorized or justified in making special conditions applicable to candidates at a particular centre, whether in India or elsewhere.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1880-81, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

19.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1882, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

“Article VI.—With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette.”

Fort William, the 25th November 1881.

No. 1892—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following rules shall be substituted for Rule 7 to 10 of the rules framed under Section 17 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and published in the Notifications mentioned in the margin :—

Home Department Notification No. 518, dated the 6th March 1879.	rules shall be substituted for Rule 7
Ditto ditto No. 32, ditto 9th January 1860.	to 10 of the rules framed under
Foreign Department ditto No. 4031.-P., dated 23rd April "	Section 17 of the Indian Arms Act,

7. Licenses to export arms or ammunition or military stores by land or by river to any place beyond the frontier of British India, or to any place within the limits of the feudatory States, and licenses to import arms or ammunition or military stores into, or to export the same out of, the district of Ajmere, may be granted by the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Foreign Department, or by any other officer specially empowered by the Government of India to grant them.

Licenses to export arms or ammunition or military stores by land or by river to any place within the political jurisdiction of the Governments of Madras and Bombay may be granted by the Secretaries to the Governments of Madras and Bombay respectively, copies of such licenses being sent to the Foreign Department of the Government of India for information. These licenses will be valid only for the State named in them, and no export beyond the limits of that State can be permitted under them.

Licenses granted under this rule will be prepared in Form V, and be charged with a fee of rupees five, except in such cases as the Government of India, in the Foreign Department, may grant exemption from, or reduction of, the prescribed fee. Licenses to import arms, ammunition or military stores into Ajmere will also be granted in Form V, the word export in the heading of the license being changed into import.

Copies of such licenses shall be sent on the day of issue to the Political Officer of the State to which the articles are to be exported, and in the case of imports into Ajmere, to the Commissioner of the district. Copies shall also be sent to the Magistrate of the frontier district if the articles are to cross the frontier by road or river. If the articles are to be carried across the frontier by rail, a copy of the license should, in the case of consignments despatched from Presidency towns, be sent to the Commissioner of Police, and in other cases to the Magistrate of the district from which the articles are to be despatched. In such cases the Commissioner of Police or the Magistrate of the district, as the case may be, should at once forward a copy of the license to the Railway authorities at the place of despatch. No Railway Company shall receive for despatch any box, package or bale containing arms, ammunition or military stores as defined in the Arms Act and the rules framed thereunder, unless covered and accompanied by the original license granted under these rules, and the Railway authorities shall in every instance satisfy themselves that the goods tendered to them for transport correspond to the description given in such license, and that the license is identical with that forwarded to them by the Commissioner of Police or Magistrate of the district.

- 7A. Nothing in Rules 5, 6 or 7 shall be deemed to authorize the grant of licenses—
- (a) to import any arms, ammunition or military stores from Portuguese India;
 - (b) to export to Portuguese India by sea, river or land any arms, ammunition or military stores, except the same be exported for the exclusive use of the Government of Portuguese India, or are covered by a special license for import into Portuguese India signed by the Secretary-General to the Government of Portuguese India.
8. Persons desirous of transporting or exporting arms, ammunition or military stores must apply in writing to the officer authorized to grant such licenses. The application must specify—
- (a) the place to which the articles are to be transported or exported, the route of transport or export, and the probable time that will be occupied in the journey;
 - (b) the quantity, description, average price, and the purpose of each kind of arms or ammunition; or
 - (c) whether the applicant has obtained the consent of the Magistrate or Political Officer of the place of consignment. [If so, the evidence of such consent must be produced.]
9. Persons transporting or exporting arms, ammunition or military stores under a license must write legibly on the cases or packages containing such articles an account of their contents.
10. In the case of transport the consignee must, within six days of the articles reaching their destination, deliver the transport license to the Magistrate of the district. In the case of articles crossing the frontier of British India by road or river, the export license must, within six days of the consignment reaching the frontier district, and before it leaves British territory, be delivered to the Magistrate of the frontier district, or other officer empowered by him to receive export licenses on his behalf. The officer to whom the transport or export license, as the case may be, may be delivered, must satisfy himself that the articles correspond with the entries in the license, and that any deficiency is properly accounted for.

No. 1893.—The Governor-General in Council is also pleased to direct that the following endorsement shall be substituted for that on Form V for the grant of export licenses under Rule 7, published with the Notification by the Foreign Department, No. 1621.-J., dated the 25th June 1879 :—

It is valid only for the period and the route named therein.

It becomes invalid if bulk is broken, or the consignment stopped at any place on the journey.

It is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and of the rules framed thereunder.

The contents of each package covered by this license shall be described in legible characters on the outside of such package.

The license must be delivered to the Railway authorities or to the frontier district Magistrate, or other officer empowered by him to receive export licenses on his behalf as provided in Rules 7 and 10. In the case of consignments crossing the frontier by road or river, the articles must be made available for exhibition to the frontier Magistrate or other principal officer within six days of their reaching the frontier district, and before they leave British territory.

Simla, the 16th November 1881.

No. 254R.—In exercise of the power conferred by 24th & 25th Vic., Cap. 67, Section 47, and by 28th Vic., Cap. 17, Section 4, the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to direct that the line described below shall be the boundary between the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and the Chief Commissioner of British Burma respectively, with effect from the 15th July 1881:

Commencing from the Bay of Bengal, the Naaf river separates the district of Chittagong from the district of Akyab as far north as the mouth of the Goong-doung stream or Oocha Goong-doung; thence commences the boundary between the districts of Akyab and the Chittagong Hill Tracts: this proceeds eastward along the Oocha Goong-doung to its source; thence in a straight line across the watershed to the Toung-byoo or Toung-broo stream; and thence up that stream to its source in the Wayla-toung peak or Sugar-loaf hill. From the Wayla-toung peak, or Sugar-loaf hill, the boundary runs northwards for about five-and-a-half miles along the Wayla-toung ridge; thence in an easterly direction for about two miles along the See-see-toung spur to the Bujbukia khal opposite the Tha-walce-toung bungalow on the high road from Chittagong to Akyab; thence, still eastwards for about 12 miles, over a succession of ridges following the northern limits of Mro-thit (northern) Gyokeship, meeting the Ko-ma-toung ridge (a continuation of the Choung-doung range) about four-and-a-quarter miles north-west from Ko-ma-toung survey-station; thence southwards for about two-and-a-half miles along the Ko-ma-toung ridge to a point where the district boundary leaves the Northern Mro-thit Gyokeship; thence in a south-easterly direction along the tortuous Kring-dyu-toung ridge, following the northern limits of the Ching-doung Hill Tract to the Koo-doung or Ko-ma-toung survey-station; thence north-east along low ridges for about three-and-a-quarter miles; and thence east for about one mile, south-east for about one-and-a-quarter miles, and again north-east for about two miles, meeting the crest of the Lee-doung-toung range and the north-western boundary of the Arakan Hill Tracts about three-and-a-half miles south from Lee-doung-toung survey-station. From this spot it proceeds northwards along the Lee-doung-toung range to Lee-doung-toung hill-station; thence along the same range to Mee-dock-toung survey-station and peak; thence northwards along the crest of the Mee-doke-toung range, to the second Mee-doke-toung survey-station; and thence, still northwards, along the Mee-doke-toung range, for about eight miles, to the point where it meets the northern boundary of the Arakan Hill Tracts, which runs due east in a straight line to the junction of the Kala and Kaladan rivers.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 18. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table, "Prof., Papers on Indian Engineering, No. OXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 18 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 0, and one completely overcast by 10.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h & 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee pore factory for the year 1880-81, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

19.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1882, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale: provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

"Article VI.—With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 412.

The 6th December 1881.

THE following annual accounts and abstracts of the reports of the Road Cess Committees of the Patna, Gya, Shahabad, Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, Sarun, and Chumparun districts, of works done and in progress during the cess year 1879-80, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Patna Division, are published for general information.

G. F. F. S. NEILL, *Major, M.S.C.,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.*

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Committee, Patna, in the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE cess collections amounted to Rs. 1,60,297 against a demand of Rs. 1,91,394, inclusive of the previous year's arrears amounting to Rs. 31,938; and the balance outstanding at close of the year was Rs. 31,097.

The District Committee showed great interest in the administration of the fund; but the frequent changes of the sub-divisional officers interfered with the usefulness of the Branch Committees.

Good progress was made on the road from Bukhtearpore, on the East Indian Railway, to Behar; ten out of twelve large bridges were constructed, and the embankment raised throughout: materials for metalling were also collected, and metal spread over a considerable portion of the road. The metalling of the road from the Bankipore Railway Station to Khagoul, six miles, was completed. Very little progress was made, however, in connection with the projects for raising the embankment of the Dinapore-Manair road, and for raising and bridging the Futwa-Hilsah road, owing to the estimates having been sanctioned late in the working season.

The principal roads of the district received surface repairs, in order to make them fairly passable for general traffic; but almost all of them are defective in alignment and construction, and a considerable sum must be spent on them before they can be put into good order. Provision has been made for heavy repairs to nearly all the district roads during the current cess year. The expenditure incurred on village roads was very small, viz. Rs. 938. During the latter part of the year a form of application was introduced for village road grants, and the Branch Committees, as well as the members of the District Committee, were asked to encourage villagers to apply for grants. These measures have not yet borne much fruit, but it is hoped that better progress will be made this year, as a liberal grant has been made for this purpose. Fruit-trees, as well as a few mahogany trees, have been planted on 78 miles of road, and the Committee intend to devote greater attention to this matter in future. The several establishments under the Committee have worked fairly well.

C. C. QUINN,

Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Patna.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Gya, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE total cess collections, it is stated, were 96 per cent. on the current demand, and it is hoped that the outstanding balance will soon be realized.

The District Committee held seven meetings, at one of which a quorum was not present, and the percentage of the average attendance to the whole Committee was 32·7. The Branch Committees of Jehanabad, Nowada, and Aurungabad have not worked well. They take but little interest in village roads, unless their own interests are affected. The District Committee intend in future to entrust the maintenance and repair of the roads in each sub-division, with the exception of the main lines, to the Branch Committees.

It has not been possible to keep the roads in good order throughout the district, as new works were in progress almost on every line. Owing to the exceptionally heavy rains, and consequent high flood, the contractors failed to finish the works which they had undertaken. Several important village roads have been constructed, especially in the Jehanabad sub-division, under the supervision of the sub-divisional officers. Tree-planting was fairly successful throughout the district. Seven thousand seedlings have been planted out from the nurseries on the road sides, and all the most important roads have trees planted along both sides for about two miles, nearly the whole of the balance at close of the year, it is stated, was actually due for work done.

The Committee's engineering staff are reported to have worked well.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Shahabad, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

The cess demand, inclusive of the previous year's arrears amounting to Rs. 20,893, was Rs. 1,66,394; the collections amounted to Rs. 1,40,762, and Rs. 440 were remitted, leaving a balance of Rs. 25,192 outstanding at the close of the year. The balance outstanding was reduced to Rs. 4,079 at the end of December last.

Six meetings were held by the District Committee; a quorum was always present, and the members took an interest in their work. The Branch Committees at Bhabua, Sassiram and Buxar, held 3, 7, and 4 meetings, respectively; but the Branch Committees at Bhabua and Sassiram often failed to form a quorum.

The metalling of the road between Doomraon and Buxar was completed; 20 miles of the Tandooni and Doomraon road, and 18 miles of the Arrah and Sassaram road, were also metalled during the year, and opened to traffic with marked benefit to the country. Rs. 24,855 were expended on village roads, and much has been done towards their improvement; steps are being taken to trace up old village paths which have been encroached on by cultivation, and in many parts entirely obliterated. The nine nursery gardens established in the district have been fully maintained, and two new ones have been started; there will be 46,000 fruit-seedlings available for planting out, and it is expected that 100 miles of road will be planted during the rains. The condition of the roads was generally satisfactory, though there is still much room for improvement, especially in the case of the roads under the Branch Committees.

With the exception of the establishments under the Bhabua and Buxar Branch Committees, the different establishments have, on the whole, worked well.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

THE excess expenditure of Rs. 4,611 on establishment and contingencies of the office of collection is due to the payment of Rs. 4,327-12-9 (for which no provision was made in the Budget) claimed by the Accountant-General for the cost of valuation establishment during 1875-76, and to the employment of some more extra peons than was budgetted for for the collection of arrears. The excess expenditure has been met from savings on works.

No provision was made in the Budget for the contingent expenditure for Committee's office, hence the excess expenditure has been met from savings on works.

The expenditures on Original Works and Repairs, for which there are no Budget allotments, and in which the Budget allotments have exceeded, have been met from the savings of Budget allotments on Original Works and Repairs respectively.

The excess expenditure on Tools and Plant is due to the purchase of and carriage of 21 stone-rollers. This excess expenditure has been met from savings on works.

No provision was made in the Budget for the establishment, contingencies and petty construction and repairs of staging bungalows. The expenditures under these heads have been met from the savings on works.

KARTIC CH. CHATTERJEE, Accountant.

F. H. BARROW,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Mozufferpore, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE District Committee held thirteen meetings; eleven were fairly attended, and two were adjourned for want of a quorum. The Branch Committees at Hajepore and Sectamarhee held one and two meetings respectively.

The most important work of the year was the construction of a masonry bridge of three arches of 35' span each over the river Lukhundye, 23 miles south of Mozufferpore, on the main road to Sectamarhee; another masonry bridge of two arches of 35' span each was constructed over the river Dunda, on the road between Moteepore and Sahebgunge bazar. Twenty culverts have also been constructed, and they have improved the drainage of the villages in their vicinity. Young trees to the number of 18,347 have been planted out from the nurseries, and the trees planted out in 1878-79 have been maintained.

The general condition of the roads was excellent.

The subordinate officers of all departments of the Committees' establishments did their work satisfactorily.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Durbhunga, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE percentage of the cess collections on the demand was 84.6, and the outstanding balance at close of the year was Rs. 23,789.

The District Committee held nine meetings, at three of which a quorum was not present, and the percentage of the average attendance to the whole Committee was 17 only. The Branch Committee at Madhubuni held two meetings, but one of them was adjourned for want of a quorum. The members of the Tajpore Branch Committee are reported to have taken great interest and trouble over local village roads.

The greater part of the original works remained unfinished at the end of the year. The roads were extensively repaired, however, as they were severely injured by the unusual floods of 1873-79; most of them are in fair order now, but some require extensive repairs to keep them passable. Rs. 14,508 were spent on village roads, and 2,765 trees have been planted on the roadsides.

The different establishments employed under the Committee gave satisfaction in the discharge of their duties.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Sarun, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE discontent of the people with the road cess, though it has not disappeared, has not increased. The cess collections were 86·35 per cent. on the demand.

The rains and flood hindered the progress of works, otherwise about Rs. 20,000 more would have been expended. The Committee have fixed a limit for their grant for the repair of roads in order that they may have a larger sum available for metalling the main roads of the district. Steam communication has been established under the auspices of the Road Cess Committee between Chupra and Patna. A steamer carrying 125 passengers plies daily between Chupra and Dinapore; and a cargo steamer, carrying 2,000 maunds, besides having accommodation for 250 passengers, plies three times a week between Revilgunge and Patna City. The success which has attended the steam ferry venture is complete, and the profit from the cargo vessel promises to be considerable; it is also in contemplation to establish steam communication between Revilgunge and Sewan if the Sarun irrigation scheme proves successful in keeping sufficient water in the river Daba.

A nursery of young fruit-bearing trees has been established, and similar nurseries are being started in the compound or all inspection bungalows; the operation of planting trees on the roadside will be commenced at once.

The working of the engineering establishment under the Committee was not quite successful, nor such as to meet with full approval. A change in District Engineer occurred during the year, and the current half-year's work is looked to for proof of greater efficiency than has yet been attained. The different office establishments worked satisfactorily on the whole.

Explanatory Sheet to accompany the Annual Accounts.

1. In the column headed "Amount as per Budget Estimate" of the detailed sheet of expenditure, Rs. 4,926 have been shown on account of establishment and contingencies of the office of collection, and Rs. 1,054 on account of establishment and contingencies of the Committee's office, instead of Rs. 4,207 and 930 shown respectively for them in the Bengal Government Resolution No. 428 of 11th May 1880, thus making a total difference of

Rs. 843 between the two. This difference is due to the exclusion by Government of the following items from the budget—vide Bengal Government No. 86J of 7th July 1880—

					Rs.
Towjinuvis	for 9 months,	@	Rs. 25 per month	...	225
2 Mohurirs	for 9 "	@	" 20 "	...	360
1 Poddar	for 9 "	@	" 7 "	...	63
1 Mohurir	for 9 "	@	" 15 "	...	135
1 Extra clerk	for 6 "	@	" 10 "	...	60
Total					843

In the annual accounts these items were retained in consequence of the aforesaid establishments not having been transferred to the Treasury, and the Committee having had to bear the charges.

2. The figures in antiq^{re} indicate the sums which the Committee subsequently sanctioned for the works against which they are shown. The Committee was obliged to do so in consequence of certain estimates having exceeded their budget grant, and also on account of liabilities due to the contractors for works done in the cess year 1878-79 having had to be paid within the cess year under review. A statement showing extra sanctions and transfers from one work to another made by the Committee subsequent to the preparation of the budget estimate is herewith submitted.

3. The pay of the extra mohurir and peons entertained for the collection of road and public works cess arrears as well as the travelling allowances of the officers deputed for this purpose, were met from the total annual fees realized from the defaulting estates. Hence in the column of "Budget Grant" no amount has been shown against them.

4. An explanation as to why no expenditure was incurred on the works noted in the margin will follow.

J. WHITMORE,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Chumparun, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

BOTH the District Committee and the Bettiah Branch Committee did not take a very lively interest in their work, but the Chairman reports that the members of the District Committee seem really anxious this year for improved communications.

The country is being examined with a view to lay out a system of feeder roads to the proposed line of railway at Bettiah, but no works of any special importance were undertaken during the year. There are 586 miles of district roads which are bridged, and 229 miles of road unbridged and kept as dry weather roads, besides 91 villages roads varying in importance. A total length of 935 miles of road has been maintained, 16 large bridges have been thoroughly repaired, and a number of smaller ones replaced. Several of the bridges, however, are in a bad condition; 13,075 trees have been planted on the sides of seven roads.

The Chairman's and District Engineer's office establishments have been found to be unnecessarily large, and it is proposed to amalgamate them. The staff of overseers is, on the other hand, far too weak, and the Committee have resolved to increase the number.

That all necessary steps have been taken for the recovery or adjustment of outstanding advances, that none but duly sanctioned expenditure has been incurred, and that in the case of original works the register of monthly expenditure shows clearly the amount of sanctioned estimate, the grant for the year, and the expenditure on each work to end of the year; and generally that the work of the office has been performed with carefulness and regularity and with a due observance of the rules prescribed by Government.

No. 113J, dated Bankipore, the 14th March 1881.

From—F. M. HALLIDAY Esq., Commissioner of Patna.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

IN submitting the annexed Road Fund Reports and Accounts, from the districts marginally named, for the past cess year 1879-80, I have the honor to state that, under Government order No. 973A of the 14th September last, it is not necessary for me to report in detail on the operations of the year, as the district reports and accounts supply all the information that is required. I shall therefore content myself with a few general observations on the points noticed by the Chairmen of the District Road Cess Committees.

2. The district reports were, I regret to observe, generally submitted late, they having been received in this office on the following dates :—

Sarun	... 23rd December.	Durbhangah	... 27th January.
Pana	... 26th January.	Chumparun	... 1st February.
Gya	... 27th January.	Shahabad	... 5th February.
Mozufferpore	... 16th February.

Thus it will be seen that none of the reports, except that from Sarun, were received on the prescribed date, viz. 1st January. Again, some of the reports were so incomplete that I had to make further references. Hence the delay in the submission of my Divisional Report, for which I beg to apologize.

3. The accompanying statement shews the details of the income and expenditure of the Road Fund in the several districts in this Division. The total receipts in the Division during the year amounted to Rs. 17,66,870, inclusive of Rs. 5,48,831 the balance in hand on the 1st October 1879, and Rs. 2,12,956 representing for the most part "deposits and advances." Eliminating the latter sum, the net receipts aggregated Rs. 15,53,914, against Rs. 15,88,390 provided for in the Budget. The net disbursements amounted to Rs. 12,06,851, against a Budget allotment of Rs. 15,31,321. The subjoined table shews the estimated and actual expenditure under the principal headings during the past year, as contrasted with the actuals of the preceding year.

HEADING.			Actuals of 1879-79.	Estimate for 1879-80.	Actuals of 1879-80.
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1. Original works	3,19,954	7,51,181	4,81,072
2. Repairs	3,24,472	5,20,661	4,79,499
3. Establishment on works	1,47,167	1,69,772	1,58,192

4. The expenditure on original works this year exceeds that of the preceding year by Rs. 161,118, a result which is satisfactory. Looking to the figures of each district I observe that there has generally been an increase under this head in all the districts, notably so in Gya and Patna, where the expenditure on original works amounted to Rs. 1,14,496 and Rs. 1,11,768 respectively, making a total of Rs. 2,26,264, or nearly half the total sum spent on such works in the whole division. Mozufferpore is the only district which shows a falling off, the expenditure on original works this year amounting to Rs. 47,911 against Rs. 98,239 in the previous year.

5. As compared with the Budget allotments, the outturn of work under the head of "original works" does not seem to be satisfactory. None of the District Committees have been able to appropriate on original works the sums they had allotted for the purpose. In Patna out of Rs. 2,15,448 provided for in the Budget, a sum of Rs. 1,11,768 only was spent, while in Gya Rs. 1,14,496 were actually disbursed out of Rs. 2,00,320 budgeted for.

6. This, however, is not the case in the case of repairs, out of a Budget Estimate of Rs. 5,20,661, the actual expenditure amounted to Rs. 4,79,499, against Rs. 3,24,472 laid out in the previous year. The roads have been generally kept in fair order in all the districts, except Gya, where in my tour I found some of the roads in a very bad state and I have called the Chairman's special attention to this matter.

7. The amount spent on establishments was Rs. 1,58,192 or 17 per cent. of the disbursements on original works and repairs, against 22 per cent. in the previous year, which is a satisfactory reduction.

8. Most of the reports do not furnish sufficient information regarding village roads. It appears, however, that Shahabad spent the largest sum in the improvement of village communications, the amount being Rs. 24,855. Durbhangah too, shows a marked improvement in this respect, the expenditure incurred in it on account of village roads during the year being Rs. 14,507 against Rs. 1,646 in the preceding year. It is, however, very disappointing to observe that a sum of Rs. 938 only, was spent under this head in Patna, notwithstanding the comments made by Government in their Resolution on the last year's reports (vide paragraph 11).

9. The District Committees have generally worked well. The largest number of meetings was held by the Sadder Committees of Patna and Mozufferpore, all the Branch Committees, with the exception of that of Sewan, held meetings, though few in number, for the transaction of business. The only Branch Committees which exercised the powers of District Committees during the year were those in Shahabad. The system of vesting these Committees with enlarged powers is being gradually introduced in other districts during the current year.

10. The establishments employed in the collection of cess, and in the execution of works, have generally worked well.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S ANNUAL REPORT ON ADMINISTRATION OF THE LICENSE TAX IN 1880-81.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—LICENSE TAX.

Calcutta, the 29th November 1881.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue for 1880-81.

THE license tax was administered during the year under the new Act. By this measure the tax was made uniform throughout the province, all incomes below Rs. 500 a year were exempted, and assesses were absolved from liability to take out more than one license, however many places of business they might have. The relief afforded to the poorer classes of persons assessed under the old Act was very marked. While the exemption of incomes between Rs. 100 and Rs. 250 in September 1879 freed 579,674 persons from taxation, the effect of the restriction of the lowest grade under the new Act to incomes ranging from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000, instead of from Rs. 250 to 1,000, was to reduce the number of assesses in this class from 115,946 in 1879-80 to 49,379 in 1880-81. Thus 66,567 persons with incomes below Rs. 500 per annum were exempted during the year.

2. The alteration in the minimum taxable income in the lowest class necessitated a complete revision of the assessment lists of this grade, as the records did not contain sufficiently detailed information to admit of distinction between incomes above and those below Rs. 500. At the same time the Lieutenant-Governor considered that the assessments in the higher grades also required careful scrutiny, and accordingly a complete reassessment of the province was ordered. It was the desire of Government that this important duty should be entrusted as far as possible to Deputy Collectors, in order that a trustworthy basis for future operations might be obtained, and that, while the people were secured from hardship at the hands of temporarily employed officials, they might also be relieved of the inconvenience of annually-recurring enquiries of a detailed nature. Practical difficulties, however, were experienced by the Board in giving effect to this policy. In one case only—that of the Suburbs of Calcutta—was it found possible to depute a Deputy Collector to conduct the assessment. Elsewhere, however, 22 Sub-Deputy Collectors were employed on this duty, and liberal salaries and travelling allowances were given to the assessors temporarily appointed, while it was understood that good work would give a claim to permanent employment later on.

3. On the whole the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the work has been as satisfactorily performed as it is possible to have such work performed in a country circumstanced as India is. Of 220,615 villages in Bengal,—the total including the 616 streets of Calcutta,—59,477 were visited by the assessing officers against 25,875 in the preceding year. From the returns it appears that the degree of activity displayed by the assessors varied considerably in different districts. It is explained that sufficient enquiries can often be best made from a central spot with regard to several neighbouring villages. It is also true that in sparsely populated tracts it is unnecessary to visit every hamlet in search of persons with incomes of Rs. 500 derived from trade or industry. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board, however, in thinking that in some districts an insufficient number of villages was visited. In Bankoora the assessing officers appear only to have visited 461 out of 5,381, in Midnapore 1,721 out of 14,907, in Dinagore 615 out of 7,336, in Rajshahye 416 out of 5,183, in Noakholly 313 out of 2,496, in Patna 271 out of 2,825, in Gya 572 out of 9,771, in Chumparun 425 out of 2,155, in Pooree 433 out of 5,173, and in Balasore 398 out of 6,388. It would even appear that in some cases villages known to contain assesses were not visited. Thus in Midnapore the number of villages containing assesses is given as 1,909, while the number visited by the assessors was only 1,721. In Dinagore the figures are 902 and 615 respectively. In other districts the numbers of villages visited and of villages containing assesses are identical. In Rungpore 1,052 villages are said to have been visited, and all these are said to contain assesses. In Gya 572, in Darjeeling 50, and in Pooree 433, are similarly entered in both columns. If these figures are correct, they are certainly very remarkable, and it would appear that in these districts, as well as in those first mentioned, many villages must have escaped assessment. In Rajshahye 413 villages out of 416 visited contain assesses, and there can be no doubt that this district has not been properly assessed. In some districts the work of assessment appears to have been very thoroughly done. In Hooghly with Howrah the assessors are said to have visited 3,342 villages out of a total number of 3,716, in 24-Pergunnahs 2,030 out of 4,131, in Moorshedabad 2,926 out of 3,673, in Dacca 4,393 out of 5,038, in Backergunge 3,276 out of 3,284, in Tipperah 5,046 out of 6,509, in Maldah 2,768 out of 3,324.

4. The number of persons assessed, after exclusion of double entries in cases of reduction, was 88,899. Of these 15,877 were exempted on objection, and 1,466 were exempted on appeal. The number actually required to take out licenses was 71,556. The number assessed under the old Act up to 31st March 1880 was 138,620. The changes that have been introduced render it impossible to make any useful comparison of the numbers under each class in the two years. One license for the principal place of business now covers transactions not only in different districts of the province, but in different provinces; and several firms have declared their principal place of business to be in Bombay, where the fee is lower than in Bengal. No separate schedule of rates exists for Calcutta. Finally, the change in the constitution of the last class already referred to has been made. The 71,556 persons who have paid license tax under the new Act are thus distributed under the different classes :—

Class.				Income.	Amount of tax.	Number of assesses.
				Rs.	Rs.

Calculated on the figures of the recent census, the proportion of assesses was 1 in every 921, against 1 in every 78 in 1878-79 and 1 in every 480 in 1879-80. Considerably above the average were Calcutta (1 in 52), Darjeeling (1 in 436), Maldah (1 in 471), Hooghly with Howrah (1 in 527), Monghyr (1 in 587), Bhagulpore (1 in 622), and 24-Pergunnahs (1 in 659). Considerably below the average were Singbhoom (1 in 3,725), Cuttack (1 in 2,509), Sonthal Pergunnahs (1 in 2,070), Noakholly (1 in 1,958), Champaran (1 in 1,910), Rajshahye (1 in 1,758), Bankoora (1 in 1,639), and Nuddea (1 in 1,534). The general proportion of outturn of tax to population was Re. 1 for every 44 persons. According to this test the following districts have to be added to the list of those considerably below the average:—Lohardugga (93 persons to Re. 1 of tax), Chittagong (92), Balasore (91), Maubhoom (89), Midnapore (87), Furreedpore (85), and Shahabad (85). In some of these districts, a small outturn was to have been expected. In others, however, the results point to inefficient administration. These will be noticed in detail further on.

5. Of 88,899 persons assessed no less than 55,167, or 62 per cent., filed petitions of objection. Of these 38,557 belonged to the sixth class, in which the tax had been raised from Rs. 5, calculated on a minimum of Rs. 250, to Rs. 10, calculated on a minimum of Rs. 500. The number of objections in the first four classes was large, but this was the natural result of the reassessment under the new law, and of the provision which allows objections on plain paper. In some districts, however, the high proportion of objections to assessments cannot be attributed altogether to these causes. The percentage was in Furreedpore 89·7, in Singbhoom 83, in Midnapore 80·9, and in Balasore 80·2. In the first, third, and fourth of these districts the proportion was also unduly high in 1879-80. Of the 39,266 persons whose petitions did not result in total exemption, 5,693 appealed. The proportion of appeals was largest in Durbhunga, 24-Pergunnahs, Dacca, and Hazaribagh. Altogether 1,466 persons obtained exemption on appeal. The largest proportions of successful appeals were obtained in Hazaribagh (48), Durbhunga (41), and 24-Pergunnahs (34). In the case of Hazaribagh this result is distinctly attributed to the unsatisfactory proceedings of one of the assessors.

6. The gross demand represented by the original assessments of the year was Rs. 28,48,045, against Rs. 20,52,990 in 1879-80; while the net collections were only Rs. 14,84,861, against Rs. 14,68,997. Remissions before realization amounted to Rs. 11,87,921 against Rs. 5,17,322 in the previous year, and refunds to Rs. 92,489 against Rs. 40,062. The excess of remissions was most noticeable in the first two classes, in which they amounted to Rs. 5,15,000 and Rs. 1,76,600, against Rs. 76,800 and Rs. 79,488 respectively. One important cause of heavy remissions, particularly in these two classes, was the rule already referred to under which persons are liable to be assessed only in one place. Under this rule several firms, on the ground that their principal place of business was at Bombay, obtained remission of tax in Calcutta and escaped with a payment of Rs. 200 in Bombay. The Board observe that "their profits in Calcutta alone would have rendered them liable to a tax of Rs. 500 had they not been fortunate enough to have houses in Bombay as well." In Bengal the operation of this rule was generally in favour of Calcutta, and remissions had to be given in the district where branches had been assessed. The districts most affected were Hooghly, Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, 24-Pergunnahs, Moorshedabad, and Cuttack. The total sum remitted or refunded on account of these double assessments in the first five classes was Rs. 2,61,199. Nevertheless the net collections under these classes amounted to Rs. 10,11,385 against Rs. 8,98,879. The actual increase from the reassessment in them was therefore Rs. 3,73,706. The net collections are thus shown under the different classes in the two years:—

					1879-80.	1880-81.
					Rs.	Rs.
Class	I	1,53,469	2,33,000
"	II	1,20,410	1,48,800
"	III	1,47,362	1,49,120
"	IV	1,74,461	1,82,744
"	V	3,03,177	2,97,721

7. The principal districts in which a decrease occurred in the collections under the first five classes, after allowance for loss from double assessments, were Midnapore (Rs. 4,660), Mozufferpore (Rs. 3,275), Burdwan (Rs. 3,030), Pooree (Rs. 2,590), Hazaribagh (Rs. 2,201), Chumparun (Rs. 1,915), Purneah (Rs. 1,610), Maldah (Rs. 1,545), and Shahabad (Rs. 1,534). In Midnapore the decrease was undoubtedly the result of carelessness in the administration. In a great part of this district the assessment was made on the lists of the previous year without any local enquiry by the assessors; and looking to the circumstances of the district, the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the incidence of the tax, Re. 1 to 87 persons against the provincial average of Re. 1 to 44, is unduly low. The decrease in Mozufferpore is attributed to the slackness of the grain trade and the great decline in the trade in saltpetre. The falling off in Burdwan was the result of changes of jurisdiction. The low incidence of the tax in this district, however (1 to 70 persons), seems to point to under-assessment. The decrease in Pooree is attributed to the contraction of the rice trade. The unsatisfactory nature of the work done in Hazaribagh has already been noticed in connection with appeals. It is stated that a careful revision of the assessments in this district is being carried out during the current year, but it is not reported why the Deputy Commissioner failed to exercise proper supervision over the proceedings of the assessor in the first instance. The explanation offered in regard to Chumparun and Shahabad is the same as that offered for Mozufferpore. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board in considering that, in regard to these districts, it is not satisfactory. There has now been a decrease under the first five classes two years in succession, and the incidence of the tax (Re. 1 to 100 in Chumparun and Re. 1 to 85 in Shahabad against Re. 1 to 49 in Sarun) shows that the interests of the revenue are not duly protected. The decrease in Maldah is attributed by the Collector to want of efficiency on the part of the assessor, but the district is certainly not under-assessed. In Purneah, however, there are palpable proofs of mismanagement. The incidence of the tax is Re. 1 to 64, against 36 in Bhagulpore, 37 in Monghyr, and 29 in Maldah. The population of Purneah is 1,823,717, against 1,955,920 and 1,923,276 the population of the neighbouring districts of Monghyr and Bhagulpore respectively. Yet Purneah had only eight assesseees in the second class against 21 and 12 in Monghyr and Bhagulpore, only 72 in the fourth class against 146 and 160, only 377 in the fifth class against 646 and 790, and only 891 in the sixth class against 2,481 and 2,080. It is reported that the assessor was careless and inefficient. This, however, should have been remedied in time. The assessment of this district requires careful attention during the current year. In Rajshahye the work was much neglected. The incidence of the tax is only Re. 1 to 81 persons against Re. 1 to 52 in Dinagepore, Re. 1 to 45 in Julpigoree, and Re. 1 to 41 in Bogra. The proportion of assesseees to population is lower than in any other district in the province except Noakholly, Chumparun, Sonthal Pergunnahs, Cuttack and Singbhoom. It is little more than half the proportion of Dinagepore, less than half that of Rungpore, Bogra, or Julpigoree, and little more than one-fourth that of the adjoining district of Maldah. A proper assessment must be made during the current year.

8. The districts in which the largest increase is shown under the first five classes are—

				Rs.
Pubna	7 725	90
Calcutta	1,56,285	68
Bankoora	2,064	42
Jessore	5,460	33

The increase in Pubna was the result of the efficient supervision exercised by the Deputy Collector in charge and by the sub-divisional officer of Serajgunge. It is reported that the Deputy Collector himself conducted the assessment of the Pubna Municipality with much care and discretion. It was anticipated that, after the unsatisfactory administration of the tax in Calcutta during the two previous years, a large increase would result from a careful reassessment under the supervision of the Collector. In many respects, however, the management of the department was inefficient. The assistant assessors first employed did not give satisfaction, and much valuable time was lost at the beginning of the season before the establishment could be brought into proper working order. The assessments were not made with proper discrimination, and it resulted, that, after allowance made for double assessments, the remissions and refunds amounted to no less than Rs. 5,83,760 out of a demand of Rs. 10,62,360, while a balance of Rs. 67,340 remained outstanding three months after the close of the year. If deductions are made on account of transfers to lower grades, the net remissions and refunds during the year are found to amount to Rs. 4,26,170, against net collections of only Rs. 4,11,260. The result is even more unfavourable if the operations after the close of the year are taken into account. Some new assessments were made, and out of a total sum for realization amounting to Rs. 70,230 Rs. 53,490 was remitted, against Rs. 13,720 collected. The gross amount of actual remissions and refunds was thus Rs. 4,79,660 against collections aggregating Rs. 4,24,980 only. This was in great measure the result of careless assessment and careless revision. In part, however, it was also due to want of energy in prosecuting the work of collection. The month of February opened with an outstanding demand of Rs. 2,60,600, yet only Rs. 19,560 was collected during that month. The collections amounted in March to Rs. 18,770 only, and in April to Rs. 8,930 only, and the financial year closed with an unrealized balance of Rs. 1,75,890. It appears that the Board during this period repeatedly drew attention to the backwardness of the collections, and sanctioned the employment of a special establishment to complete them. The Collector, however, misunderstood the orders, and owing to a change in the office of Commissioner the matter was overlooked in the intermediate appointment. The Board rightly observe that the Collector should have pressed for further instructions. The result of the gross delay was that numerous assessments had to be cancelled as irrecoverable owing to the death, failure, or disappearance of the assessees. It is observed that there was a very heavy falling off, from Rs. 63,565 to Rs. 26,550, in the collections from the lowest class of assessees in Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to endorse the opinion of the Board that the administration of the tax in Calcutta was not satisfactory. The task, however, as the Board observe, was an exceedingly onerous and difficult one; and the Lieutenant-Governor has in many departments found proof of Mr. Goodricke's industry and efficiency. The whole of the proceedings connected with the working of the license tax, even in Calcutta, show how impossible it is to effect a proper assessment and collection of a direct tax like the license tax. The proper machinery for the honest and conscientious working of such a tax cannot be secured in this country, and it is for this reason that the Lieutenant-Governor has always deprecated direct taxation where indirect taxation could be substituted. The increase in Bankoora was due to the enlargement of the jurisdiction of the district. The general incidence of the tax in this district (Rs. 1 to 95 persons and 1 assessee in every 1,639) is decidedly low. The small number of villages visited has already been remarked. The Board report that they had occasion more than once to draw the attention of the Collector to the unsatisfactory progress made by the assessor. It is not creditable that more than 100 villages which contained assesses in 1879-80 should have remained unvisited in 1880-81. There was an increase in Jessore of Rs. 5,460, and in Nuddea of Rs. 2,200. Both these districts, however, appear to be still under-assessed. In Nuddea the incidence of the tax is only Re. 1 to every 87 persons, against Re. 1 to 40 in 24-Pergunnahs and 1 to 31 in Hooghly. There are only six assesses of the second class against 12 in 24-Pergunnahs and 16 in Hooghly, only 18 in the third against 46 and 45, and only 53 in the fourth against 131 and 122 respectively. Only 1 person in 1,534 was assessed against 1 in 659 in 24-Pergunnahs, 1 in 527 in Hooghly, and 1 in 975 in Moorshedabad. While such figures as these are found, it is probable that the small proportion of objections is to be explained rather by the undue leniency than by the fairness of the assessment. The percentage of objections to assessments was only 35.5 against the provincial average of 62. Out of 509 assessments challenged 371 were upheld. In Jessore the incidence, though heavier than in Nuddea, is still light in view of the wealth of the district. It is only Re. 1 to every 61 persons. It contains only 2 assesses of the first class. The percentage of objections was only 36, and out of 744 objectors only 9 secured total, and 26 partial, exemption. An increase of Rs. 4,487 or 16.7 per cent. in the net collections from the first five classes is shown in Sarun, although assessments amounting to more than Rs. 10,000 were cancelled owing to licenses having been taken out in other districts. This result was secured by the care and labour bestowed upon the work by the Collector. Mr. MacDonnell personally made a revision of the assessment in the Sudder sub-division, and heard all that the assesses might have to urge near their own houses and among their neighbours. He also adopted the excellent plan of referring objections in municipalities for report to a Board consisting of the License Tax Deputy Collector and two Municipal Commissioners. The result of these measures was that, though the outturn of the tax in proportion to the population, is much higher than in any other district of the Patna Division, 80 per cent. of the assessment was collected without recourse to coercive measures, while Mr. MacDonnell is of opinion that it might be raised from Rs. 46,000 to Rs. 50,000 without danger of over-assessment. The assessment of Mozufferpore, Chumparun, and Shahabad has already been noticed. In Patna some improvement has been made and the net collections from the first five classes have been raised from Rs. 19,549 to Rs. 21,340; but for the third year in succession the Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to express the opinion that the assessment of this district is still unsatisfactory. The Collector, referring to the increase in the Patna trade in 1879-80, hazards the opinion that most of the increase in the weight carried by rail has been contributed by stone-ballast for roads and coal. The Lieutenant-Governor has now before him the returns of imports and exports by rail into and from the town of Patna, including Bankipore and Dinapore, in 1879-80 and 1880-81. After exclusion of the quantities of opium and railway materials, the figures stand thus—

	IMPORTS. Quantity. Mds.	EXPORTS. Quantity. Mds.	TOTAL. Mds.
1880-81 ...	24,14,560	54,76,264	78,90,824

Of the gross increase of 26,12,998 maunds, coal only contributed 3,28,427 maunds, while stone showed a decrease of 1,08,276 maunds. Mr. Metcalfe also makes calculations of the probable earnings of typical beparis and aradars, and argues from these to the probable incidence of the tax upon these classes. The Board point out that he has apparently directed his enquiries chiefly to dealers in grain, and they draw attention to the following instructive figures:—

	Patna.	Sarun.	Monghyr.	Gya.
Number assessed under the head of—
Dealers in piece-goods ...	165	483
Money-lenders ...	311	901	1,005	...
Dealers in spirits, drugs, and tobacco...	7	87	189	120
Miscellaneous ...	152	70	91

It is to be observed that the excise revenue of Patna is more than double that of any of the other three districts quoted. To the Lieutenant-Governor a comparison of the figures of the assessments in the different classes in Patna and in Sarun, where the tax has been collected without difficulty, leaves no doubt whatever that large numbers have improperly escaped assessment in the former district. The population of Patna is 1,796,649, and that of Sarun is 2,261,212. The former, however, contains the second largest city in the province. The numbers assessed stand thus—

	Class I.	Class II.	Class III.	Class IV.	Class V.	Class VI.	Total.
Patna	... 11	14	31	82	292	808	1,238
Sarun	... 7	21	52	167	539	1,692	2,388

Thus Patna had less than half as many assesses in the fourth class, and only a fraction more than half as many assesses in the sixth class as Sarun. It has also fewer assesses in the second class than Gya or Durbhunga, fewer in the third class than Mozufferpore or Durbhunga, fewer in the fourth and fifth classes than Gya, Mozufferpore or Durbhunga, and fewer in the sixth class than any district in the division except Chumparun. It had less than half as many in the fifth class, and less than a third as many in the sixth class, as Monghyr, a district about equal in population, but with a land revenue little more than half, and an excise revenue less than half, as large. The Board show that, even after allowance is made for the explanation that the 352 mohullahs of the town of Patna, Barrh and Behar should be counted as separate villages, the number of villages visited by the assessors was altogether insufficient. A large proportion of the rural villages containing assesses in 1879-80 have been left untouched, and there can be no doubt whatever that, if a thorough and systematic examination were substituted for speculations as to the probable incomes of types of classes, a large increase would be made at least to the number of assesses in the lower grades. The Lieutenant-Governor must insist on every village that contained assesses in 1879-80 being visited and properly reported upon during the current season. In Tipperah, Chittagong, Monghyr, Dacca, and Gya there were increases varying from 16 per cent. in the first to 5·2 per cent. in the last-named. In Tipperah, Chittagong, and Dacca, as well as in Backergunge and Mymensingh, the work of assessment was carefully done, and the result of petitions and appeals was favourable. In Manbhoom there was also a considerable improvement, though, owing to double assessments and to reductions of jurisdiction, no actual increase is shown.

9. In regard to remissions and refunds Calcutta heads the list. The proportion of the demand thus disposed of was also heavy in Singbhoom (52·8 per cent.), Furreedpore (49·8 per cent.), Midnapore (49·2 per cent.), Cuttack (43·8 per cent.), and Lohardugga (46·4 per cent.) In Singbhoom there has been a marked falling off under all classes, and the incidence of the tax is only Re. 1 to 216 persons against 1 to 93 in Lohardugga, 1 to 89 in Manbhoom, and 1 to 53 in Hazaribagh. At the same time the percentage of charges to collections, which was only 10·5 in 1879-80, rose to no less than 58·8 in 1880-81, against the provincial average of 10·4. The Commissioner reports that he has satisfied himself of the propriety of the remissions granted in the first four classes. The sixth class, however, which has given an increase in the other districts of the Division, shows a decrease of 54 per cent. in Singbhoom. No less than 83 per cent. of those on whom notices had been served objected to the assessment, and early in the year the Lieutenant-Governor had to decline to entertain a general and much exaggerated petition from the traders of the district against the tax. The Lieutenant-Governor, looking to all the circumstances, has little doubt that the Board have correctly held that there has been an undue reduction in the assessment of Singbhoom. The large proportion of refunds in Furreedpore is only one of the many proofs which the returns afford of the mismanagement of the tax in this district. It is reported that the Collector, before assessors had even been appointed, served notices assessing in the Rs. 500—Rs. 1,000 grade all who had taken out licenses in the previous year in the Rs. 250—Rs. 1,000 grade. The result was that 89·7 per cent.—a much larger proportion than in any other district—lodged objections. Out of 2,809 objectors no less than 1,582 were entirely exempted. In the sixth class alone remissions and refunds amounted to Rs. 15,980, against a net collection of Rs. 11,640. While, however, so many persons were assessed, who were not liable, it is evident that many who were really liable were not assessed. The incidence of the tax is far below the incidence in any of the neighbouring districts. It is Re. 1 to 85 persons in Furreedpore, against 1 to 65 in Backergunge, 1 to 52 in Mymensingh, and 1 to 49 in Dacca. There is 1 assessor to 1,111 persons against 1 to 1,055 in Backergunge, 1 to 861 in Dacca, and 1 to 830 in Mymensingh. For this harassment of the people, moreover, and this small fiscal result, Government had to pay at much higher rate than for excellent work in the adjoining districts. The percentage of charges to receipts was 19·7 in Furreedpore to 14·2 in Backergunge, 10·4 in Dacca, and 8·0 in Mymensingh. In Midnapore and Cuttack the proceedings were only less injudicious than they were in Furreedpore. Notices were freely issued on those who had taken out licenses in the lowest class in the previous year, and the assessors were not employed to make proper local enquiries. In Midnapore over 55 per cent. of the objectors were entirely exempted. In this district remissions and refunds in the sixth class alone amounted to Rs. 18,230 against a net collection of Rs. 14,780 only. In Cuttack remissions and refunds amounted to Rs. 2,720 and Rs. 3,770 in the 5th and 6th classes, against net collections of Rs. 3,180 and Rs. 4,700 only. At the same time these districts, like Furreedpore, show an incidence of taxation much below what their circumstances would appear to warrant. In Midnapore the incidence is Re. 1 to 87 persons, while the divisional average is Re. 1 to 59, and this includes Bankoora, where the assessment work has been badly done and where the incidence is only Re. 1 to 95 persons. In Cuttack the incidence is Re. 1 to 126 persons against Re. 1 to 62 in Pooree, and Re. 1 to 91 in Balasore. The large proportion of refunds in Lohardugga was also due to injudicious proceedings. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Palamow instructed the assessor to include all former assesses in his lists, as a matter of course.

10. The gross charges amounted to Rs. 1,62,694 against Rs. 1,47,785 during the previous year. The increase was the result of the enhanced rates of pay given to the assessors. The provincial percentage of charges to total receipts was 10·4. The high proportion (58·8) in Singbhoom has already been noticed. The following were also much above the average:—Burdwan (25·2), Tipperah (22), Nuddea (21·7), Chittagong (21·4), Rajshahye and Darjeeling (21·2), Noakholly (21·1), Sonthal Pergunnahs (20·9), and Manbhoom (20·3). The rate was lowest in Calcutta (3·5), Monghyr (6·9), Mozufferpore (7·3), Mymensingh (8·6), Bhagulpore (8·1), Durbhunga (8·2), Hooghly (8·7), and Dinagepore (8·9). Great inequalities are observable in the expenditure on travelling allowances in different districts with reference to the work done. Thus it cost Rs. 910 to visit 739 villages in Burdwan, and only Rs. 844 to visit 3,342 in Hooghly. In Patna the assessors drew Rs. 836 as travelling allowance for visiting 271 villages; in the 24-Pergunnahs 2,030 villages were visited at a cost of Rs. 587; in Sarun 2,019 at a cost of Rs. 528; and in Monghyr 2,038 at a cost of Rs. 867.

11. The reports of the local officers regarding the popular feeling entertained towards the tax entirely confirm the views expressed by the Lieutenant-Governor in his Resolution on the last report. The exemption of incomes between Rs. 250 and Rs. 500 has relieved those on whom the impost pressed most severely, while the restriction of the assessment to a single fee for the principal place of business has removed a ground of complaint among the wealthier traders. Nevertheless the evils of change to which the Lieutenant-Governor alluded have also been felt. The reconstitution of the lowest grade, while it excluded incomes below Rs. 500, involved an increase from Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 on incomes ranging from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000. Gradually, however, this change will be found beneficial as tending to equalize rates, and one licensee will no longer be able to complain that while he pays Rs. 20 on an income of Rs. 1,000, his neighbour pays only Rs. 5 on an income of Rs. 900. The injudicious proceedings of some collectors in serving notices indiscriminately on all who took out licenses in the lowest grade in the previous year naturally caused much local discontent and excitement. Persons with incomes below Rs. 500 found themselves, not alone assessed when they should have been exempted, but called upon to pay a fee twice as great as that which they had unwillingly paid before. No further alterations in the law will, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts, be necessary, and he has also a hope that the instances of ill-considered assessment, which he has had to notice in this report, will not be repeated. Cases of misconduct on the part of the subordinate staff have been very rare. Where the tax has been judiciously administered, there have been few complaints specially directed against it, and there can be no doubt that the people will gradually acquiesce in a moderate and uniform demand. The Lieutenant-Governor is more satisfied than ever of the correctness of the opinion he expressed last year, that "what is really required now is that the people shall not be harassed or excited by constant change." People would sooner bear with the evils of a tax they know than be exposed to the evils they do not know of new forms of taxation, however much these may be intended theoretically to get rid of existing inequalities and anomalies.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor has taken note of the names of the officers selected for favourable mention. He observes, however, that the list contains the names of the Collectors of some districts in which the administration has not been altogether successful, while the names of others under whose charge specially favourable results have been obtained have been omitted. He desires to thank the Board for the careful report in which they have reviewed the administration of the year.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The mean temperature is obtained by applying to the mean of the 10h, 16h, and minimum readings a correction dependent on the range, and derived from the hourly observations at the Surveyor-General's Office, Chowringhee, in past years.

The means of the hygrometric elements are the crude means of the values derived from the three readings of the instruments.

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Major, M.S.C.,
Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

Calcutta, dated the 30th November 1881.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the four weeks ending 24th September 1881.

Report on Goods Traffic for the four weeks ending 24th September 1881.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd November 1881.

From —W. INNES, Esq., Acting Traffic Superintendent, E. B. Railway,

To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company.

From the attached report of traffic for four weeks ending 24th September, it will be seen that 11,93,897 maunds of goods were carried over this Railway during that period. Comparing this quantity with that carried during the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 3,06,785 maunds is shown.

On a perusal of the report, it will be seen this large increase is mainly due to the large traffic in jute and miscellaneous goods. I append the usual note as to the causes of the increases and decreases.

Increases.

Jute, in drums ... Mds. 1,13,095
The increase in this commodity, it is satisfactory to notice, still continues, and, as mentioned in former reports, is due to the exceptionally good crops, as well as the steady demand for export and fair prices obtained in the market.

Railway materials (foreign) ... Mds. 13,215
Large quantities of rails and stores have been forwarded to the Northern Bengal State Railway during the period under review, which accounts for the increase under this head.

Salt ... Mds. 16,069
Lately the traffic in this staple has been on the decrease, it is therefore satisfactory to have to report the present increase which, although not a very large one, gives signs of continuing.

Miscellaneous goods ... Mds. 20,564
This increase is certainly a very large one—in fact one of the largest hitherto reported under this head. Coming immediately before the Durga Puja holidays may so far account for it. This combined with the numerous facilities now afforded for the conveyance of goods and the large purchases made by dealers to meet the requirements of large fairs, generally held at this season, accounts in a great measure for the increase.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice ... Mds. 32,180
This is the first decrease of the kind reported during the current half-year, and is doubtless attributable to the dullness of the market generally.

Jute, in bales ... Mds. 13,417
This can scarcely be looked upon as a decrease, there being an actual increase of 1,29,678 maunds on the total quantity of jute carried.

Seeds ... Mds. 21,704
Market prices continue nominal, and the export is small.

Tobacco ... Mds. 11,512
The dullness in the market previously reported still continues and the high rates of export freight check business.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of October 1881.

GENERAL REMARKS.

THE two-fifths of a pie rate for jute, which was again brought into force on the 10th of the month under review, has had an appreciable effect on the traffic in this staple, as it will be seen, on reference to the maundage statement at foot, that 2,00,916 maunds have been carried, which weight is 1,25,390 maunds in excess of that lifted during the same month last year.

INCREASES.

Ginger ... Mds. 1,808
There has been a demand during the month for shipment to the coast ports.
Gunny-bags ... Mds. 9,891
The low rate at which the raw material is now obtainable on the spot enables hand-made bags to compete successfully with mill productions.
Jute ... Mds. 1,25,390
This increase is no doubt in a great measure due to the low rate at which this article is now being carried. The total weight lifted, 2,00,916, maunds, is the largest yet carried in one staple in any one month.
Salt ... Mds. 15,882
This traffic is being diverted from the boats to the rail much earlier than usual this year, owing to water communication throughout the district having failed much before the ordinary time.
Sugar ... Mds. 1,236
Buyers are no doubt taking advantage of the favourable rates now ruling to lay in stocks. The increase in this traffic for the past three months will probably result in a decrease later on.
Tea ... Mds. 1,179
The tea season was a very late one throughout the Darjeeling district, and the quantity short-manufactured and sent forward in April and May is now being made up.
All other goods ... Mds. 6,264
With the close of the rains an increase in this traffic is generally looked for, and as the rainfall this year has been comparatively light, and the transit by road in consequence earlier available, advantage is being taken to stock the local marts with the numerous articles carried under this head.

DECREASES.

Ale ... Mds. 880
Up to date the weight carried under this head stands at 12,108 maunds against 10,892 maunds for the same period of 1880 so that the decrease this month is probably due to previous heavy despatches.
Food-grain ... Mds. 10,311
This is the end of the season, and despatchers are waiting the result of the new crop. The high rate of freight in Calcutta has also had the effect of checking export.
Piece-goods ... Mds. 1,566
The quantity of piece-goods carried in August appears to have been in excess of the trade requirements, and until the surplus is worked off there will most likely be a slight falling off in this staple.
Railway materials ... Mds. 4,155
A cessation in the despatches of material for the Mogal Hat Line accounts for this decrease.
Tobacco ... Mds. 4,639
Nearly the whole of the tobacco from this district is shipped to Burma, and the scarcity of tonnage and the high rates of freight ruling are checking despatches.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction of the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2.55° lower and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean temperature is obtained by applying to the mean of the 10h, 16h, and minimum readings a correction dependent on the range, and derived from the hourly observations at the Surveyor-General's Office, Chowringhee, in past years.

The means of the hygrometric elements are the crude means of the values derived from the three readings of the instruments.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 13 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin,

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M. or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

6.—The said promissory notes shall be absolutely payable in any event and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such note or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium after making full payment as above prescribed shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious bidings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bona fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazee-pore factory for the year 1880-81, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazee-pore factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

19.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the Agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee-pore factories declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1882, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of opium required by them at any particular sale within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale; provided, however, that the Agent of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 56,400 chests of opium manufactured at the Patna and Ghazee-pore factories, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

"Article VI.—With regard to the trade in opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which opium shall have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for opium, as aforesaid, are to be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Cuttack, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Road Cess appears to have worked well.

Nine meetings were held by the District Committee, and the attendance was fair.

All the district and village roads were maintained in fair order. Improvements and extensions of village roads were made, and the numerous applications received for new roads show that such works are popular and useful. Various kinds of fruit-bearing trees were planted out on several of the district roads.

The Committee were satisfied with the manner in which their establishments worked.

CUTTACK ROAD CESS OFFICE, }
 The 6th December 1880. }

W. FIDDIAN,

Covenanted Dy. Coltr. in charge, for Chairman.

Abstract of a Report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Pooree, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Road Cess was levied at the maximum rate, and the percentage of collections on demand was above the average.

Both the District Committee and the Branch Committee at Khoorda worked satisfactorily.

The roads and culverts are still in a backward state for want of funds, but good progress is being made, and the funds available are expended with skill and judgment. Rs 1,892 were expended on village roads, and the villagers appear to have appreciated the benefits and importance of this class of works. A nursery garden was established in Pooree, and a small sum was spent in maintaining the trees planted on the road sides in the previous year, but only a few trees were planted on the road sides during the year under report.

The different establishments under the Committee worked well.

KOOMUD NATH MOOKERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of a report by the Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Balasore, on the Committee's operations for the cess year 1879-80.

THE Cess Act appears to have worked satisfactorily ; no complaints were heard against it, and the people appear to appreciate its benefits.

The Committee, consisting entirely of residents of the town, contributes but little practical knowledge in the matter of mofussil roads ; and it rests with the Chairman, the sub-divisional officer at Bhadrak, and the Assistant Superintendent of Police to supply all information not obtainable from subordinates. No Branch Committees have yet been established in the district.

The damages done to the roads by the floods were not considerable. For want of funds, the condition of the roads is not wholly satisfactory, but improvements have been made annually, and the roads generally are now in fair order. Petitions are frequently received from the villagers to have their roads repaired. Several village roads were taken in hand, and the work was done by the villagers ; difficulties in taking up land prevented more work being carried out. Three nursery gardens have been established in the district, and more money was spent on arboriculture than in the previous year.

The Committee were quite satisfied with the working of their district overseer, and of their head clerk and accountant.

Explanatory Memorandum to accompany the Annual Accounts of Income and Expenditure of the Cess year 1879-80.

A.—These original works were provided for in the budget estimate of the cess year 1878-79. The expenditure shown against each of these works during the year 1879-80 was incurred towards the close of the year 1878-79, out of the allotment of the latter year. But the regular accounts having been received and adjusted in the District Road Fund Office in the year 1879-80, the expenditure has been shown in the present annual account.

B.—The original budget allotment for this work was Rs. 600, but with the sanction of the Commissioner conveyed in his No. 181C, dated the 17th August 1880, Rs. 78 were transferred from this head to the head Soro to Gopinathpur road under "Repairs."

C.—The original budget allotment sanctioned under this head was Rs. 642. To this latter sum Rs. 23 were added under Commissioner's No. 149C, dated 8th July 1880, for sloping the banks of the Kundi river on the road from Bhadrak to Chandbali.

D.—The original budget allotment for this road was Rs. 550. To this sum Rs. 41-13-0 were added, vide Commissioner's No. 181C, dated 17th August 1880, and No. 256C, dated 12th October 1880.

E.—The original budget allotment for this road was increased by transfer sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 181C, dated 17th August 1880.

F.—The difference of Rs. 5-8-0 from the original budget allotment is due to transfer sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 256C, dated 12th October 1880.

G.—The original budget allotment was Rs. 260; Rs. 25 were afterwards added under Commissioner's No. 149C, dated 8th July 1880.

H.—The expenditure shown against each of the roads marked H. has exceeded the budget allotment. This excess is due to the fact that the expenditure incurred in the case of each of these roads towards the close of the year 1878-79 out of the allotment for that year has been included with the expenditure of the year 1879-80 as the accounts were received and adjusted during the latter year.

I.—The outstanding advances of last year having been adjusted during the year, the expenditure has exceeded the amount as per budget estimate.

H. G. COOKE,
Chairman.

No. 62C, dated Cuttack, the 11th February 1881.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department, Fort William.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith the annual accounts and reports of the several Road Cess Committees of this Division for the cess year 1879-80, for publication in the Calcutta Gazette under section 179 of the Cess Act, 1880.

2. The annual reports have been prepared in accordance with the instructions conveyed in Government Order No. 973A of the 14th September 1880.

3. The Chairmen report that the classification prescribed in Government Circular No. 201A of the 26th February 1880, has been observed in the preparation of the annual accounts. A slight departure is however apparent in the accounts of Balasore, where the items noted in the margin should have been shewn under "Stationery" instead of "Contingencies." The Chairman of the Committee will be told to strictly adhere to the instructions in future.

4. Duplicates of the accounts have been forwarded by the Chairmen direct to the Accountant-General as required by Government No. 201A of the 26th February last.

5. It will be seen in the Pooree accounts that the amounts shewn against sub-head "Miscellaneous" on the receipt side, and "Advances" under both the receipts and expenditure sides and against "Repairs, do not accord with the aggregate of the four quarterly returns, agreeably to paragraph 12 of the explanatory notes received with Government No. 173A of the 11th January 1878. The Vice-Chairman explains that this discrepancy is due partly to mistakes in the Accountant-General's Office in the compilation of the third and fourth quarterly returns, and partly to the fact that the refunds of expenditure that were eliminated from the third quarterly return under Government Circular No. 89A of the 5th December 1876, have been brought into the annual accounts under orders of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts. A copy of the Vice-Chairman's explanatory letter No. 27 of 24th January 1881, is enclosed for reference.

6. The estimated and actual receipts of the year compared with the receipts of the two previous years are shewn below:—

The Chairman of the Cuttack Committee explains that the heavy and incessant rains of last year interfered with the collections, which would otherwise, have attained the prescribed standard.

8 The sum of Rs. 4,128 shown under the head 'Miscellaneous' includes the following Government contributions towards the joint Road Cess and Public Work Cess establishments sanctioned in Government No. 2 of the 31st January 1879:—

10. The following statement shows the proposed and actual outlay on works during the year :—

DISTRICT.	ORIGINAL WORKS.				Total proposed.	Total actual.	Percentage.
	Proposed.	Actual.	Proposed.	Actual.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Cuttack	27,729	18,866	38,125	36,031	65,854	54,897	83.26
Pooree	15,115	9,815	4,310	4,710	19,425	14,525	74.55
Balasore	10,972	9,310	19,387	10,220	21,359	19,539	91.47
Total	53,816	37,991	61,822	50,970	1,06,693	88,961	83.38

11. The actual outlay on original works in Pooree fell short of what was proposed, owing partly to the works in connection with the road from Barabecoty to Pooree, proposed to be taken in hand not being carried out, and partly to a small portion of the allotment for the re-construction of the Delang bridge being spent during the year.

12. The following figures shew the expenditure incurred on village roads in each district during the year as compared with the expenditure of the previous year :—

DISTRICT.		Grants, 1878-80.	Expenditure, 1878-80.	Expenditure, 1879-81.	REMARKS.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Cuttack		10,165	9,522	7,704	* And not Rs. 1,892 0-3 as stated by the Chairman in his report.
Pooree		2,500	1,891	784
Balasore		2,594	2,532	2,106
Total		15,259	13,944	10,594

13. It will be seen that the subject of village roads received greater attention in every district during the year. In Pooree, however, the expenditure on this head is unduly small. The Committee is inclined to devote an unduly large portion of its funds to expensive engineering schemes and the village roads do not receive adequate attention. It is reported that the people are steadily putting in applications for roads, a fact which shows that they have begun to appreciate the benefits of the cess.

14. All the roads in this Division are reported to be in fair working order.

15. The attention of the Chairmen of the Committees has been called to the points noticed in the inspection notes of the Deputy Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who inspected all the offices during the year.

16. The Cess Act is reported to have worked smoothly and to be popular.

17. The late Officiating Collector and Chairman of Balasore reports that the Committee have to depend for practical knowledge with regard to mofussil roads on the Chairman and the sub-divisional officer of Bhadrak, all the members being residents of the town of Balasore. It is not understood why zemindars or other respectable tenure-holders or ryots living beyond the limits of the town have not been invited to join the Committee, and the present district officer will be asked to submit suitable nominations. It would, I think, be convenient if a Branch Committee were established at Bhuddruck. Branch Committees exist in all the other sub-divisions in the Division, and there seems to be no reason why there should not be one at Bhuddruck. To this point also the Chairman's attention will be called.

No. 27, dated the 24th January 1881.

From—BABOO KUMUD NATH MOOKERJEE, Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Pooree,

To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

With reference to your No. 30C, dated 15th instant, I have the honour to state as follows :—

1. Miscellaneous receipt during third quarter should be Rs. 8-7 and not Rs. 7-15 as shewn below :—

					Rs.	A.	P.
April 1880	1	0	0
May "	0	8	0
June "	6	15	0
Total	8	7	0

2. Advance on the receipt side was not shown in the accounts during third quarter as the refunds of expenditure were deducted from the head of service concerned, under circular No. 89A, dated 5th December 1876. But as per subsequent instructions of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, conveyed in his No. 160D, dated 17th February 1880, it should be Rs. 273-1-1 which stands thus :—

					Rs.	A.	P.
April 1880	13	8	0
May "	129	10	7
June "	129	14	6
Total					273	1	1

Similarly "advance" on the expenditure side during third quarter should be Rs. 865-7-11 and not Rs. 722-1-5 as shown below :—

					Rs.	A.	P.
April 1880	355	9	11
May "	298	7	6
June "	211	6	6
Total					865	7	11

3. Charges on repair work during fourth quarter should be Rs. 2,587-4-5 and not Rs. 2,457-1-10. The mistake was made in the Accountant-General's office in the compilation of the fourth quarterly return as will be seen from the figures shown in the monthly returns which stand thus :—

					Rs.	A.	P.
July 1880	25	0	0
August "	25	0	0
September "	2,537	4	5
Total					2,587	4	5

There being no such head as "Printing at private press" in the revised classification, the sum of Rs. 20-11-9 which was shown in the quarterly return under the head "Printing at private press" has been included under "Cost of forms" in the head "Contingencies" of the annual account.

Owing to the discrepancy above referred to in the third and fourth quarterly returns, the items referred to of the annual account did not accord with the aggregate of the fourth quarterly returns.

July 12th	104	12mo. rl	1st ...	1,000	Printed	0 12)	Bāneswar Ghosh, 140, Chitpur Road, Calcutta.	The story of the two royal brothers Bijaya and Basanta who were cruelly persecuted by their father, a native chief, at the instigation of their step-mother, is becoming popular with writers of the class of dramas under notice.	684
" 2nd	161	Svo. ..	1st ...	500	ditto ...	1 4 0	Matilāl Rāya, A. Bhatāli, Burdwan.	A well-known story from the Mahābhārat in the form of dialogue. The story is modified in some unimportant particulars for the purpose of its being made the subject of a jittā or melo-dramatic performance.	685

June 30th	117	12mo. dy	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 10 0	Banowāmlāl Goswāmi, Sāntipur, Nudda.	Most of the poems in this volume are descriptive of the sentiment of love, but there are also some pieces in which social institutions like widowhood are denounced and the past glories of India are set forth in glowing contrast to her present political subjection.	687
" 23rd	196	12mo. ..	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	Rabindra Nāth Tagore, Jorā-sāko, Calcutta.	A love poem in which the workings of that sentiment are described in a style and spirit which may well be regarded as marking the growth of a new school of erotic poetry in Bengali literature. The chief characteristics of this school are the representation of love as an absorbing sentiment, which is inexpressibly tender and devoid of the element of fortitude, and of love-making as a purely personal concern, which may be pursued in defiance of all other human concerns, and an intense realisation of all that is tender, delicate, and even fragile in external nature as being in perfect harmony with the subjective sentiment.	688
July 9th	166	Svo. dy.	1st ...	500	ditto	1 0 0	Trailokya Nāth Sanyāl, 72-4, Upper Circular Road, Calcutta.	Contains a further exposition of the new dispensation in which the fundamental religious doctrines of the Brahmi Samaj of India are explained and asserted in a somewhat controversial spirit, and concludes with brief notices of Buddha, Moses, and Christ as teachers of spiritual leaders of men.	689

July 27th	112	12mo. dy.	1st ...	1,000	ditto	0 3 0	Christian Tract and Book Society, 23, Chauringhi Road, Calcutta.	Christi's Old Organ: or, Home, Sweet Home , is a work of fiction in English illustrative of Christian principles, now for the first time translated into Bengali.	692
" 30th	386	12mo. dy.	3rd ...	1,000	ditto	1 2 0	Tarak Nāth Gānguli, Assistant Surgeon, Jossore.	This is perhaps the only novel (as distinguished from a romance or a poetical tale) yet written in Bengali. The incidents of every-day Bengali life constitute its subject, and are described with remarkable accuracy. The phases of Bengali life touched upon are various, and the whole forms a panorama of great moral and artistic interest.	693

The writer of a paper on the "Physical Debility of Bengalis" compares animal with vegetable food, and says that the comparison does not support the view that the inferior physique of Bengalis is due to the nature of their food. He thinks that bad air, bad water, and early marriage do more to debilitate Bengalis than anything else.	407
„ 13th	21	Svo. dy.	1st ...	700	ditto ...	0 4 0	ditto	The number opens with a paper written in a sentimental style, the object of which seems to be to express the opinion that poverty is not much sympathised with by those who have the power to relieve it. June 15th	48	8vo. rl.	1st ...	1,200	ditto ...	0 8 0	Sanjib Chandra Chatterji, Kámtápará, 21-Per-gunnahs.	The paper on the origin of Bengalis and the tale, entitled Mádhábitá , are continued. "Bálgálá Sáhitá" is an interesting paper containing a history of Bengali literature in the present century, and presenting a very hopeful view of its future. The interesting narrative of a journey to Palamow is continued.	416
July 20th	48	8vo. rl.	1st ...	1,200	ditto ...	0 8 0	ditto ...	The paper on the origin of Bengalis is continued. " Grihasannyas " is a short but pithy statement of the highest moral ideal of life thought out in ancient times in India and in modern times in Germany. A new novel by Babu Bankim Chandra Chatterji, entitled Anandamath , is commenced in this number. It has for its subject the Sannyási disturbance described by Dr. Hunter in his Annals of Rural Bengal . It seems to be Babu Bankim Chandra's plan to tell the story of that disturbance in a form half epic, half lyrical, and to work it up accordingly.	417
Sept. 12th	48	8vo. rl.	1st ...	1,200	ditto ...	0 8 0	ditto ...	Anandamath , Mádhábitá and the paper on the origin of Bengalis are continued. The writer of a paper on rhetoric seems to be of opinion that good rhetoric precedes good poetry.	418
June 28th	48	8vo. rl.	1st ...	600	ditto ...	0 6 0	Dwijendra Náth Tagore, 6, Dwárákánáth Tagore's Lane, Calcutta.	The writer of a paper on music says that there is a lack of sentiment in Hindu music of the present time which seriously detracts from its value and efficacy as one of the refining arts. Another writer is of opinion that dinner parties in this country are not got up on the plan of giving those who are invited an opportunity of cultivating good feelings.	419
July. 29th	18	8vo. rl.	1st ...	600	ditto ...	0 6 0	ditto ...	The number opens with a paper in which the effects of the progress of knowledge on the art of poetry are briefly explained. The next paper in the number blames those Bengalis as foolish and indolent who only condemn Englishmen for the existing grievances of the country.	420
Aug. 30th	48	8vo. rl.	1st ...	600	ditto ...	0 6 0	ditto ...	A Bengali translation of Kant's Critique of Pure Reason is begun in this number. A female writer has given a picture of Bengali female society in Calcutta in a spirit of levity and sarcasm.	421
July 24th	32	12mo.	1st ...	200	ditto ...	0 6 0	The history of the Tagore family of Calcutta is continued.	422

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION FOR 1880-81.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 19th November 1881.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Director of Public Instruction for the year 1880-81.

The Report of the Director of Public Instruction follows, in its arrangement of subjects, the order recently prescribed by the Government of India; but special sections have been added, as in former years, on the subjects of "European and Eurasian education" and "Female education." The statistical tables, which also follow the new form, combine information on the subject of schools for European and Eurasian students, with similar information for schools for native students only. This amalgamation has been carried out in conformity with the orders of the Government of India, and must be observed for the purposes of the report to be submitted to that Government. But as it is desirable that the returns intended for local information should illustrate the sections of the Director's report to which they refer, the Lieutenant-Governor requests that, so far, the statistical results for schools for European and Eurasian students may for the future be exhibited separately.

2. General Summary.—The Director remarks that in the year 1880-81 the rainfall was good, food was cheap, and the people generally were prosperous. These conditions are favourable to the spread of education; and accordingly the year has been marked by a large and general increase in the number both of schools and of pupils. As in former years, the increase is mostly due to the continued development of the system of primary instruction whereby indigenous village schools are brought within the circle of State superintendence and control; but education of a class above the primary also shows a very satisfactory and even remarkable advance. The returns for the year exhibit a total gain of 8,131 schools and 109,459 pupils, with which the increase for the last few years may be compared:

	Schools.	Pupils.
" 1879 " "	7,060	86,307
" 1880 " "	6,098	91,323
" 1881 " "	8,131	109,459

There has thus been a gain in four years of 26,029 schools with 339,138 pupils. Since 1877, when there were 21,478 schools and 589,351 pupils, the number of schools under inspection has more than doubled, while the number of pupils has increased by nearly 60 per cent. It must of course be understood that most of these pupils had been already receiving some sort of instruction in private schools; but many were, without doubt, induced to attend school for the first time during the year by the superior advantages held out under the system of State supervision. Of the whole number of 928,489 pupils in schools of all classes, 893,941 are boys. The number of males in Bengal is shown by the recent census to be about 34 millions, which would, according to the ordinary estimate of 15 per cent., comprise about 5,100,000 boys of school-going age, among whom therefore more than one in six is at school. Among girls of school-going age, about one in 150 is at school.

3. The following statement summarises the returns for two years:—

CLASS OF INSTRUCTION.		1880.		1881.
		Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
University ...	Colleges ...	20	2,080	20	2,526
Secondary ...	High English schools ...	200	38,618	218	42,558
	Middle " " ...	554	32,812	588	35,348
	" vernacular " ...	1,085	54,562	1,028(a)	54,208
Primary ...	Lower " " ...	1,498	54,296	1,701	59,318

European and Eurasian	46	4,532 (c)
Total ...		39,376	819,030	47,507	928,489

There is therefore an increase of 446 pupils in colleges affiliated to the University in Arts; of 3,940 pupils in high English schools reading to the University Entrance examination; of 2,536 pupils in middle English schools; of 5,022 pupils in lower vernacular schools, and of 88,116 pupils in primary schools. The increase in the number of primary school pupils would have appeared to be greater by about 10,000, but for the fact that indigenous toles and maktabs, in which Sanskrit and Arabic alone are taught, have been reclassified in the last returns under the head of special instruction—a change which also explains the slight decrease under middle vernacular schools. The number of girls at school has increased by 4,557. These figures are, however, subject to some deduction, owing to the reclassification of schools for Europeans.

4. The schools shown in the preceding table are again classified as follows:—

CLASS OF INSTITUTIONS.		1880.		1881.
		Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Government schools and colleges	301	29,332	308	22,776
Aided " "	32,412	683,352	40,490	777,173

Total ...		39,376	819,030	47,507	928,489

The increase of two in the number of Government institutions is nominal. The college department of the Bethune School, and the law department of the Ravenshaw College at Cuttack—a small class maintained entirely from the fee-receipts—have now for the first time been shown as an addition to the number of colleges. Excluding primary schools, aided schools show the following changes: an increase of three in the number of high English, and of nine in that of middle English schools; a loss of three middle vernacular, and a gain of 194 lower vernacular schools. The last item of increase has been brought about for the most part under the primary system, which permits the rise of good primary schools to the lower vernacular standard. The allotment of Rs. 4,50,000 for grants-in-aid having now for some years been fully assigned, the changes under that head are necessarily small, and are limited to whatever increase can be effected by a more economical distribution of grants. Under these conditions the chief modes in which progress can be manifested are an increase in the number of pupils attending established schools, and a continued advance towards efficient management and teaching. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to complain of the progress that has been made in these directions during the year, but it is necessary that the officers of the department should bear in mind the principle that grants are not earned by schools merely on the ground of continued existence. Steady progress towards a higher standard of efficiency can alone justify the claim of any aided school to Government support.

 (b.) Including 284 boys reading in girls' schools.
 (c.) European and Eurasian schools not shown separately in this year's returns.

5. The following table compares the expenditure for the year with the budget provision:—

BUDGET HEAD OF EXPENDITURE.		Sanctioned estimate, 1880-81.	Expenditure, 1880-81.
		Rs.	Rs.
Direction and inspection	4,18,100	4,43,647
Government colleges and madrasahs	4,53,558	4,56,934
Government schools	6,47,300	6,69,735
Grants-in-aid and assignments—
For secondary and superior instruction	4,25,000	4,13,321
For primary instruction	4,00,000	4,07,286
Scholarships	1,60,000	1,50,802
Miscellaneous	48,712	33,346
Total ..		25,52,700	25,75,071
Less receipts	4,68,893	5,13,856
Net Government expenditure...		20,83,807	20,61,215

The expenditure and receipts have respectively exceeded the original sanctioned estimate by Rs. 22,000 and Rs. 45,000, the net result being a saving of Rs. 23,000. The fact that receipts from Fees and Fines were better than the estimate by Rs. 40,000 is a satisfactory indication of greater willingness on the part of the public to pay for the schooling of their children, while the extra expenditure of Rs. 22,000 incurred under the head of Government schools shows that the balances standing at the credit of these institutions are being utilized as they should be. On the other hand, the excess of expenditure over the estimates under the head of Direction and Inspection shows that the requirements of the service in regard to travelling allowances were inaccurately gauged when the estimates were framed.

6. The foregoing figures refer only to those payments and receipts that appear upon the Government books. If the whole expenditure upon education in Government and aided schools be taken into account, including university charges paid by candidates, the charges for medical education, and the fee-receipts of aided schools, it will be found that the Government expenditure has risen from Rs. 21,97,000 in 1879-80 to Rs. 22,64,000 in 1880-81, while the private expenditure has increased in the same period from Rs. 25,71,000 to Rs. 28,56,000. These results are satisfactory for they show the continuance of the progressive increase of contributions from private sources towards the cost of education noticed in last year's Resolution. In the year 1878-79, private contributions for the first time exceeded the Government grant. In 1879-80, the latter fell to 46 per cent., while in the year under review it has amounted only to 44 per cent. of the total expenditure. Those figures are exclusive of the expenditure in unaided schools, which has now, for the first time, been brought upon the returns, so far as the necessary information has been supplied by the schools concerned. If this be included, the total expenditure on education rises to Rs. 55,86,000, of which the share paid by Government was a little over 40 per cent.

7. The proportion of Mahomedan pupils in all schools and colleges has risen during the year from $18\frac{1}{2}$ to 20 per cent. The proportion is greatest, in primary schools, in which out of 108,000 new pupils 31,000 are Mahomedans. "In English schools also," the Director writes, "the proportion of Mahomedan pupils is greater than the year before; while in colleges for general education it is less. In colleges for professional instruction the proportion has diminished, there being now only one Mahomedan in the Engineering, and none in the Medical College." The latter fact is to be regretted for experience has shown that the Mahomedans have been very successful in the medical profession. The number of Mahomedan pupils in technical schools shows a considerable increase. From the beginning of the present year, the Lieutenant-Governor has sanctioned the payment, from the Mohsin Endowment Fund, of two-thirds of the fees of every Mahomedan pupil reading in any of the aided colleges of Calcutta;—a concession by which it is hoped that the number of Mahomedan students reading for the B.A. degree will be sensibly augmented. In passing down the list from colleges, through high and middle schools, to primary schools, the proportion of Mahomedan pupils advances steadily from $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 22 per cent. In technical schools the proportion is $13\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. The ordinary primary schools of the country are believed to be, in general, as fully suited to the requirements of Mahomedan as of Hindoo pupils, the vernacular of the former being in nearly all cases that of the people among whom they live; but the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the practice of subsidising Mahomedan maktabs, on condition of their teaching the vernacular and a little arithmetic in addition to the Koran, has been extended with successful results.

8. Controlling agencies.—The Director represents that the operations of the department have increased so enormously of late years as to relax to some extent the hold of the superior controlling staff upon the schools, notwithstanding the relief afforded by the appointment of Assistant Inspectors in 1879. He also observes that the rapid development of primary education has converted Sub-Inspectors into Central Examiners. These officers were originally appointed with the object of locally inspecting and examining primary schools which, in the absence of local inspection, cannot be expected to show as great improvement as might otherwise be looked for. It is true that at the central examinations the good schools are readily distinguishable from the bad, and that emulation and the hope of increased rewards are not without their effect in raising the status of inferior schools. Still, as Mr. Croft urges, "prevention is in all cases better than detection; but when left to themselves, schools of the class that we are now considering are necessarily confirmed in whatever radical faults of discipline or method they may be suffering from; and even when these faults are made manifest by the results of examination, and are pointed out to the teachers, the precepts then given, if they are to be of use, ought to be followed up by practical lessons among the guru's own pupils, and in his ordinary surroundings. It is to this cause that we must ascribe the fact that, though the standard of instruction in primary schools progresses, it does not progress at an equal rate with the extension of its area."

In the present development of primary education, an increase in the strength of the inspecting staff would undoubtedly be beneficial, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to consider moderate proposals to that effect. It must, however, be remembered that no large increase is under present circumstances possible, and that the chief duties of inspecting officers must still be connected with the examination of primary schools by the prescribed standards. Even the examination for rewards, may, there are reasons to believe, be conducted in too minute and detailed a manner.

9. The inspection of secondary schools has been, on the whole, satisfactorily conducted, though there is still great room for improvement in several districts. In the resolution of Government upon the Education Report for 1878-79, it was declared that "the proper duties of Deputy Inspectors are (1) the immediate personal inspection of secondary schools, and (2) the general supervision of primary education through the agency of Sub-Inspectors."

These orders give secondary schools the first claim on the Deputy Inspector's attention. In the Presidency, Dacca, Burdwan, and Rajshahye Divisions, the average number of visits was 156, 126, 111, and 95 respectively—a result which is not unsatisfactory, considering that during the year educational officers were largely employed in duties connected with the census. It is otherwise, however, with the figures for particular districts; and the Deputy Inspectors of Pubna, Tipperah, Midnapore, and especially of Bhagulpore, should be called on to explain their apparent neglect of duty in this respect. On the whole, however, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Director that “in spite of exceptions here and there, secondary schools are receiving much more attention now than they have at any time since 1872, from which the present development of primary instruction dates.”

10. The Director quotes at length a passage from the report of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, in which it is stated that the Committees appointed under the grant-in-aid rules for the local management of schools have not as yet realised the expectations of those who framed that system, and are apt to abdicate their functions in favour of some individual member of energy and local influence. Mr. Croft is not displeased with this state of things, believing that the “requirements of education are satisfied even though the principle of self-government be lost.” The truth seems to be that local bodies of the sort, whether in Europe or in India, are not all composed of working members. The majority gladly see some energetic member do the work which should in theory devolve on all. If the work is done satisfactorily in this manner, it is perhaps as much as can at present be expected, but it is to be hoped that as the principle and methods of local self-government become better understood, the proportion of active members of educational committees will gradually become greater.

11. University Education.—The affiliation to the University of the college classes recently opened in the Bethune school for girls has raised the number of Government colleges to 12, seven of which are of the first grade, teaching the full course for the B.A. degree, while five, including the Bethune classes, are of the second grade, teaching to the standard of the First Examination in Arts. The Cathedral Mission College was closed by its managers at the end of 1880, and the number of aided colleges has accordingly been reduced to five. Three of these teach the full course for the degree; and two—the Doveton and the London Mission Colleges—that for the First Arts standard. The establishment of the City College in Calcutta, under the management of a committee of native gentlemen has made an addition of one to the number of unaided colleges. The Serampore College has ceased to furnish returns. The other two unaided colleges are La Martinière and the Metropolitan Institution, both in Calcutta. The latter is the only unaided college that teaches up to the B.A. degree.

12. The total number of students in all colleges has risen during the year from 2,080 to 2,526, or by more than 21 per cent.—a rate of increase which the Director describes as unprecedented. In Government colleges there has been an increase of 174 students, or 15 per cent.; in aided colleges of 155, or 23½ per cent.; and in unaided colleges of 117, or nearly 35 per cent. The first place, in point of numbers, is again taken by an aided college, the General Assembly's Institution, which contained on the 31st March last 501 students—a number far exceeding the strength of any college, Government or private, in any previous year. The unaided Metropolitan Institution has now risen to the second place, with 380; while the Presidency College follows, with 344 students. The rate of fees at the Presidency College is rightly maintained at the comparatively high rate of Rs. 12 a month for each student, while in no private college, aided or unaided, does it exceed Rs. 5 a month. Next in order among Government colleges come those of Dacca, Hooghly, and Patna, with 257, 194, and 162 students respectively, there being a large increase in the case of the two former colleges. Among smaller Government colleges, the increase in the Sanskrit College from 34 to 54, in the Berhampore College from 20 to 33, and in the Ravenshaw College from 31 to 40, must be regarded as satisfactory. The aided Free Church Institution in Calcutta shows the large increase of 76 students, from 69 to 145; while the number of undergraduates in La Martinière has risen from 4 to 20.

13. The expenditure returned for collegiate education in Government and aided colleges shows a decrease, which is merely nominal, from Rs. 4,58,432 in 1879-80 to Rs. 4,56,125 in 1880-81. Of the total expenditure, Rs. 2,43,775 were contributed by the State, and Rs. 2,12,352 from other sources, showing an increase in the former and a decrease in the latter as compared with last year's figures. The average cost of students in Government colleges now stands at Rs. 325, Rs. 215 of which are supplied by Government; while in aided colleges each student costs Rs. 193, of which sum about one-sixth comes from State funds. It will be thus observed that while the share paid by the State has slightly risen in Government colleges, it has fallen considerably in aided colleges.

14. Comparing, however, the financial results for four years, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that Government expenditure on collegiate education has increased more largely than expenditure from private sources. It is no doubt true that the income from these sources has increased also, but it has not increased in the same proportion as expenditure from State revenues. The demand for collegiate education has compelled the Government to provide additions to the professorial staff. This demand is a growing one, and it is, in Sir Ashley Eden's opinion, impossible that Government can keep pace with this growing demand; any further increase of expenditure for the staff of Colleges should be paid by the students themselves. The soundness of this principle, in the present circumstances of education in Bengal, can hardly be contested. With a steady annual increase in the number of college students, such as is now taking place, the cost of the colleges to Government ought year by year to show some corresponding reduction. Without, however, insisting on reduction below present expenditure, the Director of Public Instruction will be requested to consider, in communication with the Principals of Colleges, what moderate increase can be made in the fee-rates of colleges other than the Presidency College, without inflicting any sensible hardship on students, and without materially diminishing their number. Local circumstances, and the cost of the local college to Government and to the people, should be fully considered in each case. The Lieutenant-Governor is quite aware how moderate are the resources of the middle classes in Bengal—the classes from which the colleges are filled and which correspond in social position though not in wealth to the professional classes in England, and how little foundation there is for the statement which is sometimes heard that the Government is gratuitously educating those who can well afford to pay for their own education. The condition of things in Bengal is very different to that in England, and the Lieutenant-Governor certainly has no desire to check in any way the spread of high education, or to diminish the facilities for obtaining it. But it is none the less true that in the present day the cost of high education should not form a constantly increasing charge upon the State, and that a moderate increase in the rates of fees, while it will involve no appreciable hardship to the people, will result in a juster distribution of the cost of institutions in the maintenance of which Government and the people are alike interested.

15. The results of the University Examinations were in every way satisfactory. At the First Arts Examination, 311 candidates passed out of 813, or 38 per cent., against 29 per cent. in the previous year. Of those candidates who presented themselves at the examination for the first time, nearly 49 per cent. passed, but only 30 per cent. of those who had previously failed were successful. From Government Colleges 43 per cent. of the candidates passed; from other institutions 33½ per cent. The Presidency College passed 49 per cent. of its candidates; the Dacca and Sanskrit Colleges 47 per cent.; the Rajshahye, Kishnaghur, Hooghly, and Patna Colleges from 42 to 34 per cent. Of the smaller colleges, eight candidates passed out of 11 at Cuttack, and five out of six at Chittagong. Three candidates out of 12 passed at Midnapore, and one out of seven at Berhampore. The only candidate from the Bethune School passed. From the General Assembly's College, 57 candidates passed out of 175; and from the Metropolitan Institution 48 out of 137.

16. At the B.A. Examination, 126 candidates passed out of 325, the proportion being 38 per cent. against 36 per cent. in the previous year. Of those who appeared for the first time, 51 per cent. passed. From six Government colleges 74 candidates passed out of 159, from four aided colleges 30 out of 69, and from the unaided Metropolitan Institution, which sent up candidates for the first time to this examination, 16 passed out of 38. It is a source of great satisfaction to the Lieutenant-Governor to find that the private colleges of Calcutta, both aided and unaided, are so thoroughly efficient as these results prove them to be; and he has little doubt that the existence by their side of the Presidency College, with its large and efficient staff of professors, and their consequent emulation with it, have contributed in no small degree to this satisfactory result. Independently, therefore, of the benefits which it has directly conferred upon successive generations of students, the Presidency College has served a no less useful purpose in the gradual elevation of private colleges to its own standard of efficiency. In one important respect, indeed, its example and practice are not so closely followed. The Presidency College may be regarded as the centre of scientific instruction for this side of India. The majority of its students elect the scientific course of university instruction, while the other colleges of Calcutta choose for the most part the course in literature. The Presidency College turns out year by year a number of distinguished students versed in physical science; and thus occupies a place which cannot be filled by any other college in Calcutta. Of the candidates from all colleges in Bengal, 132 chose the course in literature, and 163 the course in science; of the former 32 per cent., and of the latter 56 per cent. passed. Of the candidates in science, six from the Presidency and five from the Hooghly College gained places in the first division; the other two places in that division being secured by candidates from the Dacca and the Cathedral Mission College. On the literature side only one candidate, belonging to the General Assembly's College, was placed in the first division. In Government colleges, 45 students appeared at the examination in literature, and 12 passed; while 114 were examined in science of whom 56 passed. Among the students of colleges in the mofussil, 13 presented themselves for examination by the former standard and 61 by the latter. It is only in the Dacca and Kishnaghur Colleges, among those in the mofussil, that the literature course is read by any students. The course in science is read in every Government college that reads to the B.A. standard. The Ravenshaw College again passed a candidate, this being the second year of success since its establishment. The permanent maintenance of this institution as a first grade college for Orissa has been now definitely sanctioned.

17. For the M.A. degree 46 candidates appeared; 24 competed for Honours, of whom 19 were successful, and 22 for the ordinary degree, of whom 10 passed. From the Presidency College, nine gained Honours and eight the ordinary degree, chiefly in English, mathematics, and physical science. From the Sanskrit College, one candidate out of two took Honours in Sanskrit. The five candidates for Honours from the Hooghly College were all successful; two in English, two in physical science, and one in mathematics. One student gained Honours in botany from Patna College, and one passed in Sanskrit from Dacca. Of the aided colleges, the General Assembly's Institution passed two candidates, the Free Church College one and the Cathedral Mission College one—all in English.

18. Secondary Education.—The number of high English Government schools in Bengal remains the same as in the previous year, 48; but the pupils reading in them have slightly increased from 13,727 to 13,867. Aided schools show an apparent increase of 10, from 88 with 10,800 pupils to 98 with 12,435; seven of these, however, are high schools for Europeans, now for the first time included with the rest. Unaided schools have nominally increased from 64, with 14,091 pupils, to 72, with 16,256 pupils; but the re-classification of schools for Europeans accounts for six out of the increased number. Altogether, there were at the close of the year 218 high schools, with 42,558 pupils; the cost of which was Rs. 2,02,045 to Government and Rs. 5,89,546 from local sources. The most noticeable feature in connection with higher English education is the extraordinary demand for instruction of this nature manifested in Behar. If this demand continues unabated, as the Lieutenant-Governor trusts it may, it will hardly be possible for Government to provide sufficient school accommodation from the funds at its disposal. It therefore becomes a matter of pressing importance that some encouragement should be given to the establishment of private schools. As observed by the Director this can be most effectively done by raising the fees of Government schools. The subject is one which deserves the best attention of District Committees, whose action on the matter must necessarily go a great way towards promoting or obstructing private enterprise in educational matters. As Sir Ashloy Eden remarked last year; no Government school has any good ground to resent the establishment of a well-managed private school in its neighbourhood, even though its fee-receipts may be thereby diminished. Private schools supply education at a cheaper rate; and they may be so managed as to act as feeders to the zillah schools, which might thus in course of time cease to impart instruction in rudimentary subjects.

19. At the Entrance Examination of 1880, 2,031 candidates appeared from 204 schools, of whom 1,184 or more than 58 per cent passed. Government schools passed 71 per cent. of their candidates, and private schools, aided and unaided, 52 per cent. These proportions are much higher than those of any previous year. Among collegiate schools, the Hare and Hindu schools, attached to the Presidency College at Calcutta, maintain their traditional places at the head of the list. The Dacca Collegiate school has regained the third place on the list with 31 successful candidates; and is followed by the Hooghly Collegiate, Rajshahye, Hooghly Branch, and Sanskrit Collegiate schools. The Kishnaghur school has fallen from the third to the eighth place—a result ascribed to the unusual sickness that prevailed in the district, and to an unavoidable change of head-masters three times in the course of the year. All the candidates from the Berhampore Collegiate school, 12 in number, passed the Entrance Examination.

20. Zillah schools of the first class, that is, those with 300 pupils and upwards, have increased from 11 to 12 by the addition of the Monghyr school. The 12 schools together show an increase of 301 pupils, of whom six schools in Bengal contribute 157, and six in Behar 144. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the Mahomedan pupils of Behar readily attend the Hindi classes in the zillah schools. In Behar at the present day a knowledge of Hindi is of much more practical value than a knowledge of Urdu. Among zillah schools of the first class the Utarpara school held the highest place at the Entrance Examination, being followed by Burisal. In the second class of zillah schools (that is those having from 175 to 300 pupils) Bankoora is the most distinguished; while in the third or lowest class the Barrackpore, Balasore, Purulia, and Pooree schools have taken the foremost places. The Hazaribagh and Chyebassa schools were very unsuccessful, a fact which is not satisfactorily explained by the Director's theory that high education is not sought after in districts where third class schools are situated. The results of the year's working show that the instruction, the management, and the inspection of the zillah and collegiate schools have been on the whole very efficient.

21. The number of aided schools has increased by three, and the progress of these institutions, as tested by the Entrance Examination, continues to be satisfactory. There are 32 aided schools in the Presidency, and 37 in the Burdwan Division. In each of the other Divisions there are from three to five schools of this class, except in Chota Nagpore and Orissa, where there are two and one respectively. In the latter Division, as in Behar, the great difficulty at present in establishing high schools is the cost of teachers, all of whom have to be imported from Bengal.

22. Excluding six schools for Europeans, the number of unaided schools is 66. Of these 17 are in Calcutta, 18 in the Presidency Division, 12 in Burdwan, nine in Dacca, six in Patna, and one in each of the other Divisions. In some unaided schools, like those at Durbhunga and Burdwan, which occupy the place of zillah schools, no fees are charged—a system of management which though well intentioned is of somewhat questionable utility. As pointed out by Baboo Bhoodeb Mookerjee, no analogy exists between the conditions under which gratuitous education was provided in the Sanskrit tolas and those which now prevail in English and vernacular schools. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to agree in the remark quoted by the Director that—"It is only when pupils are prompted by a strong desire for education that they make any real progress; and the payment of proper rates of fees is a sort of guarantee that they are actuated by such a desire." Reference was made in the last resolution to a class of fictitious schools which started up once a year, two or three months before the Entrance Examination, for the purpose of granting certificates of eligibility to candidates rejected at the test examinations of other schools. The recent regulation of the Syndicate of the University, that no candidate can be sent up by a school in which he has not read for six months, has had a most salutary effect. The Director declares that the great majority of unaided schools are well managed and attentive to discipline.

23. Middle English schools have increased from 554 with 32,812 pupils to 588 with 35,348 pupils; the increase including, however, one unaided and 14 aided schools for Europeans. Government schools have nominally increased from eight to 10 by the re-classification of the schools at Rangamati and Bogra. Aided schools show an increase of 23 and unaided schools of nine. Taking both classes together there is a large increase both of schools and of pupils; and the Director is no doubt right in his inference that "whatever objection might have been felt at the outset to the vernacular constitution of middle English schools that objection has now practically disappeared."

In the Behar Circle, the increasing desire for English education, which has been referred to in the case of high schools, has manifested itself in middle schools also. The returns show an increase of 812 pupils in schools of this class; 525 in the Patna Division and 337 in Bhagulpore. The only difficulty attending the vernacular constitution of English schools in Behar—the want of trained vernacular teachers—will, it is hoped, soon be removed by the new organization of the Patna normal school.

24. In connection with schools of this class, a measure adopted in Bankoora where patshalas have been opened in connection with most of the middle schools whether English or vernacular deserves some attention. "The school-boys in the primary stage of instruction have all joined the attached patshalas, and have been returned as primary pupils. The schools proper," it is added, "are being managed with a smaller number of teachers, and some of the grants have been reduced." The separation therefore has the effect of increasing the number of primary school pupils and diminishing the number of those returned for middle schools; and if carried out universally, it would very materially increase the number of primary schools and of the pupils reading in them. It appears, however, to the Lieutenant-Governor that the only purpose to which statistics of primary education can be usefully applied, is to determine, so far as reliance can be placed on them, the extent to which education is spreading among the masses of the people. No assistance is given towards the framing of such an estimate if the returns of schools for the masses are inflated by the addition of the lower sections of schools which are not intended for the masses nor used by them. The pupils in high English schools, for example, from the highest to the lowest form, belong generally to the middle classes of society, and are all within what may be called the sphere of high education. To amalgamate the lower section of those schools with the general returns of pupils in primary schools would be, to combine two things which have no common character. With middle schools no doubt other considerations come in. While many schools of this class are, from the circumstances of their position, attended almost exclusively by the middle classes, there are others, both English and vernacular, especially in villages in which no separate primary school exists, which are attended indifferently by pupils from the middle and from the lower classes of society. In the Darjeeling Terai, for example, a loss of pupils in middle schools is ascribed "to the simple fact of the people requiring their boys to work in the fields." As the Director remarks, for such pupils the education of the patshalas is most suitable. Each case should be considered in reference to the special circumstances of the locality, and if the school contains a fair proportion of the lower classes—such a proportion for example as existed in the indigenous patshalas of the country, in which it is known that pupils of the middle and the lower classes read together—there can be no objection to converting the lower section into a separate school to be classed as primary. If the establishment of a patshala had the effect of attracting pupils who now stand aloof from the middle school, there would be a still greater reason for the separation.

25. Middle vernacular schools have nominally decreased from 1,085, with 54,562 pupils, to 1,029 with 54,208 pupils; but much of this apparent loss of 57 schools is due to the transfer of 48 Sanskrit cols to another class. Of the whole number, 172 are Government schools, 769 are aided, and 87 unaided; and there has been a loss of three schools under each head. These fluctuations appear to show, as the Director points out, that "middle vernacular schools are not altogether popular or successful. They are in fact pressed upon in two directions. On the one hand, the primary system draws off the lower section of their pupils year by year in an increasing ratio, as the schools belonging to that system rise in standard; on the other, middle English schools under their new constitution of a vernacular basis, possess all the attractions and advantages that vernacular schools over had, and they offer instruction in English besides. The late reform, moreover, by assimilating middle English to middle vernacular schools has not only improved the standard of the former class, but has also made it easy for the latter to attain to it." In these views the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs. The Director rightly points out that though the knowledge of English gained in schools of this class has no very great educational value, either as a means of mental training or as a source of profit or intellectual pleasure, yet it will be a gain to the pupils in other ways, and the machinery of the vernacular schools may rightly be employed in securing that advantage to scholars over and above the sound education which the Lieutenant-Governor believes to be given through the ordinary curriculum of middle vernacular schools. The weaker middle schools are laying aside English, and the stronger are taking it up; the latter in almost every case without any increase in the Government grant. The change is one of great importance; it is the direct result of the orders of 1877, constituting middle schools on a vernacular basis, and was indeed confidently predicted from the first.

26. The examinations for middle scholarships, English and vernacular, showed the following results. For the English scholarships, 347 schools sent 976 candidates, of whom 583 passed. For vernacular scholarships, 931 schools sent 3,509 candidates, of whom 2,004 passed. The results of the English examination, show but little change as compared with the preceding year, while there is a remarkable advance in the success of pupils at the vernacular examination. The Director believes that the comparatively unsatisfactory results of the former examination are due to the fact that many pupils in middle English schools now prefer to compete for vernacular scholarships as having a higher money value, and this opinion seems to be supported by the great improvement shown in the results of the vernacular scholarship examination. The separate proposals described at length in the report for the introduction of important changes in the value and the terms of tenure of middle scholarships, and in the conduct of the examinations, are now under the consideration of Government.

27. Lower vernacular schools have increased from 1,498, with 54,296 pupils, to 1,701 with 59,318 pupils. The great majority of these schools are aided from the primary grant, at the rate of from Rs. 2 to Rs. 5 a month, and have in most cases grown out of ordinary village schools. The Director remarks that, in point of organization and discipline, these schools serve as models to the primary schools in their neighbourhood, and it is no doubt true that, among many thousand primary schools, there will always be a considerable number which, by a quite natural and healthy process of development, tend to rise to a higher standard. At the same time, the upward tendency of these schools should be jealously watched, if there is any danger that when raised to a higher standard their former pupils may no longer attend them, or may no longer receive the education best fitted for them. Schools of this class will in future be called "upper primary schools," in fuller conformity with the new classification of the Government of India. For the lower vernacular scholarship examination of 1880, 1,139 schools sent up 2,731 candidates, of whom 1,677 passed. The results were not very different from those of the previous year; the new schools lately brought into this class not having yet attained to the full standard, and, therefore, producing no effect upon the results of the last examination. If, however, a comparison be made with the examination of 1876, when their number was 1,500, it will be evident that considerable progress can be claimed for lower vernacular schools. In that year the number of successful candidates was 867, or little more than half that passing in 1880, when the number of schools was not much greater. The efficiency of lower vernacular schools varies widely in different parts of the country; but it may be noticed that in the Burdwan Division 75 per cent. of the whole number of schools, and 91 per cent. of those that competed, were successful at the examination.

28. Primary Education.—The total number of primary schools for boys has risen from 35,258 with 613,452 pupils, to 41,699 with 701,568 pupils, showing an increase of 6,441 schools and 88,116 pupils. Besides these, indigenous tols and maktabs, to the number of nearly 1,400 with 10,000 pupils, which in the previous year were included among primary schools, have now been transferred to the head of "special instruction." It follows that about 98,000 additional pupils have been brought on the returns of primary schools. Of the whole number of schools returned as primary, 36,002 with 618,328 pupils receive aid in some form or other from Government, while 5,697 with 83,240 pupils are unaided. In the case of many schools, which, though brought within the limits of the primary system, are not yet advanced enough to send their pupils to the central examinations for rewards, the amount of aid is limited to the yearly payment of a rupee to the teacher for keeping a register and submitting an annual return. No great reliance can, it is true, be placed upon figures thus obtained; but as observed by the Director the maintenance in primary schools of a register is useful as a means for the education of primary teachers in the elements of school organization. Eventually the statistics thus obtained may become accurate, but for the present it is only by indirect and partial methods that any test can be applied to the returns of attendance in primary schools. The superior inspecting officers have occasional opportunities of checking the returns furnished by particular schools; but this is necessarily a test of very limited applicability. A better check is supplied by comparing the returns of schools and pupils with the results of the primary scholarship examination from year to year. The tests thus applied seem to show that although the correctness of the figures in the case of individual schools may be questioned, the general effect is not misleading, and affords an useful basis for comparing the results of different years. If with these reservations they be provisionally accepted, the general character of the primary system in Bengal may be indicated as follows: Each teacher of an aided school receives on the average Rs. 9½ a year from Government, and Rs. 34 from the village, or about Rs. 43 a year altogether, besides payment in kind, such as clothes and rice. Or, again, since an aided primary school contains on an average 17 pupils, each pupil costs Government nine annas a year out of a total of Rs. 2-9. The schools are therefore essentially village schools, maintained by the people for the people, with some moderate support from Government.

29. By the statement that 80,000 or 100,000 pupils are added to the returns annually, it is not pretended that so many new pupils are brought to school who were not at school before. The Government system discovers schools; it does not, except to a comparatively limited extent, create them. The advantages which may rightly be claimed for the system are, however, these: The connection of a school with Government, however slight it may be, tends to secure its stability by the hope of future profit; the requirement that registers shall be kept gives each teacher an interest in increasing the number of his pupils and in enforcing, so far as may be, regularity of attendance; and the examination of pupils by standards of various degrees of difficulty, from that of the primary scholarship down to the most elementary subjects of patshala instruction, makes it easy for the schools to advance from stage to stage; while the rates of reward, increasing with the standards, and also a natural spirit of emulation, supply the teachers with the necessary incentives to progress. The object of the system is the gradual and general improvement of ordinary village schools, within the limits proper to primary education. In reference to this point, the Director draws attention to a special source of danger, namely that of so raising or altering the standard that it no longer corresponds to an ordinary peasant's, trader's or artisan's requirements. Slate-arithmetic and the reading of printed books have too often been allowed wholly or partially to take the place of some of the old subjects of patshala instruction. "This is," the Director observes, "especially the case with mental arithmetic—a subject on which no great stress can be laid in the scholarship examination, since that has now come to be conducted more and more fully by written papers, the number of candidates, which increases yearly, preventing the use of vivâ voce questions to any great extent. But this evil, the existence of which has been specially noticed in Midnapore and in Orissa, is a serious one. Readiness and rapidity of calculation have been the pride of patshala pupils and the strength of patshala instruction for many generations; and we shall have altogether failed to make the best use of the materials at our command unless we preserve and confirm their most useful elements." This observation is entirely borne out by facts that came under Sir Ashley Eden's own observation during a recent visit to Midnapore; where, in a large gathering of primary schools, he found the pupils remarkably deficient in mental arithmetic, a subject in which they used to be remarkably proficient. This subject is unquestionably one of the most useful that a boy can spend his time upon; and it is no gain to him, but a serious loss, to have learnt to read a printed primer, if at the same time he is unable to look sharply after his own interests in ordinary money transactions. The immediate remedy lies, as the Director points out, in the revision of the rates of reward offered for different subjects, and in the substitution of vivâ voce for written questions at the examinations in arithmetic.

30. The system of payment according to the results of examination is now in force more or less completely in all districts, except Bogra, Pubna, Darjeeling, Julpigoree, and Lohardugga. The experience of several years has shown that this system is the only one under which mass education can under present financial circumstances be largely extended. But a limit to its development is necessarily set by the amount of the funds which Government can place for this purpose at the disposal of the district authorities; and, as the Director remarks, this limit has been reached wherever the system is at work in any thorough-going form. The primary grant for the current year has now been increased from four to five lakhs of rupees, and the additional sum has been distributed among all the districts of Bengal in proportion to the necessities of each.

The Director furnishes an interesting comparative statement of the extent to which primary education has been pushed in different parts of Bengal, as shown by the proportion of boys at school to boys of school-going age, reckoned at 15 per cent. of the male population. The proportion varies from one in two in Burdwan to one in nineteen in Rungpore. The worst results are shown by the districts of the Rajshahye Division, and are not adequately explained by the plea that those districts are unprepared for the introduction of the reward system in any form. The system is recommended by the success that has attended it in every district in which it has been tried, and an effort must now be made to introduce it throughout the Rajshahye Division. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of the objections that are urged against the system. He knows that some officers still hold that a few patshalas, well taught and looked after, are of more solid value than a great and increasing crowd of which little can be known, except that they send pupils to the examination. Sir Ashley Eden admits that the fewer the schools to be inspected, the higher the standard that can be attained in each. At the same time the advantage of bringing Government into some kind of connection with indigenous schools over the widest possible area, and thus of practically manifesting its interest in and sympathy with their aims, is so enormous as altogether to outweigh the consideration that in a few schools the standard of instruction is not so high as it might otherwise have been.

31. In the Presidency Division the number of aided primary schools has declined from 1,998 with 66,144 pupils, to 1,985 with 62,180 pupils. The pupils in unaided schools have increased by 6,000. Of all boys of school-going age, one in six is at school. Changes in classification account for a large increase of aided schools in Jessore; and a considerable loss in the 24-Pergunnahs. In Nuddea, there was a serious loss, arising from the widespread sickness that prevailed. In the Burdwan Division throughout which the system of payment by results is in full operation, aided schools have advanced from 6,316 with 149,815 pupils to 7,540 with 171,428 pupils; the increase being shared by all the districts. One boy in every three is at school. In Bankoora the Magistrate, Mr. Anderson, has drawn up an admirable and complete code of rules for primary schools, in which, among other useful principles, special attention is directed to hand-writing and mental arithmetic. In the Rajshahye Division the number of pupils in aided primary schools decreased from 33,111 to 32,941, all districts showing a falling off except Rajshahye. Throughout the Division, notwithstanding the general prosperity, only one boy in 14 is at school; the rate of aid for each pupil under instruction is far higher, and the proportion of pupils to population is far less than in any other part of Bengal. In the Dacca Division one boy in nine is at school. The number of aided primary schools has increased from 1,543 with 45,602 pupils, to 1,709 with 51,418 pupils. There was an increase in every district but Mymensingh. In the Chittagong Division the number of aided primary schools has risen from 1,412 with 33,041 pupils to 2,301 with 49,891 pupils. One boy in five is at school. The increase has been confined to the districts of Noakholly and Tipperah. In the latter district a large number of maktabs are aided; nothing is given for the reading of the Koran, but ample rewards are offered for the most elementary secular subjects, beginning even with the alphabet.

In the Patna Division, in which one boy in nine is at school, aided primary schools have increased from 5,570 with 79,826 pupils to 8,076 with 95,880 pupils. The chief increase was in the district of Gya, where more than 10,000 pupils were added to the returns of aided schools; most of which, however, were aided for keeping registers or returns only, under the "chief guru" system. The report contains some interesting remarks by Mr. Grierson, who officiated as Inspector of Schools for three months, showing that in the patshalas Hindi is studied by Mussulmans and Hindus alike to the exclusion of Urdu, the only difference being that the former show a preference for the Kaithi and the latter for the Devanagri character. Of the 158 Mahomedan boys examined in the Patna district, 109 were reading Hindi and not Urdu. In the Bhagulpore Division one boy in eight is at school. The number of schools rose from 4,866 with 51,215 pupils to 6,649 with 66,277 pupils. It is to be feared, however, that the Director is over-sanguine in thinking that the Government system now covers the entire field of indigenous instruction in this division. The rapid extension of the primary system in Behar is a good deal due to the "chief guru" system, introduced by the Inspector, Baboo Bhudeb Mookerjee, C.I.E., under which a selected teacher of an indigenous school is employed to supervise the working of a circle of village schools grouped round his own as their centre. That system, the Director remarks, supplies a slight, but closely-knit organization, whose meshes cover the whole known field of organized instruction. Under this system more accurate information can be obtained about indigenous schools than probably under any other." Its comprehensive character may be inferred from the fact that the average number of pupils to an aided school is not more than 10 or 12 in the two divisions of Behar—a proof that the very smallest schools are brought within its range.

In the Sonthal Pergunnahs a scheme is being devised for extending education in the Damini-Koh and elsewhere. Separate measures are also being taken for the education of the Sonthals in the districts of Beerbhoom and Manbhoom. The education of Sonthals has hitherto been chiefly left in the hands of the Church Missionary Society and the India Home Mission; but the efforts of these bodies will for the future be supplemented by direct action on the part of Government officers. In the Chota Nagpore Division the number of aided primary schools has risen from 742 with 21,126 pupils to 819 with 23,186 pupils. One boy in 11 is at school. There is some increase in every district except Hazaribagh, in which there was considerable sickness towards the close of the year. There is, however, a marked improvement in the organization of the schools of that district. The progress made in backward districts like Lohardugga and Singbhoom is especially satisfactory. In the last-named district there are very few indigenous schools independently existing, and the efforts of the local officers are rightly directed towards the opening of new schools. The bulk of the pupils in the primary schools of Singbhoom belong to non-Aryan tribes. Besides 948 Hindus and 42 Mahomedans, 2,500 of the total number of pupils were Hos, besides several hundreds belonging to other races.

The spread of education in the Orissa Division is only second to that in Burdwan, there being two boys out of every seven at school. The number of pupils has, however, declined from 63,882 to 61,654; aided schools having slightly increased from 5,460 to 5,464. The Joint-Inspector remarks: "The diffusion of easy printed books has liberalised the course of instruction in a great majority of our primary schools, and the reading of such books, with an intelligent appreciation of the meaning of the text, is no longer considered an accomplishment amongst the people of the interior." As elsewhere, mental arithmetic does not in Orissa receive its fair share of attention, native mensuration is taught in a very impractical way, and handwriting is almost left to itself. Now that attention has been prominently called to these defects, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no efforts will be spared to remove them. The Joint-Inspector attributes the general success of the system, not so much to the rewards that are given as to the principle of emulation, which, he believes, it has turned to account in a manner no educational system ever did before. Finally in the Tributary Mehals of Orissa there has been a general increase in the number of schools and pupils in institutions of almost every class.

32. European and Eurasian Education.—The total number of schools has increased from 47 to 52, and of pupils from 4,495 to 4,911. One of these, the Railway boarding school at Kurseong is a Government school; 41, including an increase of three schools, receive grants-in-aid, and ten, with an increase of two, are unaided. The majority of these schools are in Calcutta; in which there are among those that receive aid, six high and eight middle and primary schools for boys with a total of 1,936 pupils, and one high and nine middle and primary schools for girls, together with the Church Mission Normal School, with a total of 1,199 pupils. Unaided schools in Calcutta for boys include one primary and two high schools, and for girls, three high and three middle and primary schools. Altogether there were known to be on the 31st March last 1,749 boys and 1,386 girls in 25 aided schools in Calcutta, and 653 boys and 373 girls in nine unaided schools. During the year one aided school (St. Saviour's) ceased to exist, while the Calcutta Boys' School and the Loretto Girls' School in Dhurrumtollah received grants-in-aid. The Calcutta High School, unaided, was also newly established under a former master of the Docton College. The total expenditure in the aided schools of Calcutta in 1880-81 was Rs. 2,00,961, towards which Government contributed Rs. 41,711. In the four free schools, namely the Calcutta Free School, the Benevolent Institution, and the Catholic Male and Female Orphanages, the Government expenditure was Rs. 19,540 out of a total of Rs. 43,331, or 45 per cent.; in the other 19 aided schools the Government expenditure was Rs. 22,171 out of a total of Rs. 1,57,630, or 14 per cent. Owing to the different amounts that have been at the disposal of Government at different times, the rates of aid at present granted to these schools follow no fixed system. A beginning has, however, been made towards a more regular distribution; and the grants of all middle schools in Calcutta in which fees are paid will be determined for 1882 by the results of examinations held in the present year. The appointment of the Committee now sitting in Calcutta for the purpose of preparing a draft code for schools of this class will, it is hoped supply a much-needed incentive to progress by the introduction of an exact and definite system of aid, a result which will be cordially welcomed by the managers of all schools for Europeans in Calcutta.

33. Darjeeling possesses four excellent boarding schools, two for boys and two for girls, which, owing to the liberal grants-in-aid received from Government, are enabled to reduce their rates of fees. The St. Joseph's school for boys, and the Darjeeling Girls' School, have recently received the promise of building grants, on the usual condition that they shall be expended in the provision of increased accommodation for pupils. The number of pupils in St. Paul's school has increased from 72 to 107. The Darjeeling Girls' School has secured a new head mistress from England; and is supervised by a judicious and energetic committee, appointed partly by Government, and partly by the Diocesan Board of Education. The removal of the Government Railway School, in which there are now 38 pupils, all but one or two of whom are boarders, from "Corstantia" to the hill above Kurseong has been attended with the greatest benefit. The new dormitories to hold 40 boys and 40 girls will, it is expected, be completed by March next; and the school will then possess as good buildings and as capable a staff as any of the kind in India. The Lieutenant-Governor assured himself by personal inquiry of the efficiency and popularity of the head-master and mistress, and of the health and comfort of the pupils. The whole cost of maintenance has been brought within the reasonable limit of Rs. 12-8 a month for each pupil, all of which is covered by receipts, and the only expense incurred by Government is on account of the salaries of the teachers. The station of Cuttack with two schools for boys and two for girls is exceptionally well supplied, and the Railway Boarding School at Jamalpore is a prosperous and successful institution. Local efforts at Dacca, however, have not yet succeeded in establishing the school at that station on a sound and satisfactory footing.

34. Female Education.—The total number of girls' schools increased from 657 with 14,870 pupils to 840 with 19,673 pupils. With the addition of 13,455 girls reading in boys' schools, the total number of girls under instruction was 33,218, showing an increase of 4,705 pupils. The year has been signalised by the success, for the first time in India, of two young native ladies—Chandra Mukhi Bose from the Normal School, and Kadambini Bose from the Bethune School at the first examination in arts. These ladies who passed in the second and third divisions respectively, are now reading in the Bethune School for the Degree examination, special scholarships of Rs. 25 and Rs. 20 a month having been granted to them respectively for that purpose. Of the female candidates at the Entrance examination two from the Bethune School—Kamini Sen and Subarnaprabha Bose—were placed in the first and second divisions respectively. As the Director remarks "the example which they have set will not be thrown away; indeed we hear already of other schools following the lead of the Bethune and the Free Church Normal schools, though these have secured the distinction of being the pioneers of the higher education of women in Bengal."

35. The progress here shown, and the promise which it affords for the future, are subjects on which the Committees of these schools and all those who are interested in the education of women in India, may well be congratulated. A large addition has been recently made to the grant allotted to the Bethune School, in order to provide for the maintenance of the college classes in a state of complete efficiency. The school has altogether 109 pupils, of whom 51 read English. A new Lady Superintendent, appointed by the Secretary of State, arrived in India shortly after the close of the year. The Dacca Government School passed eight candidates last year at the primary, and four at the lower vernacular scholarship examination; these last are now reading for the middle standard. The progress of girls' schools throughout the country, judged by the only satisfactory test, that of the public examinations, has been remarkable. In the Presidency Division five girls passed by the lower vernacular standard, one gaining a scholarship; and in the district of Nuddea five passed the primary examination, two with scholarships. In the Dacca district 80 candidates appeared at the primary scholarship examination, of whom 69 passed, 54 in the first division; one girl also passed by the lower vernacular standard. In Fureedpore five girls passed by the primary standard; and one of them, a married girl of 15 years of age, has set up a patshala at her father's house, and is herself preparing for the lower standard. In Burrisal a pupil of the station school passed by the middle standard; and nine girls from the same district passed by the primary standard. In Mymensing one girl passed by the lower, and four by the primary, standard. In Tipperah one girl passed the middle vernacular, and nine the primary scholarship examination, of whom one gained a scholarship. In Noakholly five passed by the primary standard, and in Chittagong seven, three of the latter gaining scholarships. In Balasore six girls passed, and one in Cuttack. In the public examinations girls compete on equal terms with boys, and the instances quoted afford therefore valuable indications of sound and steady progress. In Behar and Chota Nagpore there are some good schools, though they have as yet sent no pupils to the examination; but in the Rajshahye Division it is reported that the condition of the girls' schools is most unsatisfactory. The schools in the Burdwan Division are under the supervision of the Utarpara Hitakari Sabha, and the pupils do not, as a rule, appear at the departmental examinations. At those held by the Sabha, 65 candidates appeared; of whom 33 passed by the junior, nine by the senior, and four by the final standard; all but 15 gaining scholarships. A Mahomedan girl from Bankoora passed a very creditable examination, and gained a junior scholarship.

36. Excluding the Bethune School, the aided institutions in Calcutta are four Zenana Agencies, drawing a monthly grant of Rs. 1,242; two normal schools, with a grant of Rs. 326; three orphanages, with a grant of Rs. 215; and nine girls' schools, with a grant of Rs. 269. Altogether the Government pays to the Missionary agencies working in Calcutta more than Rs. 2,000 a month for the education of native girls. Mrs. Wheeler, the Inspectress of Schools, examined last year 1,943 pupils reading in zenanas, or in schools connected with Zenana Agencies. Of the whole number 1,664 were in the lower primary, 237 in the upper primary, 41 in the middle, and one (belonging to the Church of Scotland Agency) in the upper stages respectively. These returns exhibit some improvement over those of the previous year when the number in the two lowest stages were 1,861 and 200. The obstacles in the way of the Missionary agencies, which were enumerated in the last report, are again the subject of complaint by the managers and the Inspectress; but it is gratifying to read that, in the Director's opinion, "the figures give reason to believe that some small return is being obtained from the money laid out by Government; while every day brings signs that the demand for female education in Bengal is surely, however slowly, advancing and extending."

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION.

37. Law.—There are now seven Government Colleges to which a law class reading for the B.L. degree has been attached, a new class having been opened at Cuttack. The number of law students has increased from 321 to 367. The total expenditure in all law classes increased from Rs. 25,219 to Rs. 26,399; but the classes are all now self-supporting, and indeed returned a profit to Government of Rs. 4,879. Of 86 candidates for the B.L. degree 35 passed; a result inferior to that of the previous year, when 47 candidates passed out of 88. The loss was confined to the Presidency College.

38. Medicine.—The number of students in the Medical College at the close of the session was 123 against 153 in the previous year. As in former years, a large number of students withdrew their names in the course of the session from inability to pay the fees. A remedy for this cause of fluctuation has, it is hoped, now been devised by the rule that fees are to be paid half-yearly in advance. At the first L. M. S. and M. B. examinations, 11 candidates passed; and at the final examinations for the License and Degree, 27 passed. The number of pupils in the four vernacular schools of medicine decreased slightly from 508 to 503, there being a small loss in each school except that of Dacca. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that there is still much irregularity and fluctuation in the attendance at these schools, especially in the Campbell School at Sealdah. Of 244 pupils on the rolls of that institution during the year, 57 were struck off for non-payment of fees, eight were removed for misconduct, and nine voluntarily left the school. There remained 170 students, of whom 41 passed their examinations and quitted the school, and 49 failed. The revised standard of admission, which is considerably higher than the former standard, will doubtless lead to greater stability in the classes, as well as to increased efficiency. At the first examination which is held at the close of the second year's course, 122 candidates presented themselves from the four medical schools, of whom 81 passed; at the final examination for the diploma, held at the end of the third year, 135 candidates appeared, and 93 passed. At the Sealdah and Dacca schools, the number of successful candidates for the diploma was about 75 per cent.; at the Cuttack school and the Temple school at Bankipore, about 60 per cent.

39. Engineering.—The Civil Engineering classes of the Presidency College numbering 73 students, were transferred at the beginning of the year to the Government Engineering College at Secbporo. Of 31 candidates who presented themselves for the subsequent University Examinations 13 passed, three obtaining the B. C. E. Degree and ten the License. The new session opened in June 1880 with 76 students, of whom 44 were newly admitted to the college. The number of engineer students at the close of the year was 82. The overseer classes, including 58 mechanical apprentices from the Dehree school, were opened in April 1880; and an examination for the admission of additional students was held in the following June. In all, 69 new students were admitted to the classes, but some did not join, and some left after joining. Seven of the old students were examined at the end of their fourth year, and six passed. All obtained employment—four under Government and two in private firms. There were 90 overseer and apprentice students at the close of the year. Of 172 students of all classes, 100 were Hindus, 68 Christians, three Parsces, and one a Mahomedan. Every student attended the workshops daily, and of all it is reported that they “take delight in working with their own hands at the bench, the lathe, the forge, and the foundry.” Certain defects formerly existing in the drainage have now been remedied, and the health of the students is exceptionally good. The Lieutenant-Governor has lately sanctioned the erection of a large and handsome building fronting the river for the residence of the native students in place of the temporary accommodation which alone could be provided for at the opening of the college. Soon after the close of the year an outbreak occurred amongst the native students, many of whom were guilty of serious insubordination in the part they took with regard to an alleged grievance. Order was restored by inflicting on 70 among them the penalty of rustication for a period of six months.

40. Surveying and Industrial Schools.—In the three survey schools there were 119 students against 138 in the previous year. At the final examination 40 candidates passed, and obtained the certificate. The passed students at Dacca and Cuttack find no difficulty in obtaining employment. In Behar there is not the same demand; and the decrease in the number of students at the Patna Survey School is ascribed to this cause. There were two industrial schools at the close of the year—the vernacular school at Dehree and the Ranchi school. The Dacca school was closed on the opening of the overseer classes at the Secbporo College. At Dehree 50 boys, sons of artizans engaged on the canal works, were receiving instruction; an increase of eleven over the number of last year. At the Ranchi school there were 27 pupils, three of whom were being taught smith's work, and the rest carpentry. The Patna industrial school was temporarily closed, owing to the want of a qualified Superintendent. A trained mechanical engineer has now, however, arrived from England, and the school will shortly be re-opened.

41. School of Arts.—The number of students rose from 76 to 80. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad from his own knowledge to endorse the favourable opinion expressed by the Director:—“The work of the students maintains its high standard in many branches of art, fully justifying the encomiums passed on it four years ago by Lord Northbrook, when he said that it would bear comparison with that of any Art School in England. The studies from life are particularly good, and have elicited the hearty approval of His Excellency the Viceroy.” The Hon'ble Major Baring was good enough to accede to Sir Ashley Eden's wish that he should become the President of the Art Gallery Committee, and the valuable aid of Lord Northbrook has also been again secured for the purchase of works of art in England, £1,000 having been remitted to him for that purpose.

42. Normal Schools.—There were 14 normal schools at work during the year, including eight of the higher grade and six of the lower. At the examination for the vernacular teachers' certificate, 250 candidates appeared, out of whom 134 passed. The Chittagong and Dacca schools stood first in order of merit, followed by the Hooghly school; and though the Calcutta school occupied only the fourth place, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that a considerable improvement is reported over the results of previous years, which have frequently attracted the unfavourable notice of Government. The re-organization of middle schools on a vernacular basis has increased the demand for trained pundits throughout Bengal, and has thus acted with effect on all normal schools. The stipend grant at the Hooghly school was raised from Rs. 200 to Rs. 300 a month, in order to enable the school to meet the increasing demands made upon it. The grant to the Calcutta normal school was also increased from Rs. 100 to Rs. 200 a month. The Bauleah school was transferred during the year to Rungpore, with the object of providing teachers for the more backward and unhealthy districts of the Division. The Patna school is the only one that has an English Department attached. Of 101 pupil teachers, 80 belong to the vernacular and 21 to the English classes; and they have been sent into the school from all the districts of Behar. The want of trained vernacular teachers has hitherto been found the chief obstacle to the introduction of the vernacular system of instruction into the middle schools of Behar. The Patna normal school, on its enlarged and reorganized scale, ought in a few years to go a considerable way towards supplying that want, and providing a number of trained teachers both for English and for vernacular instruction.

43. Madrassas.—The number of pupils in the Arabic Department of the Calcutta Madrassa and in the five mofussil Madrassas of Bengal has increased from 777 to 1,006, or by about 30 per cent., the increase being shared by all the institutions. The Government expenditure increased by only 3 per cent. A proposal was made in the course of the year by an influential Mahomedan gentleman, the Hon'ble Syud Ameer Hossain, to close three of the Madrassas in order to provide funds for the establishment of college classes in the Calcutta Madrassa, and generally to give more prominence to the study of English and less to that of oriental languages and science. In dealing with this question the Lieutenant-Governor could only regard himself as a trustee, whose duty it was to carry out the intentions of the founder of the Mohsin Endowment, and as such he was unable to sanction the diversion to the establishment of a single college in Calcutta of funds which were intended to have a much wider distribution. Sir Ashley Eden also though fully sympathising with him in his desire to extend English education among his co-religionists, believed that Syud Ameer Hossain underrated the strength of their desire for oriental learning. The figures above quoted support this conclusion and show that institutions of an essentially oriental character, modified by the admission and even encouragement of elementary English instruction, find increasing favour with the Mahomedans of Bengal. It also seemed self-evident that a small college could only afford a staff very much below the standard of that of the colleges now established in Calcutta, and that it was not therefore really to the advantage of the Mahomedans that such a college should be formed. For the benefit, however, of those who are ambitious of the higher education, the Lieutenant-Governor consented to defray from the Mohsin Endowment Fund two-thirds of the fees of every Mahomedan student reading in any of the colleges in Calcutta—a boon which has been much appreciated by students. At the same time the boarding accommodation in the Calcutta Madrassa itself has been greatly improved and extended at considerable cost, a joint mess has been established, and the Collinga branch school has been removed to much more commodious quarters, in anticipation of its final transfer to the quarters now occupied by the Principal within the Madrassa.

Taking the Calcutta Madrassa as a whole, there were 1,041 students in its three departments, or eight more than in the previous year. Of those, 239 belonged to the Arabic Department (the Madrassa proper), 391 to the Anglo-Persian Department, and 411 to the Branch School. Of all the pupils 658 were English and 383 oriental students. The expenditure for the year was Rs. 31,887, made up of the Mohsin grant of Rs. 25,000, and fees amounting to nearly Rs. 7,000. The students of the Arabic Department underwent the annual examination in common with those of the other Madrassas in Bengal, all of which now read to the Calcutta standard, except those of Hooghly and Joraghat. The Dacca and Chittagong Madrassas passed 15 students each; those of Rajshahye and Hooghly eight and four respectively. In the Hooghly Madrassa there is some slight improvement in the attendance, the number of students being 34 against 23 in 1878; but there seems as yet to be no indication that the Joraghat Branch Madrassa is acting in any way as a feeder to the Hooghly Madrassa. The institution at Joraghat seems to be less a Madrassa than an English school for Mahomedans, and, though as such, it may very well have good claims to support, it should not in that case be called by a name implying relations with the Hooghly Madrassa, which, as a matter of fact, do not exist. The future prospects of the Hooghly Madrassa, and its actual relations with the school at Joraghat, should receive the attention of the Director.

44. Sanskrit Title Examination.—Of 66 candidates at this examination, 31 passed. Kavya (literature) and Smriti (law) were the favourite subjects, being taken up respectively by 27 and 30 candidates, the number passing in them being 17 and 10. All the four candidates that took up Logic failed—a matter which is the more to be regretted as Logic is a subject in which the tols at one time excelled. The Principal of the Sanskrit College remarks, however, that the title examination has had the effect of reviving the study of literature and of the Nyaya and Sankhya in the tols, where for some time they had suffered neglect. Liberal prizes and other rewards which have been founded by wealthy natives of Bengal for the encouragement of students at these examinations have been separately noticed from time to time.

45. Scholarships.—The amount expended by Government during the past year was Rs. 1,53,868 out of a sanctioned grant of Rs. 1,73,187. Roughly speaking Rs. 70,000 were spent on scholarships tenable in colleges, and Rs. 72,000 on those tenable in secondary schools; while engineering and medical scholarships amounted to about Rs. 8,000, and those attached to the Sanskrit College and the School of Art to Rs. 4,000. Two scholarships of £200 a year each, tenable for two and a half years at the Cirencester, or some other Agricultural College in England, were established with a view to laying a sound foundation for the future establishment of schools of agriculture in Bengal. These were awarded to Baboo Ambika Charn Sen, M.A., of Bengal and Syud Sakhawat Hossain, B.A., of Behar.

Besides those established by Government there are large numbers of scholarships founded by private liberality. Among these the largest are the Mohsin scholarships; those created from the old Hindu College Fund, which include two of Rs. 50 a month, two of Rs. 40, and three of Rs. 30, tenable by B. A. graduates of the Presidency College; and the Laha scholarships, founded in 1869 by Baboo Doorga Churn Law, who made over to Government half a lakh of rupees for that purpose.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

46. A further list of approved text-books has been issued after examination by the Central Text-book Committee. The Bengali translation of Dr. Cunningham's Sanitary Primer has been published and distributed to all middle, lower, and primary schools. The text-books in use in the vernacular schools of medicines have also undergone examination by a Committee specially appointed for that purpose. All existing text-books were brought under review; and the Committee finally issued a list showing the subjects in which satisfactory text-books existed, and those in which it was desirable that new works should be produced. The Committee at the same time indicated those English works in medicine and surgery from which condensed translations should be made. Authors were publicly invited to compete; and the Government offered a reward of Rs. 500 for the most satisfactory translation of each work. Sub-Committees have also been appointed for Behar and for Orissa. The recognition of Kaithi as the popular character in Behar is already making itself felt in the improvement of popular literature. To promote this object as well as to secure the wide distribution amongst the masses of Behar, of a cheap and simple literature in a character intelligible to them, the Lieutenant-Governor ordered the preparation of a complete fount of Kaithi type which has now been cut and cast at the Alipore Jail Press, under the immediate and constant supervision of Mr. G. A. Grierson, who has taken much intelligent interest in the promotion of Kaithi instruction in Behar. The Lieutenant-Governor is confident that the importance of this measure can hardly be over-rated, and that its effects will make themselves felt at no distant date in the growth of a spirit of self-reliance among the peasantry of Behar. Under the direction or with the encouragement of the Inspector of Schools seven new school-books in Hindi were issued from the Patna press during the year; four being translations of standard Bengali works, and three original compositions or compilations. The Lieutenant-Governor has no fault to find with the progress already made; and he trusts that the want of a good atlas and geography of India, and of an arithmetic in Hindi, pointed out by the Director, will shortly be supplied by private enterprise, if possible, or if that fails by departmental agency. In Orissa the expenditure of Rs. 3,400 from State funds was sanctioned for the production of Uriya text-books in geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and botany, in order to replace the existing Bengali works on those subjects. Authors have been invited by public advertisement to compete for the rewards offered. Dr. Cunnigham's Sanitary Primer has also been translated and published in Uriya, and is now in use in the schools.

47. In conclusion the Lieutenant-Governor has again to acknowledge the ability and earnestness with which Mr. Croft has discharged his very important duties, and to thank him for this comprehensive and clear report. The officers of the department have ably seconded the Director's exertions, and to them the cause of education in Bengal is indebted for substantial progress during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

A. P. MACDONNELL,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.
